EDITOR OF RED AND BLACK HONORED

Bert Moore to Head E. M. S. P. A.

At the fifth annual meeting of E. M. S. P. A. held at Northeastern U. last Saturday, Herbert Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Moore of 4 Penn road was elected president. Bert, editor of the Red and Black, has had considerable scholastic newspaper experience in the last two years and last season reported high school games for metropolitan dailies. In addition to his newspaper work, he has played a good game of basketball with the Jayvees and has been prominent in the Student Council.

The E. M. S. P. A., consisting of members from the metropolitan area and from other larger schools in eastern Massachusetts and New Hampshire, operates under the sponsorship of Northeastern University and has the use of many University facilities for its conferences and clinic meetings.

This year nine members of the local high school newspaper staff attended the all-day session with their faculty adviser, Mr. Stevens. Those attendings were Stephen Greene, business manager; Richard Fenno and Stillman Hilton, news editors; Joseph Foley, sports editor; Gloria Herrick, Barbara J. Smith, Theodore Atkinson, Talbot Smith, feature editors; and Bert Moore, editor-in-chief.

After registration in the Commons of the University, where hundreds of school and college newspapers, magazines, and year books were on display, members attended a general meeting, presided over by Robert Green of Brockton High School, 1942-43 president. Speakers were Dr. Carl Stephens Ell, president of N. U. and Mr. Roland Sharp, staff correspondent on Latin-American Affairs for the Christian Science Monitor.

Of special interest to the Winchester delegates was that meeting addressed by Mr. George C. Carens, Boston Traveler sports columnist, who spoke of some length on Winchester athletics.

Mr. Stevens was elected one of our advisers for the coming year.

RECOUNT HEARING POSTPONED

Hearing on the Selectmen's recount controversy, originally scheduled for last Friday forenoon in Superior Court at East Cambridge, was on that day postponed until Friday, April 9. The reason given for the postponement is that at the later date the matter will come before an auditor.

The hearing is upon a petition for a writ of mandamus sought by Attorney James Joslin, counsel for Gleason W. Ryerson, seeking to compel the Registrars of Voters to refrain from counting a number of contested ballots for Alfred J. Higgins.

Mr. Higgins and Mr. Ryerson were two of five candidates who sought election to the Board of Selectmen for three years at the March election. Philip P. Wadsworth was elected to one of the two three year vacancies and Mr. Higgins defeated Mr. Ryerson for the other by two votes. Mr. Ryerson had a recount which increased the Higgins majority to three.

Mr. Joslin questioned a number of ballots counted by the Registrars for Mr. Higgins and petitioned the court for the writ of mandamus as explained above.

OVER 1000 WINCHESTER RESIDENTS SERVING IN THE ARMED FORCES

Plans are being made for the erection of a temporary board listing the names of Winchester residents serving in the armed forces. As soon as a date can be set, sometime in April, an appropriate unveiling ceremony will be held.

Mr. Ben Schneider, former chairman of the Selectmen, with a committee of four, has very carefully considered the details.

If any names are missing from the board they can very easily be added. The names have been taken from the Selective Draft Board and from the Winchester Historical Society lists, who have kept as complete a list as possible, considering some of the volunteers have enlisted from the cities in which they may have been working at the time. It is the hope of this committee that any missing name will be reported at once to the draft board and to Mr. Staff Rogers.

RECEIVES SON'S SILVER STAR

Mrs. Robert S. Clark of Stevens street has received from the Secretary of the Navy the Silver Star Medal and Citation presented by the President of the United States to her son, Lt. (j. g.) Rufus C. Clark, U. S. N. R. reported by the Navy Department toward the end of last year as "missing in action" somewhere in the Pacific combat zone.

In the letter Mrs. Clark received the Navy asked her to "hold" the decoration and citation pending Lt. Clark's return or until further information about him is received. It was made clear in the communication that the decoration is not being awarded posthumously, as so many have been, both the Navy and Lt. Clark's family still regarding the young Naval flyer as missing, not lost.

Following is the citation which accompanied the Silver Star:

"For conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity as pilot of a torpedo bomber of the U. S. S. Hornet Air Group during action against enemy Japanese forces near Santa Cruz Islands, Oct. 26, 1942. In the face of extremely heavy anti-aircraft fire, Lt. (j. g.) Clark pressed home a determined and vigorous torpedo attack on a Japanese heavy cruiser. His courageous conduct throughout the engagement reflects great credit upon the United States Naval Service."

ICE WENT OUT OF MYSTIC SATURDAY

The ice on big Mystic Lake broke loose from the shore last Friday and a high wind pushed it up on the easterly shore where it broke up. Saturday morning, March 7, the lake was free from ice.

For many years the Star received each year from the late Stephen Langley, whose home abutted the lake, the exact date when Mystic was free from ice. Since Mr. Langley's death we have depended upon Frank G. Trott, Globe turf editor and "Mr. Mystic" himself, for this interesting information. This year both Frank and former Selectman Marshall Symmes agreed on the date which should make it unanimous, Frank supplying us from his fund of Mystic data with the date when the ice went out in 1938.

1918	April 2	1931	March 25
1919	March 9	1932	March 25*

MRS. EVA BRUCE KIMBALL

Mrs. Eva Bruce Kimball, 93, who passed away at the Home for Aged People, 110 Mt. Vernon street last Sunday evening March 28, was born in Portsmouth, N. H., June 12, 1849. Her parents moved to Winchester in the 1870's and in 1882 she married Charles Tufts Kimball with whom she lived for more than 50 years.

After the death of Mr. Kimball in 1936 she became a member of the family at the Home. Here it was her joy to receive her many friends and they were always cheered by her keen mind which remained unusually clear throughout her long life. She was very fond of children and they seemed to love her. Her last illness was comparatively brief, and until the last it was thought she might get about again, as she was blessed with a very strong constitution which had brought her through periods that seemed more serious.

The farewell service was held in the Unitarian Church with the Rev. George Hale Reed officiating. Mr. Reed stressed as Mrs. Kimball's outstanding characteristics her loyalty and faithfulness as shown in her relation to her church, family and friends. Mr. Percival Lewis, whose mother was an intimate friend of Mrs. Kimball, presided at the organ in a most sympathetic and acceptable manner.

SOUNDS rather rough, eh?

But it's really what a thoughtless group of youths (equally divided as to sex) said, in substance, last Saturday afternoon when one of our conductors requested them to refrain from smoking in a coach.

The coach was well filled with men, and women and children.

"No smoking"—read a sign at either end of the car. The Conductor came through picking up the tickets. Nine passengers were smoking. Five immediately extinguished their cigarettes when the Conductor pointed out the signs. The other four—two men and two women, protested.

"Aw, this is a free country—we'll smoke where we please" was the plaint of one. "If they don't like it, why don't they ride in some other car?" asked one of the women. "Don't be so old-fashioned."

It didn't matter, apparently, to them that an elderly lady in an adjoining seat was coughing from the smoke. It didn't matter to them, apparently, that other men and women in the coach are among those unfortunates or fortunates (take your choice) who actually suffer when they are in a room filled with smoke. No sir, this "is a free country."

The 16,000 men and women who are the Boston and Maine Railroad aren't a bunch of prudes. The "smoking in smoking cars ONLY" rule on the Boston and Maine is a rule the majority of our passengers still tell us they wish we would enforce. We try to.

We're sure if any of the thoughtless persons who insist on lighting tobacco in non-smoking cars on trains had guests at home they wouldn't fill a room full of tobacco smoke, if their guests objected. With 70 to 80 persons in an average coach, more often than not many among them are those whom tobacco smoke annoys or makes ill.

So, the next time you travel by train and feel like a smoke, won't you please remember that you are a lady or a gentleman? As such you should be considerate of others. You wouldn't want some other passenger to annoy you—why insist on annoying them?

Even if you don't feel like walking to the cars we provide especially for smoking, waiting a half hour—or even an hour or two for "another smoke" really isn't too tough. It's far better than making someone ill.

Thank you.

BUSY WEEK-END FOR FIREMEN

The Fire Department had a busy time of it over the past week-end, answering 29 alarms, nearly all of which were for grass or brush fires.

The first of Friday's alarms was at 9:28 a. m. for a grass fire on Wendall street, at 10:45 there was another on Ledyard road, and at 11.08 still another in the rear of Sylvester's Garage on upper Main street. A grass fire on Woodside road started the afternoon activity at 1.10, and at 1:26 there was a fire in a pile of leaves at the rear of 64 Church street. At 1.47 there was a grass fire on Stevens street and at 2.38 there was another at the rear of Sylvester avenue. An hour later the men were back on Sylvester avenue for a grass fire and Box 55 came in at 3.55 for a brisk grass and brush fire on the old Prince School lot at School and Church streets. The last two runs of the day were also for grass fires, the first at 5.06 on White street and the second, one minute later at the rear of the O'Hara estate on Mystic avenue.

Saturday's first run came at 9:55 in response to an alarm from Box 321 for a brush fire on Churchill road. At 10:17 there was another brush fire near the residence of Dr. Nerses Baghdoyan on Pond street. At 11.07 there was a third brush fire off High street and at 11.12 burning leaves called the men to the home of Mr. E. A. Weaver, 326 Main street. Box 51 came in at 12.14 for a brush fire off Cambridge and Pond streets that burned over Horn Pond Mountain, giving the men a stiffish two-hour fight. At 1.53 p. m. there was a brush fire on Brookside avenue and at 2.31 a grass fire on the old Country Day School lot off Palmer street. Burning brush called the men to Russell's Hill off Cross street at 3.20, and at 5 o'clock, in response to a call from Woburn, Engine 2 and a crew went to that city to put out a big brush fire on Page place near Central Square. At 6.57 there was a grass fire near 360 Cross street, and at 11.50, another at the rear of 34 Grove street.

Sunday afternoon at 10.36 there was a grass fire on Cemetery land at the rear of Middlesex street. At 2:29, in response to a call from the Observation tower on Ridge street, the firemen went to the rear of the Cox Farm and fought a big brush fire largely confined to the Lexington side of the town line. Box 7-7-143 was put on for this blaze. A grass fire called the men to the Frank Noyes place on Cambridge street at 3:10 p. m., and at 3:23 there was another grass fire at the rear of 58 Middlesex street. At 4:07 the men were called back to Russells Hill, and at 4:15 there was a grass fire near the sand pit on Cross street. There was another grass fire at 4:15 near the residence of Mr. John J. Phillips, 18 Fletcher street and at 8 o'clock the last run of the week-end was made for a chimney fire at the home of Mr. W. L. Johnston, 19 Dix street.

TRACK PROSPECTS GOOD

Brief but snappy sessions on Manchester Field and rigorous calesthenic drills in the gymnasium have contributed much to the conditioning of the local high school track performers. Although these cold, blustery days have been far from perfect track weather the locals have accepted a challenge to get into shape for the Greater Boston Invitation Meet, sponsored by Concord High School, to be held Patriots Day, April 19, at Concord.

After the Vaudeville show the squad will be built up somewhat by those who have set aside their spikes for the sock and buskin. The Inter-Squad meet, an annual feature, is only two weeks away, being tentatively scheduled for April 15. If that meet no squad member will compete in more than three events over the two-day period.

At this time it is too early to know what talent is available, but at least Co-Capt. Dick Briggs is going to have some healthy competition in the middle distances from Kevin Burke, a sophomore, who has been working indoors during the winter season with Briggs under the watchful eye of Tufts Coach DeSault.

The schedule as yet incomplete, lists dual meets with Medford here on April 27, and with Belmont there on April 30.

SEVEN FIRES MONDAY

Seven fires, either grass or brush, kept the fire men on the go Monday, the first, a brush fire, on Emerson road, taking place at 10:43 a. m.

At 12:25 p. m., there was a grass fire on Canal street and at 12:47, a brush fire at the rear of the home of Mr. F. A. Goodhue, 166 Cross street. Box 34 was pulled for this same fire two minutes later. At 1:55 there was a grass fire near the residence of Mr. Henry W. Isaman, 7 Kenwin road, and at 1:05 Box 144 came in for another grass fire on Locke street. Still another grass fire called the department to Cross street near No. 84 at 5:25, and the last run of the day was for a grass fire on Henry street at 5:50.

Ross K. Whynot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross C. Whynot of Vine street has been promoted to the rank of corporal. He is stationed at Chanute Field, Illinois, where he is taking an advanced course in aircraft instruments.

TO OUR CUSTOMERS

Early last fall, because of the fuel shortage prevailing in this area, we anticipated that the winter of 1942-1943 would cause an unprecedented demand for gas. We feared that this demand would tax production facilities to the limit and even might exceed our ability to make delivery.

At that time, therefore, we wrote to our customers explaining the situation and we also sent out printed notices asking everyone to save gas by observing the conservation rules issued by the War Production Board.

This was necessary so that there might be an uninterrupted flow of gas to industries engaged in vital wark work, plus enough to supply the essential needs of our thousands of domestic customers and our civilian institutions.

The response to our request was prompt and effective. Placing patriotism above personal sacrifice, our customers co-operated magnificently and uncomplainingly . . . enabling us to serve all—continuously—despite the severity of a winter that long will be remembered. We are deeply grateful.

Now, with warmer weather, our gas load decreases. More gas again is available for domestic use. By using gas more fully during the warmer months, a general reserve of other "hard-to-get" domestic fuels may be accumulated for use next winter. But remember—gas still is a vital war material. Use what is needed, but use it wisely—don't waste it.

"STRENGTH THROUGH MISERY"

Through Ralph Robey, able editorial writer for the weekly "Newsweek," we find an illustration of one of our complaints of the New Deal. The incompetence and crackpot ideas coming out of Washington are so great that today it is hard to enumerate or pick any specific group for analysis. We took up the "security" as one feature last week, and while Mr. Robey has selected a different group of illustrations in his current "Newsweek" article, his fundamental thought expresses our views ably and concisely.

We quote from his article:

"Everyone at some time or other must have run into one of those persons who insists that there is something fine and noble about people having to suffer and make sacrifices. Such an attitude is common among the more fanatic social workers. To their way of thinking it is not enough merely to make the necessary contribution. One must give up something—something which is terribly important to him. Only in that way, such people insist, can one do his part in a time of crisis.

All of which is by way of introduction to a question which has needed to be asked for many months. This is whether there is not in Washington a group which believes in this principle of 'strength through misery'—a group which believes that the public should be made to suffer annoyances and make sacrifices, even though such annoyances and sacrifices cannot conceivably contribute to winning the war.

"McNutt's work-or-fight order is an example. First came the threat that if men with dependents didn't get essential war jobs they would be drafted. Then, when those concerned made the shift and thereby probably began to think that they were more or less settled, out comes a second statement saying that if one does shift to war work he still will be drafted.

But these are all serious problems. It is the insignificant items which reveal the 'strength through misery' school at its best.

Remember the order prohibiting the factory slicing of bread? There was no possible reason for that other than that by creating this inconvenience the public might become more war-conscious.

And remember the elimination of cuffs on trousers? If we had a shortage of wool that would be a wise move. But we don't have a shortage of wool. We have the largest supply in our history.

And have you tried to buy pipe cleaners recently? Of course pipe smokers can use broomstraws. But why should they have to? All the steel used to make the cleaners probably amounts to about two seconds' production by the steel industry.

And so on indefinitely.

"The American public is more than willing, as it has shown on every occasion the issue has arisen, to make any sacrifices and put up with any inconveniences which will hasten the winning of the war. But Washington had better learn before it is too late, that the American public will not actively co-operate with a program whih is shot through and through with the idea that we should make sacrifices just for the sake of making sacrifices. The American public does not believe that there is "strength through misery."

Mr. Robey's complete article may be found in the current issue of "Newsweek."

PATRIOTIC UNTIL THE PINCH COMES

The following extracts are from a letter signed by Sergt. G. Stearns Wyman, formerly of Holland street. We are unable at this time to print the complete letter owing to lack of space.

To the Editor of the Star:

I was quite interested in your self-analysis in the editorial section of the March 26 edition of the Star. I don't really doubt your patriotism as you hinted. In fact, I think you quite strongly are pulling for an allied victory as long as you don't have to take any of the inconveniences that go with the victory. The only thing wrong with you is political bigotry. You haven't as yet gotten over that political slaughter suffered by your favorite party quite a few years ago. You are still stunned and are doing all in your power to make it seem that politics are to blame. Sure, you are patriotic until you start feeling the pinch of total war and then you immediately start blaming the whole political set-up for those inconveniences!

Instead of using your paper to help keep up morale, you are trying to make people distrustful, uncertain, and suspicious of every move made by men in power. Instead of taking it and letting people with far greater knowledge of the situation than you have handle the details of fighting the war: rationing, fuel shortage, etc.; you question everything they do just because you don't understand it.

I'm sure that if all your alleged "hardships" you are "suffering" were handed out by another political party I could name, you would have no complaint. You would be sure everything was being handled efficiently. It's just that you can't forget politics, won't gracefully admit defeat, and won't play ball if your team is not winning.

You call the other team Communistic and Socialist not because you really believe it; not because you are non-patriotic; but because you are looking ahead to a possible victory for your team in the distant future—sort of paving the road by dropping a little hint here and there.

Lets all forget that once we were Republicans or Democrats and be Americans! Let's get this war over first so that we can go back to our own petty political fueds, and be the great democracy we always were.

Very truly yours,

URGENT CALL FOR VOLUNTEERS

To the Editor of the Star:

An urgent call for volunteers goes out this week to residents of Winchester from the Volunteer Service Bureau, Boston Council of Social Agencies. It is anticipated that one of the most urgent daytime civilian defense needs during the spring and summer will be for volunteer (unpaid) workers in the Greater Boston settlement houses, camps, hospitals and youth agencies.

"With the closing of school, the situation will be particularly desperate for children in under-privileged neighborhoods, unless we are able to find enough volunteers to assist in helping provide care and recreation for them," said Mrs. Pauline Lehrburger, Director of the Volunteer Service Bureau, "and we wish to make a very earnest appeal for volunteers to call Lib. 8515 for an appointment to talk over the varied opportunities for service. Women between 18 and 40 are especially needed, as well as men of all ages.

"A second need, no less important, is for camp counsellors," said Mrs. Lehrburger. "If children are to get away from the summer heat of crowded tenements, we must comb every source for counsellors. A summer of normal activity in camp will give to small children the sense of security which has been disrupted by the war.

"One or more mornings or afternoons a week given to playground or playschool work with children, or to clerical, typing or receptionist work, fills a real gap. Counsellors usually go to camp for a six to eight week season. Hospital work requires three or more mornings a week.

Other social agency jobs require from one afternoon's service up to full time each week. If any men or women have a few free daytime hours each week which they would be willing to give, we urge them to call us and discuss the varied possibilities of service."

ROTARY NEWS

Harry Smith and Bill Chapin of the Reading Club were guests and Waldo Bond of Winchester was also guest.

Pat Foley, Leo Purtle were presented as new members by Church Hindes who also welcomed them and presented their badges.

The Winchester High School orchestra was introduced by Rotarian Jim Quinn, our Superintendent of Schools. Under the direction of Mr. George Brown the orchestra opened its concert with the National Anthem. The program was very colorful, varied and interesting including American, Turkish, two violin solos by Miss Jean Stillman accompanied by Miss Alice Parker; and part of Gershwin's popular Rapsody in Blue; the Emperor Valse by J. Strauss, concluding the program with the playing of America.

Vice President Ernie Dade of the Winn Watch Hand Co., was designated to present the American Flag to Cub Pack 6 as a gift from the Rotary Club.

Harry Bigelow spoke for the committee on prizes, gave an impressive list of prizes given by Rotary Club members. He announced the need of a few more prizes, and asked that anyone desiring to contribute prizes contact George Hayden, Nick Fitzgerald or Harry Bigelow. He reported a total of 125 prizes and a splendid advance sale of tickets for the show on April 13. He also reported that the owner of the splendid restaurant is donating an American Flag. The committee of the club have done a swell job and were given a rising vote of thanks.

SMASHED GARAGE DOORS

Wednesday just before 1 o'clock as Sergt. Thomas F. Cassidy and Patrolman Henry P. Dempsey were convened in the center their attention was attracted by a loud crash, after which the garage door at 9 Shore road bulged out and broke, showering planks and glass onto the street. As the officers approached the garage a Winchester youth came out and ran off, not, however, before he was recognized.

He later reported to the Police and stated he had gotten into the garage and started a car, owned by James Proia of Charles street, Woburn, which crashed through the garage door when the brake failed to hold. He has been summonsed into court by the Police. The garage is owned by Selectman James A. Cullen and occupied by James Bruno, proprietor of Kelley and Hawes Express Co.

HORSESHOE SEASON OPENS

Honors Divided as Clans Gather at Palmer Beach

The comparatively warm weather of the past week-end lured the members of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association from their late-winter somnolence to the initial competition of the spring season on the wind-swept courts.

President Royal P. Teele, doughty leader of the Association, sounded the tally cry, and set such an excellent example for promptness that he was at the beach sometime in advance of the next contingent of warriors. Evidently the K. P. detail which so hampered his mobility in the past has been lifted.

Joining the President at the beach were the Association's Secretary, "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the pride of Stowe and champion of all Nabnasset; Henry "Tiffany" Knowlton and Harry Arlanson, the latter Weymouth High's successful coach and week-end guest of the Knowlton family.

It should be noted that both Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham and Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine champ, were among the missing when the boys matched to see who'd play with McLaughlin. Old "Thin Finger" showed up a bit late, offering as his excuse that the President had been ordering later sessions so much he became confused.

In extenuation of Mr. Butters' defection it may be said that he had been in drydock for quite a spell with one of those funny sounding throat afflictions, doubtless causing him to figure that discretion was the better part of valor in his particular case. Those who pitched away from the sheltered lee of the bath-house soon came to agree that Arthur had something there, for the wind off West blew exceeding shrewd, so much so that the President insisted upon playing in gloves.

The doughty leader of the Association officially opened the season by congratulating McLaughlin upon joining what he called the pedagogues at Winchester High School. The way he kept his hand in his change pocket while addressing the Pride of Stowe and the exceptions he took to every McLaughlin contention throughout the session led one to the inevitable conclusion that the poor opinion of all teachers engendered by the much discussed Butters trip to Maine last summer has in no way ceased to rankle in the Teele buzzum.

The matching teamed up the President and Secretary with the usual result, dire defeat, after victory had been staring them almost constantly in the eyeball during the early rounds of play. Even the usual candid opinion of each others' pitching couldn't seem to get the boys out of the ruck.

Royal and the scrivener dropped their first match in odd games to "Wild Willie" and H. "Tiffany", the Faculty champs as Teele dubbed them, although the "a" in champs sounded suspiciously like a "u" at times.

Then it was that "Thin Finger" arrived on the scene and entered the lists, paired with Mr. Arlanson, to defeat the McLaughlin-Knowlton duo, thereby sending Mr. Teele into transports of delight.

It should be said in passing that Messrs. Pridham and Arlanson came from away behind to even the score in games and took the deciding game by a short head. Mr. Pridham's sky-scraping shoe was working nicely, but it was the Arlanson ringers at opportune moments that really decided the issue.

Mr. Teele and the Secretary then took on the winners and went down two straight, after having a 14-3 lead in the second game. In support of the high positions they grace in the Association it should, we feel, be said that the President got the new season's first ringer, while the Secretary tossed the first double-header.

Drunk with glory after disposing of the Association's officers in such fashion the Pridham-Arlanson combine went once again after the pedagogues, with the same result as that accruing to the pitcher which kept going to the well.

Mr. McLaughlin ran into one of those streaks of wildness to which he is occasionally prone, and his lapse permitted "Thin Finger" and Mr. Arlanson to make it game and game, with the Weymouth master mind doing some pretty fair pitching for an amateur, if he is an amateur, which Mr. Teele takes the liberty to doubt!

The deciding game was a tight-lipped grim struggle with the Pridham-Arlanson team leading in the final box 24-23. Mr. Pridham got in two nice shoes, but raising both hands and clinking his shoes in the well known "double-header" gesture, "Wild Willie" threw just that, winning the game and in his own opinion at least, championship rating.

With the President casting the deciding vote this claim was denied, but neither "Willie" nor "Hennie" seemed at all convinced as they left the court.

WINCHESTER ARTIST EXHIBITS IN BOSTON

A group of oil and water colors of unusual interest is being exhibited at the Copley Society of Boston throughout this month by Elizabeth Miller Lobingier. Mrs. Lobingier's talents in both the creative and teaching field of art are well known.

The collection is hung to advantage in the Society which occupies one of Boston's lovely old residences of earlier days, looking from the huge room into the hall one's eye is captured by Morning in Vermont, and carried into the mountains by the artist's effective use of light. Close by Monticello recalls vividly Jefferson's hill-top home where the great man helped shape the destiny of our country. Throughout the collection one feels the artist's subtle color effects, see, the mellow Old Timer-Rockport Common. Notable too is the pleasing grouping of subject, see Mack's Barn, East Jaffrey.

The artist's water colors have definite charm of delineation and atmosphere. In Evening Over Pigeon Hill and other studies in similar mood one feels the softness of the falling dusk. Ipswich Marshes in October with its rampant autumn color staccatos the crispness of the day.

Every lover of New England's coastal towns will find in Mrs. Lobingier's many glimpses of Rockport the delight of an actual visit. One wants to linger at this showing.

BELL ENSEMBLE

The Bell Ensemble of Mrs. Henry A. Poveleite was presented by Mrs. Warren A. Whitman of Winchester at the Mi-Careme bridge party given by the Womens Republican Club of Massachusetts, Wednesday in the club' ballroom, French room and library, where over 400 brideg enthusiasts were gathered for the afternoon.

The bell ringers under the direction of their leader, Mrs. Poveleite, presented several selections on the peal of English bells in a very talented manner that brought much applause from the guests of the afternoon.

Saturday afternoon, April 3, the bell ensemble will be introduced by Mr. John L. Lobingier at the Lenten Institute of the Greater Boston Churches in the closing worship service at the Old South Church, Copley Square, Boston. Here, the bells will be heard in a spiritual rendition of selections appropriate to the prelude and postlude of the service.

The personnel of the group is composed of students from the Winchester High Schools and are as follows: Marjorie Johnston, Betty Engle Barbara Johnson, Virginia Lovejoy, Marion Horwood.

April brings the music of the bells at Eastertide with the bells ringing for the 9 o'clock service Easter Sunday at the First Congregational Church, of this community and the Easter national broadcast. Other outstanding engagements for the group are at the Professional Women's Club and Massachusetts College of Art in Boston during this month of April, which tend to make the coming weeks complete with many rehearsal hours.

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT NOTES

On Friday, April 9, Mr. Quinn is bringing to Winchester Mr. George E. Erickson of the Middlesex County Extension Service who will give an illustrated lecture to pupils of the 4th, 5th, 6th grades and to the pupils of the Junior High School on the subject of gardens. Mr. Erickson, Club leader for Middlesex County will use colored slides of vegetable gardens and gardening to instruct those who have gardens and to interest and stimulate those who might have gardens.

As the time for summer employment draws near, requests for high school students to work on farms and in industrial occupations are becoming urgent. The School Department in an honest attempt to assist all those requiring such services, has suggested that all prospective employers communicate directly with Mr. Robert E. Swenson, Director of Guidance and Placement. A sincere attempt will be made to list all labor demands and to bring them to the attention of the student body.

In making this announcement, the School Department, asks for co-operation of employers and parents in determining whether the young worker has the physique and the stamina required for the type of work offered. Pupils should consider all possibilities and confer with their parents before making a choice.

The Superintendent and School Committee wish to express their appreciation to the Winchester School mothers for their providing, at nominal cost, hot soup for those children who carry their lunches. During the cold winter months children have been benefited by this service and have expressed their personal thanks by adding pounds to their youthful bodies.

Nearly 40 boys who are 17 years of age or over are today taking the preliminary tests for classification under the Navy V-12 and the Army A-12 plans. Principal Samuel M. Graves and Guidance Director Robert E. Swenson are supervising the aspirants to Army-Navy College training.

MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

Washington-Highland Chapter

Tuesday evening the Washington-Highland Chapter of the Mothers' Association held its annual fathers' night in the school.

The parents gathered in the auditorium where they were graciously welcomed by the president of the chapter, Mrs. George Chatfield, who then introduced to them the guest reader of the evening, Miss Marjorie Shepherd. In her monologues Miss Shepherd presented to her audience many familiar scenes such as mother getting Johnny off to school in the morning, and it is needless to say, these proved most entertaining. Her reading of the poem Lidice by Edna St. Vincent Millay was remarkably well done.

Mrs. Chatfield invited the parents to visit the teachers in their respective rooms and see the display of the children's work which had been so carefully arranged. She also explained that the chapter this year was breaking a precedent by not serving refreshments. The money ordinarily used for this purpose was given this year to the American Red Cross.

The very attractive stage setting was arranged by Mrs. Richard Cunningham and Mrs. Knight Pryor.

Mrs. William Urmson was at the desk to receive donations for our boys in the service and also to sell War Savings Stamps and Bonds.

BOARD OF HEALTH NOTES

D., the school dentist; Roy Y. Raymond, D. M. D., the clinic dentist and Florence B. Hopkins, M. D., D. M. D., supervisor of dental health for the Massachusetts Department of Public Health.

On next Monday evening the Board of Health will meet in conference with A. Daniel Rubenstein, M. D., the District Health Officer of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health for this area to discuss the communicable disease program.

SOME HIGH LIGHTS ON TB

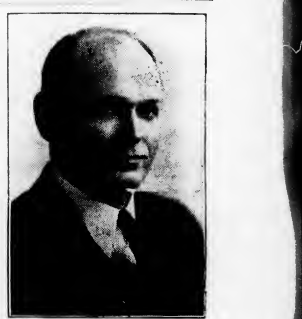

"Follow the example of the armed forces, get a chest x-ray" is the slogan of the 1943 Early Diagnosis Campaign.

This is an educational campaign held throughout the country during the month of April. Particular stress this year is placed on the X-raying of apparently healthy individuals in the hopes that tuberculosis, if present, will be discovered in its early stages.

To conserve time and money, it is essential that we X-ray groups of people. Therefore, workers in industry are being approached.

The Winchester Tuberculosis Committee under the direction of Mrs. Vincent Clarke, chairman, is distributing educational pamphlets to people of the town and in general is trying to educate them on the why of X-raying.

A Mountain Top Hour Radio Rally will be presented by the Radio Carolers of Providence Bible Institute in the First Baptist Church, Washington and Mt. Vernon street, on Friday evening, April 16, at 7:45 p. m. The Rev. R. Mitchell Rushton is pastor of the host church.

The Mountain Top Hour, heard every Sunday morning at 8 over the Yankee Network, is one of the oldest broadcasts on any network in New England. The Radio Carollers have been presenting this program for more than 15 years. At present 14 stations are carrying it to thousands of listeners in all the New England States, New Jersey, and the Maritime Province, New York.

The rally to be held on the 16th will afford an opportunity for many to see as well as hear these well-known radio personalities, including Howard W. Ferrin and F. Carlton Booth.

MRS. LORA M. E. EMERY

Mrs. Lora M. E. Emery, widow of John E. Emery, and a former resident of Winchester, died in Providence R. I. on Sunday, March 28, after a long illness. For many years she and her family made their home in Glengarry. She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Rachel Emery Smith of Cambridge; a son, Hiram Webber Emery, of Providence; five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

A committal service was conducted in Wildwood Cemetery, Tuesday, March 30, by Rev. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the First Congregational Church.

END OF THE PLAY REVIEW SERIES

The final play review of the series sponsored by the Tuesday Luncheon Group will be given Friday evening, April 2 at 7:45 in Emphasy parish hall. The other five plays have been afternoon events, but the final play moves to the evening in order that men may have this much-share. Mrs. Adele Hoe-Lee has chosen a current Broadway comedy, "Spring Again."

Winchester owes the success of the series to this committee who steered it through a difficult war year; Mrs. John C. Willis, chairman; Mrs. Jack Davison, Mrs. Robert Dickey, Mrs. Benjamin Dorgan, Mrs. Wolcott Thompson, Everett Tisdale.

PRIZES ANNOUNCED

Fine List of Awards for "Buy A Bomber" Drive

Thirty six pairs of genuine Nylon stockings, which will be auctioned to 18 fortunate Winchester women, were, this week, added to the list of more than 100 valuable and hard-to-get things which will be given away at the Winchester War Bond Staff's "Buy a Bomber for Winchestr" War Bond Auction at the Winchester Theatre on Tuesday, April 13.

More than two thirds of the 874 tickets which will be sold for the affair had already been disposed of up to last night and they soon will be impossible to secure, it was stated. A few are still available at Mary Spaulding's Bookshop or from the ticket committee of the Fortnightly Club, whose names were published in last week's Star.

The members of the Winchester Rotary Club, which is handling the securing of the prizes, reported to Chairman Maurice C. Bird on Tuesday that merchants and others have already donated some particularly valuable articles. A partial list follows:

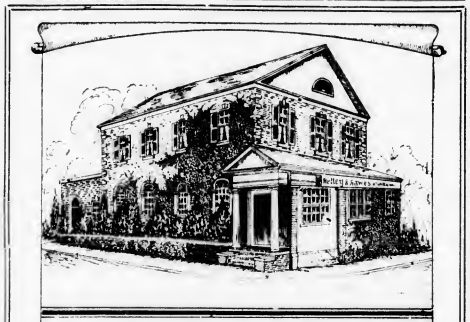

36 pairs of Nylon stockings
$25 worth of Groceries
Two pre-war 600x16 automobile tires
60 pounds of cheese
$50 suit of clothes
Combination Victrola and radio
Enough paint to paint a house
Case of assorted canned goods bag of Fertilizer
$20 toilet set
100 gallons of gasoline
Two tons of coal
$50 worth of milk, cream or cheese delivered at any Winchester home
Stocking machine
100 gallons of fuel oil
$10 worth of cleaning work
$6 pair of shoes
3 12-ride tickets Winchester-Boston on the Boston and Maine Railroad
32 pounds of butter
A safe deposit box
Table garden
$15 mahogany salad bowl
Coffee maker
$25 woman's dress
Free playing time at Winchester Country Club and a dozen new golf balls
$10 worth of drugstore merchandise
Elgin watch

Six portraits
A lady's suit
A case of grapefruit and oranges
A pedigreed cocker Spaniel
A live pig (sufficient food for a family of six for a week or more)
A year's subscription to the Boston Herald
Bags of Potatoes and Onions

Mor prizes are coming in all the time the Committee reported and the list will total more that 100 when "Speed" Riggs, famous tobacco auctioneer opens the auction at the theatre.

Bids will be received at the theatre from the audience in multiples of $18.75, $37.50, etc. For instance if on the live pig someone bids $37.50 they will receive a $50 war bond and also the pig. In other words those participating in the auction don't really spend a cent, for they receive full value of their money in War Bonds and, in addition, they get the article on which they were the high bidder, free.

In addition five of those who are in the theatre will be awarded door prizes, one $250 U. S. War Bond and four $100 U. S. War Bonds. Chairman Bird announced this week that all forms of U. S. War Bonds,, including the new Victory series to be announced in April will be on sale at the theater on that evening.

No standing room can be sold for the event, because of State and Town regulations it was stated, and once the 874 tickets (the capacity of the theater) are sold no more can be obtained. All the seats are reserved. Special amplifying apparatus will be installed in the theater for the evening so that any seat in the house will be just as good as another, in that all the business of the auction can be heard or seen from any seat.

ALFRED DESHON RADLEY

Alfred Deshon Radley, a former well known resident of Winchester, died recently in Peoria, Ill., according to information received here this week.

Mr. Radley was the son of William and Helen L. (Miller) Radley. He was born 66 years ago in Jubilee, Ill., and lived in Peorin before his marriage. On Nov. 10, 1909, he married Emma Punchard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward O. Punchard, late of this town, and thereafter made his home in Winchester, living for many years at 89 Church street. He was an attorney with offices in Boston and took an active interest in town affairs, serving on the Finance Committee from 1926 to 1928.

Mr. Radley's wife died April 24, 1940 and soon afterward he left Winchester, living for a time in Connecticut before returning west to Peoria. He had been for some time in poor health.

SEWING GROUP SPEEDS CAPTAIN ON HOLIDAY

Tuesday, March 30, a company of First Congregational women gave a surprise luncheon for their leader, Mrs. George F. Nardin, who left on Thrusday to visit her sons in the Middle West.

These women engineered the surprise and were present at the luncheon:

Mrs. Florence Scales
Mrs. Sadie Andrews
Mrs. Alfred Drew
Mrs. Florence Hayden
Miss Mabel Vinton
Miss Grace Pound
Miss Margarret Sands
Mrs. Edna Smiley
Mrs. Day
Mrs. Hugh Grimes
Mrs. Ward
Miss Jane Maw
Mrs. Mary H. Mouradian
Mrs. Fred Jordan
Miss Gertrude Kimball
Miss Eleanor Bancroft
Mrs. Herbert Ross

They dubbed their leader Capt. Nardin, and they might have dubbed themselves the army that has outrun and outfoxed the army of moths that is lining up for a dash at every store of woolen stuff. The moths will find every one of their expected landing fields ploughed up and vanished. The final achievement of the anti-moth forces was the completion of four pieced woolen quilts, made out of the scraps of scraps. Two of these will start off at once for Russian Relief and two for British War Relief. Mrs. Fred Jordan designed the quilts and Mrs. Laura Scales saw to last finishing touches. Their artistry has made the covers so attractive that somewhere in Soviet land women will say the Russian equivalent of "They cared enough about us even to make them pretty."

The same group since last September has made 162 Red Cross coats for boys and girls. That's a lot. The soldiers had some ground for the soldierly grumbling to which the rhymes by Miss Helen Hall pretended:

"You may have been a 'Tartar'
And worked us hard and long,
You may have made us rip out
The seams we sewed up wrong.

You may have piled upon us
Those ulsters by the score;
Whenever one was finished
You always brought us MORE.

But always you were merry
And full of wit and cheer,
And though your rule was martial,
We felt more love than fear."

The company sent their captain off on her travels not only be-rhymed, but be-dimed. Miss Vinton presented the bag of dimes to buy a book with which Mrs. Nardin might entertain herself on her 4000 mile trip. Her farthest visit will be to her son, Maj. John G. Nardin, at Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

Monday morning Park Supt. Thomas McGowan discovered that some one had broken into and ransacked the bathhouse at Leonard Field Beach. He reported the matter to the Police.

18 WINCHESTER WOMEN

In addition to free gasoline, free automobile tires, and over 100 other articles, the Winchester War Bond Staff have now secured 36 pairs of first-grade Nylon stockings for the Buy A Bomber For Winchester auction to be held at the Winchester Theatre on April 13.

Eighteen lucky women (or you can be present and get two pairs for your wife) will have an opportunity of getting these almost-impossible-to-secure limb adornments, by bidding for them at the auction.

And they are actually FREE. It works this way. Over 100 hard-to-get articles, a few of which are listed in this advertisement, will be offered for auction by "Speed" Riggs, famous American Tobacco Company auctioneer who is coming to Winchester to handle the hammer at the big event.

You bid on the Nylon stockings (which will be offered two pairs at a time) or you bid on any of the other prizes. Bids will be taken in multiples of $18.75, $37.50 and on other denominations of bonds. For instance if your bid of $37.50 on two pairs of Nylon stockings is the top bid on that particular article you get a $50 United States War Bond AND the stockings, all for $37.50. Thus, of course, you get your money back and the stockings to boot.

There'll be all sorts of fun at the auction, too. Tickets are going fast. Get yours today before they are all gone. Over two-thirds of the available tickets ($1.10 each, including tax) had already been sold up to Friday noon. Each ticket holder also can win a $250 War Bond or one of four $100 War Bonds, given away as door prizes.

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS WINCHESTER CHAPTER

Camp and Hospital Service

The Camp and Hospital Service has become so important and expanded to such an extent that this program has been made a distinct service in Red Cross. It is to be known as Camp and Hospital Service and will have the same status as Home Service, Military and Naval Welfare Service, etc. It is now a complete service in itself.

Musical instruments
Standing ash trays. Upholstered chairs.
Lamps for desk use. Typewriters.

Magazine subscriptions.

Members of the Council, or any of their friends who have articles to donate call Red Cross Headquarters, Win. 2563, the Red Cross beach wagon will call for the donation.

A list of articles furnished by the Winchester Council was published in the Winchester Star, Feb. 26, since that time the following contributions have been made.

BRITISH WAR RELIEF

Can it happen here? With each month that passes without bombs falling on Boston, our hope grows that it can't happen here. But if it ever does we shall stand up better and put out the fires and aid our wounded more efficiently by what we have learned beforehand. Not from mere curiosity to hear a thrilling tale but from real interest in stout-hearted human behavior, British War Relief workers will be eager to hear Herbert Hodge, the London Taxi Driver, at the Statler, Boston, April 8. Reservations should be made by Monday night, April 5, with Mrs. Fred Cameron, Win. 1984.

Mr. Hodge has often been heard over the London radio. His sense of a story and how to tell it hits the British taste. American hearers will doubtless agree.

"And do you still find materials to sew?" People whom winter or absence from Winchester have put out of touch for a time with the Wednesday workroom ask Mrs. Cameron this question. She gives an emphatic yes for an answer, and invites them to put their thimbles and a bite of luncheon into their knitting bags and come and see. Each Wednesday afternoon sees a row of girls dresses hung up finished. Workers can have a choice of tailoring the serge jumpers or working on the soft colorful blouses.

For those who prefer boys, too, the workroom offers a career for talent.

Navy Wifes' Salvage Shop assists sailor's families in many ways. Donated clothing provides funds for rendering aid in emergencies. Cothes are needed as well as second hand articles of household furnishings. The funds obtained from the sale of goods at this shop are used to assist needy sailor's families. In one instance, a merchant seaman given an honorable medical discharge needed steel foot braces to enable him to secure a position. He received both the braces and the position through this shop. Can you find any useable clothing or household articles that can be donated for this shop. The Fortnightly member's contributions brought such warm appreciation that the Committee felt that even more might be contributed at this appeal. If a donation can be made, please bring it to the meeting on Monday, April 5, or notify Mrs. R. K. Miller, Win. 1969-J.

RUSSIANS GUESTS OF UNITARIAN CHURCH

The Russian supper at the Winchester Unitarian Church was a unique and very enjoyable occasion. Under the auspices of the Girls Club of the church a group of Russian sailors for the Russian steamer Volga, with their captain and first mate, were given a good will supper.

Each one of the crew and their official interpreter were given a card of greeting printed in Russian which read: "Greetings to all at the banquet given for the officers and sailors of the Russian Navy, Thursday, March 25, 1943, by the Girls Club, Winchester Unitarian Church, Winchester, Mass."

This little gift was made possible by Mr. Mayer of the Winchester Drug Co. who had the greeting printed in Russian and brought to the supper.

The supper was planned by Mrs. Sorokin, though because of illness, she was not able to be present, but the committee working with her carried on and did a splendid job. Mr. William Wood was of invaluable help in procuring supplies as well as in the preparation and serving of the supper. A committee of ladies representing each parish in town not only did a great amount of work but helped to create the spirit of cooperation and good-will.

In addition to a committee of laymen and laywomen all the ministers and their wives served on the general committee.

After Rev. Mr. Hadley had asked the the blessing the Girls Club assisted by a committee of men served the supper. Mrs. Samoiloff was also ill and unable to be present, but sent two beautiful bouquets of flowers and arranged for a group of Russian folk dancers to be present under Miss Olga Bogach.

Mr. Chapman gave a short address of welcome which was followed by a word of welcome from Mr. Charles Watson, of the American Legion who spoke for the large degration of Legionnaires present. . . . .

The first mate of the Volga responded, giving a very excellent and interesting address which was interpreted by Mr. Finestein the official interpreter.

Everyone enjoyed meeting the crew and officers after the dancers had performed which concluded the formal program.

Among the interpreters present were Professors Sorokin and Goposhkin and Mrs. Goposhkin; Mrs. Belaieff and Mrs. Palovoy.

The Girls Club is endeavoring to make arrangements to buy surgical instruments or medical supplies for a Russian ship with the profit from the sale of tickets for the supper.

The club wishes to thank the townspeople for their generous support and co-operation in this expression of good will toward citizens of one of the United Nations.

PHELPS PUPILS IN CLOSING RECITAL

The Phelps School of the Dance gave its closing demonstration last Saturday afternoon in Fortnightly Hall with an enthusiastic audience of 200 relatives and friends of the young dancers. Technique and various dance forms were included in the nicely balanced program with folk dances, original creations and solos which embraced tap, ballet, toe and National dancing. All were well prepared and pleasingly presented, the performers showing skilled instruction and painstaking coaching. As usual Mrs. Arthur Bateman Corthell presided at the piano, making the dancers greatly with her rhythmic playing and adding materially to the pleasure of the audience.

PARTICULAR CLEANSING FOR THE DISCRIMINATING

Announcement

As an experiment in our effort to serve all our customers fairly, we are going to pick up cleaning the first half of the week. Telephone calls coming late in the week will be allocated to the time the driver will be in that district the first of the next week.

In common with others in service industries we have many of the problems caused by personnel and supplies. We stocked up heavily early in the war period which takes care of most of our supply problems.

Most of our workers have had years of experience and are family people in the higher than average age brackets, so we have been hit comparatively lightly by the draft and draft dodging. Nevertheless, we are not by any means immune. We are working hard. We are turning out considerable cleansing. We are upholding our high standards, and have not succumbed to appeals, governmentally or otherwise inspired to cut corners, and do things just passably. We intend to continue as we have in the past. It will necessitate your indulgence.

Richardson and Town Counsel Addison B. Pike represented the Registrars of Voters, whom Town Clerk Mabel W. Stinson was present with the contested ballots.

THE COUNTRY FAIR

We know the town will say "hurray"
When they hear what we now have to say
The old Street Fair that's earned renown
Is coming back to our little town!
We know at least that it will bring joy
To every little girl and boy.
The merry-go-round and the ferris wheel
And all the games with much appeal
The dance, the supper and the luncheon
All of them now will start to function
We're working hard and without delay
To make things ready for that happy day.

BOND AUCTION PLANS COMPLETE

Greatest Collection of "Hard-to-Gets" Under One Roof

All plans for auctioning "the greatest collection of valuables and hard-to-get articles ever assembled under one roof" at the Winchester Theatre next Tuesday night were completed this week.

Scores of the more than 100 articles which will be auctioned by "Speed" Riggs, famous tobacco auctioneer are now on display in the windows of Winchester stores.

The auction will really be an auction of United States War Bonds as a part of the new Second War Loan drive which gets under way all over the country next Monday under the auspices of the United States Treasury Department. The articles which will be offered for auction next Tuesday night will be given as free prizes to the various highest bidders.

The hustling members of the Winchester Rotary Club, under the direction of Dr. John McLean, their president, really "went to town" for the war effort, in connection with the auction. More than 100 articles, ranging from 40 pounds of butter to a live pig are included in the prizes which they secured for the auction. A list of the articles will be delivered to every home in Winchester either tomorrow or on Monday and it includes a major prize of a family size Frigidaire.

Admission to the auction will be by ticket only and only a comparatively few of the 894 tickets which will be sold are now available. They may be purchased either at Mary Spaulding's Bookshop or at the Winchester Theatre boxoffice. From the rate of sale, the ticket committee of the Winchester War Bond Staff announced, it is doubtful if there will be any left for box office sale on the evening of the auction, although a phone call to the Winchester Theatre will clear up that point anytime between now and Tuesday at 8 p. m. when the auction starts.

Each ticket holder, in addition to having an opportunity to bid on the prizes will have an opportunity to win one of the five big door prizes, a $250 U. S. War Bond and one of four $100 War Bonds which will be given away as free door prizes to the lucky ticket holders.

The doors of the theatre will be opened at 7 o'clock and there will be a pre-auction concert by St. Mary's Band. "Speed" Riggs, in person, will start the auction rolling at 8 o'clock, promptly and it is expected that at least two hours will be necessary before he has "knocked down" the last of the long list of valuables.

Chairman Maurice C. Bird of the Winchester War Bond staff announced today that all bids will commence at $18.75 and will continue in that multiple. It works this way, Mr. Bird explained. If for the 40 pounds of butter the highest bid is $37.50 the older pays $37.50 and for the amount receives a $50 U. S. War Bond and the 40 pounds of butter. "In other words" said Chairman Bird, "no one at the auction will really spend any money for they will get back full value of the cash they bid and pay in U. S. War Bonds and in addition they will get the valuable article on which they topped the bidding."

New England business firms and and individuals will be asked to purchase $1,100,000,000 worth of government securities when the Second War Loan drive gets underway next Monday and Winchester War Bond staff expects that the auction next Tuesday night will give this town a good start towards its quota and goal of the 13 billion dollar goal which has been set for the entire country.

Those who attend the auction and do not care to bid will have a fine evening of fun, the committee asserts, for "Speed" Riggs is a show in himself.

MIDSHIPMAN WELCH ATTENDING CADET ACADEMY

Midshipman Edward F. Welch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving C. Welch of 22 Baldwin street, has returned to his naval duties following a 20 day furlough spent with his family.

Midshipman Welch has returned to Great Neck, Long Island, N. Y., where he is enrolled as a student at Cadet Officers Training School.

Midshipman Welch was rescued from a ship torpedoed the latter part of February in the North Atlantic. He and his companions were rescued after floating three days in bitter cold weather. Before his departure he was the host to a party at the home of his cousin Mr. Edward Mc-Call of Woburn and was the recipient of many gifts and a purse of money. A collation was served and Midshipman Welch returns to his studies with memories of a happy evening and the best wishes of his many friends.

Midshipman Welch was born in Winchester April 3, 1922 and graduated from Winchester High in 1939. He attended Radio School before entering the Cadet School in March 1942.

TO GRADUATE FROM ANNAPOLIS

Bill Towner, son of Mr. Clifford Towner of Everell road, will be graduated from the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis on May 3 and and receive at that time his commission as ensign in the Navy. He has already been notified of his appointment as instructor to the new class entering the Academy at that time.

A graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Towner was engaged in time and motion studies at the Carr Fastener Company plant in Cambridge before enlisting in the Navy. He entered the service three months ago and was immediately detailed to Annapolis remaining there ever since.

BETTERS IN MID-SEASON FORM

Members of the Palmer Beach Horse-shoe Association, in convention assembled at the beach courts in the numbing temperature of the past week-end arrived unanimously at the decision that the way to attain excellence on the royal and ancient game of barnyard golf is to get yourself one of those strepto-something-or-other throats and studiously absent yourself from competition for weeks on end. At least that seems to be the Butters method for the moment and surely no one who saw the sometimes called State of Maine champ in action at the beach last week-end would gainsay the statement that he had reaped real dividends from his out-of-the-ordinary formula.

Mr. Butters, be it known, was very much in the groove, at least during the first part of last week-end's regular session. Clad in his red and black lumberman's shirt, worn flapping, he scintillated to such an extent that he was able to carry the Association's Secretary to championship honors with an all-around exhibition that many felt must have at least approached the class displayed by President Royal P. Teele in perennially winning the championship of the Boston Paper Trade.

Arthur and the Secretary first disposed of Mr. Teele and Herb Gardner, then decisioned Mr. Gardner and H. "Tiffany" Knowlton and finally defeated "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the pride of Stowe and champion of all Nahmasset, paired with no less a pitcher than Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham. It was the defeat of the last named "Lake Street Lancer" that built Mr. Butters and the Secretary up to championship stature. They won two straight, too, thanks to the Butters penchant for ringers.

In the recapitulation which invariably follows a session of play Mr. McLaughlin, actuated no doubt by the pedagogical influence, questioned the championship claims of Mr. Butters and his partner. In support of the McLaughlin contention it can be said that he and President R. P. Teele won an equal number of matches, and in fact defeated the State of Maine champ and the Scrivener in the first of their three straight-game wins.

It was generally felt, however, that the Butters-Secretary defeat of the invincible "Lake Street Lancers" far eclipsed all other accomplishments of the session, giving to the victors of that important match the very strongest of claims to the championship toga.

Mr. McLaughlin, be it admitted, was far from convinced, and it should be stated that his "butterfly shoe" was at times working very well. Mr. Teele, too, improved as play wore on, supporting McLaughlin ably in the match won by that pair from Mr. Butters and the Secretary, the second game of which was annexed 25-8.

As against this creditable play must be set the fact that in the second game of the final series "Wild Willie" and the President came within the ace of being taken by the Maxwell Road Mugwumps, H. "Tiffany" and the Secretary, neither of whom has ever shown the way to the Paper Trade or on the Maine at Stowe. We will, as we should, pass lightly over the fact that "Willie" and Royal won the first game, 25-4, stressing the 25-21 count of the second game and the four straight ringers thrown by Mr. Knowlton in the first four boxes. Had the luckless Secretary been able to support his partner there would surely have been a third game necessary, but the Scrivener was still dazed by his victory over the great McLaughlin and was able to do little but go through the motions after that unexpected triumph!

AMONG TOP BOMBADIER GRADUATES

Commissioned as a second lieutenant in the Air Corps, Lt. Josephson earned his high place in his class by showing outstanding ability in operating the U. S. Army bombsights during training missions over the target ranges of this West Texas bombardier School.

Although this was only their second appearance before the student body, the band drew enthusiastic applause after each appropriate selection of martial music.

COLD HAMPERS BASEBALL WORKOUTS

Old Man Winter has thrown a considerable monkey-wrench into the development of the Winchester High School baseball team this week. Coach Knowlton being obliged to do much of his work indoors.

The doubtful scholastic status of Angelo Amico, Pete Twombly's decision not to play ball this spring and "Lefty" Bob Goddu being kept out of the game with a hernia have made it necessary for Coach Knowlton to spend much of his time in an effort to uncover new pitching timber to replace these experienced boys, any one of whom would be a very welcome addition to the squad.

If Amico is declared eligible, most of the team's pitching worries will be alwaited for "Scratch" as a freshman last year pitched a lot of winning ball and showed real potential ability. If he can play this season, the number one pitching slot will be in good hands.

Chief among the new candidates are Guy Washburn who pitched last summer for the Millionaires, "Chuck" Roche, an outfielder with a strong arm who is being tried as a pitcher; Sammy Tibaldo, an infielder who is also trying out for a pitcher's job, Harvey Clark, a tall newcomer from New York; Sam Tompkins, big football lineman; and the second-only "Red" Hannon whose batting Rocket-s kept soft ball alive in Winchester last summer.

Most promising candidates for first base seem to be Bert Mahoney, former Cubs player; Charlie Murphy and Ken Harvey, football captain-elect. Charlie "Sarto" Walsh and Kennie Wright seem to have the inside track for second base with Hal Bergquist and Sammy Tibaldo showing promise at shortstop. Bergquist, a rangy lad, has looked quite good in what workouts there have been to date.

"Richie" Callahan and Frank "Hot Dawg" Tranchita have a slight lead on the third base hopefuls, and the leading outfield candidates are Capt. Geo Russo, centerfield; "Chucker" Roche, right field; and Tony Saraco, left field. Jimmy Haggerty is another boy who is showing outfield promise.

Coach Knowlton has 67 candidates trying out for the nine, an indication that there is still enthusiasm for the diamond game at high school and incidentally a real tribute to the coach's popularity. He plans to keep all the boys busy and is arranging a series of inter-squad games similar to the Black and White battles that proved so popular in football last fall.

The first varsity game of the season is with Woburn High on the afternoon of April 19 at Manchester Field. Much work remains to be done before that date rolls around.

He ranked sixth in his class and was elected to the Cum Laude Society. He matriculated at Yale as the holder of a Yale-Exeter Honorary Scholarship. Planning to go into engineering, he is a candidate for a B. S. degree and a member of Timothy Dwight College."

TEACHERS' BOWLING LEAGUE

Tied for last place on Jan. 5, in 5th place on Feb. 1, and leading the league in April 6 is the fantastic record of the bewildering Graves team in the Teachers' Bowling League. Whether they can clinch the title next Monday by out-rolling the faltering Coopers, who have headed the league almost all season, is a much disputed question as the league finale looms.

Questioned at length on the possibility of retaining the slim one-point advantage until trophy time, the hustling captain pointed with pride to the team's meteoric ascent and averred, "We'll take 'em."

That the Coopers won't give up without a struggle was voiced by Statistician Rodgers as he recalled that the Graves-es haven't won a match from the Coopers all season. When it was pointed out to him that a tie will be just as good, Mr. Rodgers shook his head sadly and walked away muttering, "If Miss Fahey rolls another 102, she'll beat Miss Cullen. If Miss Haley has a good day, she'll beat the injured Miss Mackedon. If Miss MacPartlin can the Miss Niedringhaus, and Larry can beat Bob Swenson, I'll personally trim Sam Graves and we'll have that trophy."

Although the Brantleys are out of the running for first place, they have a chance to finish second.

We are still dumb. How long is a matter of weeks."

And now it's "a meeting of men", not a "meeting of minds." Do you suppose they really know?

We notice that all this publicity over food shortages, rationing, etc., is bolstered by appeals for the welfare of our boys in service. Which is OK by us. But when we all know that most of this shortage is because of lend-lease, why lay it all to supporting our boys in service? Must every feature of our war effort be camouflaged?

We received a visit from our labor inspector this week. He inspected our plant and our four remaining workmen in his usual pleasant and genial manner. Evidently our stairs are satisfactory, for he did not mention them, although we thought we would come in for a little praise- 87% worth to be exact. However, we still could not be 100 per cent right, and it seems we had not posted the name and address of our insurance company. We did not know of this requirement. We thought all we had to do was notify the company ourself when one of our boys cut his finger. The Law, however, does not trust us. Our great government thinks of everything.

"AND WE DON'T KNOW ANYTHING YET"

With Tuesday's glass at 20, we again became interested in our endeavor to put more warmth inside our house than we could get by opening the door, and we were greatly comforted in looking forward (which we sometimes do) by two articles on the same page of our paper.

We quote the headlines and opening paragraph of each article, side by side, on the same page:

"Oil Situation Here Critical, Institute Told. The fuel oil situation in New England is critical and will remain so into next winter unless the indecision and lack of co-ordination existing in the multiplicity of bureaus in Washington is ended, Congressman George J. Bates of Salem told members of the Oil Heat Institute of New England at the Hotel Statler last night."

"No Oil Rations Next Winter in East a Possibility. Testimony of a high petroleum administration official that fuel oil rationing in the East would be unnecessary next winter—provided requirements remain 'normal'—was made public today by a House appropriations subcommittee."

Incidentally we read that that one pipe line, due to be ready next July, is not intended for household use. It is all to be turned over to production needs.

LET'S FIGHT A WAR

Once again we have laid ourself open to censure. We seem to have a faculty for that. This time we feel pretty badly over it, for the criticism came, no less, than from an alert Air Raid Warden—our good friend and neighbor Deacon (1st. Congo) Irv Plitt. We thought we were smart when we removed all outside lights, thus insuring easy compliance with one phase of the dimout ruling. But we did leave one lamp at the back door over the garbage bucket. To be sure it was a small lamp, and as we thought, fairly well screened, and we felt it advisable to see just where the remains of our rations went for a final disposal. But we slipped. Deacon Plitt gave us a ring and put us right; and when we looked over at his house and saw a curtain up, and thought we had him on the hip, he came right back and informed us that we still had seven minutes before the dead-line. He was just afraid we would forget it. Which was nice and friendly, and undoubtedly saved us from a bad incident.

We read, in one of those numerous "Editor" books which have appeared, that Father never published anything pertaining to himself or his family, so evidently that author also has something to mention to us. However—it has been our endeavor to look at the situation through everyman's eyes; to portray the situation as he sees it, and to hold no inside information nor special contacts to make us superior. In simple words we try to see things just as he does and assume we both encounter the same problems and give thought to the same matters.

So if anyone should accuse us of being a bigoted Republican who does not know how to play ball, or being a rabid anti-Democrat trying to gum the score, we consider them both wrong. To us the titles Republican and Democrat are both empty and almost meaningless—surviving from bygone days before 1932, when everyone knew what the Constitution meant, what the Bill of Rights protected and that the Country was governed for and by the people and not by labor unions and a group of Washington appointees who know how much better to do it than anyone born before the present era. Which leaves us still with two parties, each retaining the old names, and each holding adherants to the present political parties—the New Deal and the Anti-New Deal. It is our opinion that upon this division, call it by any other name you wish, the next election will hinge.

It grieves us to be accused of playing politics. Outside our recent campaign for Cemetery Commissioner we have tried earnestly to avoid such entanglement, holding that no better example of what the term identities can be found outside of Washington. As regards the present set-up of the voters of the Country it may be suspected that we are Anti-New Deal, and should you hold such suspicions we cannot deny them. We think this New Deal, now engaged actively during war times in making the Country over, is wrecking America. If this opinion constitutes politics, we plead guilty.

We have no intention of pleading our patriotism. Our last war was fought under a Democratic President. We saw no division of the people of America at that time such as prevails today. There was no effort to remake America abroad then. All were willing and anxious to do their part to win. There was no talk of hardship or suffering because the people knew their endeavors were for war and not to further anyone's political ambitions for prestige and greatness or to rewrite a nation's history.

It is our opinion that no one, be he wondering over just why he cannot get oil, holding a soft government job for life or lauding the Union for wages so high he cannot spend all the money, holds any confidence whatever in the New Deal. Many are getting it while the getting is good; many are going without for reasons no one can or will, explain. When it comes down to confidence in our rulers—it just isn't there.

The remedy, if you agree, is to change these conditions. Wipe the slate clean; take on a new ball team, call it Republican or Democrat as you will, and let everyone fight a war and not a Washington bureaucracy.

A POSER FOR THE LEGISLATURE

State Tax Commissioner Henry F. Long has presented a poser to the legislature, a question so important that unless some change is made the state may lose $4,000,000 a year and indirectly add $22,160 to the cost of the Winchester municipal government.

The entire problem centers about the new income tax schedule established by the federal government, which Long says is "actually threatening the financial stability of our cities and towns" and is threatening "the right of the state to tax."

Both the state and federal government collect income taxes from Massachusetts citizens, but the state distributes income tax revenues to cities and towns for educational purposes. The increased tax taken by the federal government, because of a credit given by the state for federal taxes "just lets the federal government take taxes that belong to our cities and towns" according to Long. The Commissioner also said that "We are handling money to the federal government for which the federal government gives credit" to our taxpayers.

Taxation is always an involved subject because, and Commissioner Long failed to give the legislative committee as clear a picture of the plight facing Massachusetts taxpayers as he might have, thus showing that unless Massachusetts changes its allowance for credit on the state income tax for federal taxes paid by Bay State residents the cities and towns can no longer expect the aid for the school systems because $4,000,000 of the current tax revenue used for that purpose will be lost to the state.

Commissioner Long bases his gloomy outlook on the following example: John Smith receives $3000 a year in earned income, that is his salary for labor performed. The state income tax levies an assessment on John Smith for only that portion of his income above $2000, or for one third of his salary. This produces an extremely small tax to the state, $15.

The federal government, in computing the tax John Smith owes on his $3000 income is not as generous as the state but starts to figure the tax on everything Smith has earned over $500, or taxes him on $2500 of his income, a tax of over $300.

In filing his returns, John Smith is allowed by the federal government to make a deduction for the $15 state income tax he paid, which is a small amount, but when Smith takes credit on his state return for the $300 odd he paid the federal government he has wiped out all obligation to the state on his earned income.

This credit allowance for federal income taxes paid, is the bug in the state structure Commissioner Long is hitting at.

The bill he has pending before the committee on taxation, and on which many members of the committee are utterly confused, would eliminate the present credit allowance for federal income taxes which are deducted from the state income tax levy.

Tax Commissioner Long failed to explain to the committee on taxation that elimination of the credit allowed now, is not as much a penalty on the taxpayer as first appears to be the case for the simple reason that if the credit is continued and $4,000,000 is lost by the state in income tax revenues, that $4,000,000 will have to be made up in the local tax rates and by local assessments to finance the school systems which are underwritten in part by income tax collections.

If the load of the income tax payer is eased by taking the credit off the return blank, his load will be increased in some other tax field to make up the difference.

TRIBUTE TO DR. LOWELL

To the Editor of the Star:

You have written of the many honors won by Dr. W. Holbrook Lowell in the medical field but only those who had the privilege of approaching him in search of help for people in need can guess even vaguely of the good he has done through the years.

An instance of this was the case of a disabled veteran whose fast failing health was affecting his eyes and he felt he had not been given proper attention and glasses. He wished to see a good doctor outside of the usual available facilities. Dr. Lowell saw this young man, who had to be carried into the Doctor's office in the arms of two of his buddies. He was given an examination with as much care as if he had been a millionaire and new glasses, which may not have been so very different from those he had been using but through the kindly, gentle explanation of the Doctor, it gradually dawned upon the young man that his eyes would react to his fast failing health. He bore the gradual loss of both health and eyes with a great and beautiful calm and with the soul remembered Dr. Lowell with deep gratitude.

As to those who were in the room and heard the Doctor's words I can only say there were tears in every eye and it was some minutes before they could turn from the window and face both the Doctor and the patient.

LT. SNOW WANTS THE STAR

Lt. George L. Snow, 2nd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman E. Snow of Glen road, who is attached to Headquarters Battery of the 9th U. S. Field Artillery somewhere overseas writes this office asking to be placed on the Star's subscription list.

The characteristic touch of humor which is carrying our boys in the armed forces successfully through so many trying experiences is apparent in the closing paragraph of his letter which we reproduce:

"I have been receiving a weekly touch with home through individual copies of the Star which have been mailed separately to me, but due to the recent Postal Order affecting individual issues of newspapers I am obtaining a regular subscription. When my address becomes APO No. 3, C-o Postmaster, Berlin, Germany, I will notify your office of the change. Meantime, yours truly will read the home news from fox hole to fox hole en route.

Very sincerely yours,
G. L. Snow, 2nd"

Winchester, Mass.
My dear Mr. and Mrs. Plitt:

May I extend to you my deep appreciation for having sent the Parish Players to the Chelsea Naval Hospital. The play was beautifully done. The men appreciated it beyond words and they are still talking about it. We are looking forward to a future date when they will return.

It means so much to men in a hospital to have a play like "Personal Appearance" and actors of the type that you have who seem to understand our men. It gives the patients an opportunity to see something different and have something to discuss. As you know, this is as good as any tonic or any rest cure. It is stimulating and brings the men together in that they have something in common to discuss, and it is to your group and to you that we owe our deep appreciation.

With renewed thanks, I am
Sincerely yours,

GARDEN ADVICE FROM THE SAGE OF SWANTON STREET

To the Editor of the Star:

When a boy I used to dwell on a farm I loved so well. I desire to inform folks through the columns of the Star who never labored on a farm the important factors that are necessary for a successful victory garden. The ...rs are, namely, fertilization, irrigation, cultivation and rotation.

I suggest to folks who plant on virgin soil to plant corn, turnips, cabbage, Brussell's sprouts, potatoes, cauliflower and Swiss chard. On land that has been tilled for several years, plant onions, lettuce, radishes, cucumbers, spinnach, beans, New Zealand spinnach, and squash. Do not plant beans prior to May 10 because Jack Frost may be present. It is safe to plant blue hubbard, green hubbard, turbin, marrow or summer squash and tomatoe plants (not the seed) after June 10.

If you desire to preserve carrots and beets, sow the seed the first week in July. I assure you they will be delicious for canning next October.

When you arrive home from a fishing trip the fish that is not consumed at the dinner table may be utilized in the victory garden. Remember how the Indians taught the sturdy Pilgrim fathers in the year, 1621, how to plant corn. They certainly suffered hardship in 1620.

I firmly believe it is not necessary to plant potatoes in a small garden. Why? Because you can raise only one crop. If you plant beans, beets, spinnach or lettuce you can very readily harvest two crops, providing the elements and the condition of the soil are satisfactory.

Never use coarse manure for onions because it will have a tendency to produce tops instead of bulbs. In regard to running furrows north and south, east or west, depends on the location of your garden. When you plant your seeds be careful not to plant deeply. Radishes are the earliest seeds to germinate. Parsnips are the latest.

I believe every person who is able will manifest a spirit of patriotism and work in the heat in the garden, raise vegetables and earn his money by the sweat of his brow, like the laborers who labored in the vineyard more than 1900 years ago. Certainly some folks will remain idle in the market places.

Pat and Mike planted a victory garden. A week later Mike met Pat and said he was discouraged. The seed he planted did not germinate. Pat said, "Cheer up, Mike, don't worry! The rain will fetch everything up out of the ground.

Mike said, "I hope and trust it don't bring up my three wives!"

Very truly yours,
Patrick E. Craughwell

KENWIN CLUB

The Kenwin Club met at the home of Mrs. George Foskitt on Wednesday evening for its monthly meeting. After the reports were read a lot of games, cards, cigarettes, books were packed for a boy now in the service in Alaska. The club voted to send a box each month to a boy in the armed forces. Plans were made for a rummage sale to be held Thursday, April 15 at 10 a. m. at Marchesi Block, Swanton street. Pennies were also collected for the Shut-in-Gift.

Sanwiches and tea were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Richburg, Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Halwartz.

KNOW WHY EASTER 'S LATE?

Most of us know that the date on which Easter is observed is fixed according to some moon or other, but if pressed for an exact explanation, could go little, if any further. We know Easter is late this year, but we know it only because the calendar tells us so. The moon has something to do with it, but just what we, or at least most of us, wouldn't know.

The way in which the date for Easter is determined goes back to the meeting of the Council of Christian Churches at Nicea in Asia Minor in 325 A. D. At that meeting the Nicean Creed was drawn up, making Easter the first Sunday after the first Paschal full moon occurring on or after March 21. Paschal, by the way, means pertaining to the Passover or Easter.

A Paschal full moon isn't the real or astronomical full moon. Instead it is the 14th day of a lunar month system of reckoning. The Church Council decided that the Sunday following this full moon should be the day for the celebration of Easter because the religious pilgrims needed moonlight to travel to the great Easter festivals of that period.

April 25, the date for Easter this year, is the very last date on which the holiday can fall. It may fall any Sunday between March 20 and April 25, but between 1801 and this year it has fallen on April 25 but once, in 1886, and after this year, at least until the year 2000 it will not so fall again. Since 1801 Easter has only fallen as late as April 24 once, in 1859.

HOME BUTTER-MAKING

A member of one of Winchester's oldest families offers this idea to help out in the current butter shortage.

Pour off the top inch or two from the milk bottle as soon as it arrives, and save this cream until you have about half a preserve jar full. Never mind if it sours as it will do just as well. When you have the preserve jar half full shake with a churning motion until the butter comes. The preserve jar must of course have the cover on during this process. The butter will come in from four to ten minutes. Drain off the butter milk and then wash the butter in luke warm water. This will remove the white color and bring out the bright yellow color. Next add the salt required and mix in thoroughly. Be sure not to add too much. Then mold the butter into whatever shape you desire with a flat knife or paddle and put in refrigerator to harden.

A cup of the tops of the bottles will make about one-eighth pound of butter. It is excellent butter and a number of people in town are already making butter this way. Do not try this with coffee cream as you will have little luck.

ROTARY NEWS

Among the guests present were George Hayden, Jr. of the U. S. Army and Frank Knight, former secretary of Winchester Rotary Club. President John McLean announced the spring assembly of Rotary to be held at Hotel Statler on April 20.

The club enjoyed an Isolationist Quiz put out by the League of Women Voters. Mr. Paul Fitzimmons, assistant rate engineer of the Department of Utilities of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, He described the varied program of the departments activities. He spoke specifically of transportation and described the procedure up to date and the regulations concerning common carriers and contract carriers. He gave examples of measures to preserve equipment in these crucial times and to stop over loading and consequence excessive wear and damage. He stated that present regulations are aiding materially in preserving transportation equipment, which is of the utmost importance because of the lack of reserve of rolling stock. He urged all people to preach the gospel of conservation of equipment. He indicated that Massachusetts is one of the leaders in intelligent handling of this certain problem and asked the support of the public.

SELECTIVE SERVICE NEWS

The Local Selective Service Board has been advised by the State Director of Selective Service that we are to expect a call for induction in April and May sufficiently large to absorb all the single men now classified in 1A. It was explained that the directive of bringing this situation about intended to include not only single men without dependents but also single men who have been classified as having collateral dependents.

The directive went on further to indicate that all Local Boards in the state will be called upon to reclassify all married men without children who are not engaged in an essential industry in anticipation of filling the expected call for the month of June and the calls during the immediately ensuing months.

The Local Board has been sending out to its registrants during the past 10 days special dependency form which are intended to bring the circumstances of the registrant up to date. These forms will be used as the basis of the expected reclassification of childless married registrants who are not engaged in an essential industry.

WOMEN'S WAR BOND COMMITTEE

Everyone in Winchester should make a special point of seeing the display in Woolworth's window this week which has been arranged by Mrs. Theodore Elliott of the Women's War Bond Committee. The window is filled with interesting items from Greenland which were loaned to the committee by Mrs. Edward H. Smith of Wildwood street, wife of Rear Admiral Smith who is on active foreign duty. Admiral Smith has for the past two or three years been in command of the Greenland patrol, attached to the Atlantic fleet.

Among the items of the Esquimux primitive living conditions are soapstone lamps for burning whale oil, harpoons for hunting seal, and the short, sharp knife used for cutting the seal's throat. The unhappy seal then furnishes both food and clothing to his captors.

A long pole tipped by a spear with three prongs made of ivory behind the spear is used for catching birds. If the hunter misses with the spear, the bird may be caught by the prongs.

An elderdown cape is displayed. This is made from the breast of the eider duck, whose feathers are also used for blankets. It makes an exceptionally warm yet light weight material. Also to be seen is a tusk from the Norwhale, the only tusked whale known, who is a great fighter. The water bucket exhibited is made from driftwood, for there are no trees in Greenland.

Members of the Wra Bond Committee will sell stamps and bonds in Woolworths all this week.

Saturday's snow and wet weather gave the Fire Department a breather on that day, but there were still enough fires about town on Friday and Sunday to keep the men at the Central Station on the jump.

"God be merciful unto us, and bless us; and cause his face to shine upon us; that thy way may be known upon earth, thy saving health among all nations." These words from Psalms 67:1, 2, comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, April 11, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.
The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "I the Lord have called thee in righteousness, and will hold thine hand, and will keep thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, for a light of the Gentiles; to open the blind eyes, to bring out the prisoners from the prison, and them that sit in darkness out of the prison house" (Isaiah 42:6, 7).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "If sin, sickness, and death are as real as Life, Truth, and Love, then they must all be from the same source; God must be their author. Now Jesus came to destroy sin, sickness, and death; yet the Scriptures aver, 'I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil'" (p. 474).

And with her at the head you have nothing to fear.
She's anticipated you every thought
To help you grow that vegetable plot.
She has things for sale so hand to find
That they prey upon your busy mind.
There are pads for your knees and

And tomato and pepper and Easter

THE WINCHESTER ART ASSOCIATION

On Wednesday evening last, the Winchester Art Association held its annual meeting at the Art Gallery in the Public Library and opened the exhibition of art by the residents of Winchester.

President Lyle Bush presided over a short business session and the officers for the coming year were announced as follows:

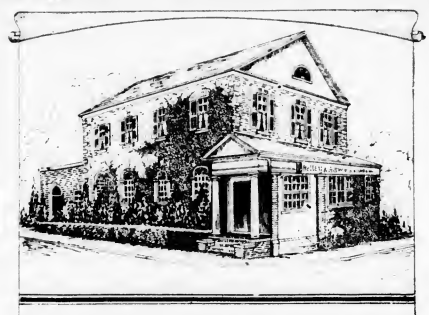

President: Lyle Bush
Vice-President: Wayne Davis
Secretary: Mrs. Marshall W. Symmes
Treasurer: Mrs. Lucia Coit
Members-at-Large: Mrs. Truman Godfrey, Miss Edith Caverly, Mr. G. Russell Mann.
Representative Library Trustees: Ralph T. Hale
Representative Library Art Committee: Hermann Dudley Murphy.

Miss Corinne Mead, Librarian, called to the attention of the Association the many books on Art available for use.

The speaker of the evening, Miss Helen E. Cleaves, Director of Art in the Boston schools was then introduced by President Bush. Her wide background makes her a critic of insight and inspiration. She frequently acts as such a critic in Art groups, one of the latest being the Boston Business Men's Art Association of which Mr. G. Russell Mann, our exhibition chairman of this past year, is president. Miss Cleaves made a tour of the gallery commenting briefly on each entry in the exhibit, and adding witty bits of personal anecdotes that pointed her general theme. All the contributing artists, many of whom sat in the audience personally unknown to Miss Cleaves as she viewed each brush and pencil stroke, may well be proud of their excellent rating by this outsider. They may also feel, as Miss Cleaves says, that by creating beauty in this world of war they are adding to the total of real values in living now; and by continuing their work they will help build a finer post war world.

COMMUNITY MEETINGS

The Winchester (Mass.) Public Library, by linking its war efforts with those of the community, has increased its registered adult borrowers by about 900 during the past year, according to information received by the U. S. Office of Education from Corinne Mead, the librarian. Immediately after Pearl Harbor the facilities of the library were extended to the local Red Cross and civilian defense organizations. A Civilian Defense corner established in a prominent place in the library has become a War Information Center. Two hundred and fifty meetings have been held in the two assembly rooms in the library—one with a seating capacity of 140 and the other about 60. While first aid, nutrition, and child-care classes have figured prominently, the library has been ready at all times to stretch its facilities to meet community needs as evidenced by a meat-cutting demonstration held in the art gallery and a canning demonstration in the conference room.

Some 50 special book displays have been arranged for the various group meetings. Some of the captions for the displays are Production, Protection, Home Front, United Nations, Our Neighbors — North and South, Our Enemies, and the America We Defend. In its attempt to ease the tension for those who wish to get their minds off the war for a while, relief reading is stimulated and musical and moving picture programs are provided. Every Friday night is Family Night at the Library to see educational films. These programs are planned by the director of visual education at Boston University—[Education For Victory

The program begins at 2 and will consist of simple, easily applied methods for small quantity canning.

FELLSLAND COUNCIL EXPOSITION

The 11th annual Scout Exposition of Fellsland Council comprising Medford, Winchester, Woburn, Burlington and Stoneham was held on Saturday, April 3 at the Roberts Junior High School, Medford. It was the most successful of the 11 annual expositions. A capacity crowd of over 2000 spent the entire afternoon and evening in looking over the 31 different booths on Cubbing and Scouting activities and also viewed the stage demonstrations and rally during both the afternoon and evening.

Mayor John C. Carr of Medford was one of the chief speakers in the evening program. The latter part of the evening program was highlighted by the presentation of 11 Eagle Badges.

There were so many activities going on during the entire day that it would be hard to put the finger on any outstanding feature of the entire show. Below are listed the various winners of the rally events in which the preliminaries were held in the afternoon and finals in the evening, as well as awards for booths, stage demonstrations and the list of boys who received their Eagle badges at the hands of Commander Rush.

Winchester's prize winners follow:

No. 1 In a Series on "How to Keep 'em Working"

How to take good care of your electric refrigerator

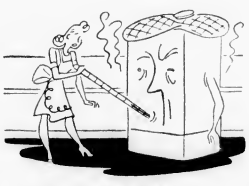

Let foods cool. Steaming hot foods should not be placed in the refrigerator as this increases the temperature and causes the motor to work overtime. Give them sufficient time to cool.

Don't overload refrigerator. Jamming food into compartments prevents proper circulation of air Every time you open the door the temperature is raised and the motor works longer.

Remove ice trays carefully. Using a sharp instrument to pry or force trays free may chip or puncture the freezing compartment and entail costly repairs. If trays get stuck, try defrosting.

Maintain even temperature. Your refrigerator was designed to preserve foods —not to freeze them. Running it on "HIGH" can damage the foods as well as overwork the motor.

BRITISH WAR RELIEF

The central workroom Wedneday received with enthusiasm the two woolen quilts sent over by a group of women of the First Congregational Church to go for British War Relief. At the workroom the attractive patterning of the blocks, the thrifty cutting from small scraps, and the good workmanship came under eyes that know the value of those qualities.

The quilts joined a carton of new and used clothing that went in to the Boston packing rooms; half a dozen more of the girls' new jumper dresses, with blouses of blue, pink, or a soft yellow print; hats, coats, suits, sweaters to which menders had given any stitch in time that was needed to darn a thin elbow or put on a new hand, or tighten a button.

In the luncheon pause the workers enjoyed two letters of appreciation that have recently come to Mrs. Fanny Thompson, who usually puts a little personal message with her gifts. One young widow from a much-bombed part of England, wishes that our country's happy exemption from sirens and broken nights may always last, and pluckily adds, "Don't think I am sorry that all this is happening; I don't mind as long as it makes it better for our children when they grow up." A woman whose sailor husband's life was lost in this war knows what peace is worth that will last through all the life of her little son.

A soldier wrote the other letter, equally plucky and cheerful, from an unnamed land. He and the boys of his platoon were thanking Mrs. Thompson for socks; in the toe of his pair he had a note saying that she had already knit and sent a hundred pair and was off on a second hundred. His band had come out from England to Egypt in time to stem Rommel's push for Alexandria. The next stage he alluded to with characteristic British understatement: "we pottered around the desert for a few months on intensive training; then the great day came." Days and nights of hand fighting; the break through that "started 'Jerry' on his record run to Tripoli; pursuit; rest camp; then "many weird and wonderful miles through various countries to our present abode, a country very different from Egypt, with towering snow-capped mountains." So runs the letter. But despite rough going, changeable weather, much rain, bitter cold, and worse heat in prospect, the soldier hanks on "British cheerfulness to see us through," and ended with a boyish "Thanks a lot."

Even coming by air, his letter was long on its way from his un-named land to Winchester.

WOMEN'S ALLIANCE

Tuesday, April 13 is the date for the annual meeting of the Women's Alliance of the Unitarian Church. Luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock.

Dr. Daniel C. Dennett will show his very outstanding collection of colored slides of flowers, a treat no one will want to miss. There will be a food and utility sale. War saving stamps will also be available. Don't forget Wednesday, April 28, the Rummage sale.

NOTES FOR PROSPECTIVE CANNERS

1. Watch the Star for further particulars of the Canning Demonstration which is being planned for May 26.

2. From the best authority we have learned that the chances are very slight for an individual to be able to buy a pressure cooker this year.

3. During the second week in May there will be a window display in the former A. and P. store on Main street showing the comparatively simple outfit which is necessary and available for home canning today. It is not too early to buy your jars and their new plastic rings but please oh please do not stretch them in order to test them as one poor misinformed woman did to the number of 24 before calling the Extension office to inquire what she should do next only to be told to stop stretching them.

4. We plan to have a bulletin giving the prevailing prices of fruits and vegetables and the estimated low level of same on display during the canning season.

5. The Library has a good bit of literature including books and bulletins about canning and Bulletin No. 142 is especially recommended. Anyone may obtain this bulletin for her individual use by the painless method of mailing a postcard to the Massachusetts State College Extension Service at Amherst and asking that it be sent.

6. If there are enough women who want to can fresh asparagus in the season it may be possible to arrange for the purchase of large quantities direct from the western part of the state. Will anyone who is interested in canning such asparagus please notify Mrs. Coon, 12 Brooks street, tel. Win. 1287-M.

Civilian Defense, Food Conservation Committee, Mrs. J. Waldo Bond, Chairman.

AIRCRAFT WARNING SERVICE HELD SPECIAL MEETING

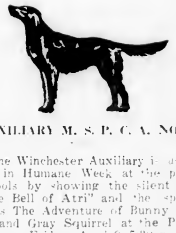

The United States Aircraft Warning Service Post of Winchester, held a special meeting in Fortnightly Hall last Monday night, for all its observers.

Chief Observer Staff Rogers presided and explained the new orders issued by the U. S. Army. He also made it very clear that visitors are not allowed on the Post without special permits, and that permits would be issued only for specific reasons. Observers on duty are dealing with a service which may mean saving the lives of our own men in the air, and they should not be distracted by any visitors.

Charles E. Howe, assistant Chief Observer, gave praise to those men and women who have so faithfully filled the "graveyard" watch, from 12 midnight to 4 a. m. Twenty below, rain, snow or fair, one person is always standing outside, watching for any aircraft which might be aloft.

The U. S. Army held a school for recognition of airplanes, and our Dr. Roger M. Burgoyne spent a full week taking the course. After passing this intensive training with flying colors, he is now ready to give the information to our observers. Classes are going to be held Friday evenings, 7:30 to 9:30 in the Library and Sunday evenings at the same hour in Fortnightly Hall. This course will extend over a six weeks period. Dr. Burgoyne has had photographs and enlargements made of the most common planes, and with airplane models, the course promises to be an outstanding achievement for the recognition of airplanes. The class for Friday is completely filled and only 10 more may sign up for the Sunday evening class. Another class will start on May 14. This course is not an obligation for all observers, but the Army requests that every observer who can should take advantage of these classes.

Capt. C. O. Hunt of the Boston Command Headquarters, told about the filter stations, illustrated with a very fine motion picture. He was impressed on all the great importance of the Aircraft Warning Service and how much it means to the lives of our own boys while flying about in this country.

AUXILIARY M. S. P. C. A. NOTES

The Winchester Auxiliary is ushering in Humane Week at the public schools by showing the silent film "The Bell of Atri" and the spoken films The Adventure of Bunny Rabbit and Gray Squirrel at the Public Library, Friday, April 9, 7:30 p. m.

At the close Mr. Arthur Bryer will answer questions regarding care and feeding of animals during war times.

This will be especially helpful to parents whose children own pets.

A cordial invitation is extended to all.

WYMAN SCHOOL NOTES

The first grade (Miss Mile's grade) presented a play in connection with a unit on home and school life. Each member of the class took part. The characters for the play were taken from the Alice and Jerry reading books.

The first scene pictured the White family at home in the evening. Mother was reading a bed-time story. The second scene was the following morning, with the family at breakfast. As the children started for school they asked mother and father to come to visit.

The last scene depicted a first grade classroom. With pictures drawn by the children and little talks, the children told how we help at home, how we help our government in war times, and how we keep well and strong.

Eskimos Fathers Aid Sons

Eskimo fathers arrange most of the marriages on behalf of their sons and many a sad little dusky maiden is carried off in a strange schooner to live miles from the mother she has known. The Eskimos are naturally happy people and young wives grow quickly and easily into busy, cheerful women.

W. H. S. 11th ANNUAL VAUDEVILLE

Pleasing sell-out audiences on Friday and Saturday evenings of last week, the 11th annual Winchester High School Vaudeville has taken its place as a creditable chapter in the history of such performances. Better balanced than many of its predecessors, this year's show reached its peak on the final night when an enthusiastic audience drew the best from a cast of well over 100. From the opening somersault of the red-shirted firemen to the colorful finale, performers moved on and off the stage with poise and precision.

The first half of the program opened by the already mentioned firemen brought out Rhythm Rhymes, Rosie the Riveter, Who's Who in Taps, and the Pony Polka, dance routines which were pleasing both with their rhythms and their colorful costumes. Interspersed were specialties, all of which were well received, but judged by the applause, Cinema Sentiments, starring youthful monologist Priscilla Morrill; Twee, Twee, Twee, featuring Cosimo Simonetta, his accordian, Anthony Luongo, and Jack Errico; and the Gallagher and Shean team of Johnston and Fynn led by a wide margin in popular laugh appeal. Liberty Belles, the Misses Engle, Horwood, Johnson, and Lovejoy added a touch of charm to the festivties by their pleasing rendition of several selections, proving to the audience that bell ringers have an extensive repertoire.

Pleasing, brief vocal entrees were provided between curtains by Margaret Fitzgerald with Summer Time; Dorothy Hickey, with Moonlight Becomes You; Dorothy Byford with She's My Daisy; and Pauline Ferro, with There Are Such Things. The younger portion of the audience in particuhr thoroughly enjoyed The Buehrer's Furee, with its broad comedy and ridiculous situations. Pete Twombly, Charlie Murphy, Kenny Wright, and Bert Moore provided the audience with a real chuckle by their weird interpretation of a ghost dance at midnight.

Opening and closing the second act were two more group dances the first of which saw Yvonne Clennon supported by a cast of six dancing couples and the last, Park Patterns, was the most colorful of all, featuring a Gypsy Dance, a Pony Chorus, a Rope Dance, a Waltz Clog, Singers, Solo Dances, Policeman, Sailor and Gypsy. In this act two numbers were recruited from the boys' and girls' choruses to present Merry Melody, 15 singing girls, and Ten Little Soldiers, really 30 uniformed service men and a girl, who sang well and enthusiastically the favorite songs of the day including The Marines Hymn, Anchors Aweigh and The Army Air Corps.

Specialties of the second act which brought down the house were Herbert Clement in his Chanticleer solo; Darktown Downbeat with Parker Symmes and the boys joining in jive; and Fibber Magee and Molly, with a brand new script and a brand new sponsor, Modern Dance Mosaic, featuring Mary MacIsaac and her partner, Frank Girard, were compelled by the insistent applause to return for an encore. A masterpieee was presented in the form of Silver Symbols in which silvered figures portrayed by athletie stalwarts shone out as trophies, plaeques, and finally in the perennial favorite, Co-operation, symbolic of the recently successful team play on the various sports fronts. Robert Johnston, already a favorite as the Gallagher and Shean act, led the combined cast in singing Yankee Doodle Dandy in a finale admirably suited to the occasion and colorfully grouped under the Stars and Stripes.

Two very entertaining members on the original program were omitted because of the fact that the members of the cast had at the last minute fallen prey to the Measles. Miss Barbara Flaherty's Acrobatic Dance would have added a novel and artistic feature to the program The short skit, A Matter of Technique, would have brought together in an amusing situation Vivienne Chapman and Alan Bugbee.

Praise for this highly successful production goes to Mrs. John T. Phelps and to Mrs. A. B. Corthell, who gave hours and hours of their time to the rehearsal and staging of the dance numbers; to Mrs. Provalite, who trained and presented the bell ringers; to Miss Caudia Renehan who directed the choruses and staged the Ten Little Soldiers; to Alice Parker who gave so much time helping with the music; to Mrs. Mary Snell who directed the force of make-up experts; to Miss Pauline Goodrich who supervised the preparation of posters and programs; to Miss Ethel Knowlton who did such a thorough job supervising the ticket sales; to Larry Smith, Donald Marchant, Muriel Howard, Charles Murphy, and their committees; to call boy, Richard Briggs; to Paul Blake who lent his voice to the announcer; to Barbara Joyce for typing the programs; to Coaches Fenton and Knowlton and Faculty Manager Ray Hayward for their expert planning and tireless efforts in behalf of the Athletic Association and to the parents who helped so much with the costumes. Following is the program and committee:

BOAT CLUB TO PRESENT AN "AMATEUR NIGHT"

First Get-Together of 1943 Season Promises Plenty of Fun

In years past, the Winchester Boat Club has always greeted a new season with a dinner, dance, party or some other form of entertainment, chiefly to have some fun and to give new members a chance to meet the old-timers and the old-timers the opportunity to renew friendships that may have become dormant during the long winter months. This year is no exception. For the first big event of 1943, the club is holding an amateur night, presenting the club's future Bernhardts, Bennys, Crosbys, Astaires and Paderewskis. There are a lot of talented younsters and oldsters who are club members that are eager to entertain and incidentally win some very attractive war stamp prizes. It looks like a large evening is in store.

Already a dozen or more acts have tipped off Comdr. Jim Newman that they are ready to walk off with the prizes, with more applications coming in every day. The only rules governing the contest are (1) that the contestant is a member of the Winchester Boat Club and (2) that the contestant can danee, sing, play, clown or entertain in any way.

In order to keep the evening's entertainment down to the length of a double feature movie, the club's able and energetic entertainment committee have arranged an audition prior to the big night at the club house on Thursday, April 22 at 8 p. m. If you're a member of the club and would like a chance to add a substantial amount of War Stamps to your collection, just call Mrs. James Newman at Win. 1568-W or Mrs. William Cusack at Win. 1706 and say you'll be on hand for the audition. Of course, none but contestants will be allowed at the auditions and there'll be plenty of heat at the club.

Here, indeed, is a swell opportunity for the talented members of the club to strut their stuff before a friendly and appreciative audience and for club members and their friends to spend an evening packed with laughs and entertainment. Better put Thursday evening, May 6 at 8 o'clock down in your date book as a night reserved for fun and friendlingss at the Winchester Boat Club.

$2500 WORTH OF LIVE PORK IS AUCTIONED

Top bid at the auction was by Roland H. Boutwell who spent $32,500 in War Bonds for 100 gallons of gasoline. He is shown holding two sample gallons of the precious fuel.

AUCTION NETS OVER A MILLION

War Bond Drive Opens With Enthusiasm in Winchester

Many Unable to Bid at Tuesday Night's Big Feature at Winchester Theater

With a surge of patriotism, exceeding all expectations and setting a record which any city or town in the country will find difficult to match, the citizens of Winchester purchased the record-breaking sum of over $1,400,000 in War Bonds at the Winchester Theatre last Tuesday night to give the country's Second War Loan a tremendous boost on its way to success.

It was the Buy-A-Bomber-For-Winchester Auction, staged by the Winchester War Bond Staff, with the assistance of various other organizations in the town. The complete success of the affair amazed representatives of the United States Treasury Department who were present and they frankly said so. It was a real display of civic spirit and Americanism in which almost every part of the town had, and effectively played, a contributing part.

Every one of the 874 seats in the Winchester Theatre, donated free for the evening through the courtesy of Mr. E. M. Loew of E. M. Loew, Inc., owner of the theatre, was sold; a limited number of standees did their bidding from behind the seats, and several score who desired to attend were unable to gain admittance.

No small part in the success of the affair was played by the members of the Fortnightly Club, under the direction of Mrs. Clifton Hall, president; and Mrs. Stanley Howe, treasurer. The ladies of the Fortnightly Club, through the efforts of an energetic ticket committee sold a majority of the reserved seats to the affair and the fact that they made their sales well was evident by the representative character of the audience and the fact that the outpouring of money as the various articles were auctioned caused many to actually gasp.

Special loud-speakers and microphones and lighting effects were installed in the theatre for the evening under the direction of a committee headed by Mrs. Fulton Brown, president of the Winton Club. The ushers for the evening, all of whom did yoeman service in keeping track of the various bids and bidders were all members of the Winton Club.

When the audience arrived they found St. Mary's crack band in the orchestra pit, furnishing snappy music for the affair and the stage literally filled with more than 100 articles to be auctioned. The prizes were all collected by a hustling group of Rotarians, headed by Ralph Bonnell as chairman, Harry Bigelow as co-chairman and including Samuel McNeiley, George Hayden and Nicholas Fitzgerald. It is a safe wager that no prize collecting committee ever assembled a more complete nor more valuable collection of articles than the Rotary provided for the War Bond Auction. Dr. John McLean, the Rotary president has every reason to be proud of the efforts of his members and his hustling committee.

Local merchants and firms who serve Winchester residents literally outdid themeslves in contributing to the success of the affair, and the long list of valuable prizes which the audience found listed on the Auction Today programs attested to just how well the merchants and tradesmen serving the town had gotten behind the big event. Postmaster Vincent Ambrose and the local postoffice force did their part in making the evening a success by delivering one of the auction programs to every resident in the town.

Mr. L. A. "Speed" Riggs, famous auctioneer of the American Tobacco Company, whose chant on the Lucky Strike program is known in every home in the country, gave his services free for the event, making a special trip to New England, with the attractive Mrs. Riggs, to be present.

Town Moderator Joseph W. Worthen, in a neat little speech, introduced Mr. Riggs and, amid applause, the famous auctioneer stepped to the microphones and the auction was on. Mr. Riggs, in a short preliminary greeting addressed the audience in a rather halting, Southern drawl. But once he started the auction his rapid-fire auctioneering lingo, interspersed with a delightful sense of humor kept the audience amused and it certainely stimulated bidding. He was "spelled" several times during the four hours that the auction consumed by James "Red" King of the RKO Theatres who did a most commendable job of filling in for the inimitable Riggs.

There was many a laugh, even before the auction began, especially when a live hen among the prizes escaped and Patrolman D. Irving Reardon had a merry chase after the poultry, to the great amusement of the youngsters in the band.

Maurice C. Bird, chairman of the Winchester War Bond Staff, who was in charge of the entire affair, had better luck when he carried "Adolf", a 42 pound live pig to the auction block near the start of the auction. Adolf didn't seem to like the auction, any better than his namesake will like the actions of the fighting materials, the purchase of which the affair made possible, but Chairman Bird, succeeded in keeping him under control while "Speed" Riggs knocked him down for $2500 to Maurice Freeman of 11 Lorena road.

An idea of the high bids which were to prevail all during the evening was given when Auctioneer Riggs put on the auctionblock a 7-cubic foot Frigidaire. When it went under the final hammer it brought a $16,000 War Bond purchase by an anonymous bidder who announced that he had ordered the refrigerator turned over to the Home for Aged People. A 16-pound ham was knocked down for $5000 in bonds and a $50 order for Whiting's Milk delivered to a Winchester home brought spirited bidding and another $5000 bond sale.

But this was "small bidding" as was proven as the evening wore on. Town Treasurer James C. McCormick brought cheers and applause when he announced that the town had just purchased $100,000 in War Bonds from the busy desks in the theatre lobby and at the same time it was announced that an anonymous subscriber had purchased a similar amount. The Winchester banks further swelled the sales at the auction when it was announced that they had purchased a total of $575,000.

Then Mr Riggs put up what proved to be the banner attraction of the evening, so far as tops in bidding was concerned. It was 100 gallons of Socony gasoline and before the bidding, which had the audience gasping, was finished, Roland H. Boutwell of Foxcroft road had paid $325 per gallon for the precious fluid, or a total bid of $32,500.

HENRY WHEELWRIGHT MARSH

Henry Wheelwright Marsh, retired head of the insurance firm of Marsh and McLennan and a resident of Winchester for the past 20 years, died Tuesday, April 13, at his Florida home in Lake Wales. Funeral services were held there Thursday morning at the Mountain Lake Club and after cremation, the ashes will be brought north for final interment.

Mr Marsh was the son of Thomas Jefferson and Helen Whitney Marsh. He was 83 years old and a native of Waltham; a graduate of Phillips Exeter Academy and of Harvard in the class of 1885.

After his graduation he went to Chicago and became connected with the Firemen's Fund Insurance Company, later becoming associated with R. A. Waller and Company. This firm later became Marsh and McLennan, widely known insurance firm with offices in major American and English cities. He continued with the firm, which specialized in fire insurance, until his retirement in 1923.

Mr. Marsh, though never legally a resident of Winchester, maintained a home here for 20 years at 82 Arlington street, being well liked by all who knew him.

During World War 1 he helped organize the Harvard Medical Unit at Warwick Castle in England which he occupied during that time. The castle was later turned into a hospital for war casualties, and in that and other capacities, Mr. Marsh aided the government during the war. He was widely travelled and numbered among his friends many persons prominent in public life both in this country and abroad, several of whom visited him in Winchester.

His most recent public service came early in the present war when he aided in the organization of the Harvard Public Health Unit.

He had been a member of the Chicago Club, the Sleepy Hollow Country Club and the Union League of New York, as well as several English clubs. He was also a member of the Harvard Alumni and Phillips Exeter Alumni Associations and the Society of Colonial Wars.

CAPT. KEENAN WINS AIR MEDAL

Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Keenan of 93 Highland avenue have received word that their son, Capt. James H. Keenan, United States Army aviator, has been awarded the coveted air medal and cited "for having flown heavy bombardment mission totalling more than 100 hours from March 6 to July 30, 1942." General MacArthur described his efforts as constant and untiring, contributing much to the success of the many missions in which he has participated.

During the days when the exploits took place which won for him his medal and citation, Capt. Keenan was a lieutenant and senior member of the combat team flying from bases in India to bomb the Japs in the Pacific. He has now been made a staff officer and has done no combat flying for the past two months.

Capt. Keenan graduated from Winchester High School in 1929, taking special courses in aviation at M. I. T. When he was 16, he and a chum built a small plane and actually got it off the ground with the aid of a motorcycle motor. After a crackup, with fortunately no serious results, they sold the plane, doing all right in the deal financially, at that.

Entering the United States Army Air Corps three year ago, he was a lieutenant on patrol duty in the Pacific area at the time of Pearl Harbor. He has sailed all over the Pacific Islands and the Orient and is now based in India, according to the last letter received by his proud parents.

Capt. Keenan is married to the actress, Ann Nagel, now in Hollywood devoting her talents to entertaining the boys in the armed forces. With his parents in Winchester are two sisters, Agnes and Mrs. Russell Sweeney, wife of Lt. Sweeney, U. S. Q. M. C., now on active duty in England. A brother, Francis Keenan is in the Coast Artillery overseas.

WEST HEADS FINANCE COMMITTEE

Not "Bill" West this time. Winchester High School's football star hasn't been elected chairman of the town's important Finance Committee. He isn't even a member of the committee as a matter of fact, but his father, John D. West of Dartmouth street, has been named to head the committee for the coming year and we have gotten so used to writing "Bill" in front of the West cognomen that we had to stop and think for just a bit.

Besides Mr. West the officers elected are Robert MacArthur vice-chairman and Joseph W. Butler, clerk.

Mrs. Ryan was the daughter of Turner, and Mary (Jordan) McAllister. She was born in Bedford but had made her home in Winchester for the past 25 years. She leaves two nieces, Mrs. William Ash of Billerica and Mrs. Ralph Watson of Lowell.

The funeral was held Thursday morning from the Lane Funeral Home on Main street with high mass of requiem celebrated in St. Mary's Church. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

ROBERT WRIGHT

Robert Wright, well known plumber and proprietor of Wright's Plumbing Shop, formerly located on Thompson street, died suddenly Sunday, April 11, at his home on Gray street in East Billerica. He was 49 years old. His passing came as a shock to his many friends in Winchester since he had been about town as late as the Friday preceding his death. Funeral services were held at the Perry Funeral Hame in Billerica Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

MICHAEL S. NELSON

Michael S. Nelson, a long time and widely known resident of Winchester, died Saturday evening, April 10, at the Winchester Hospital after a short illness.

Mr. Nelson, whose home was at 248 Cross street, was born in Woburn, son of George D., and Margaret (Porter) Nelon. He came as a boy to Winehester and had made the town his home for the past 75 years, being engaged in the general contracting business until his retirement several years ago.

Mr. Nelson took an active interest in town affairs and was for many years a familiar figure at town meetings which he regularly attended. He had been a Town Meeting Member in Precinct 6 since 1931 and was one who never feared to express his opinion or cast his vote. He was a former charter member of Winchester Council, 210, Knights of Columbus; a member of the Holy Name Society of the Immaculate Conception Church and of Woburn Lodge, 1214, Loyal Order of Moose.

Mr. Nelson leaves two brothers, Neil A. Nelson of Winchester and George H. Nelson of Woburn.

The funeral was held from the late residence Tuesday morning with high mass of requiem celebrated in the Immaculate Conception Church by Rev. Fr. William Sherry. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery where the committal prayers were read by Fr. Sherry.

The firemen had only three runs on Monday, two for brush on High street and the other for a grass fire at the rear of the Eastern Felt Co.

MALICIOUS MISCHIEF

Last Friday forenoon the Police were notified that five large and two small windows in a house on Francis circuit had been broken, apparently by shots from an air rifle. Motorcycle Officer Irving Reardon investigated and rounded up four boys living in the vicinity said to be responsible. The matter was reported to their parents for restitution.

The same forenoon Sergt. Thomas F. Cassidy picked up five boys from the plains section whom he found stoning a house on the Skillings estate. He warned them that court action would follow any repetition of their action.

Saturday forenoon a resident of Hillcrest parkway reported to the Police that 14 panes of glass had been broken in an out-house on his property. Officer William E. Cassidy picked up the two young boys said to be responsible and their father agreed to make good the damage.

Sunday forenoon Gaspare Russo of 76 Loring avenue discovered that boys had gotten into his cement block house on Kirk street, destroying a quantity of blocks and some tools. He reported the matter to the Police who commenced an investigation to discover the guilty parties.

WEEK-END FIRES

The Fire Department put in another busy day last Friday, answering 10 alarms around town, all but two of which were for grass fires. At 11:20 Friday forenoon delayed ignition in an oil heater caused it to blow a section at a home on Irving street, and at 4:17 there was a fire in some leaves that threatened a number of barrels at the town yard on Lake street.

There were nine alarms on Saturday, all during the afternoon and all for grass fires.

On Sunday the men had only five runs, four for grass or brush fires and one, at 4:35 p. m., for a chimney fire at the home of Mr. Alexander Samoiloff, 314 Highland avenue. There were two bad brush fires, the first at 3:55 p. m. in the Dunster lane section of the town. Box 141 was sounded for this blaze which gave the men a stiff two-hour fight. At 1:36 p. m. Box 321 came in for a bad grass and brush fire off Forest circle, the firemen working for more than two hours before getting it under control.

THREE P'S TO DO WINCHESTER MAN'S PLAY

Pen, Paint and Pretels, Tufts honary dramatic society, known on the Hill as 3 P's, has chosen for its spring play, to be given during the last week of April, an as yet unnamed drama by Mr. John R. Woodruff of 8 Sheffield road, known to Tufts and Jackson students as "Jack" Woodruff and a member of the Drama department of the Medford College under Dr. Marston Balch.

Mr. Woodruff's play was chosen over several favorably known stage vehicles and is arousing considerable interest among students and faculty alike. The scene of the play is on a college campus, where a young man with the struggle between the violence of the gangster and the polish of civilization as found in college.

The club is now affiliated with the Evening Alliance, which is a national organization of business and professional women. Mrs. Paul Harmon Chapman has been elected advisor for the club. The club is now preparing an entertainment to be given at the Chelsea Naval Hospital in the near future.

WINCHESTER OPENS BASEBALL SEASON WITH WOBURN

Winchester High will pry the lid off its 1943 baseball season Monday morning at 10:15 when Woburn High will come to Manchester Field for the first holiday morning game in a dog's age.

Neither team is too far along, the cold weather having prevented the boys from working as hard as their coaches could have wished for. This especially has been unfortunate for Coach Knowlton, whose Winchester squad boasts but a single letter player in the diminutive Capt. "Gee" Russo, a capable center fielder and good lead-off batter.

Woburn has a big corps of veterans, having six letter players ready to toss into the starting lineup. "Boots" Devaney, starting pitcher is a lefty who has been around for the past two seasons while Jimmy Meharis, capable first sacker, Bobby Martin, 2b; Capt. Ziggie Beatty, 3b; Charlie McElhinney, ss; and "Butter" Abreau, right fielder; all played varsity ball a year ago. This year's catcher is not the burly Mike Stokes who was so good behind the bat for the Orange for the past two seasons, but a cousin, Frank.

Winchester's chances for a championship season got a body blow when Angelo "Scratch" Amico, sophomore hurler, who was a sensation as a freshman, became ineligible. With "Scratch" around this season Coach Knowlton's pitching problem should not have been acute since there seems to be two or three new-comers who would have filled the change pitcher's slot nicely. How they will pan out as number one hurlers remains to be seen.

One thing is certain Winchester will have to play for the old one-run this year more than ever. At least as the season opens there seems to be no power hitters around like Ellie Post or Pete Provinzano, or even Dick Murphy.

Harvey Clarke, tall football lineman, will start for Winchester and a lot will depend on his good right arm. He lacks Devaney's experience, but has looked good in the strictly limited workouts held to date. As a matter of fact Woburn should have quite a first-game advantage resulting from its greater experience. The visitors should be favorites, but most followers of both teams feel the game is a toss-up. It should be interesting at least. Better drop around and see it.

PETE PROVINZANO GOES TO SCRANTON

Pete Provinzano, ace hurler for the Winchester High School championship nine a year ago, left over the past week-end to pitch for Scranton, Red Sox Class B farm team in Pennsylvania.

Pete signed an agreement with the Red Sox after graduating from high school in June and worked out with the big leaguers, during their home stays at Fenway Park, pitching for a strong Boston semi-pro nine through the summer and fall. He also pitched for the Elks, helping win the Eastern Mass. Twi League title in 1941 and staying with the club until it broke up early in the summer of 1942.

A right-hander with a good curve ball and speed enough, as well as an excellent pitching temperament, Peter is given a good chance by competent judges to eventually make the big league grade, as he both hits and fields his position well. The joker in his Scranton engagement is that the long arm of Uncle Sam's draft is likely to tap Peter on the shoulder before he has much of any chance to show his pitching wiles to the Scranton miners.

"EDIE" DOVER BASKETBALL CAPTAIN

"Edie" Dover, star center forward on the Winchester High School girls' basketball team, has been elected captain of the sextette for next year.

"Edie" is a junior and an all around athlete, playing on the varsity hockey team as well as basketball and swimming with the women's team and water ballet of the Boston Swimming Association. She has recently been appointed a lifeguard for the summer at Palmer Beach.

"Edie" comes by her basketball class naturally enough. Her dad, Harold Dover of Vine street, played on the varsity teams of 1912 and 1913. Her mother, the former Maude Gurney, was captain of the girls' unbeaten team of 1915 and good enough to give daughter a point or two even about the modern game.

Alfred Dover, "Edie's" uncle, was an outstanding basketball player while in high school, being one of the school's finest all time centers and captain of the 1910 team that played Winthrop for the State title in 1910.

Pharmacist's Mate Fred McCormack has been home on short leave this week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCormack of Winchester place. "Pollock", former Winchester High School football star, has made two trips abroad with the Navy and is looking as fit as the proverbial fiddle.

KNOWLTON AND SECRETARY CHAMPS

Just a quorum was present for last week-end's regular meeting of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association, Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham, Henry "Tiffany" Knowlton and the Secretary answering the clarion call of President Royal H. Teele.

Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine Champ, and "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, pride of Somerville and Champion of all Nahnasset, were among the missing. Mr. Butters, still groggy from his bout with that demon leveler, Kid Streptococcus, felt the prudent thing for him was to refrain from braving the elements which were still blowing cool at Wedge. In announcing his decision shortly before game time he advanced the contention that in the event today was indulged in, the honors should be considered semi-official at best. This motion was emphatically denied by the President who even wet his pencil to make the darker the black mark which he chalked up against the Butters name.

Mr. McLaughlin was in absentia because of a long standing engagement of some little importance. His regrets were announced well in advance of the Association meeting and as a consequence he merely suffered an "excused" absence, of which each regular member is permitted a limited number.

The doughty president, while regretting McLaughlin's absence, did not wholly condemn it. Of the Butters defection he also said but little, that little having to do with the probability that the Maine traveler was enjoying one of those "fish fries" to which he is so prone.

Play was spirited, if not as skillful as one could wish for. The Secretary and "Thin Finger" won the first match, hands down, from Mr. Teele and H. "Tiffany", the second match going to Mr. Knowlton and Mr. Pridham in odd games from the Secretary and Mr. Teele. The third and ensily the best match of the session was won by Mr. Knowlton and the Secretary from Messrs. Teele and Pridham, and the last a sudden-death, single-game proposition went to "Thin Finger" and the Secretary over H. "Tiffany" and the Association's ranking officer, Mr. Teele.

A perusal of the above might lead the casual observer to feel that the Secretary and Mr. Pridham were most deserving of championship honors, but taking into consideration the quality of the opposition it becomes apparent that the clearest claim to the championship laurel is that of the Maxwell Road Mugwumps, the Secretary and Mr. Knowlton. For in defeating Mr. Teele, perennial champion of the paper trade, and Mr. Pridham, one-half of the fabulous Lake Street Lancers, Hennie and the Scrivener were tucking away the strongest combination of the meeting.

The match went game and game, the Maxwell Road Mudwumps winning the first rather handily, and Messrs. Teele and Pridham annexing the second, with even more dispatch.

In the deciding game the President and "Thin Finger" had a 21-18 lead afer some very earnest competition, when Mr. Knowlton came through with as timely a double-header as one could ask for, especially from him. Braced by his partner's clutch pitching, the usually luckless Secretary returned the compliment nicely with a ringer, which Mr. Teele, despite his most intense concentration, was unable to cover, the failure dropping him and his partner from the dizzy heights of probable victory to the gloomy depths of certain defeat.

Of Mr. Teele's pitching throughout the session little can be said, save only the observation that he was not at his best. He pitched with and without gloves, and even divested himself layer by layer of the sweaters that swathed his regal frame; all to no avail. It just was not his day, and he frankly admitted his satisfaction that McLaughlin was not there to behold his downfall, to say nothing of that Butters!

RILEY TUFTS TENNIS HOPE

Dave Riley, former Winchester High tennis ace and late Swarthmore racquet wielder, is expected to prove one of the mainstays of this year's varsity tennis team at Tufts. Dave, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Riley of Church street, transferred to Tufts last year and was ineligible for varsity competition until this fall.

Son of one of Winchester's greatest players, a veteran still able to take many of the youngsters about town, Dave has played a lot of tennis and competitive tennis at that. He is the present Winchester mixed doubles champion with Jackson's Polly Kimball and last July 4 won the Red Cross benefit doubles at the Winchester Country Club with the former Gene MacDonald from some good pairs. He should prove a very valuable addition to the Brown and Blue at Tufts.

When the new Honor Roll is unveiled at the Town Hall Saturday afternoon at 3:30 do not expect perfection in the matter of the names which will appear thereon. The Honor Roll Committee has worked under severe handicap in obtaining suitable lists of Winchester citizens with the various branches of the Armed Forces, and there will of necessity, be many omissions and errors in spelling. It will be very helpful, if the public, will, instead of criticizing, call such errors and omissions to the attention of Mr. Franklin in the Selectmen's office (tel. Win. 1102). Corrections will be made as promptly as possible.

We had a pleasant chat by phone yesterday morning with Town Counsel Addison Pike, who called to state that the report of his illness in last week's Star was slightly delayed. Addison was, he admitted, ill for a few days with the flu in January, but since that time has been daily on the job, running town meetings in both Winchester and Arlington to boot. Most of the sting from his cheerful rebuke was removed by the admission that apparently lots of people read the Star through and through, for the item about his illness was not prominently displayed, yet, apparently most of Addison's host of friends saw it and called him up.

TO KEEP THE RECORD STRAIGHT

To the Editor of the Star:

In fairness to the voters of Winchester, the candidates for Selectmen, including Mr. Higgins and myself, and in order to keep the record straight and to correct certain statements which have appeared in your publication, I wish to say that legal steps were taken by me after due consideration with those persons who supported my candidacy, as well as to correct the method of marking ballots by certain voters and to assist the individual voter as to the proper method of voting.

Let me say that I am fully satisfied with the treatment I received at the Recount conducted on March 9, 1943, by the Registrars of Voters, I, as well as my counsel and representative, protested all ballots that we considered not marked in accordance with the law, whether such ballots appeared to be marked in my favor or in favor of any other candidate running for the office of Selectman for the three year term. The protests made by me and my counsel were not limited to ballots appearing to be marked in favor of Mr. Higgins but included those appearing to be in favor of all candidates. After the recount I did not waive my protests or notify the Registrars that said protests were waived, nor does any such waiver appear in the records of the Registrars of Voters.

The ballots protested by Mr. Higgins, his counsel and representatives, in addition to the ballots protested by me, were in every instance, except one, against ballots appearing to be marked in my favor.

However, in all instances the Registrars unanimously voted that all protested ballots were in favor of the particular candidate for whom the ballot appeared to be marked.

After the recount and after a conference with my attorney, I took the necessary legal steps to protect the rights of the voters who, in my opinion, properly marked their ballots in my favor.

The case has been presented to the Court, including all protested ballots by Mr. Higgins and myself, and the Court will make its decision accordingly.

Thanking you for this opportunity to inform the voters of Winchester as to these matters, I am

Respectfully,
Gleason W. Ryerson

THE HOW AND WHY

To the Editor of the Star:

With the New Dealers telling us how much sugar we cannot have to make an apple pie, people look for other sweetening and maple syrap takes a price jump, even though it costs no more to make a gallon of syrup now than it ever did. The container does.

However people are more interested in how and why of maple syrap. All one has to do to excite the neighbors is to tap a tree as I did this spring and they come a running some even expecting to find the pure syrup running into the pail. Then when they learn that it requires gallons of the sap to make even a cup of syrup, they say, oh!

It may be of interest to some of your readers to know something about the rates of sap to syrap. A friend interested in the subject has sent me this data from the U. S. Division of Agricultural Chemistry.

"Maple sap is 1 to 5 per cent sugar; usually 2 per cent. The countrywide average shows about 32 gallons of sap needed for one gallon of standard syrup. (This equals 11 pounds). Yield from tree varies from 5 to 40 gallons of sap depending on variations in soil, climate, tree ages and nature of season. Sometimes 50 gallons of sap are needed per gallon of syrup. The favorable conditions sometimes get one gallon of syrup from 25 gallons of sap." (End of U. S. Data).

A run near Housatonic, Mass., this spring, so my friend says, developed out of 1750 qts. of sap, 60 quarts of syrup.

Thus it all depends on the tree's sugar content and the density of the syrup. Syrup that is not boiled down to 10 or 11 lbs. to the gallon will not keep, as well after container is opened. Trees with large branchy tops produce the most sap. Sugar orchards should be grown in rather open stands so that trees develop large crowns. All brush should be cleared away and the ground kept clear of same.

Sometimes trees must be tapped a second time as the tap hole drys up due to weather conditions. Invariably sap will not run if wind is east or there are not cold nights and sunny warmish days. Sap should be boiled within three days after being collected as it is liable to sour. While syrup can be made from the white or red maple the sugar content is low and it hardly pays.

In the early pioneer days, yellow birch trees were tapped to make vinegar. "Read Elm Island Series, by Elijar Kellogg."

Don't expect to get syrap from an elm tree, as some have tapped; or a Norway maple. I expect that many hundreds of gallons of syrup could be made in Winchester if all the sugar maple trees in town were tapped. The Gas Company would get rich however, or with wood at $28 per cord it would be well to send to Vermont or New Hampshire for your syrup, even at $3.75 per gallon.

MYSTIC GLEE CLUB

Plans for the annual spring concert of the Mystic Glee Club, Winchester's popular male chorus, are advancing rapidly and a musical treat is assured all who hear its program at the high school auditorium on Friday evening, May 7.

In accordance with its usual custom to sing only for some worthy cause, the proceeds from the concert will benefit the Winchester Red Cross Chapter, of which Mr. James S. Allen is president. Mrs. Gladys Dutting and Mrs. Ruth Hilton are assisting the Glee Club's ticket chairman, Gordon Smith, in the distribution of tickets. Charles Jordan is chairman of the committee on arrangements and has announced that a limited number of tickets are available for high school students at greatly reduced prices, it being the Club's policy to assist wherever possible in making good music available for the youth of the town.

President Carl Wood continues to shroud in secrecy the soloist for the concert, but promises another musical treat in the assisting artist. William Cruger will conduct the Glee Club and the accompanist will be Marion Morse Wood.

FOURTH QUARTERLY CONFERENCE AND ANNUAL MEETING

Crawford Memorial Methodist Church

The parishioners of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church met in the social hall last Tuesday evening, April 13 for a covered dish supper, preceding the fourth quarterly conference. A variety of delicious foods attested the thought and ingenuity of the women of the church in using their ration points for the nth degree of quality and flavor.

At the close of the supper they adjourned to the parlors where Dr. Laurence W. C. Emig presided over the fourth quarterly conference. Dr. Emig interpreted the high mission of the church at all times and emphasized the high mission of each individual member.

This meeting progressed with a series of highlights with annual reports interspersed with wit and humor and filled with the accomplishments and outstanding acihevements. The Service Men's Committee stated that 38 young men and one young woman from this church are enrolled in the service.

Before giving his annual report, the pastor of the church, the Rev. Roger E. Makepeace, presented orchids in the form of red rosebuds to the following:

Alonzo D. Nicholas, ever-watchful treasurer of our church and guardian of our resources.

Mrs. Norman C. Hitchcock, for initiative and generosity in her summer project of raising $400 for the Women's Organization.

G. Raymond Cancroft, genial, stedfast head usher.

Grace Snow for loyalty and deep interest in teaching youth.

The pastors' report co-ordinated the various departments of the church life, emphasizing the unity of purpose and definite progress which marked this year as the best of the four years of his ministry here.

Mr. Herbert Seller, speaking for the Pastoral Relations Committee, stated that all the splendid results of the year's work are due to the inspired leadership and definite program of our pastor and in no small measure to the charm, devotion and close association of his wife, Mrs. Makepeace, who have so dove-tailed the abilities and so quickened the spirit of their people that advancement in each department of the church has been noted. In addition he requested that Dr. Emig act as emissary to the bishop to request the return of Rev. and Mrs. Makepeace for the coming year.

A DATE FIXED FOR 1944

The calendar really sets the time for the annual Women's World Day of Prayer, for it comes always on the first Friday of Lent. So in 1944 it will be observed on Feb. 25.

What the 1943 inter-church comittee on the World Day of Prayer with the leadership of Mrs. Henry K. Fitts, Winchester leader in 1943, did on Wednesday, was to get that date fixed in their minds and to take responsibility for avoiding conflicts in their respective organizations.

The committee also agreed that the place of the World Day of Prayer Service and the church to supply the leader should follow the order by which each church came into the life of Winchester. The service in 1944 will be the First Congregational Church, the oldest in Winchester, established in 1840. The next year leadership will come from the Baptist Church, founded in 1850.

Doctrine of Atonement" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, April 18, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches. The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Golden Text is: "Grace be to you and peace from God the Father, and from our Lord Jesus Christ, who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us from this present evil world, according to the will of God and our Father" (Galatians 1:3, 4). Other Bible citations include: "Many, O Lord my God, are thy wonderful works which thou hast done, and thy thoughts which are to us-ward: they cannot be reckoned up in order unto thee: if I would declare and speak of them, they are more than can be numbered. Sacrifice and offering thou didst not desire" (Psalms 40:5, 6).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus' way of reconciling man to God by giving man a truer sense of Love, the divine Principle of Jesus' teachings, and this truer sense of Love redeems man from the law of matter, sin, and death by the law of Spirit, the law of divine Love" (p. 19).

Two Winchester aviation cadets, Clifford H. Harris and John H. I. Morse, have reported to the Army Air Forces Pre-Flight School for Pilots at Maxwell Field, Ala., from the Nashville Army Air Center, Nashville, Tenn., to commence the second phase of their training as pilots.

Harris is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford H. Harris of 144 Cambridge street. He graduated from Winchester High School in 1941 and from Hebron Academy a year later. His father is a veteran of World War I.

Morse is the son of Major and Mrs. D. P. Morse of 17 Crescent road. He attended Winchester High School for two years, was graduated from Andover in 1940 and attended Cornell for two years. His father served as a captain in the 5th Aero Squadron of the A. E. F. in 1918-19 and is now serving with the Army Air Forces.

MURRAY TRANSFERRED TO CORPUS CHRISTIE

Aviation Cadet Francis Joseph Murray, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Murray of Salem street, has been transferred to the Naval Air Station at Corpus Christie in Texas, after successfully completing his primary flight training at Lambert Field, St. Louis, Mo. He had his pre-flight training at Chapel Hill, N. C. SMOKING ON THE TRAINS

In an effort to stop a flood of complaints from passengers who complain that other passengers increasingly are annoying them by lighting cigarettes, cigars and even pipes in non-smoker coaches, the Boston and Maine Railroad and the Maine Central Railroad have equipped all conductors and trainmen with "appeal slips" to be passed out to offending riders.

Each conductor and trainman on the two systems has been supplied with pocket-sized blocks of slips showing a cartoon of a conductor smoking, with a text reading: "I smoke myself, but, so that no passenger may be annoyed, the rules are that smoking on the train is allowed only in the smoking car.

"This car is NOT the smoker on this train.

"I will appreciate your going to the smoker, if you want to smoke, or waiting until you leave the train.

"Thank you. Your Conductor."

When a patron is found smoking in a non-smoker coach the conductor or trainman detaches one of the slips and quietly passes it to the offender, without comment.

IN NOTRE DAME SHOW

Brock Lynch, son of Dr. and Mrs. Clement F. Lynch of Chestnut street, has a part in the new student musical comedy being presented four nights this week at the University of Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind.

Lynch, who made a name for himself as a soft shoe and tap dancer in Winchester High School Vaudeville and Winton Club shows, is a junior at Notre Dame. The show in which he is cast at South Bend is said to be the first entirely student-written, produced and directed show to be presented at Notre Dame in 25 years.

LOCAL TALENT EXHIBITION GOOD SHOW

By all means, if you have not already done so, look in at the exhibition of Local Talent in the Library Art Gallery sponsored by the Winchester Art Association. It is quite the best show of its kind yet held here.

It could have been unfortunate that this local talent show had to follow one of the very best professional shows of the winter, that by Robert Strong Woodward, but in visiting the gallery right now one has no feeling of going from the sublime to the ridiculous. The Local Talent Exhibition needs no apology and can stand on its own feet nicely. It surely is a far cry from the first one of this sort which the Association sponsored, more or less with fear and trembling. The improvement in the general average of the work exhibited is and has been most praiseworthy.

Oils, water colors, pencil sketches, charcoals and etchings are included in the current show and there is a nice variety of subjects, including landscapes, flower studies, portraits and still life. There is also an interesting and well executed exhibit of wood carving which is something of a novelty. Not alone are most of the pictures well done but the subjects are well chosen, which is of no little importance in a show of this kind.

Some of the pictures are done by professional artists with that finish one has the right to expect from such exhibitors. They naturally stand out, but each year they call to the observer a little less loudly as the amateurs impove their techniques. They by no means dominate this year's show which remains at the gallery through the month and is open to the public.

OFFICER QUIGLEY OVERSEAS

Mrs. Marion Quigley of 20 Grove Grove place has received word from the Navy that her husband, Patrolman Joseph L. Quigley, now a chief specialist in Comdr. Gene Tunney's Naval Physical Fitness Program, has arrived safely somewhere overseas.

WAR BOND AUCTION

A short time later Mrs. Bourvell bid $10,000 on 32 pounds of butter and, after her purchase, she graciously offered to return 16 pounds of it on the condition that "Speed" Riggs sell each of the 16 pounds over again at $500 a pound. In two minutes, Riggs had completed the task and $8000 more in War Bonds had sent that amount of money to work against the Axis.

A pleasant bit of by-play was the drawing of the door prizes and when the five lucky seat-checks had been drawn from the barrel-screen it was found that Mrs. M. G. Traiser of 247 Washington street had won the $250 War Bond and the four $100 bonds went to Mrs. Elaine A. Toombs of 4 Atherton road; Mrs. Edna Somerby of 20 Everell road; W. Hudson of 14 Winthrop street and Mrs. A. O. Wilson of 23 Yale street.

The 32 pairs of women's Nylon stockings which were auctioned two pairs at a time proved one of the banner attractions of the evening, each two pairs bringing from $5000 to $9000. Two attractive girl models from Filene's and Edette's showed dresses given as prizes which were knocked down for $1500 and $2100 respectively and a pound box of candy brouht $25. The young ladies, the Misses Shirley Brackett and Marjorie Chapin also aided in displaying the Nylons which, it seemed, were desired by almost everyone in the theatre but the lowest priced sale was for $5000.

Quite a number of those who attended found that the bidding was so spirited that they did not have an opportunity to spend their money during the evening, as the bids were above their range. Riggs gave the youngsters in the band and in the audience an opportunity by knocking down some "quickies" at $25 and $50 each but the adults who had hoped to buy in some of the prizes at $100 to $250 found that they had little or no opportunity so spirited was the bidding. The sales were not, however, by any means concentrated to a few persons and many an attendant at the auction expressed some surprise at the amounts of bidding and the money which neighbors and acquaintances spent to help swell the Second War Loan. The results were naturally, pleasing to the War Bond Staff for they swelled the total amounts of bonds purchased and, as Auctioneer Riggs said at the close of the auction at midnight:

"I've conducted a lot of War Bond auctions since Pearl Harbor but I can tell you that I've never seen anything like this in as small an audience. The patriotism of Winchester people must be very high and your town sould be very proud of the fact that they have aided the war effort by the purchase of nearly a million and a half dollars in one evening. I shall take great pleasure in telling of Winchester to other audiences that I face in the future in various parts of the country."

The window displays about town, which attracted all sorts of favorable attention prior to the auction, were in charge of Mrs. Theodore Elliot. Mrs. Philip Woodward had charge of local publicity. Mrs. Lucius Smith, manager of the Winchester Theater, acting as representative of owner Loew, aided the various committees in innumerable ways.

Promotional arrangements and newspaper publicity for the successful affair were directed by Herbert L. Baldwin of the Winchester War Bond staff. Mr. Baldwin was host during the evening to reportorial representatives and staff photographers from all the Boston newspapers, as well as a photographer representing the Winchester Star.

Commencing on April 19, the War Bond Staff announces, the Boy and Girl Scouts are oging to cover the town to sell War Bonds to people who were not able to be present at the auction. This campaign is to raise $175,000.

The Women's Committee of the War Bond Staff, headed by Mrs. Frederick Hatch and various organizations are selling bonds and stamps in the F. W. Woolworth store during the month of April. Sales are also continuing in the Boston and Maine Railroad stations. These organizations are, The En Ka Club; the Winton Club; American Legion Auxiliary, Service Club of the First Congregational Church, Episcopal Church, Central Mothers; Wellesley Club, Mt. Holyoke Club, Guild of the Infant Saviour, Unitarian Church, Girl Scouts, Catholic Daughters, Florence Crittenton League, Better Homes and Garden Clubs, College Club, Christian Science Church, Noonan School, S. P. C. A., D. A. R. Winchester Chapter; The Fortnightly Club, Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association, and High School.

The Women's Committee is conducting a Speaking Bureau, headed by Mrs. Lillian Whitman. The U. S. Army co-operated with the pre-auction promotions and publicity by sending an exhibit to the Town Common last Saturday, consisting of a detail of men and machine guns, mortars and other equipment.

FURTHER

War Restrictions

ON

Telephone Service

All telephone service installed or reconnected on and after April 15th will be on a temporary basis, according to a War Production Board order, dated March 25, 1943.

This means that in the case of such temporary services, the Telephone Company may find it necessary to change a customer's grade of service (for example, as from a private to a party line), or to remove the telephone entirely. Naturally, such action would generally be taken only if it became necessary to recover facilities required for essential needs of persons in direct defense, or responsible for public welfare or security.

The order also limits the number of telephones that may be installed within certain areas. This automatically stops installations in such areas as may have reached already the prescribed limit of telephones. As telephones now in service in such areas are removed, new installations may replace them from waiting lists which will be maintained.

Further installation, or reconnection, of residence extensions is prohibited, and when an instrument on the premises cannot be reconnected, it will be necessary to remove it.

Further restrictions are imposed on the installation of dial switchboards and teletypewriters.

These restrictions will inconvenience some people. It will be part of their sacrifice for Victory. If you should be affected, we know we shall have your understanding co-operation as we continue our own effort to hold telephone service to the highest possible standard.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

The 61st season of the Fortnightly closed at the last meeting held on Monday, April 12, in Fortnightly Hall. The hall was decorated with palms, potted plants and bouquets of spring flowers. This meeting and annual luncheon always has an unusually happy atmosphere, and particularly this year because many members who are so busy with war work of various kinds made unusual efforts to attend. The special guests of the day were Mrs. Raymond Merrill, treasurer of the M. S. F. W. C. and Mrs. Robert Johnson, 8th District Director. These women urged those present to retain their memberships in clubs because club women were doing in groups a tremendous amount of work vital to the country during these war days. Eight past presidents were present at this luncheon, namely, Mesdames Nathaniel Nichols, George Eaton, T. H. Rhodes, Ashley Hayden, Walter Winship, Edward Grosvenor, Robert Reynolds, and Paul Howard. Mrs. Clarence Horton and Mrs. William Gillette of the Forthian Club of Somerville, and Miss Betty Ann Budd, former president of the Fortnightly Juniors, now a member of the WAAC, were present.

Mrs. William Priest, recording secretary, read the reports of the activities of the committees. Mrs. Stanley Howe read the financial statement of the club for the year. Mrs. Hall, president, paid tribute to the work of the recording secretary for the many duties performed that did not usually go with her office.

The first part of the program for the afternoon was a one act play on the subject of defense bond and stamp buying. Mrs. Paul Howard, Mrs. J. Stewart Chaffe and Mrs. Whitman, who wrote the skit, were the members taking part. Helen Studzinska, violinist, and Sophia Stamberg, Latvian pianist presented a musical program.

It was announced that all tickets for the Bond Auction that was held on April 12 in the Winchester Theatre had been sold. The Fortnightly members sponsored the sale of these tickets and were particularly proud to hear this announcement.

Pvt. William E. Mason, Jr., of 8 Grove street, was cast in one of the two leading male roles in "Gold in the Hills," a heavy melodrama of the 1890 vintage presented this week by the Army personnel at Hondo Air Field in Texas. Pvt. Mason and Staff Sgt. James C. Knauss of Galesburg, Ill., provided the fireworks for Act 2 when they mixed it up in a "New York dive."

The Winchester youth summonsed into court by the Police after running a car through the door of Cullen's Garage on Shore road appeared last Saturday. After being satisfied that restitution to the extent of more than $100 had been made for the damage done the case was dismissed. The youth entered the garage through a small door and was driving a car he found there back and forth when the brake failed to hold, allowing the car to crash through the door paneling.

Many people apparently do not understand the law pertaining to Sunday working. Work which is regularly done on week-days cannot be done on the Sabbath, except as an emergency has arisen and then only with a permit granted by the Chief of Police. Last Sunday the Police stopped a workman engaged in digging a trench at a home in the Highlands and recently men carpentering and painting have been stopped elsewhere in town. Victory gardens are all right to work in but if you have other work to do, give the Chief a ring and find out whether the law lets you do it the Seventh Day.

ROTARY NEWS

Ralph Bonnell told an interesting story about the prizes at the recent Auction and sale of War Bonds at the Theatre. One member thought he bought a doll and paid a tidy sum for it only to find he had bought a book on Psychology. Another member, thought he had bought two pairs of Nylon stockings and found there were none left. Ralph Bonnell assured his fellow members that the stockings would be delivered and suggested that Chief Rogers meet the messenger at the Winchester line and take charge of delivering them

Thomas H. Hoar, an economic expert and a fellow townsman, spoke of the Economic Aspects of Total War. He illustrated the basic importance of the economic side of the war on which the military prosecution of the war depends. He reminded the club of the huge debt which we are increasing to the greatest debt in our national history, and are facing the highest tax bill ever called for from the people of our country. He stated that our greatest threat is not invasion but inflation. He stated that we are having to make the same choice Germany made between guns or butter. He spoke of the manpower problem of industry and farming and the growing juvenile problem.

Much credit is due Stafford Rogers of the Rogers Advertising Service, for his untiring efforts in the preparation of the Honor Roll, which is to be unveiledi Saturday afternoon at the Town Hall at 3:30.

SELECTIVE SERVICE BOARD TO KEEP OPEN MONDAY EVENINGS

Heretofore the office hours of the Selective Service Board have been from 8:30 a. m. to 5:15 p. m. each weekday. Because there seems to be a demand for evening office hours to accommodate those registrants or their families who are unable to come to the office during day hours, the Board has decided to keep its office open Monday evenings from 7 to 9 p. m. for a few weeks to ascertain if this service is really needed. This arrangement will start Monday evening, April 26, 1943, and will continue through the month of May. The day hours will be continued as heretofore.

EDWIN N. LOVERING

DEATH TAKES HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL EMERITUS

Edwin N. Lovering, beloved principal emeritus of the Winchester High School, died early Sunday morning, April 18, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William H. Linton, in Drexel Hill, Pa., after a brief illness. He was 88 years old and had been living with his daughter since the late summer of 1941 when he closed his long-time home at 6 Hillside avenue in this town.

Mr. Lovering was a teacher for 48 years, teaching in Lexington and Randolph before coming to Winchester to become principal of the high school in 1887. He retired at the close of the school year in June of 1925 after 38 years in the town's service, 22 years as high school principal, from 1887 to 1909, and 16 years as principal emeritus. During all but the last three years of his connection with Winchester High School he taught Latin, giving up teaching in 1922. On June 6 of the year in which he retired he was tendered a reception, at which he was presented with gifts and a diploma from the then school committee expressing its members' thanks and appreciation of his long and faithful service. Upon learning of his death the Board of Selectmen, at their meeting Monday evening, voted to have the flags on the Common and public buildings displayed at half-staff in his honor. Flags on all school buildings were flown at half-staff.

A native of Beverly, Mr. Lovering lived for 20 years in Somerville where he received his early education and graduated from high school. He entered Harvard with the class of 1877 and after his graduation taught Latin for two years in Lexington, it being of interest that Mrs. John Ayer, now living in Stetson Hall, was one of his pupils there.

MISS EDITH BILLINGS

Miss Edith Billings of 188 Mystic Valley Parkway died Thursday evening, April 22, at the Winchester Hospital after ten days' illness which followed a long period of failing health. She was born Oct. 18, 1870, in the house in which she lived for so long with her sister, Miss Carolyn H. Billings, who is her only survivor.

Miss Billings was the daughter of Charles O., and M. Martina Billings. When she was 11 years old her parents moved to Boston where she attended the Girls' High School and studied art. She painted all her lifetime, showing real talent for the painting of china and for miniature heads.

Returning to Winchester in 1893, she led a quiet life which was nevertheless very helpful to many people. A faithful attendant for many years at the Church of the Epiphany she taught in the church school and served on the altar guild and on many of the church committees.

Funeral services will be held this Saturday forenoon at 11 o'clock at the late residence with Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, officiating. Interment will be in the Lowell Cemetery.

Mrs. Alfred W. Drew of Cabot street with her son, Donald, spent the past week-end visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Warren, in Brunswick, Me.

MYSTIC GLEE CLUB ANNOUNCES SOLOISTS

The Mystic Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. William F. Cruger will give its spring concert at the Winchester High School auditorium, Friday evening, May 7, at 8:30 p. m. This concert sponsored by the American Red Cross.

In addition to a fine selection of beautiful chorus music the Glee Club is fortunate in having two accomplished soloists. Mr. Lawson Edgerly of Boston, who has broadcasted over Boston radio stations many times, is a Marimba artist of great talent. Very few marimbists have become real four hammer artists, but Mr. Edgerly is one of the few who plays with four felt padded hammers. His music is very soft, harmonious and beautifully played. His rendition of many selections has brought tears to the eyes of many of his listeners because of his ability to bring out the various melodies as the composer must have had in mind. His flexible and capable hands can send all four hammers flying accurately from note to note without a loss of beat or loss of rhythm. His music is uplifting and will help one forget for a while the unhappy world.

The Glee Club is also greatly pleased to announce that Miss Claudia Renehan, supervisor of music in the Winchester schools will sing a group of songs. She has brought to Winchester, besides the ability to teach our children to read, play and appreciate good music, a beautiful soprano voice of unusual quality. The quality of tone and flexibility of her voice showed up exceptionally well as "Mabel" in the Pirates of Penzance. Her execution of the difficult cadenzas showed that she has devoted many hours to study and practice. Her high notes are clear and resonant. Here is an opportunity for mothers and fathers, also many of her own pupils, to hear Miss Renehan's beautiful voice.

When one buys a ticket to hear the Mystic Glee Club's concert and the two talented soloists, he is aiding the American Red Cross to finance their program. All proceeds from this concert, except for very small expenses, go to the Winchester Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Tickets will be on sale at Mary Spaulding's Book store, Hevey's Pharmacy, MacCormack's drug store, Parker and Lane's office on Church street, at the Red Cross headquarters in the town hall. Also by all members of the Glee Club.

MACK'S BIRTHDAY

Yesterday was "Mack's" birthday. "Mack" would, of course be Edward P. McKenzie, local newspaper man, known in and out of sporting circles as a former manager of semi-pro baseball teams and a red hot follower of all sports, including cross word puzzles.

Mack celebrated his natal day by sleuthing around for news as usual. He was warmly greeted at the Star Office, but refused to tell his age, excepting in the following verse:

I built the Rocky Mountains
And placed them where they are,
'Twas me that built Niagara Falls,
I first invented love,
And that was long, long before
Columbus landed here.'

At the conclusion of this masterpiece "Mack" warbled a bar or two of "O'Brien Had No Place to Go" and "broke it down," indicating that he is still a year or two on the sunny side of the century mark.

ANNUAL SPRING MEETING OF THE FLORENCE CRITTENTON CIRCLE

On Friday, April 16, Mrs. Maxwell McCreery opened her lovely flower filled home for the annual spring meeting of the Florence Crittenton Circle. It was an unusually satisfying afternoon due to the large number of interested people present, the nature of the entertainment provided and the exceptionally inspiring reports given of the past year's work and successes.

Mrs. Mary Chute from Welcome House spoke of the work done there this year and of the high hopes they have of enlarging their field in the near future. Mrs. Frederick Aseltine entertained 11 of the girls from Welcome House at a very delicious dessert before the meeting, she provided candy and individual favors for each girl and most graciously expressed the sincere cordiality of the Winchester Circle. After the dessert the girls were guests at Mrs. McCreery's where they kindly sang a few selections.

There was a regular business meeting which was made very lively by the fine reports given, especially those of the money raising committees given by Mrs. Charles Wansker, chairman of the spring luncheon and Mrs. George Wilson, chairman of the bazaar. Mrs. Kingman Cass reported the excellent result of the sale of stamps and bonds. Mrs. Woodford Wilcox, chairman of the sewing committee told of the large volume of work done this year. There were fine reports from Mrs. G. L. Witham, chairman of the music committee and Mrs. Harold Bostwick, chairman of the tea committee.

A new by law was passed setting the meeting for this third week in the month, with the actual day to be determined by existing circumstances. This year the meetings have been on Friday and apparently members have found this a more convenient day than Thursday.

Mrs. Harold Meyer, general chairman of the large Florence Crittenton bazaar to be held at the Copley Plaza early in October spoke of the ambition and interesting plans for the bazaar, with a goal of $9000 to be raised for the continuance and expansion of the excellent work done by the League.

Mrs. William Cusack, chairman of the nominating committee presented the following slate of next year's officers which was accepted.

President: Mrs. Harold Blanchard.
1st Vice President: Mrs. Langley C. Keyes
2nd Vice President: Mrs. Reginald Bradlee
Recording Secretary: Mrs. Warren Shoemaker
Corresponding Secretary: Mrs. Fred Ritchie
Treasurer: Mrs. Gerald Y. Hills
Director for 3 Years: Mrs. Woodford Wilcox.
Director for 2 Years: Mrs. Charles Greco.
Director for 1 Year: Mrs. Loring P. Nichols.

Mrs. Harold Blanchard, the able president, to whose tireless efforts, never failing confidence and persistent stimulus a great part of the last two years successes is due charmingly thanked the Circle for its co-operation and loyalty and the meeting adjourned, to be followed by a delicious coffee served by Mrs. Bostwick and her committee with Mrs. Fred Ritchie and Mrs. Langley Keyes at the coffee urns.

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

A very successful dessert bridge was held last week Tuesday at Lyceum Hall. Mrs. Wm. H. Hevey, chairman, and her committee worked hard to make this party a most enjoyable occasion for members and their friends. Coffee and dessert were served at 1:30. The dessert consisting of cup cakes, brownies, and French pastries, was made entirely by the committee.

Some very beautiful prizes were awarded for progressive bridge, and potted plants, one on each table, were the prizes for those who played pivot. A handsome basket of fruit was won by Mrs. Franklin Evans.

A linen table cloth was awarded Mrs. James Marchant and the book, Rose Petals was won by Mrs. William A. Dolan.

The next event of importance in the Guild is the annual communion breakfast to be held this year on May 2. Members will attend the 8 o'clock mass at St. Mary's Church and adjourn to Lyceum Hall where breakfast will be served at 9:00. Chairman Mrs. John S. O'Leary is very anxious to make this a success. Members who are planning to attend the communion breakfast should contact Mrs. O'Leary, whose telephone is Win. 0758-W. Reservations must be made within the next week. The speaker for this affair will be Daniel H. O'Leary, Ph. D., who will be remembered by many of our members on a previous occasion.

The sale for the blind which is held annually in Winchester will have to be indefinitely postponed at this time. Mrs. Michael H. Hintlian, who is general chairman of this committee, regrets to announce that materials used for the various articles made for these sales are impossible to obtain. After consultation with Miss Trainor of the Perkins Institute it was thought best to forego the sale. However, Miss Trainor wishes to thank her many kind friends and patrons in Winchester who have made these sales so successful in past years.

An urgent appeal has been made by the Catholic Charitable Bureau, of which we are a branch, for infant layettes. Now, more than ever before there is a need of baby clothes of every description. Those who have used baby clothes put away will be doing a work of mercy to donate these articles to the Guild. President Mrs. Michael H. Hintlian will be very grateful for any donation of baby garments, no matter how much worn they seem to be. Our sewing staff will put these articles in good repair.

Apropos of the above, the next all day sewing bee is on Tuesday, April 27, Lyceum Hall at 10 a. m. Kindly come and bring needle, thimble and thread. Also a box lunch. Coffee will be served at noon. Sewing will continue throughout the afternoon and tea, coffee, and sandwiches will be served at 4 o'clock.

The annual spring bridge sponsored by this Chapter will be held at Hotel Continental on Tuesday, May 18. This affair is looked forward to each year by our many members and friends. A luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock, followed by contract and auction. Chairman of the luncheon is Mrs. Clarence Dunbury. Chairman of tickets, Mrs. John Doherty.

TEACHERS' BOWLING LEAGUE

With a crash that faded almost to a whisper, the bowling Gravesers clinched first place honors in the teachers' league last week Monday night. Only a stellar performance by Capt. Graves in the opening round and a closely contested second string gave his cohorts the nod over the hard pressing Coopers who made a game of it by taking the last string by a wide margin to pile up a larger three-string total. Thus the prognostication of Statistician Rodgers came true. The Coopers still haven't lost a match to the Gravesers, but they relinquished the top position. On the winning team were Mary Cullen, Mary Mackedon, Helen Niedringhaus, Mildred Dineen (last week we reported another in her place and we apologize thus publicly) and Capt. Graves. Runners up were Edna Foley, Mary Haley, Anna MacPartlin, William Rodgers, and Capt. Cooper.

Prizes awarded the following Wednesday evening went to Arthur Butters and Mary McAuley for highest averages; William Branley and Mara McDonald for highest single strings; Sam Graves and Phyllis Roberts for highest three string totals; Gordon Smith for most strings over 100; Mary Cullen for most strings over 90; and to numerous others, prizes that are awarded as consolation. It should be noted that prizes were given in both the men's and the women's groups. It is the custom to award only one individual prize to a person, so the figures and names given here do not in every case represent the actual high record for the season.

Devaney Handcuffed Local Batters Got Errorless Support

Woburn High spoiled Winchester's 1943 baseball debut by trouncing the locals 16-0 before a big holiday crowd on Manchester Field Monday morning. The game was played with the glass near the freezing mark and a stiff east wind added to the discomfort of both players and spectators.

The elements seemed to affect the Woburn boys not at all, the Tanners fielding faultlessly and getting very effective pitching from their veteran southpaw, "Boots" Devaney.

Showing excellent control, especially for such a day, Mr. Devaney had the situation well in hand all the way, holding Winchester to three hits, one a blooper, while fanning 13 and walking three. The visiting lefty got nice support from his mates, especially from Capt. "Ziggy" Beatty at third, whose one-hand, back-hand stop of Capt. Russo's bid for extra bases in the third, followed by a perfect throw, was grand larceny in the grandest manner. "Butter" Abreau made a nice running-in catch off Charlie Murphy that cut off a Winchester run in the first and Beradi made a couple of nice running catches in center. On the whole, however, the Woburn boys' chances were routine, Mr. Devaney being too good to permit the Winchester batters to really "tag it" up at the plate.

Harvey Clarke, tall football player and converted catcher, started for Winchester and was in trouble right off. He walked Beradi who held up while Russo took Meheris' towering fly in deep center. Abreau dropped a double just inside the foul line in left to score Beradi and rode in himself when Capt. Beatty's well hit liner got past Roche in right field and went for a homer.

Those three runs were enough to win, but the Tanners added one in the second on another walk to Beradi, a two-base wild peg by Murphy and Abreau's infield out. Two bases on balls, Martin's double, hits by Stokes and Devaney, Meheras infield out and Murphy's error let in five runs in the third.

Washurn took over in the fourth and gave up three runs on four hits, one a flook, and a base on balls.

Thereafter Washburn didn't do too badly and might have gotten by without any more scoring with better support. Winchester got men to third only twice in the entire game, each time Devaney bearing down sharply to prevent any scoring.

McLAUGHLIN AND PRIDHAM

"Wild Willie" McLaughlin, pride of Stowe and champion of all Nabnassett, paired with Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham to win championship honors at the regular meeting of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association, last week-end. The larrupping Lake Street Lancers took on all comers and it wasn't until the combination was broken up that the other members of the Association present had a chance to break into the win column.

Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine champ, was once more among the missing, but President R. P. Teele envisions no disciplinary action, and when the Association's leading amateur returns from his vacation-week trip to Maine (via the B. and M.) he will find only the black mark of the previous week-end standing against his name on the records. Either Mr. Teele is developing an unsuspected soft streak, or Arthur had an exceptionally good excuse for his absence. No public announcement was forthcoming, but it is both axiom, and idiomatic that the Maine State champ would get no mercy from the champion of the Boston Paper Trade.

In addition to Mr. Butters, H. "Tiffany" Knowlton was A. W. O. L., but his victory garden excuse was weighed in the balance and found to be badly wanting. A stiff fine was levied by the President and the Secretary was appointed a committee of one with powers plenipotentiary to collect at or before the next meeting.

Answering the President's call, in addition to the Lake Street Lancers, were Herb Gardner and the Secretary. Mention should also be made of the fact that Johnny Cullen, half the well known Cullen Brothers team, put in an appearance during the sunniest part of the session.

McLaughlin and Pridham first took on the Association's Secretary and President R. P. Teele. While the latter pair got into the doubles both games they did no better than that, and retired to the sideline to watch Mr. Cullen and Mr. Gardner essay the champs.

Johnny and Herb fared, if anything, worse than their predecessors and retired in favor of the President and Secretary, who blame near won the first game of the next series and did win the second, after trailing 14-3 at that.

In charity to Mr. Teele, who at least gave earnestly of his best efforts, we will pass over the deciding game. The Secretary did as well as could be expected, considering the load he was carrying. We will say no more about it. McLaughlin and Pridham won!

Still Mr. Teele was unconvinced and with Mr. Pridham's voluntary retirement, he and the Scrivener squared away against McLaughlin and Mr. Gardner. The Secretary, pitching against "Wild Willie", whose morale was perceptably braced by the arrival at the courts of Luke Glendon, was naturally outclassed. After all he has never won the ram at Stowe, but of Mr. Teele better things were expected. Suffice it to say then that he was given "the works" in no uncertain fashion by Mr. Gardner, who was no doubt sensibly heartened by the new arrival in his family a few days before game-time.

Once again Mr. Teele and the Secretary got into the doubles two games, but once again no more than this can be said of their efforts which were enriched for the others present by their mutual recriminations.

The final three games of the session were won by Mr. McLaughlin and the Secretary from Mr. Teele and Mr. Pridham. All in all the President found the session one of the least satisfactory in a long time. In fact he admitted as he left the courts that in all probability his soup would be sour!

MUST ENROLL FOR PROTECTION

Members of the Civilian Defense protection forces must be officially enrolled in the Citizens Defense Corps with their local defense councils in order to benefit under the government's compensation plan for injuries or death suffered in the line of duty.

United States Regional Director Joseph M. Loughlin, First Civilian Defense Area, made this statement recently as he urged air raid wardens and those other members of the protective auxiliaires to make application to the personnel officer of their local defense council for proper enrollment.

The government's compensation plan will apply not only to members of the Citizens Defense Corps but to trainees for the corps, New England's Civilian Defense chief said.

Winchester's first place winners were Capt. Dick Briggs who took the mile in 5m. 4.2s, and Fred Lindberg whose 5ft. 6in. was tops in the high jump. John Ottiano placed fourth in the 100, and Phil Ewell and Andre Redding were third and fourth respectively in the quarter. Parker Symmes placed third behind his captain in the mile and the Winchester relay team of Andrew Armato, Bob Flynn, Charlie Lovejoy and John Ottiano was third in the team races, places being awarded by times.

The death of Edwin N. Lovering brought sincere regret to all who came within his influence during the year he was associated with the Winchester High School as principal, latin master and principal emeritus. His strength, which was always the strength of gentleness, his friendliness, his keen sense of humor and proportion, and above all, his fairness enabled him to guide and govern in a way to win both his pupils' respect and in even larger measure, their liking. Affectionately known as "the Gent," he was genuinely beloved by all who came to know the warm heart hidden behind an exterior which at first approach could seem a trifle austere. The secret of his success with young people lay surely in his love for them and in his appreciation of both their weaknesses and strength. Censure he could, and sternly, when occasion demanded, but generally the twinkle in his eye robbed the well merited rebuke of much of its sting. Often he laughed, few have had a keener perception of the drolleries of the class-room, but always he laughed with the unfortunate, and never at him. Sarcasm and ridicule had no place in his scheme of things. He was always simple, direct and very kind. So we take leave of this courtly gentleman. In the words of his own beloved latin, "Ave atque Vale"—Hale and Farewell! His candle has burned out, but happy memories linger on to reflect the radiance of his personality like the deep afterglow of a beautiful sunset. We are all the poorer for "the Gent's" passing, but we are also much the richer for having had the good fortune to know him.

With the announcement in last week's issue of the committee to investigate the desirability of petitioning to have the Winchester Postoffice included in the Boston Postal District the Star is prompted to comment briefly upon such a possibility. Although we stand to benefit financially rather more than most from the two cent instead of three cent postage which would result from such a move, we do not and never have favored it. How much longer the Government will continue the two cent postage anyhow is beside the point. Even if there were no likelihood of discontinuing the two cent rate where it now exists, we would prefer to have Winchester an independent office. As such it is a part of the town, staffed almost entirely by local men, whom we all know. Our relations with such a group are bound to be more pleasant than they would be with a group drawn from anywhere within the Boston Postal District. Once in that district any one with more service can bid in a job at the local office while our own boys, perhaps displaced, can be sent to out-of-town offices. We will take the local boys in the local office for ours. Then again under the present set-up the Winchester office gets by train 15 incoming mails and sends out mail 10 times daily. In the Boston Postal District deliveries are made by trucks and would be about five a day. No great improvement here! Finally any one looking for improved postal service with the office in the Boston District will be doomed to disappointment. There will be under such a system no more clerks or carriers, and only with more of each can service be speeded up. Those who have had occasion to complain of late should recall that illness has been very prevalent. One week, which, for instance, we had complaints about our Star deliveries, we found there were six regulars out sick. Substitutes of any kind, let alone a civil service list working for regular appointments, are virtually impossible to get. Placing the office in the Boston district won't help this situation, or anything connected with the present picture except possibly the saving in postage. IF the two cent rate is continued. The Star likes the Winchester office, staffed by Winchester men, for Winchester's service. It will await the committee's investigation and recommendations with interest.

Leaving the great New Deal still busily engaged in digging its grave under the happy direction of its immortal head man, we braved its wrath over the holiday week-end and visited our camp on Cape Cod. Unbelievable though it seems, we made the journey to and from without being obliged to join a union or even pay an initiation fee. We infiltrated, so to speak. Possibly Mrs. Anna Rosenberg and Handsome Paul McNutt were watching Mexico to the detriment of Cape Cod and overlooked our forbidden enjoyment. We took the trip with happier bygone days in mind; days before we all had security, freedom from want and money changers in the temple or an underprivileged two-thirds. We pictured recreation and relaxation. We really knew better than to anticipate recreation, but we had the relaxation and what was even better—a little warmth.

We found the camp just the same as we left it last fall, thanks to the supervision of our good friends Clarence and Horace. The only thing missing was the mouse seed—and the mice along with it. The little bugs, Helen, were all gone too.

Clarence, we found, had accepted a contract to paint the place, and while it grieved us, we just had to call his attention to the fact that we said paint and not water. He spent much of his visiting hour Sunday washing windows and door sills to say nothing of trying the windows open. We renewed the contract, this time making paint the chief feature.

Since we had used all our coupons, we planned to rely mostly on fish for our sustenance, but when we started in anticipation with oysters, we learned that they all froze last winter. We don't blame them. We did a bear did ourself. So we got lemon sole, which used to be pollock with us. However, a dividend in the way of an unanticipated trip to Falmouth, fixed us up. Rose Souza presented us with enough tickets for a pound of hamburg and we got a fillet of flounder from Gus. We don't know how Gus knew we were calling, but he came through as usual; genial as ever. The winter has produced a few white hairs though. Over at Ten Acre we found Hollis Lovell up to his neck in business. He turned us over to Henry Doubtfire, who we used to know down in Centerville, and we got a prime pound of ground meat. Hollis said just time to shake our hand and ask us to call before we were swept away in the sea of southern gals out buying provisions for officers row.

Falmouth without Malchman's would not be Falmouth—especially with the Little Woman along. The Boss, we found, had just returned from Florida. He felt he came back too soon, and we agreed with him. Mr. Smith came through with a 1942 souvenir, which made everyone happy, but which will not disrupt the family so far as we are concerned. We think Ethlyn Brown and Catherine White will like the Malchman dresses and we know Mrs. Week's buttons were just perfect.

We missed seeing Sumner and Melvina Crosby, but as we have noted, the trip was a dividend and we have got to wait until later for the Crosby portion.

The stories of two thousand soldiers on Washburn's Island was noted but not in evidence. The big piers were deserted and there was no sign of activity, above or below ground. The dawn patrol went over on time at nine-thirty; likewise plenty of other patrols, and we noted some smart looking air ships—which we hope is not a military secret. It was nice to sit in warmth and comfort with the rain on the roof and windows, and the living room stove was just as good as ever for broiling either flounder or hamburg. The jar of B & M kidney beans we found up on the shelf just added the proper touch to the menu.

As usual the radio was the entertainment, and we listened largely to the political blurb. Outside stations being blanketed, we took on the locals. Apparently the Cape Cod gals are flocking to the Camp Edwards laundry at fifty cents per hour, but when we got a fifteen minute broadcast urging the Cape farmers to grow cotton, we snorted. And we bet some of them did too. We have always heard that anything that would grow could be raised on Cape Cod, given water. But cotton! Possibly some of them will remember a similar blurb a couple of years ago on raising Cape turnips, when everyone hopped to it and a record crop was cultivated—only to be fed to the pigs or plowed under. And the crowning feature of that affair was the shipment of yellow turnips to relieve the food shortage and assure security and abundance. Yes—nothing is overlooked by our great New Deal.

It was a little sad not to start summer plans and to wonder how high the grass is going to grow this year or who would take care of this or that. Frankie Souza is in the Army and Ed Jones is away out in Seattle. Ray Nines has thus far escaped the draft, but is still training on his bicycle up and down the road to the village. And Horace, of all persons, has capitulated and is busy at Camp Edwards.

So that's the state of Cape Cod from a three-day observation, largely through the living room window. We have not got that cigarette holder yet; nor have we found who left that bag of fertilizer in our cellar, but it takes time to remake a country, and we trust our camp will still be above ground when and if we can visit it again.

A MASTERPIECE!

To the Editor of the Star:

As your humble servant is a son of a veteran of the Civil War who fought under Grant, Sherman and Sheridan, fell in battle, was wounded and was confined to a hospital in Philadelphia, Pa., for eight months, I was an interested spectator at the exercises that were held adjacent to the Town Hall last Sunday afternoon.

I have never heard an oration that could compare with Mr. Worthen's utterances. It certainly was a masterpiece!

Very truly yours,
Patrick H. Craughwell

GREETINGS FROM DR. CLARK

Says Service Men Look Forward to Star

Third Convalescent Hospital,
Camp Livingstone, La.
April 11, 1943

To the Editor of the Star:

Starting with the issue of April 23, will you please address my Star to the Army Medical School, Army Medical Center, Washington, D. C. I am sure that most Winchester men in the service look forward to the Star each week as much as I do. It does a great deal to supplement mail in keeping us up to date with changes in the world at home. Down here in Louisiana, we feel as though we were all but out of the country.

The Army is a most uncertain place for all of its personnel. We really never know our plans from week to week and are always prepared for changes. Just now I expect to be in Washington for a while. It is already growing unpleasantly hot here and I am looking forward to a change.

If you are so inclined, I should be glad to have you extend my greetings and best wishes to patients and friends through your columns. I frequently think of them and wonder about them, but finding it quite impossible to keep up an extensive correspondence, I have consequently quite universally neglected them. Actually it is just a year ago that I was shutting up my office at 15 Dix.

Personally I was never more healthy in my life (except that some will probably get a kick out of knowing that I had German Measles last month.) Now a hospital set up under canvas, a consultation out of a jeep, a 25 mile march, or a good wallow through Louisana red mud and the like, almost seem more natural than civilian medicine.

The Red Cross and the U. S. O. are doing a grand job for the boys and deserve all of the support they can get. In the army we are impressed more and more by the importance and the unevenness of the supply problem, both as affecting training and actual operation. It is being better met all of the time. From what we see of the importance of rubber and oil, it leaves us with little sympathy for those who complain about gas restrictions at home. Here when we want to get somewhere, we walk almost universally, whether it be two miles or ten. Contrary to usual belief, army vehicles are tightly rationed on gas; and, while we are well fed, our butter and many other items are now cut way down.

My best wishes to the Winchester doctors. Those at home are doing fully as important a job as we and deserve just as much credit for sticking by their guns on the home front. I gather under heavy fire. One of the greatest consolations that we away from home have, is in knowing that our families and others back home are being looked out for.

My best to all.

Richard J. Clark,
Major, Medical Corps

FROM PATROLMAN QUIGLEY

April 15, 1943

To the Editor of the Star:

Have finally landed on a permanent assignment as a member of the Recreation Department with a large compliment of sailors, the best and most extensive equipment I have ever seen. Activities I am working on include: baseball, boxing, track, football, swimming and basketball. Eleven diamonds in use most of the time should give you a rough idea of the number engaged. There are also calisthenics in the mornings and I expect to be hit with a master of ceremonies job at smokers and so forth. I must say I really enjoy all of the program and have been given great co-operation by officers and men alike, so I expect to gain a great deal of valuable experience from this work.

Please remember me to all the boys in Winchester and let them know that I am feeling great, and really enjoy being able to help condition physically this navy of ours. They may be boys to you at home, but here and under pressure you can be proud of these men. They are boys only in age.

Best of luck to you and everyone.

UP TO YOU AND ME

To the Editor of the Star:

We read in the newspapers of America of the suffering of the people on the other side of the deep blue sea; in fact, we will undoubtedly be called upon to make sacrifices that stagger the imagination of mankind, [illegible] the fact that we are engaged in a cruel war.

Two years we exported our scrap iron to Japan to defeat China. At the present time we are assisting China to defeat Japan. Is that a square deal? Certainly not, it is a new deal! The suffering that humanity is enduring at the present time is caused by ignorance, greed, hate and selfishness.

Let us scrutinize the pages of history and observe what the elements are capable of doing and accomplished in Ireland.

In the year 1845 loss of half the potato crop by blight caused serious famine and estimated damage to the potato crop of $9,000,000. Now listen, in the year 1846 potato famine, followed by wholesale emigration resulted in 300,000 deaths and loss of $30,000,000 to $40,000,000. The soup kitchen act came into effect in the car 1847. It is estimated that 400,000 people died of famine and disease! Consider, concentrate and meditate what that meant to a population of 8,276,627, according to the census taken in 1844. At the present time the State of Massachusetts has a larger population than Ireland.

We stand beneath the stars and gaze up into the overwhelming glory and majesty of the universe. You consider the eternal almighty and limitless intelligence behind the functioning of the same universe. You consider your own insignificance, littleness and helplessness.

You, reader, ask your-self haltingly how this great God can be interested in you. There you stand facing the sorrows and unhappiness of life, age relentlessly creeping on, poverty always threatening, sickness and suffering never far distant, death lying in wait. Tested and tried as it were, by fire, you are very close to despair, and then you remember! You know it is up to you and me to answer!

Very truly yours,
Patrick H. Craughwell

THANKS THROUGH THE STAR

To the Editor of the Star:

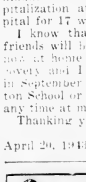

Through your columns I wish to thank the Mothers' Association of the George Washington School and the teachers and pupils for the many kindnesses shown me during my hospitalization at the Boston City Hospital for 17 weeks.

I know that my many good, kind friends will be pleased to know I am now at home well on the road to recovery and I expect to resume duties in September at the George Washington School or I would love to see them any time at my home.

Thanking you sincerely.

TO PARENTS IN THE HIGHLAND, MYSTIC AND WASHINGTON SCHOOL DISTRICTS

At its meeting on Maren 17, the School Committee voted to extend the Lincoln School district to include substantially what has been the Highland School district. At the same time, it voted to discontinue the Highland School as of September, 1943. This letter is written to the parents affected, to explain why these actions were deemed necessary, for we recognize that the breaking of established school connections will be disappointing not only to many children but to their parents as well. Moreover, many families have moved into this area on the basis of established school facilities. Accordingly we want you to know that this important move has been undertaken only after mature study and consideration and only after we have been convinced that it will improve the schooling for the children in the Highland, Mystic and Washington school districts.

The last two annual reports of the Special Town Committee on School Accommodations have described the undesirable conditions of overcrowding existing in the Mystic and Washington Schools. This overcrowding has been recurrent for some years. Classes at times have been larger than desirable, combination grades have been necessary, and the auditoriums of both schools have been pressed into use as regular classrooms, with resultant interference with auditorium activities. Suitable rooms for special aid teachers have been unavailable. The overcrowding in the Washington School during the current year has been so bad that the School Committee has deemed it imperative to alleviate the condition.

As pointed out by the Special Committee on School Accommodations, the building of additions to the Mystic and Washington Schools is not now possible because of the war. Even if the construction of school additions were feasible, however, the School Committee still faces the responsibility of seeing that existing school facilities are used in the most efficient and economical way. We have faced the following facts:

(1) The Lincoln School, which is one of the finest buildings in the entire town, has had several vacant rooms and abnormally small classes. The membership in this school has been diminishing for several years. During the last 10 years its highest membership was 301 in 1934. Its present (March, 1943) membership is 157, by grades as follows:

Kindergarten	14
Grade 1	11
Grade 2	21
Grade 3	15
Grade 4	21
Grade 5	25
Grade 6	24
Special Class	14

(2) The Highland School has been expensive to operate, averaging 21 pupils to a teacher; not to speak of the cost of fuel, light and maintenance.

(3) Since the Highland School has housed the first four grades only, children advanced to the fifth grade have gone either to the Mystic or Washington Schools, not infrequently crowding the fifth and sixth grades there, and causing the formation of combination grades requiring additional rooms.

It is quite clear from these facts that additional pupils can be absorbed in the present grade rooms of the Lincoln School, while others can be cared for in the two classrooms now virtually unused. Such action will result in more efficient and economical operation.

In view of these facts, the committee has voted to transfer the pupils in the Highland district to the Lincoln School as of September, 1943. The area added to the Lincoln School district by the vote is as follows: It is bounded by Lincoln street on the north, Washington on the west, Winthrop street on the south, and the Middlesex Fells on the east. The longest walking distance will be about five-tenths of a mile from the corner of Highland avenue and Winthrop street to the Washington street entrance of the Lincoln School.

Under the vote taken, somewhat over 100 pupils in the Highland district will attend the Lincoln School. Since so many pupils in this district will attend the Lincoln School in a body, it is felt that school friendships and relationships will not be disturbed greatly by the shift.

To summarize, the closing of the Highland School and the transfer of the children in the Highland School district to the Lincoln School will accomplish the following results:

(1) The Mystic and Washington School crowding will be eliminated, at least for a time.

(2) All pupils, those of fifth and sixth grade included, will have convenient walking distances to an attractive and modern building with adequate rooms.

(3) The vacant rooms in the Lincoln School will be utilized. Existing classes will be brought to a normal number and the school thereby more economically operated.

(4) There will be some saving to the town in the cost of maintenance, heat and light, by closing the Highland School.

In view of the considerations which we have outlined above, we hope that we may have your understanding and co-operation in this redistricting action.

Respectfully,

UNION GOOD FRIDAY SERVICES

At First Congregational Church This Evening

The annual Union Good Friday service will be held in the First Congregational Church this evening at 7:45. Rev. R. Mitchell Rushton will be the preacher. Ministers from other churches participating will take part in the services.

TWO EASTER SERVICES FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH 9 and 10:45 A. M.

Due to the fact that there have been overflow congregations at the Easter services at the First Congregational Church during the past few years, a second service was inaugurated last year at 9 o'clock which proved of great convenience to the public. The church was well filled at both services last year, and two services have again been planned for this year.

The Parish Bellringers, under the direction of Mrs. Poveleite, will take part in the 9 o'clock service. At 10:45 there will be special music by Miss Elise Nichols, violinist, and Miss Edna Tuckerman, violoncelist.

The public is invited.

The project, arranged to benefit Russian War Relief through the co-operation of Miss Cornell and the Shubert Theatre, brought in over $250.

The Girls' Club of the Unitarian Church and Rev. Paul Chapman are going to present to the Russian seamen a surgical kit with instruments which they have purchased from the proceeds of the supper given in Winchester on March 24 under auspices of the Girls' Club and in co-operation with the Winchester Committee. THERE

And there amid the horror,
Amid the devastation of this fiendish war,
Mid the cries of the wounded, amid the gust,
And dust,
There mid man's sin gone rampant,
We still can see the beauty of the Lord.
He is there to aid His own calling still,
He brings His peace, He frames His love,
He calls thee tenderly, He would give thee
Salvation.
He offers thee His freedom, He offers thee
His peace, His joy, His love,
And He offers thee His Victory.
The King of all the universe offers thee redemption, His Eternal Peace.
The morning in that gastly place, the battle, field of horror, still walks with His radiant glory.
And at sunset hour His glory illumines all
the Western sky, and tells thee of His love,
For night shadows enfold the earth and it is night.
And even then amid the darkness He is there.
His faithful Witness, the moon appears,
And tree myriad hosts of stars each with its golden light to guide thy feet until the dawn.
When mid His glory the day is born,
And in the peace of early morn, when birds
first start to sing His praise,
And whispers low to thee, come thou to me,
Jesus Christ thy Saviour calleth thee.
He would give thee peace, He would give thee joy.
He would give thee love, He would give thee
the salvation.
Amid all the horrors of War, amid all the devastation, God calls thee still.
He is His beauty, it is everywhere,
Makes on the cold bold that mars the earth.

SCHOOL NOTES

History classes of Mrs. Ella Stacey provided a special program last week in observance of the 200th anniversary of the birth of Thomas Jefferson, third President of the United States. Designed to emphasize the democratic qualities of the author of "The Declaration of Independence," the talks fitted nicely together to portray the life of this great American.

Presiding was Parker Symmes, who first introduced Mary Keyes. She told of Jefferson's assistance in the planning of Washington, D. C., of his simplicity, his powers as a conversationalist, and his inventiveness. Paul Blake followed with interesting facts about Jefferson's attitude toward public education, his founding of the University of Virginia, and his pleas for freedom of religion and of the press. Marie Moore brought out that it was Jefferson the scientist and mathematician who decided upon the decimal system for United States currency, the architect who designed the Monticello home, the humanitarian who educated his slaves, and the musician who played so many musical instruments, particularly the violin.

From the office of Robert Swenson, director of Guidance and Placement comes word that Bernard Rassat and Roland Hallberg are now in training for War Production work in Medford and Malden respectively. Robert Treacy, Paul Williams, Bruce Hamilton, Robert Bolivar, and Harry Boodakian are receiving pre-induction training in machine shop and auto mechanics at a Malden training center which will fit them for the ground crew of the Air Corps. All seven boys are pursuing regular courses of study and will be graduated with their class at W. H. S.

Mr. Swenson calls to the students' attention the many opportunities for farm and industrial work this summer. To help employers, including farmers, the guidance department will help by suggesting students for part-time or full summer employment.

Miss Pauline Milne, an unusually high ranking student in the commercial department, began her duties April 20 as assistant secretary to the Superintendent. Miss Milne, active in many extra curricular events, will be graduated with her class on May 28.

Last Friday Mr. Quinn attended an all-day conference of educators called in by Commissioner Downey to discuss war time problems of Massachusetts schools.

Elected a director of the Massachusetts Schoolmasters' Club, Mr. Quinn will take an active part in the formulation of plans for that association, one of the oldest in the Commonwealth.

At a recent election of officers of the Thrift Association the following were chosen:

President: James Kimball
Vice President: Virginia Terhune
Assistant Vice President: Charles Walsh
Secretary: Barbara J. Smith
Assistant Secretary: Martha Jackson

As a result of a recent boom in the sale of United States War Savings Bonds and Stamps, pupils of the high school have purchased the equivalent of a Jeep. The Red and Black, student newspaper, is sponsoring the drive to net two jeeps by May 31.

The varsity track squad heard with regret the announcement that Co-Capt. John Murray, recently enlisted in the Army for special training with the meteorological service, was called to active duty last week. John was also co-captain of last year's track team and was the team's ace 220 man, broad jumper, and outstanding anchor man on both the 440 and 880 yard relay units of Saugus fame. The squad wishes through the Star to express its appreciation to John for his leadership in the past and to wish him happy landings in the future. The boys have told John they will keep him posted on this year's doings.

MR. AYER PROMOTED

Te Lumber Mutual Fire Insurance Company announces the election of Hazen H. Ayer of Oxford street as first vice president of the company at the annual meeting of the directors April 15. Mr. Ayer was elected a director of the company in April 1942, and a member of the Finance Committee in October of that year. As a result of this promotion he becomes the chief financial officer of one of the older and larger mutual fire insurance companies in New England.

Inasmuch as the new position is essentially a part-time job, Mr. Ayer will be free to continue his present duties as president of the investment counsel firm of Standish, Ayer and McKay, Inc. He is at present a member of the Winchester School Committee and concluded his duties as chairman of the Finance Committee at the March town meeting.

Kelley and Hawes delivered on Tuesday 1500 books to the New England Deposit Library. The books were sent from the Winchester Public Library and were largely the gifts of Winchester people. The Deposit Library is the distribution point for books to the boys in the Army and Navy.

From Lexington he went to Randolph and from that place came to Winchester in 1887 to succeed Emerson H. Alger as principal of the high school, serving also as latin master. He became principal emeritus in 1909 after serving under five superintendents, B. F. Tweed, Dr. Ephraim Hunt, Henry M. Wallradt, Robert C. Metcalf and Schuyler F. Herron. His teaching span added service under two more superintendents, John R. Fausey and the present incumbent, James J. Quinn.

When Mr. Lovering came to Winchester the entire student body of the high school numbered 45 pupils and there were seven in the graduating class of that year. The total appropriation for schools at that time was $18,000. He was principal when the high school was located on Church street in the Prince School building, then standing at the corner of School street. He was heading the institution when it moved into the present building on the Parkway, remaining a vital part of the school until its senior class alone was several times the size of the entire student body when he began his stewardship.

During his years of service hundreds passed under his administration and through his class-room. His memory for, and recollections of his former students were remarkable and his popularity with all who knew him as teacher and friend, a byword. He took the keenest interest in the extra-curricular activities of his pupils, especially in athletics, which he followed ardently and intelligently until he left town.

Aside from his scholastic duties, Mr. Lovering served the town as Library Trustee from 1891 to 1902, was a member of the committee charged with building the present high school and was also a member of the Appropriations Committee, now the Finance Committee. He was long identified with the First Congregational Church of this town, and was both a charter member and honorary member of the En Ka Society, in which he always maintained a lively interest.

A loyal Harvard man, he was a faithful attendant at college commencements and his class reunions and equally regular in his attendance at high school faculty parties and dinners.

Mr. Lovering's wife, the former Helen H. Bowers, died April 27, 1938. Besides Mrs. Linton he leaves another daughter, Miss Ethel B. Lovering, formerly of this town.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon in Ripley Memorial Chapel of the First Congregational Church with the pastor, Rev. Howard J. Chidley, officiating. J. Albert Wilson, church organist, played favorite hymns and the "Largo" from Xerxes by Handel. Many former pupils attended the simple service and listened to Dr. Chidley's informal eulogy of one who he said could rightly be named a "gentleman and scholar." A delegation from the En Ka Society was present and among the floral tributes were those from En Ka, from the Phi Delta Society, now inactive, and from several of the older high school classes. Two of the three surviving members of the class of 1888, first class to graduate after Mr. Lovering became principal, were in the congregation. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

HEZEKIAH SHAILER

Hezekiah Shailer, retired employee of the United Shoe Machinery Company, died suddenly Sunday afternoon, April 18, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Henry E. Moffette, 44 Vine street, after a long period of poor health.

Mr. Shailer was the son of Varnas and Harriet Hale (Sawyer) Shailer. He was born May 28, 1865, in Monson, Me., spending his early life and receiving his education there. Later he was for 25 years in the employ of the United Shoe Machinery Corp., making his home in Beverly, from which city he came to Winchester in 1937. He was a Mason and a member of the Grange in Beverly.

Mr. Shailer was a widower. Besides his daughter he leaves two sisters, Mrs. Albert C. True of Freeport, Me., and Mrs. William Blake of Portland; a brother, Harry H. Shailer of West Brookfield; and two granddaughters, Miss Joan, and Miss June Moffette of this town.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the late residence with Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, officiating. Interment was in Forest Hills Cemetery.

DECEASED JURIST HUSBAND OF WINCHESTER GIRL

Judge Clarence Cheney Smith, who died suddenly last week Saturday morning at his home, 926 Center street, Newton, was the husband of the former Dorothy Wellington of this town, daughter of Mrs. Lena R. Wellington of 290 Highland avenue, and the late Harry Wellington.

Judge Smith was associated with the Massachusetts Land Court since its establishment in 1898, serving then as its recorder and remaining in that capacity until 1924 when he was appointed an associate judge by Governor Channing H. Cox. A native of New Hampton, N. H., he was graduated from Bates College in 1888, studied law in the office of his brother and at Boston University law school, being admitted to the bar in 1890. His wife is his only survivor.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the Eliot Congregational Church in Newton.

A big crowd turned out for both events, the first of which was the dedication of the Honor Roll at the Town Hall. Mt. Vernon street was blocked off and the spectators grouped themselves on the northerly side of the roadway and sidewalk, overflowing onto the spacious Skillings estate grounds, from which an excellent view could be obtained. Entire families turned out and many service men in khaki or blue could be seen among those who followed the program with the closest attention. Loud speakers carried the voices of the speakers to everyone.

Before the dedication exercises commenced the uniformed band from the House of the Angel Guardian played a program of stirring music in front of the town hall, after a brief parade from the Legion Headquarters on Washington street down the Parkway and through the Center. The band was in charge of Brother Victrice, who conducted and Brother Fulbert and was secured through the courtesy of its sponsors, Norman Prince Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, of which Selectman Daniel A. Murray is a member. Post Comdr. Anthony J. Rock of the State Guard accompanied the band to Winchester together with the band's colors and color guard. Robert Hartwell was drum-major.

The band played, marched and conducted itself well, while its courtesy in coming to Winchester on both Saturday, when the postponement was not announced until starting time, and again on Sunday was much appreciated.

Besides the uniformed bandsmen there was a large delegation of Legionnaires in uniform, headed by Comdr. James W. Blackham and Adjutant Charles Watson. The Legion Colors were borne by George Donaghey and Warren Johnston, color guards being Past Comdr. Kenneth Hall and Clifford Towner.

Chairman William J. Speers, Jr., of the Board of Selectmen opened the program at the town hall, asking all citizens of the town as they dedicated the new Honor Roll also to dedicate themselves to the Country's Service as those have done whose names appear upon the newly blazoned list. He called attention to the fact that on the speakers' platform were two distinguished citizens of the town, James J. Fitzgerald, Selectman in 1900, who was indefatigable in his efforts for the Winchester Boys called to the Colors in the last war; and Lewis Parkhurst, town benefactor who delivered the dedicatory address when the Honor Roll for World War 1 was unveiled.

In the course of his brief remarks Mr. Speers paid tribute to Ben R. Schneider, his predecessor in office, who as chairman of the Honor Roll committee played so prominent a part in perfecting the arrangements for its dedication. Sharing the praise with him were the remaining members of the committee: Mrs. Clifton W. Hall, Arthur W. Dean, James W. Blackham and Edward D. Fitzgerald.

The committee faced a difficult task in assembling the names on the Honor Roll. Omissions and errors in spelling were inevitable and corrections and additions will be made as promptly as possible if called to the attention of the Selectmen's clerk, George W. Franklin, Win. 1102.

At the conclusion of Mr. Speers remarks the Honor Roll was unveiled by Legionnaires Manlino G. Moffett and Charles J. Watson as the band played the Star Spangled Banner. Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman of the Unitarian Church, chaplain of Winchester Post, A. L., made the dedicatory prayer and Rev. Fr. James F. Fitzsimons, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church, pronounced the benediction.

Town Moderator Joseph W. Worthen delivered the dedicatory address and the close attention accorded him by the large audience indicated the degree to which his remarks drove home. He said in part:

". . . . . this Winchester Honor Roll is unveiled, with every single name burned so deeply into the lives of one or more of us, a man on this platform would be vain indeed to feel that by any words of his he could do full justice to the thoughts you think, the memories you treasure, the fears you resist, the hopes you cherish.

. . . We're here to think and speak of that which we ourselves know best,—our Honor Roll, and what it means to us. To the thoughtless passer-by it may seem but another list of names; yet for one or more of us each name is like a threshold, by which we enter into our own personal treasure-house of memories and fears, of hopes and aspirations.

The memories come first. They do not go to war. They stay at home to comfort and to bless us all. They ring us visions which sustain and fill us with the pride and strength we need . . . Those boys and girls, those men and women, are the best we have. . . . They are our very own.

And now they've gone to war. They know this war is not the first. The path they tread is old, and trodden far too well. From here went men to fight the Indians in 1691 and 1725, the French in 1758, the Englishmen in 1775 and 1812, the Mexicans in 1846. From here again they went in 1861 to wage the war between the States, the war with Spain in 1898, and the World War in 1917. Never for very long have we had peace. For all we have, successive men of Winchester have had to fight. And now they fight again, as veterans among us here today and many other men have fought before, for home, for family, for us.

We do not fear to contemplate the danger they are in. For as long as thousands, yes millions of boys from all parts of this land are fighting for our freedom and our way of life, we are proud that a full share of the danger of the combat is being bravely borne by those whose names are on this roll. We would not have it otherwise. . . .

. . . And then they will return,—or most of them. Let us be honest with ourselves and face the facts. We cannot be assured that all will come. Whose boys and girls may not return we cannot know. If they are ours, I only hope that we may have the strength and fortitude of those who even now have lost their son, yet walk among us, heads erect, going about their daily work,—a source of strength, an inspiration to us all. Our everlasting debt to them cannot be paid, nor even put in words.

. . . The hope which rises in our hearts when we read these names is that these and all other boys and girls will return in health and vigor when this war is won, and that till then they will fight and work with all the strength with which their life here has endowed them, and with all the confidence which their knowledge of the rightness of their cause must give.

. . . . in every corner of the world these boys and girls whose names are on this single honor roll are thinking thoughts of home in Wincester, —warm thoughts of us and what we mean to them.

They do not question whether we shall keep the faith, the way of life they know and love so well. They know we'll always keep it, clean and straight and free, as when they went away. They do not mean it as a challenge, though that is what it really is. They set their standards high, and in their gratitude and love for us they think we're better than we are. There lies the challenge. We shall gladly meet it,—meet it with the very best that we can be and do.

. . . And so this honor roll is no mere list of names. A name is but a label, and that for which each label stands is flesh and blood and life and hope. All these our roll of honor signifies, but yet far more. For man you well, whose names are on that list. The boys and girls of English stock and that of Scotland; the sturdy ones of Irish blood; the boys and girls in whom there flows the blood of Norway, Sweden, France, yes, Germany; and that of lovely, sunny Italy. Boys of the yellow race are there, and those whose forbears came from Africa. All now together, behneath our flag, fighting one fight against a common foe! Who says the peoples and the races cannot live as one, in peace and mutual respect; —that wars must therefore ever come to take our best away? That roll of honor answers "No!" It stands here in this public place, where all who run may read, to show what we have done in this broad land of ours. And what we have achieved, can yet be done by men in other lands. If we can live in peace and in content and join together, each for all, then so can they. That's what this roll of honor means, and proves! It points the road,—the long, hard, up-hill road ahead, and indicates the goal that can be reached by men and nations travelling with good will.

And so we dedicate our honor roll, and proudly set it here beside the public way; each well-loved name a threshold for our thoughts and hopes and prayers; the whole a symbol of our strength, our faith, our unity."

At the conclusion of the exercises at the Honor Roll the parade formed and marched to the Common where the fine new Service Flag, presented to the town by the En Ka Society was dedicated and raised.

Police Chief William H. Rogers was in personal charge of the policing and Lt. Edward W. O'Connell headed the Police escort.

On the speakers' platform with Mrs. Harold F. Meyer, president of En Ka and Mrs. Lucius Smith, chairman of the En Ka Service Flag committee, were Rev. Roger E. Makepeace, pastor of the Crawford Memorial Church, who offered the dedicatory prayer, Chairman Speers of the Selectmen, who accepted the flag for the town, and Capt. Robert A. Dawes, U. S. N.; Major John Quincy Adams, U. S. M. C.; Lt. Howard A. Prentice, U. S. C. G.; and Lt. Mortimer H. Nickerson, U. S. A.; guests of En Ka and residents of Winchester.

Mrs. Smith, in opening the brief program, said: "This year the En Ka Society is commemorating its 40th anniversary. In recognition of 40 years of welfare work and co-operative community activity, which has brought comfort and pleasure to many, it has been the wish of the members to show, by some token, the appreciation the Society feels, and has felt, in being privileged to serve Winchester."

Introduced by Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Meyer, in presenting the flag to the town, said: "The En Ka Society is very proud of this opportunity to present to the Town of Winchester this Service Flag in loving recognition of the Winchester boys in the Service. May the prayers of all the mothers and loved ones be answered so that their boys will return home, safe and sound and victorious!"

As the band once more played the National Anthem members of S.S.S. Tarquin, Winchester's Sea Scout Ship, under Skipper Louis E. Goddu, raised the Stars and Stripes and the new Service Flag, while the big crowd stood with bared heads and the military stood rigidly at salute. The color detail included Richard Fenno, Charles Lovejoy, and Andre Redding. The Scout color bearer was Robert Remsdell and the guards, Robert Goddu and Francis Poirier. Acting as escort for the parade and guard for the Colors, the Scouts discharged their duties with snap and precision.

STYLIST TALKS

Miss Dorothy Kelley, stylist of Filene's, spoke to the Wyman School Mothers' Association, at their spring meeting on Wednesday. Due to war conditions the annual style show is postponed for the duration and Mrs. Maxwell McCreery, acting president in the absence of Mrs. Rodney Long, was glad to report that due to voluntary contributions and the sale of chances on bed linen, the proceeds nearly equalled those of the fashion show last year. Mrs. Samuel Graves, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee reported that the prized Wamsetta sheets were won by Mrs. L. C. Van Atta of 79 Wildwood street.

Miss Kelley's talk was most delightful and instructive, giving those present an idea of what one may expect from the retail stores in the future. She especially stressed the foolishness of stocking up on clothes, due to style and fabric changes that will bring in new lines every six months, outdating those on sale today. Buy only what is desperately needed and conserve what is purchased was the basis of her talk. Skirts will be shorter, with the knee in view, neck lines higher, sleeveless dresses for summer with the suit the most economical buy due to the variation of tailored or dress blouses to meet the occasion. In referring to hats, Miss Kelley brought a laugh from the audience with the instructions given to a saleswoman: "don't show the customer the hat, just sneak up on her and put it on." Hats are distinctly amusing this year and may be enjoyed from that angle.

Dark stockings will soon be seen to match the dark shoes now being manufactured, hair nets are returning to vogue, draw strings instead of elastics, patches smart for repairing and Miss Kelley considered one of the outstanding triumphs of the war change was the beauty of design and workmanship that is to be found in the new plastic jewelry and ornaments.

Miss Helen Page, director of Winchester Girl Scouts gave a short talk on "What Goes on in a Girl Scout Group" and the meeting ended with coffee and delicious tiny doughnuts, reflecting credit on Mrs. Albert Crockett and her refreshment committee.

SONS OF ITALY NEWS

The Winchester Lodges held their joint annual installation on Monday, April 19, at 8 p. m. at the Columbus Club hall. The elected officers of the Men's Lodge were installed as follows:

Venerable: Angelo P. Tofuri
Asst. Venerable: Carmine Frongillo
Ex. Venerable: Henry Peluso

The installation of the officers of the lodge was followed by some well chosen words by the invited guests. The degree team of the Salem Ladies' Lodge arrived too late to install the officers of our lodge. Everyone was looking forward to seeing them perform as they are in great demand.

Our new Venerable named the following committees:

House Committee: F. Datillo, V. Fiocciello, A. Fiocciello, F. Procopio, A. Dero, C. Frongillo, A. Jacobelli, L. Manoli, E. Rotundi, S. Paum, A. Vespucci, V. Puopolo, A. Rizzio, A. Dispella, S. Casalinuova.

Sick Committee: C. Fronillo, V. Iannacci, G. Pantaleo.

Invited guests were as follows: Marie DeTesa, Venerable of the Junior Girls' Lodge; Fred Lucarelli, Ven. of the Arlington Men's Lodge; Theresa Ruscio, Venerable of the Salem Ladies' Lodge; Mary Mento, Director of the Salem Lodge degree team; Carmine Frongillo, District Deputy from the Winchester Lodge; Mrs. Cardaleen, District Deputy of the Winchester Ladies' Lodge; Anthony Paleo, District Deputy of the Winchester Men's Lodge. Speeches were also made by the newly elected Venerables of both lodges, Mrs. Florence Ciarcia and A. P. Tofuri. Anthony Fiocciello acted as toastmaster.

The Lodge received a letter from Al DeMinico who is stationed on the West Coast. It was a very interesting letter, but it wasn't long. Get it Al? That also goes for all you brothers of the order who are in the service. If you know how welcome your letters are, you wouldn't hesitate a moment in writing to the lodge. Every letter is posted and it is a delight to see the pleasure of the members as they read each and every one. So come on boys, drop us a letter. Some of you brothers should send at least one. I promise I will answer every one of them personally. I will let each and every one know as much as I can about any brother member.

Cpl. Joe Fiocciello was in town for the week-end. A few words about him. He is in the Air Corps. Is going to school to study radio. Likes the Army very much, thinks the work he is doing very interesting.

Al DeMinico wrote a letter to the clubhouse. He is stationed on the west coast near a large city. Speaks well of the climate. Is going to see some of those movie queens when he has the time.

John Volpe was in town for a few days. As your correspondent didn't get a chance to see him there isn't much I can tell you. How about it Johnny?

Gay Vespucci is in Texas. He has written a number of letters to me and some to other brothers of the lodge. Nice going, Gay, keep it up. More about Gay later.

To Hasten Victory

No American wants this war to go one minute beyond the time we can bring it to a victorious end. To hasten that victory—to save possibly the lives of millions of our boys on our far flung fronts—it is imperative that every American do his part in the Second War Loan. There is an investment to fit every purse. The most you can do is little enough compared with the sacrifice offered by our boys in service. They give their lives—you lend your money.

EN KA NEWS

A meeting of En Ka Society was held Tuesday at the home of Miss Eleanor Dow on Main street. Mrs. James Murray and her committee served a delicious dessert and coffee preceding the meeting. Mrs. Lucius Smith told of the presentation to the town of the Service Flag which is to be flown from the flagpole on the Common. As this meeting was planned to present final plans for the Street Fair, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Vaughan Harmon, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee. Mrs. Harmon announced that whereas, as the fall a Street Fair had seemed an impossibility, conditions had changed so that now the Street Fair could be carried on as usual on the Town Hall grounds May 22. In spite of war and rationing there will be few changes from previous years. The various chairmen told of the work being done by their committees. Mrs. Victor Wolff, who has been running a trading post, dealing in anything from furniture, stoves, baby equipment to farmhouses, gave an interesting report of her experiences through the winter. Mrs. Theodore Chilcott announced the garden booth will hold a tea and sale of Easter plants on Friday, April 23, and that she will have a line of vegetable seedlings and tomato plants for the day of the Fair.

As each chairman announced her plans the enthusiasm ran high. To be able to put over a Street Fair complete with merry-go-round, ferris wheel, games, luncheon, supper in the Town Hall and all the old favorites, even to a dance, is no small chore. It is really gratifying to know that Winchester charities will again be supported from Street Fair proceeds.

RYERSON'S PETITION DENIED

Registrars Supported by Court in Recount Case

On Monday of this week Judge Thomas H. Dowd, in the Middlesex Superior Court at East Cambridge, dismissed the petition of Gleason W. Ryerson against the Registrars of Voters of Winchester. Mr. Ryerson sought to have the action of the Registrars set aside in the recent recount when they found that Alfred J. Higgins had won the contest for Selectman by three votes over Ryerson. This action by the Court leaves the count of ballots as the Registrars declared it, and Higgins as the duly elected candidate for the three-year term.

Addison R. Pike, Town Counsel, represented the Registrars of Voters, respondents in the proceedings. Gerald K. Richardson appeared for Mr. Higgins, intervenor, and James M. Joslin represented Mr. Ryerson.

At the recount, counsel for Mr. Ryerson protested the counting of all ballots marked with check marks and claimed they should be considered blanks. There were numerous such ballots, and they were presented for the Court's inspection. If the Court had agreed with Mr. Ryerson' contention that these were blank ballots then Mr. Ryerson would win the contest by a net lead of five votes.

The Winchester Registrars and the counsel for Mr. Higgins were guided in their action by the rule which they contended has been established by numerous decisions of our Supreme Judicial Court: that if the intent of the voter can be ascertained with reasonable certainty from inspection of the ballot then effect must be given to that intent and the vote counted.

Mr. Joslin argued in behalf of Mr. Ryerson, that the the statute required a cross to be used and that the use of any other mark other than a cross was invalid. He further pointed out that our election laws were enacted to make methods of voting uniform, to prevent identification of individual ballots, and to prevent frauds at the polls.

Messrs. Pike and Richardson argued that in similar cases the Supreme Judicial Court had laid down the rule which the Registrars had followed in counting the ballots, holding that while the statutes were designed to prevent fraud they were not designed to disfranchise qualified voters by technical obstructions; that the intent of the law is to ascertain the popular will freely expressed. They pointed out that decisions during the past decade had quoted language used by Chief Justice Shaw as long ago as 1838 to indicate that the provisions of the statutes are directory and not mandatory. They cited cases decided by the high court upholding the counting of ballots marked with check marks, with carets, and even with oblique lines, and even the counting of ballots where more than one form of marking appeared upon the same ballot, so long as the voter's intention could reasonably be ascertained.

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT NOTES

As in other years, the School Department will provide for the registration of all children who are to enter the public schools next September for the first time. Parents who have children who will enter either the kindergarten or the first grade, should register their children at the nearest elementary school from 3:30 to 4:30 on any one of the following days: May 3, 4, 5, 6.

MEDFORD TRACK TEAM BEAT WINCHESTER

Winchester went a bit out of its class Tuesday afternoon when its track and field force engaged Medford High in a dual meet on Manchester Field, losing 21-47.

The visitors badly outclassed the home forces in the sprints, broad jump and shot put, Winchester picking up firsts in the high jump and half mile. The mile, an event in which Winchester is especially strong, was not run, due to a Medford school committee ruling forbidding boys in that city to compete in this race.

Medford showed a good sprinter in Jack Newby, who wasn't pushed in either dash, and who showed his versatility by getting out just an inch short of 20 feet in the broad jump, good going under the existing conditions.

Fred Lindberg gave Winchester a chance to cheer when he took the high jump at 5ft. 5in. without taking off his sweat clothes. Capt. Dick Briggs had little difficulty in winning the half, and the Winchester relay team copped the team race.

One of the best races of the meet was the quarter, won by Gaffey of Medford from Winchester's Phil Ewell. The big Medford boy went out fast from the gun and closely followed by his team-mate, Fitzgerald, legged it down the straight to build up a good 15 yard lead on Ewell who was well back in the ruck as the runners hit the first turn.

On the back stretch the little Winchester boy, running well within himself, pulled up on the leaders and was at Fitzgerald's shoulder as they came off the last turn into the straight.

Driving past the Medford boy, Ewell went after Gaffey and gained steadily on him in the sprint to the tape. Ewell had the more left but Gaffey's lead was too great for the plucky local runner to overcome and he was still a bit shy as the tired Medford boy breasted the worsted.

Following is the summary:

100 yd. dash: 1st. Newby (M); 2nd, Sherwood (M); 3rd, Ottiano (W). Time: 10.4s.

220 yard dash: 1st. Newby (M); 2nd, Hardy (M); 3rd, Sherwood (M). Time: 23.5s.

440 yard run: 1st, Gaffey (M); 2nd, Ewell (W); 3rd, Fitzgerald (M). Time: 57.8s.

880 yard run: 1st, Briggs (W); 2nd, Gatti (M); 3rd, Cranit (M). Time: 2m. 13.6s.

FORMER MILLIONAIRES AND ELKS BASEBALL PLAYERS NOW IN THE ARMED FORCES

The Winchester Millionaires, who later became the Winchester Elks, are well represented in the armed fores of the United States, with 20 former players and three former assistant managers doing their share to make this country a free country to live in, fighting on the fields of battle that we may again have the right to do are fighting on the field of sport as we did before this war was forced upon us.

Some of these boys have already been under fire and others will be before it is over. We, who know them and were associated with them before this war, know that they are doing their best for us at home, just as they did for us on the diamond before they went into the service. The fact that 20 of them are in the various services, shows that their sports activities kept them in fine physical condition and ready when their country needed them.

We think it permissable to include the name of Joseph Dineen in this list, because he was to have been sworn into the Army about 36 hours after he lost his life in the Cocoanut Grove disaster. Those of us who saw Joe play and were associated with him in baseball, know that he would have done his best on the field of battle as he always did on the athletic field.

Following are the players in service:

Harry (Ripper) Collins, Marines, New River, N. C.

Sgt. Robert (Rusty) Donaghey, Army Hospital Unit, Pacific battle area.

Cpl. Frank Provinzano, Engineers, England.

Charles (Bus) Kendrick, Air Force, England.

Arthur (Artie) Johnson, Navy, Washington, D. C.

Robert (Bobbie) Farrell, Army, Georgia.

Karl (Karlie) Johnson, Coast Guard Boston.

Daniel (Slicker) Coss, Army, Panama.

Albert (Albie) MacDonnell, Navy, at sea.

Sgt. Fred (Red) Noble, Army Engineers, Pacific battle area.

Paul Connors, Field Artillery, California.

James (Junie) Donaghey, Navy Air Force, Florida.

C. Arthur (Skitchie) Farrar, Field Artillery, Camp Breckinridge, Kentucky.

Robert (Bob) McIntyre, Navy, at sea.

Leonard (Lennie) Riley, Army, Camp Croft, S. C.

The assistant managers who are also doing their share are:

Cpl. Edmund (Sonny) Lassen, Army, Camp Croft, S. C.

Clyde (Dinny) Clark was unable to join the armed forces but he is doing his share as a skilled worker for the Government in the rebuilding of Pearl Harbor.

McLAUGHLIN AND THE SECRETARY

The usually luckless Secretary had the good fortune to draw McLaughlin as a partner last week-end and as a consequence he and "Will Wilbe" emerged as champions from the regular meeting of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association. Naturally the "Pride of Stowe and Champion of all Nabnassett" carried the load but it has to be admitted the Secretary had his moments, especially that in which he covered a double header, winning thereby the palm for being the first to accomplish this meritorious feat during the budding young spring season.

Royal P. Teele, intrepid president of the Association, also covered a double, and possible his accomplishment was the more noteworthy of the two, though the Secretary seemed entirely satisfied with his contribution to the feature pitching of the session.

Mr. Teele, when he started to pitch, had one of his opponent's shoes on and one leaning. His first ringer put the leaning shoe on and his second covered the three around the pin. The Teele shouts of triumph startled the victory gardeners as far distant as the old Country Day School lot.

In both instances Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham was the victim of the double covering, but those were by no means all the double-header he threw. Old "Thin Finger" was pretty good out there during most of the session and really scintillated in the match he and Bill Rodgers, of the bowling Rodgers, won from H. "Tiffany" Knowlton and Royal P. Teele.

This match really had to be seen to be believed. Something of a tyro at the royal and ancient game of horseshoes, Mr. Rodgers really was expected to contribute little to his side's efforts to achieve victory. When it is recorded that in the second game of the two-game series he actually outscored Mr. Teele, who is undisputed champion of the Boston Paper Trade and has been these many years, it can be seen that either Mr. Rodgers was very good or Mr. Teele was pretty punk. The score, 25-4, ought jolly well to indicate which.

In neither of the two battles did the Teele-Knowlton combination get into double figures, though both the defeated warriors did their best. "Tiffany" was off form due to a stiff reaction with the early potatoes in his victory garden, but so far as could be learned there was no legitimate excuse for Mr. Teele's sour showing. Only the absence of Arthur Butters, who is sometimes called the State of Maine Champ, prevented steps being taken through the proper channels to bring about the Teele suspension as president of the Association.

Mr. Butters was once again absent from play. Doubtless the B and M was late and he did not arrive back in town in time to make the session which was held behind schedule in order to give him every opportunity to attend. Once in four sessions, with no fish fries as excuse, is not an impressive attendance record and the President announced at the latest meeting that his patience is practically exhausted.

Recording the results of play it should be said that McLaughlin and the Secretary did not lose a match, winning an easy game from Mr. Teele and Mr. Knowlton, from Mr. Knowlton and Mr. Pridham and from Mr. Teele and Mr. Pridham. The first two mat hes went to odd games, but "Thin Finger" and Royal weren't even able to break into the win column, though Mr. Pridham did very well considering the load he had to carry.

Thereafter upon vote of those present the McLaughlin-Secretary combination was broken up and the illuminating match played between Mr. Rodgers and Mr. Pridham and Mr. Knowlton and Mr. Teele. If the latter lives to be 100 odd he will never live that one down.

Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. Pridham, the harrupping Lake Street Lancers, then combined to hand out "fits, works" to the Maxwell Road Mudwumps, H. "Tiffany" Knowlton and the Secretary. During this contest Mr. Knowlton, aside from nearly covering a double-header, was not much good and the Secretary was worse. At that they got into the doubles in both games, showing the depths to which Mr. Teele fell in his contest with Mr. Rodgers.

The last two matches were hot fought. In the first the Lake Street Lancers won two out of three from the President and Secretary, with the best game of the three being the one which the Association's officers annexed after trailing 17-5.

The final match saw "Thin Finger" and the Secretary win in odd games from McLaughlin and Mr. Teele, with the latter blaming his defeat on Will Be's "Wildness."

Some mention was made during the session of a recent press report announcing the winning of some sort of cup by Mr. Butters for bowling prowess. Mr. Teele had much to say about the manner in which this cup was annexed and the Association is eagerly awaiting any explanation that the State of Maine Champ (horseshoes) has to issue in this connection.

DE ROCHEMONT, INSIDE SUB, ON "TIME" RADIO PROGRAM

Louis de Rochemont, formerly of this town and producer of the March of Time films, from inside a submarine submerged near the Portsmouth Navy Yard, told listeners of the "March of Time" program on Thursday night how a U. S. "pigboat" destroyed 50,000 tons of Jap shipping in the Pacific. Through a wire hookup with the program, which originated in New York, Mr. de Rochemont described the actions of the captain and crew members in a simulated attack on enemy vessels. Included in the maneuvers of the submarine were crash-diving tactics.

Mr. de Rochemont was introduced by the commanding officer of the Portsmouth Navy Yard, Admiral Withers. The producer also filmed scenes at the Navy base and plans to incorporate them in a forthcoming March of Time film.—[Motion Picture Herald.

AT "LONG LAST"

All things finaly come to him who waits. This was proven this week when Bill McDonald, S 2-c, of 10 Hill street, received a two pound box of hard candies which had been mailed to him last December by Dr. and Mrs. James H. O'Connor of White street.

At that time Bill was on convoy duty to Europe on the now famous Coast Guard Cutter, Campbell.

The candy went to New York, then to Arctic waters, back to New York, then to Atlantic City, N. J., where Bill was taking a course, and finally caught up with him at Portland, Me.

Besides the candy there was a Christmas card from Dr. George Foley of 14 Hill street and several letters.

The candy, packed in tin, was in fine condition and lasted but a short time when the boys gathered round.

GLEE CLUBS IN FIRST CONCERT

The combined boys' and girls' glee clubs of Winchester High School will give their first concert on Friday evening, May 21, at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium under the direction of Miss Claudia Renehan, director of music in the Winchester schools.

The concert will mark the culmination of long hours of rehearsing under Miss Renehan who commenced her duties here last fall. The music which will be presented has been carefully chosen and every effort has been made to provide an interesting and pleasing program.

It has been several years since a concert of this sort has been attempted here which in itself lends added interest to the event. Further details will be forthcoming in future issues of the Star.

AMATEUR CONTEST

At the Winchester Boat Club

What will probably prove to be one of the most entertaining and hilarious events ever staged at the Winchester Boat Club will be presented next Thursday evening, May 6 at 8 o'clock when all the club's talented youngsters and oldsters will present 15 big amateur acts varying from magic to madness. All the acts have been auditioned and O. K.'d by the club's entertainment committee as being worthy of entering the contest although we suspect in a few cases the committee has blushingly overlook the lack of talent in some of the acts to add more belly-laughs to the program.

Never in the history of the club has so much in the way of entertainment, laughs and sociability been offered to members and their guests. The only hitch to this hilarious and economical evening being the limited seating capacity of the club. The actors will be competing for valuable War Stamp prizes. The show begins at 8 p. m.

WINCHESTER BEAUTICIAN HOME ON LEAVE

Mr. Giuliano has seen plenty of active service since enlisting in the Navy in June, 1942. After completing his basic training at the Newport Naval Station he was assigned to sea duty and has been at sea most of the time ever since, serving as a pharmacist second class, on one of Uncle Sam's destroyers. He wears the ribbon for foreign service and also those for both the Asiatic and Southern Pacific campaigns, participating in the fighting off Africa and at Guadalcanal.

It is of interest that the destroyer on which Mr. Giuliano served was skippered by a former Winchester man, Comdr. E. R. McLean, Jr., and among the members of the crew was a Winchester boy, James Landry.

Mr. Giuliano served as an assistant in the ship's medical department. He asked the Star to express his deep appreciation to the many patrons of the Hollywood Beauty Studio for their continued loyalty to his establishment in his absence, and to assure them that Miss Lillian, a skilled beautician, now in charge of the studio, will continue to serve them to their entire satisfaction.

Continuing the series of talks on the background of world conditions, Professor Fay will speak on postwar problems. He is exceptionally well qualified to discuss this subject, since he has not only been professor of history at Harvard since 1929, but is also the author of many books, has served as round-table leader of the Williamstown Institute of Politics, and is at present chairman of the Harvard group of the committee on Postwar Planning of the American Defense.

Since this is the club's annual meeting, the nominating committee will present its report and officers will be elected for the coming year.

It's not for us to decide anything in this Polish Russian dispute, but we do wonder if the Poles ever read any of the dispatches out of Warsaw since the German occupation.

It would seem that the authorities should commence to make some effort at least toward preventing the many grass and brush fires about town. Many of them are the result of carelessness, though of course some are deliberately set, and under the present law which forbids outdoor burning during April and May all are actionable. We appreciate the difficulty the authorities face in securing convictions, but it still seems that some sort of effort should be made to stop promiscuous outdoor burning. Aside from the cost of answering alarms for such fires there is also the danger that all apparatus will be out at needless grass fires sometime when it will be badly needed to save life or valuable property or both.

WE ALWAYS LIKED THE B & M

We recently visited an unnamed spot, and while we cannot entitle it Shangri-La, because we knew not only where it was but where we came from as well, we discovered there a memento of the year 1941. It was a copy of the July issue of the Readers Digest turned to an article on the Boston & Maine Railroad. We are reproducing it herewith. Since every one in Winchester, man, woman and child, knows and uses the B & M, we feel it will be of interest to Star readers.

Growing up in Winchester, our earliest recollections are associated with our railroad. From the distant past when we were taken by our father to the center to see a great flood and from the vantage point on the Skillings estate watched what was called a "big freighter" slowly pass back and forth through swirling ice and water between Wedgemere and the Highlands "to test the track" ahead of each through train, even to the present time, when we watch the big 41-hundreds and the 37-fifteens roll majestically through town, we have liked the B & M.

Later, in age, along with Fif Dwinell, Art Littlefield and Dana Pond we were a constant source of apprehension to George Burnham, freight agent at the big yard where Manchester Field now belies such a location for railroad activity. Well we remember the big new freighters Collusus, Dreadnaught, Fearnaught and Convoy, and the fine express engines Aeolus and Pegasus, to say nothing of the one-wheeler Onward. It was a bitter disapopintment when the names were discontinued with the advent of the 489 and the 490. We thought much more of the Ivanhoe and the Lochinvar. From I Archer up, we knew all the names and numbers, and along with Horace George, conductor of the first "through" freight, acquired by the merging of the Concord & Montreal along with the big new "Danile" Webster, we knew most of the trainmen.

Winchester has always been the headquarters for the domesticity of the B & M personnel. As we grew up it was always a pleasure to enjoy a game of billiards with William F. Berry or cards with Frank Bail. From B & M presidents down, Winchester was the selected convenient residence.

It still prevails, and we are pleased to note the large group of B & M men who make Winchester their home. Of course everyone in town knows genial Frank McGrath at the Winchester Station. Without Frank's obliging friendliness there could be a void in the center. Ralph Cardinal at Wedgemere is known by his first name to every West Side commuter. Energetic and public spirited Herbert L. Baldwin adds more than many of us realize to the welfare and advancement of Winchester. And so on down the line.

We list herewith a considerable portion of the B & M personnel residing here:

E. J. Gallagher, Treasurer, 97 Wildwood street.
R. T. Dunon, General Claim Agent, 16 Everett avenue.
Harry A Lindmark, Asst Freight Traffic Mgr, 23 Russell road.
J. W. FitzGibbon, Milk Traffic Agent, 7 Madison avenue west.
J. J. McKinnon, Storekeeper, Billerica Shops, 217 Washington street.
C. F. Philbrook, Tie and Timber Agent, Pierrepont road.
H. M. Rainie, Purchasing Agent, 80 Church street.
J. P. Cronin, Engineer of Design, 1 Pierrepont road.
H. F. Fifield, Engineer Maintenance of Way, 8 Woodside road.
E. N. Fox, Office Engineer, Signals, 118 Highland avenue.
John W. Smith, Vice President, Operating, 10 Sheffield road.
M. H. Devlin, Supt Mystic Terminal Co., 1 Bonad road.
Walter H. Ohnesorge, Asst Supt. Billerica Shops, 15 Chisholm road.
R. M. Edgar, Asst. to Vice President, Traffic, 30 Winslow road.
G. F. LeDuc, General Agent, Freight Traffic, Eaton street.
Paul C. Dunn, Manager, Suggestion Plan, 3 Grove street.
G. R. Ferguson, Chief of Pass Bureau, 232 Highland avenue.

The Old Readers Digest article follows:

The Boston & Maine the country's liveliest railroad

YANKEE INGENUITY MAKES A RAILROAD PAY

Condensed from Forbes
T. E. Murphy

A sedate woman, waiting for her train in Boston's North Station, suddenly felt a plucking at her sleeve. Expecting to face a nervy panhandler, she was amazed to see, neck outstretched, gently hissing, a goose!

Before it waddled off to pluck another sleeve, she read a placard hung on the goose's neck: "I am going on the Jungle Train next week—are you?"

The Boston & Maine was advertising another excursion, this time to a nearby animal farm. Users of North Station are shockproof by now. They have been confronted by tigers, chimpanzees, cowboy bands and Christmas carolers. Maybe such advertising isn't dignified enough for most railroads, but it gets business.

Thirty-one per cent of our railroads are in the hands of receivers. But the Boston & Maine, with a harder row to hoe than most, fought off bankruptcy and survived by breaking precedents, by using frugality, horse sense and imagination. Snow trains, Hike and Bike trains, Whoopee trains, Barn Dance trains—these are a few of the novelties it originated.

"Don't Spend New Year's Day in the Hoosegow—Ride on the Whoopee Train," it exhorts its customers, pointing out that New Year's Eve is a bad time to drive your car. After a series of snowstorms and late trains, the B & M printed commuters' complaints followed by the litany "That's a hell of a way to run a railroad!" Brief, conversational explanation of its problems with snowdrifts took the public behind the scenes. For the rest of the winter, when trains were late, commuters quoted, "That's a hell of a way to run a railroad," but smiled when they said it.

Fighting snow costs money. Was there any way to get part of it back? Then someone thought up the Snow train. In the past ten years B & M has carried thousands of skiers annually to northern New England, making a little Switzerland where winter used to be a dead season.

When Edward S. French took charge of the B & M ten years ago, he told his staff, "We're selling transportation. We can't wrap it in cellophane but we can make it attractive."

Notice he said "transportation," not just rail service. He organized the first railroad-owned airline. Amelia Earhart was vice-president, and Paul F. Collins, first night airmail pilot, its president. Northeast Airlines gives daily service between Boston and points in Maine, and on to Moncton, New Brunswick. It serves Montreal via New Hampshire and Vermont and hopes to add through service to New York and Washington. And it makes money.

Buses were cutting into his passenger revenue, so French started the first bus line hooked up with a railroad. That move enabled him to cut off several withered branch lines. Trucks were siphoning freight from rails to highways. So in 1932 the B & M, too, gave door-to-door service with a fleet of trucks—the first railroad in the East to do so. Shippers like the service; they no longer have to deal with a dozen truck companies serving different points.

The public got an eyeful of the B & M streamliner, the Flying Yankee, with its engineer and fireman dressed in spotless white to emphasize its cleanliness. The new fast freights weren't so easy to dramtize, but they were just as important.

"Faster than the U. S. Mail," said the B & M, announcing its "Bullet" from Portland to New York. Cutting the schedule to New York in half, the Bullet drew business by thousands of carloads. Other freight trains were similarly speeded up.

The resurgence of the B & M isn't all due to its president, or to the young college graduates French hires. A large part comes from such men as Kenneth McCall, machinist at the Billerica shops, who suggested a way to keep engine springs level that saved $3000 a year. He got a check for $300. And Mary Smith in the comptroller's office, who persuaded a football team to travel by rail instead of bus. She got a $25 bonus. C. H. Evans, locomotive engineer, rose at 4 o'clock every morning to tell drowsy people waiting for buses that they could ride by rail just as cheaply. His bonus was $300. Employes everywhere became salesmen. They kept their ears open for possible business and went after it.

The B & M stuck out its chin to the public. Suggestion boxes were installed in North Station and customers were urged to throw brickbats or bouquets. There were plenty of both. "It's easy to save money by cutting service," wrote one tart schoolma'am. "Why don't you make money by giving service? Your station in my town closes at night and I have to wait in the cold for my train." Within 48 hours the suggestion was met.

A schoolboy wrote in, "Why can't we have tables to work at while we're waiting for the train?" North Station now has a study hall where students do their homework.

Another suggestion, "Why not carry children anywhere on the system for five cents at Christmas time?" It sounded preposterous—but a newspaper broadside announced: "See Santa Claus for five cents if accompanied by an adult. Four children allowed to one adult."

Passengers were polled by conductors and got train schedules that really pleased them.

Every suggestion is acknowledged with a note from the president's office. Copies of every complaint are circulated all over the system.

Realizing that friendly customers might be alienated by one surly or discourteous employe, French started a drive to improve manners. There were no sharp lectures, no finger shakings. Instead, humorous illustrated leaflets satirized sour-puss ticket sellers, growling conductors, rough baggagemen, with verses such as:

Along the crowded platform with his baggage on a truck
His haughtiness the baggageman holds sway.
The poor benighted passengers are warned they'd better scram:
Heads up, you boobs, you're in my way."

Not prize poetry, but it did the trick.

The B & M never overlooks an opportunity. Two schoolboys reported a split rail. As their reward, a train made a special stop for them. Outfitted with new clothes, they rode to Boston in the locomotive and had a steak dinner in the diner on the way home. Naturally, the whole school was at the station to see them off and newspapers all over the country printed the story.

The B & M is no well-favored road. There are only 1910 miles of track running along the coast from Boston to Portland, with branches in Vermont and New York. The territory produces no bumper crop or commodity, like wheat or coal. Its factories are small. No single product makes up more than seven per cent of the B & M's freight.

When French took charge the road seemed past saving. Passenger revenue slumped from $15,000,000 to $6,000,000 in three years; freight revenue from $45,000,000 to $29,000,000. Just when things were beginning to improve, down came the floods. French might have despaired. But he didn't. Instead he told his personnel that they had done a swell job, but now they'd have to perform miracles.

They did. Trainmen went to school to learn the fine points of economy the cheapest way to start and stop a train, for instance. It used to cost 172 pounds of coal to move 1000 tons of freight a mile; in 1939 they got that down to 99 pounds. Freight trains formerly hauled 1110 tons 10 miles in one hour. In 1939 they hauled 2719 tons. For downright efficiency, B & M operating costs made railroad history.

In 1940 costs went even lower, traffic figures higher. A large part of this improvement must be credited to the quickened spirit of everyone working on the 105-year-old road. But the most spectacular dividend from winning public friendship was paid a year ago.

Like many other railroads, B & M had a hangover from the super-optimism of earlier operators who loaded it with debt. A $100,000,000 mortgage threatened inevitable receivership in 1941.

French took his troubles to Jesse Jones, with figures to prove the railroad had fought, not only valiantly but intelligently. Jones liked the story and the figures. He made a proposal: if the mortgage holders would take half in new mortgage bonds and half in bonds paying interest if and when earned, the RFC would immediately advance the cash to buy up $30,000,000 of the new mortgage bonds. The holder of a $1000 mortgage bond thus would get $300 cash, $200 in a new mortgage bond, $500 in a new bond not a mortgage.

But bondholders would have to agree. The B & M set out to persuade them and got the pleasantest of surprises. New England, traditionally anti-railroad, wasn't hostile at all. "You've been making a splendid uphill fight; we won't let you down," was the typical response. Ninety-nine per cent of the New England bondholders agreed to the proposal; for the whole country the score was 94 per cent. It sets a new record in community-railroad cooperation. And it saved the railroad $3,000,000 a year.

It was the highball for full speed ahead. More than a 100 steel coaches have been added to the passenger service. New, fast passenger trains from Washington and New York have been inaugurated. Costs are still being battered down and freight service improved.

The "Broken and Maimed" has become the "Bustling and Modern." The old B & M revived Yankee traditions of ingenuity and frugality, mellowed them with genuine friendly desire to serve, and made it pay.

RED CROSS POINT OF VIEW

Through the "Winchester Star," Mrs. Dunbar Shanklin and Mrs. Ben Schneider, co-chairmen of the Winchester surgical dressing unit, appeal for workers to make surgical dressings.

"A handful of reddened gauze is all that is left of the trim white squares Mrs. American Volunteer spent a whole afternoon in preparing—perhaps in the Winchester surgical dressings center. It is the entire output of the Thursday afternoon for which she gave up her nap and left the luncheon dishes for Mary and Junior to do up after school. Or maybe it is her production for the Friday afternoon after she resigned from her club so she might give another three hours to the work."

"We can only picture the horror of the battle scene, for we have not been there. Many volunteers will have to give up their peacetime afternoon routines if the prescribed quotas are to be met in the towns of the nation."

GIRL SCOUT DAY CAMP TO RUN EXTRA WEEK

The Girl Scout Camp and Cabin Committee met with Mrs. Gilbert Tapley, Girl Scout Commissioner, at the Scout Cabin on the Brooks Estate on Wednesday, April 28. The committee, consisting of Mrs. Percy Bugbee, Mrs. Paul Elliott, Mrs. Paul Molloy, Mrs. Woodford Wilcox, and Mrs. Frank Turner made plans over picnic lunches for this year's Day Camp.

Because of the great interest shown in camp last year and the fact that, due to the gas shortage, many more Winchester Scouts will remain at home this year than in previous years decided to extend the running time of camp an extra week. Camp will open on June 29, and meet on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays of each week through July 29. Announcements will be mailed before the close of the school year to all Brownies and Scouts listed in the files.

The committee feel they are most fortunate in securing again the services of last year's capable and well-liked director, Mrs. Mariel Camman.

ENTHRONING BROTHERHOOD OF MAN

(Written for Winchester Star)

Threads of human life, be they coarse or staid
Strong or weak, beautiful or ugly all pervade
Men as they are woven into Character's chain:
Whatever grace, or purity, or conformity to Right's advance
And fidelity we possess whatever good act's expanse
Or heroic virtue is sincerely sought to advance
Goes to enhance strength and rectitude without mischance:
Behavior's defections, corruptions, vices untamed explain
All secret or exhibitionistic Evil—assist to maintain
Weak humanity, ensuing disruption to detract
From fact that we as our brother's keeper exact
And have definite measure of integrity to sustain
As we strive to establish Brotherhood, seeking to attain
Relief of humanity from despair, God's commands uphold
Ever determined that real spiritual aspirations enfold
Resolving that no base temptation shall good dethrone
Fighting valiantly worthy deeds to enthrone
And nobler qualities to mould into determined resolve
That as our brother's keeper we shall solve
The sore tribulations of humanity, rededicating purpose profuse
Fighting harder than ever dethronement of forces perverse
And all foul hierarchies of man's inhumanity to man to diffuse.

The Golden Text is from Galatians 6:7: "Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." Other Bible citations include the following: "The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some men count slackness; but is longsuffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance" II Peter 3:9).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The design of Love is to reform the sinner . . . Do not believe in any supposed necessity for sin, disease, or death, knowing (as you ought to know) that God never requires obedience to a so-called material law, for no such law exists" (pp. 35, 253).

BRITISH WAR RELIEF

Friends of British War Relief have a chance of making dollars do double duty towards winning the war. They can buy good healthy plants for their Victory gardens at the Caledonian Market in Boston, 261 Dartmouth street, and the proceeds will go over to Britain to keep American ambulances and mobile kitchens running, to support convalescent homes for homeless war-shocked children, and do the other relief things which United States kindness and United States dollars keep doing where bombing raids do still come. In Boston, Winchester gardeners will be able to buy, at market prices, well started plants of tomatoes, cauliflower, cabbage, broccoli, egg plant, many of the standbys. Oh yes, and Brussels sprouts, of course.

THE HOSPITAL NURSE

(Written for the Winchester Star)

Committed to her life's swift and solemn fact
So trained that heart's applied unto wisdom to sanctify
Each bedside task so consecrated with the Almighty's presence intact
That her humblest sacrifice shall gloriously testify
To making pain's roughest places a less real fact,
Valiant pilgrim on life's tedious expanse
Ever mindful of feet and jar which any doubt
Or deed of hers may bring to suffering's mischance.
The true nurse is forgiving, forbearing, sincerely devout
And gentle with the shortcomings of weak humanity
Always bearing in mind that the time for accounting
Is so short as the night cometh and very swift
To its close ebbing out life's short day surmounting.

FINGER PAINTING DEMONSTRATION AT ART ASSOCIATION TEA

Miss Josephine Durrell, prominent exponent of the popular art of finger painting, will give a demonstration at the opening of the Winchester Art Association on Sunday afternoon, May 2, at 4 o'clock in the gallery of the library.

Miss Durrell has been finger painting for a number of years as an avocation and has achieved success both as teacher and painter. She held an exhibition of finger painting in the Boston Public Library in 1937 which was probably the first of its kind to be held in Boston. Since that time she has exhibited in Symphony Hall and in other galleries, on two occasions taking first and second prizes.

Interviewed frequently on the air and by the newspapers on this fascinating subject, she was recently honored by a "Gracious Lady" interview, and extra finger paintings requested by the "Hobby Lobby" radio program were sold with notable success for war bonds.

Miss Durrell is widely known in musical circles as a member of the Durrell String Quartette and she has taught music at Wells College, the Beaver Country Day School and the Robert Gould Shaw Nursery. She is outstanding in both vocational and avocational fields. We are fortunate in being able to present this enthusiastic exponent of a comparatively new art.

Showing at the gallery along with the finger paintings, will be an exhibition of ceramics done by residents of Winchester. These creations typify the splendid results obtained by a group working purely for pleasure but working regularly each week. All the sculpture on exhibition has been fired in the kilns of Mrs. Carol Niekerson and Mrs. Hallowell so that the complete process was locally produced.

Hostesses for the afternoon of May 2 will be Mrs. Alfred L. Larson and Mrs. Louis K. Snyder. Mrs. Edward B. Ladd and Mrs. G. Russell Mann will pour.

STATE READING CERTIFICATES AWARDED

Carolyn Zinn received the State Honor Certificate for having read and reported on 22 books. The other certificates were awarded for having read from five to 15 books. It is expected that more Honor Certificates will be awarded before the end of the school year.

MONDAY BUSY DAY FOR FIREMEN

Monday proved an especially busy day for members of the Fire Department who answered 15 alarms and put in several hours fighting a bad brush fire in the West Side hill district.

The department was first called for this fire at 1:50 by an alarm from Woburn Box 7-7-512 for burning brush at Shaker Glen in that city. The fire however, did not originate there, but off Lowell street in Lexington and in all burned over an area some four miles long by a mile or so wide.

At 3:45 Mr. Herbert Cox notified the department that there was a bad brush fire at the rear of his farm off High street extension, this point being the nearest the big fire got to Winchester homes though there were other points where it burned its way over the town line.

Box 143 was put on for the fire at the rear of the Cox farm and at 3:50 the caretaker at Winning Farm which is at the Woburn-Lexington line asked for assistance in fighting a stiff brush fire there. Box 512 was put on at the Station for this call and the crew of Engine 2 did not return to quarters until 7:20.

At 4:17 Box 14 came in for another part of the same big general fire, this time in the vicinity of Dunster lane. Engine 3 responded and did not return to quarters until after 9 o'clock. At 5:25, with other pumps out, the town's Auxiliary pump was driven by Charles Butler to a fire off Ridge street in response to an alarm from Woburn Box 55. It was 9 o'clock when this piece returned to quarters.

Assisting the regular department were the two fire fighting pieces of the Water Department, Engine 2, driven by Erskine Kelley and the Water Tank Truck driven by Joseph Parlett. These pieces took care of fires near the west side well field, at Rangely ridge near the home of Mr. Harry Bigelow and near Wedgemere Station.

Meanwhile the regular department put out grass fires on Sargent road and Wedgemere avenue near the home of Mr. Earle B. Goldsmith, burning leaves on the Ginn Estate off Bacon street, a grass fire on Russell's Hill off Cross street, and late in the afternoon a second grass fire on Sargent road.

At 2:40 in the afternoon Woburn Box 56 sent Engine 2 to a fire in the rear of Main street above Crane's lane in Woburn. At 7:37 Robert Stevenson notified the department that he had smelled smoke as he was passing Friend's Bakery on Thompson street. Ladder 1 responded and found the trouble caused by a burned out refrigerator which caused a small fire in the basement of the Economy Grocery next to Friend's.

The final run of the day came at 9:10 p. m. in response to an alarm from Box 44 which called the entire department to a grass fire at Hill and Main streets.

NOTES FOR PROSPECTIVE CANNERS

Make a special effort to study the window display at the former A and P store on Main street which is being staged to prove that successful canning is within the reach of all. Mrs. J. H. Coon, Mrs. James Doty and Mrs. George Underwood have tried to make the display one which will encourage every housewife to realize that canning is an individual responsibility.

Mrs. Coon, 12 Brooks street, tel. 1287-M is still taking orders for asparagus which it is hoped will be available in large quantities at the height of the asparagus season.

MRS. RACHEL P. RICHARDSON

Mrs. Rachel P. Richardson, widow of the late William G. Richardson, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ernest H. Butterworth, 58 Englewood road on Monday, April 26 after a short illness.

Mrs. Richardson was born in Columbia Falls, Me., in 1863, the daughter of Jotham and Mary J. Tabbut.

Coming to Winchester shortly after her marriage, she had made her home here practically ever since.

After the death of her husband in 1919 she lived with her daughter, Mrs. Butterworth, at whose home funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon conducted by the Rev. Benjamin P. Browne, former pastor of the First Baptist Church of which Mrs. Richardson was a member. For many years she was an active worker in the Bethany Society at the Highlands and recently has been much interested in working for the Red Cross.

Besides her daughter, she is survived by two sons, Almon E. of Melrose and Ernest M. of Somerville; ten grandchildren, five great grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. George Palmer. Three of her grandsons are with the armed forces.

Burial was in the family lot at Wildwood Cemetery.

ATTEMPT TO STEAL TWO CARS

Monday night shortly before 11 o'clock the Police were notified that a station wagon had been driven up onto the sidewalk in front of 942 Main street and abandoned there.

Sgt. Joseph Derro and Patrolman John E. Hanlon went to investigate and found the station wagon to be that of John F. Fitzgerald of 30 Canal street. It had been left at the corner of Main and Hemingway streets on the sidewalk with the key in the ignition.

Mr. Fitzgerald was notified and stated he had parked the machine in front of the Tydol Filling Station a short time before the incident reported to the Police occurred and had taken the keys with him. The Police also discovered that another station wagon, owned by William A. Fitzgerald of 972 Main street had been driven or pushed up onto the sidewalk in front of that address.

Sgt. Derro and Officer Hanlon met three Somerville boys walking on Main street toward the center, and picked them up, taking them to the party who reported the abandoning of the first station wagon. She could not identify any of them as the driver she saw leaving the machine.

CUB PACK 3

The most recent of the many activities of Cub Pack 3 consisting of boys of the Wyman School district was a hike last Saturday, April 24 to Shaker Glen. Upon arrival the boys were treated to some ice cream and then set out on a treasure hunt which was educational as well as a source of a lot of fun for the boys. Upon finding a clue, the boys got busy with their compasses and other resources at their disposal to find other clues which finally gave them the key to the final treasure which was discovered by Elliot Hersey. The 32 other cubs aided in finding the clues with top honors for finding clues going to Thomas Joy who found three clues.

The afternoon activities were in charge of Alfred Nelson who deserves a lot of credit for making the occasion a most interesting one. He was assisted by Scoutmaster H. Royal Browne, Gordon Bird, Sr. and Donald Davis of the committee.

In three weeks, on May 15 the pack is planning to stage a tank race. Many of the cubs are engaged in planning and in building the most realistic and effective tanks to enter in this event which promises to be another very interesting affair.

SCHOOL NEWS

The reopening of school after the April vacation found many desks vacant. From many the former occupants have left to occupy clerical positions in business establishments; some have found civilian employment, and a few others have been called into the armed services.

Pauline Milne, Anne Cogan, Barbara Joyce, Shirley Josephson, Doris Daigneault, Phyllis Anderson, John Post, Esther Capone, Marie Barron, Norma Boyle, Rita Flanagan, Alice Nash, Richard Sheehan, William Eaton, Frank Russo, Lillian Bryce, and Pauline Josephson have all been placed in commercial positions largely through the requests received by Miss Helen Bronson, head of the Commercial Department. With only one exception these girls are working in departments where there are already graduates of Winchester High School. A few more girls are waiting for the signal to back away their books. All of these are qualified and recommended by Miss Bronson.

From the office of Mr. Swenson, Director of Guidance and Placement, comes word that older students are being recruited for the following jobs: sales clerks, stock clerks, and delivery workers; unskilled industrial workers; farm employees; lifeguards and swimming instructors; victory garden workers; waitresses; and girls for child care and general housework. Younger students are being asked to help out in these types of work; victory garden work, farm boys, child care and general housework.

The figures for placements in part-time and full-time positions (exclusive of commercial students) for the period Sept. 1 to April 17 are as follows:

Part-time, sales and stock clerks 12; delivery 9; soda fountain and restaurant 3; janitorial 3; child care and general housework 45; industrial 3; miscellaneous 14; for a total of 89. Of this total, 10 have been permanent part-time positions. In full-time employment are two in industry and one in delivery service.

A bulletin in regard to plans for using high school volunteers on Massachusetts farms will be released to all interested students during the week of May 3.

Miss Gertrude Lewis, Supervisor of Elementary Education here, is this week end attending a meeting of the program committee of the North Atlantic Regional Conference Association for Childhood Education. Heading this committee with Miss Lewis is Miss Marion Carswell, assistant Professor of Education at Smith College. The conference to be held at Wheelock College from June 28 to July 2 will have delegates from Washington, D. C., Maryland, New York, New Jersey, Delaware and the New England States. Since anyone interested in the subject, "What Is Happening to America's Children" may attend a further announcement will be made shortly.

"FLY AWAY HOME"

On Friday and Saturday evenings, May 14 and 15, the Parish Players will present the delightful comedy, "Fly Away, Home" in the Little Theatre beneath a Spire. This is the play that ran for nearly a year on Broadway, which tells, with many an unexpected twist and turn and much incidental humor, how mother Masters nearly divorced her husband and married a professor, and how the four Masters children finally took matters into their own hands, and with unusual understanding and insight brought the affair to a conclusion satisfactory to all. Provincetown provides the setting, and a New England atmosphere pervades the play throughout.

The movie version of this play was released under the title, "Daughters Courageous" with a distinguished cast, including John Garfield, Priscilla Lane, and Fay Bainter.

In "What a Life" the Players have shown how successfully they can handle a play in which exuberant youth dominates the scene. In other ways, however, this is a departure from anything they have previously done, and should provide a splendid wind-up to a most successful season. We are sure no one who views it can escape an enthralling evening, with many a hearty chuckle thrown in for good measure.

HELPING TO SPEED THE WINGS OF VICTORY

THE Lawson workers have been honored by the Army-Navy "E" Award for high achievement in the production of war materiel.

Our work may seem trifling compared to what our fighting men are doing on Guadalcanal, Africa, and other theatres of war, but in every phase of the precision production work we do, we take special pride in turning out QUALITY equipment, IN QUANTITY, AND ON TIME. This pledge we will hold until the last shot is fired . . . until the last enemy has felt America's might . . . until all freedom-loving people are free of the dictators. Victory is our one objective.

The battle of production may not make headlines. We don't want it to. Rather ours is the task of helping to equip the men on the field and in the air. To them belongs the glory . . . to them belong the headlines . . . to them belong the fruits of Victory. Let us all remember this when our fighting men return victoriously home.

SONS OF ITALY NEWS

Our Venerable A. P. Tofuri has appointed a committee to work on the "Cigarettes for Servicemen" as sponsored by the Grand Lodge and the manufacturers of a popular brand of cigarettes. The committee will place coin banks in all the places of business throughout the town. The proceeds will purchase cigarettes at 5c per pack, to be distributed to all the boys in the service, whether they belong to the Sons of Italy or not. As this is a worthy and patriotic cause we feel sure that the townspeople will be behind us 100 per cent to put it over the top.

During the Easter holiday several boys from our neighborhood were home. Our members who were home were "Jumbo" Marrone, "Johnny Bananas" Benenato and the following boys from the "corner", Johnny Dello and Jerry "Ficky" Ficociello and Joe Datillo.

We received a change of address from Gay Vespucci. He is now in the Shenango Personnel Replacement Depot at Greenville, Penn. We would appreciate it very much if you boys would follow Gays example by sending your changes of address so you would not miss a single issue of the Star. It also helps to keep the addresses of our boys up to date.

Jumbo, Dello and Ficky got together with your reporter and we had a gab-fest that was a gab-fest. Jumbo told about his baseball team that he is coaching. It has played one night game which they won. His team is made up of one private, two sergeants and the rest are commissioned officers. He said he has a second baseman that is a wizard on double-plays and is better than any major leaguer he has seen. (Major leagues please note). He also coached a basketball team that had a very successful season. Knowing Jumbo as we all do, all I can say is, if its sports he gives a good account in whatever he takes an active part. More luck to you, Jumbo.

"Mingie" received a letter from Frank Corby this past week. He is stationed in the South Pacific and is in the best of health. Through the Star he sends his regards to all the boys of our Lodge who are in the service.

Johnny Benenato, is in the Coast Artillery and is stationed in New York State. He looks fit as a fiddle. He is home on furlough for the holiday and is certainly making the most of it.

A few words aout the boys from the corner who do not belong to our order. Dello is an instrument specialist in the Air Corps. Jerry passed his finals in the Paratroops. Joe Datillo is home on a 30 day furlough. Little Joe Russo is a bombardier. Barney Vespucci is in the Air Corps and is stationed in Nashville, Tenn. with Little Joe and Buddy Pulli, who has been classified as a pilot.

Lt. Joe Ciarcia is going to school for six weeks for more studying and training. Best of luck, Joe.

WINCHESTER BOY SCOUT RALLY

Plans have been completed for an outdoor Boy Scout and Scouters Rally to be held on Manchester Field this Saturday, May 1, at 2 o'clock. Troop 7 Scoutmaster John C. Casler and his committee have arranged for a mighty interesting program of competitive Boy Scout work and everybody is asked to attend to witness the contests and demonstrations that combine good fun and many important lessons taught Boy Scouts.

Some of the feature contests will be tent pitching, fire building and fire lighting by friction and by flint and steel, semaphore, Morse signaling and knot tying. All oldsters will profit as every boy will be proud to share some of the advantages they have gained from their respective troop leaders this past winter, so we urge you to make a date with your Winchester Boy Scouts this Saturday.

Fred M. Cole, Neighborhood Commissioner, will be the chief judge and the other judges will be from nearby towns. Neighborhood Commissioner, Harry Moulton, will be the official score keeper. Alfred O. Weld, the starter and Fellsland Council Scout Executive Edward Nelson will award the ribbons. District Commissioner Francis McCall and Neighborhood Commissioners Adin Bailey and J. Stanley Fudge will have charge.

The Boy Scout call will be sounded on the town's fire alarm system at 11 a. m. Saturday morning. All Boy Scouts and Scouters will plan to assemble on Manchester Field about 1:30 p. m. If the weather is bad the program will be postponed until the following Saturday, May 8. Lets all go!

GARDEN SOIL IS SACRED

In order that the best interest of all gardeners and their respective gardens may have the fullest protection, the Board of Selectmen has ordered the Police Department to levy their powers without sympathy upon all encroachers.

The extra seeds that will be sown this year are vital to a successful war effort within the Nation and their yield must be depended upon to supplant the canned and fresh vegetables that will be lacking in the grocery stores this coming fall and winter. The best job must be done!

Therefore the Police Department has been told to be on a continuous and alert watch for trespassers and any who would inflict harm to a war garden. Full penalties under the law will be invoked and everyone is warned that all soil being prepared for gardens is too valuable to be trodden upon carelessly or without right.

A number of wooden tar or oil barrels are floating about in Wedge Pond. No one seems to know where they came from.

Last Sunday afternoon a very large flock of wild geese passed over town headed north. Spring must be on the way at last for geese know better than any one about such matters.

THE UNITED STATES SECRET SERVICE
TREASURY DEPARTMENT
cautions you to KNOW YOUR Endorsers

Millions of Government checks are being sent by the Army and Navy to dependents of soldiers and sailors. The Government also sends Social Security and other checks to more millions. When any of these checks are stolen, the people entitled to them may go without food, or fuel, or may suffer other hardships.

The U. S. Secret Service wants your help in fighting the check thief and forger. Here's how you can lend a hand:

IF YOU ARE ASKED TO CASH A GOVERNMENT CHECK

1. INSIST that a person presenting a Government check properly identify himself as the person entitled to that check.

2. BEFORE accepting the check ask yourself this question: IF THIS CHECK IS RETURNED BECAUSE OF A FORGED ENDORSEMENT, CAN I LOCATE THE FORGER AND RECOVER MY LOSS?

3. INSIST that all checks be endorsed in your presence. If a check is already endorsed, ask that it be endorsed again, then compare the writing.

4. REQUIRE all checks to be initialled by the employees who pay out money for them, or who approve such payment.

IF YOU RECEIVE CHECKS FROM THE GOVERNMENT

1. BE SURE some member of the family is at home when checks are due to be delivered.

2. PRINT your name clearly on your mail box. EQUIP your mail box with a lock if you have not done so.

3. CASH your checks in the same place each month. This will make identification easier.

4. DO NOT ENDORSE your check until you are in the presence of the person you will ask to cash it.

For more information on how to guard against forged checks, and how to detect counterfeit money, send ten cents in coin or stamps to the SUPERINTENDENT OF DOCUMENTS, WASHINGTON, D. C., and ask for a copy of the U. S. Secret Service booklet, "KNOW YOUR MONEY."

WINCHESTER 11—READING 6

Showing a complete reversal of the dismal form displayed against Woburn, Winchester High outscored Reading High 14-6 to open its Middlesex League baseball season Wednesday afternoon at Reading.

Washburn started for Winchester and pitched well enough until the 7th. He allowed two runs in the fourth on a pass, fielder's choice, a hit and two errors. In the seventh he weakened, largely because he is short of work, due to unfavorable weather conditions.

With four runs in Washburn gave way to Gordon McGovern and long "Stretch" fanned Thompkins to end the inning. The first batter to face the towering fork-hander in the 8th singled to center, but died stealing, on a perfect throw by Jim Tibaudo to Sarto Walsh. Thereafter McGovern was master of the situation. He did walk the first man up in the 9th, but got the next three on fly balls.

Winchester got the only extra base blows of the game on Jim Tibaudo's double and Washburn's triple. The locals fielded well, both of their errors being the result of the high wind which caused the sure-fisted Tony Seraco and Jim Tibaudo to lose fly balls.

VOTE FIREWORKS CURB

By a voice vote this week the State House of Representatives ordered to a third reading the bill to restrict the use of fireworks to displays conducted under the supervision and under license of the State Fire Marshal.

Among those who demanded the outlawing of fireworks entirely were Representative George Green of Boston, who lost his sight, and Representative John E. Powers of South Boston, who said that a child in his district had three fingers blown off by fireworks last year. Complaint that "the fireworks industry is so entrenched that it is enshrined in the hearts of legislators who defeat the bill" to ban fireworks each session was sounded by Representative Stuart C. Rand of the Back Bay, who favored a complete ban on fireworks.

WINCHESTER SMITH CLUB PLANT SALE

Whether you want vegetables for your Victory Garden or flowers to bring needed cheer and color, in buying them at the Winchester Smith Club sale you will be helping very directly certain needs for the comfort of the enlisted men in our New England area.

The Winchester Smith Club is working with the Citizens Committee. The Citizens Committee deals with the needs of the men on the post, in the camps and on the ships where the U. S. O. deals principally with the welfare of men when off post and on leave.

With the money raised by the sale a year ago and donations of furniture we were able to equip a day room at Fort Banks, as well as to send magazine subscriptions to various distant posts. We also bought yarn which members and friends have turned into socks, helmets, sweaters and gloves.

There is great need for musical instruments. So far, we have collected about 30 mandolins, guitars and banjos as well as radios, victrolas and many records. Harmonicas also are much appreciated.

So, come to the plant sale, swell our fund for the boys and search your attic for any musical instruments, games, books, magazines, etc. Get in touch with any member of the Smith Club who will see that they are put to immediate use.

UNUSUAL ART SHOW AT LIBRARY

A show you really have to see to believe is that of finger-painting and ceramics being shown this month at the gallery of the Public Library under the auspices of the Winchester Art Association. We refer especially to the finger-painting, though the ceramics, which are executed by members of the Association, are well worth a trip to the gallery to see.

A quick glimpse at the paintings, done in thickened pigments with the fingers, might lead one to think he had strayed into a surrealist exhibition. A closer inspection will however disclose real form, not a little beauty of design and even good perspective among the swirling lines while some of the colors used are strikingly beautiful.

Among the studies are those done by children as well as adults. It is hard to tell whether the youthful or mature hands have shaped the design and chosen the colors. There are some small landscapes of considerable delicacy, flowers and natural history studies as well as those which seem to have no particular point, aside from lines and color. The therapeutic value of finger-painting has been well established and there is enough in even this small local exhibition to indicate that it has real merit as an art form.

Of especial interest among the pictures is a large study of penguins in black and white, done by Miss Ruth Shaw, originator of Shaw "Finger-Paint." Charming small Christmas and other greeting cards done in finger-painting are also of real interest.

The ceramics portion of the show should by no means be overlooked for it shows a striking growth in this difficult medium by members of the Association. There is for instance a charming study of St. Francis, a Madonna and Angels, a Madonna's head, an Angel Choir and a small creche, all done with feeling and a deft touch. There are ceramics jewelry, small animals and shapely bowls, vases and plates, as well as a most interesting large plaque, telling the story of Peter and the Wolf done in good sized tiles cemented together to form the continuity and enclosed in a decorative wrought iron frame.

SCHOOL NOTES

Realizing the great importance attached to the study of Geography, the School Department has engaged Dr. Wallace Atwood, President of Clark University, to conduct a series of lectures and discussions for all elementary teachers and many from the high school and Junior High School early next fall. Dr. Atwood, Director of the Graduate School of Geography at Clark University is an outstanding authority on his specialty and has developed there a school that is outstanding in the nation.

In these days when war is fought around the globe, the importance of the cultural advantages which accrue to that nation ideally situated is apparent. Dr. Atwood will stress in his lectures the cultural significance of position, as well as the commercial power of geographically favored nations.

Besides helping to motivate the study of geography in the grades, the further object is to teach at the high school level something of the richness of cultural background derived from the study of geography.

Sale of War Stamps and Bonds was given a considerable boost this week as pupils were able to purchase their stamps directly from the schools. Heretofore, it had been necessary to collect the money from the pupils and deliver the stamps at a later time. To improve the situation so that pupils may get their stamps at the time of purchase, joint action of the Winchester War Stamps and Bonds Committee and the school department has made advance purchase of these items possible.

EPIPHANY MEN'S CLUB

Friday evening, May 14, at 8 o'clock, the Men's Club will present to men of the Epiphany Parish and their friends an effective speaker on a subject which interests and concerns every American. In the parish hall Mr. Henry Wyman Holmes will speak on "The Outlook for Education in the Post-War World." Thinking about education has been the speaker's business throughout a life-time. He was the Dean of the Harvard Graduate School of Administration. He has seen fads and fancies flurry the educational world and perplex parents teachers, and pupils. He watches with intent appraisal the drifts and the conscious theories that are affecting changes in education these war years. What changes will persist when peace comes?

Will our ideas of education be soft? Shall we be naive and soft in applying the theory of interest and take it as meaning that Johnny must be asked to study and to do only what he hankers to undertake, and shall he stick to his undertaking only so long as he is enjoying every blessed minute of it. Or is the truth of that new interest theory yoked with the old-fashioned truth that what Johnny does sloppily he won't long enjoy and what he does his best on he'll usually get an interest in, as his older brother in uniform testifies!

Shall acceleration permanently change the college year? What will freshmen of 1946 want to study in college? Will your good old ivy college let him study it there?

Will your daughter be co-educated, even in old New England?

Will local taxes, private endowment, or federal funds pay for Johnny's education? Will the one who pays the piper call the tune?

Can we make education so democratic that we spread over all America a net fine enough to catch every boy and girl of ability, whether from Nob Hill or a 4-room house, and prepare him for college, encourage him to go to college, and help him help himself to go?

Questions won't be rationed at this Friday evening meeting. Winchester may bring all that is on its mind.

CHILD INJURED IN FALL FROM TRUCK

Mrs. Edith Mele of 168 Swanton street reported to the Police Monday that her 6 year old son, Edward, Jr., had been injured the previous Saturday noon when he fell from the running board of one of the trucks owned by the Winchester Door and Window Company of Swanton street. The boy received bruises about the arms and face as well as a bad bump on the head. He was treated by a Woburn physician who ordered X-rays to determine the full extent of the head injuries.

The Police talked with Fabian Tarczevicz of 21 Oakland street, Watertown, driver of the truck, who stated that he twice stopped the machine while leaving the yard to warn children to get off it. He said he did not know the Mele boy was on the truck until he was informed of the accident.

MISS FANNY CAROLINE BUCKMINSTER

How to prolong the life of your washer

Don't overload washer. Overloading the machine may strain both mechanism and motor and can very easily damage your clothes. The clothes should be able to move and turn freely in the water.

Handle your cord with care. Pull the plug, not the cord, and, above all, don't let the cord get damp. When you push plug in, be sure the switch is "OFF" and all controls are in neutral.

Clean washer after using. When you are through with the machine, remove soap curd or lint from tub, agitator or suction cups and wipe dry. Standing water can rust, stain and rot parts.

Investigate strange noises. If you hear any unfamiliar noise in your machine, it's a good idea to call an authorized serviceman immediately. It may mean a worn or loose part that can cause damage.

HOLE IN ONE!

Alan Howard of Glen road has the distinction of scoring the first hole in one of the budding golf season at Winchester, making the perfect shot last Sunday morning at the 14th (140 yard) hole.

Alan was playing in a foresome with Ralph Bonnell against Arthur Butters and Ed Garrity, his feat bringing victory to his team, though in the general excitement no one remembered the score. It may be the Howard-hole-in-one, which wasn't a "flubber" or a carom off a tree or stonewall, is the first of the season anywhere hereabouts. At least it is one of the first and Alan came in for plenty of congratulations along with the joshing in the locker-room after the match.

SAM PROVINZANO SIGNS WITH ROANOKE

Sam Provinzano, one of the best infielders developed in Winchester in recent years, signed over the weekend to play with Roanoke, Va., Red Sox farm club in the Piedmont Baseball League.

He went to Boston with Coach Hennie Knowlton, director of athletics at Winchester High School, who was instrumental in getting Sam's brother, Peter, into the Red Sox fold last June. After a talk with Sox scout, Herb Pennock, one of the game's great left-handed pitchers while with the Athletics, Red Sox and Yankees, Sammy signed on the dotted line, delighted with the opportunity which awaits him at Roanoke. Heinnie Manush, former Washington Senators and Red Sox outfielder, is handling the Roanoke Club and the players under his tutelage all speak in highest terms of his management. Sammie left Tuesday for his new stamping ground and as he is 1-F in the draft he should have a real chance to show what he can do both in the field and at bat.

The former Winchester Cubs and Elks infielder hits a very long ball for a boy of his inches, fields pretty well and is blessed with a strong arm. He has always played shortstop and has been playing that position this year with the Notre Dame Club in Cambridge, hitting the ball hard.

Sammy's brother, Peter, who made such a fine pitching record with Winchester High last year, has been making an excellent showing with the Red Sox farm team at Scranton. The miners' regular season hasn't commenced yet, but the team has been playing exhibition ball and in two starts the poker-faced Winchester right-hander went like a well-oiled 8-day clock. Against Wilmington, one of the good clubs in Scranton's league, Pete pitched a two-hitter, and again against Wilkesbarre, he had permitted but two hits in six innings when relieved.

The Scranton manager is very keen about Peter and the fans out that way are delighted with both his flinging and battin'. If brother Sam turns out as well at Roanoke the Red Sox' Mr. Pennock will be a very happy man indeed.

WINCHESTER RUNNERS AT NORTH SHORE CARNIVAL

Capt. Dick Briggs will run the mile leg of the medley team race with Parker Symmes the three-quarter. Boutonieres with numbers attached are given them and the first dance of the evening is with the hostess whose corsage number corresponds.

Memers of Mrs. Cusack's committee are Mrs. Fred Ritchie, who will be in charge of this coming dance, Mrs. Francis Booth, Mrs. Thomas Reese, Mrs. Leslie Tucker, Mrs. Carl Eaton and Mrs. Harold B. BUTTERS RETURNS!

Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine Champ, returned to the wars at Palmer street last week-end, making his second appearance of the spring season due to the rigors of the bacillus streptococcus, the inclement weather and the uncertainties of rural travel in Maine with only an A card. The Butters arrival was late, devilish late for a regular member whose attendance record showed but a single "present" in four meetings of the Association.

President R. P. Teele's greeting of the prodigal was on the whole magnanimous. He "put it there" with Mr. Butters, refraining from any mention of "fish fries" or questions about the degree of comfort attainable in rail travel to Maine via day coach. He did make brief allusion to the winning of trophies in mixed bowling competition that was hardly enthusiastic, but generally speaking the presidential attitude was that of "live and let live."

After Mr. Butters' tardy arrival, coins were pitched and the State of Maine Champ squared away with "Thin Finger" against the Pride of Stowe and the Secretary. Those who saw Mr. Butters enter the lists with his lumberman's shirt tucked into his britches and sporting natty white suspenders, feared the worst, and their suspicions proved not without foundation. Arthur and Rolie went down two straight, nor were their totals, 16 and 14, too respectable. If the State of Maine Champ was once more counting upon "beginners' luck" to carry him to victory he soon found that the fickle jade had indeed forsaken him. His turn was delicious but his direction far from delovely, nor was Mr. Teele's loudly expressed support of Mr. McLaughlin and the Secretary helpful.

Royal had just time to announce gloatingly that he bet Butters' soup would be sour when he himself became involved in the final match of the day, going home delirious with joy after winning with "Thin Finger" from "Wild Willie" and Mr. Gardner, 25-16 and 25-17.

It should be recorded that H. "Tiffany" Knowlton was not present for play, having gone to town to sign a ball-player with the Red Sox, Mr. Teele, a baseball addict, fainted at this information and was revived with difficulty. Once he was assured however that the player in question was not one of those who played against Woburn on the 19th of last month he became himself again and settled down to the work of the meeting.

SUPPER AT THE COUNTRY FAIR

We give three cheers for Marion Moore
Whose got an awful job for sure.

And we must admit they are going well.

BOAT CLUB NEWS

WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB OFFICIALLY OPENS

Last Sunday, May 2, the Club Burgee was unfurled over the clubhouse signifying the official beginning of the 1943 season. Although the new steward and stewardess, Mr. and Mrs. McGoff, had been at the club for almost a week getting things in order for the opening, bad weather postponed activities until Sunday

But there was plenty of activity Sunday. The first Snipe was put in the water and so were most of the docks and floats. A number of the Club's Isaac Walton's were noted trying to outsmart the perch, pickerel and bass and a host of amateurs were having a final tune-up preparatory to last night's party.

And, believe it or not, the first swimmer enjoyed the refreshing waters in front of the club and although in answer to the query of how it was, he simply chattered "W-w-w-wet!" as he neatly knocked an icicle from his nose. There's conclusive proof the season is on.

The racing committee reports that the official point score Snipe Races begin Saturday afternoon, June 6. That means that any Snipe owners who haven't been working on their boats had better get going if they want to sneak in a few tune-up spins before the mad scramble to dethrone "Don" Simonds begins.

A COMEDY OF YOUTH

A galaxy of youthful stars will burst into view when the Parish Players present their third and final production for the season on Thursday and Friday evenings, May 14, 15. The play, as you doubtless know is "Ely Away Home", an entertainment new to local stages, and interchange of youthful ideas is lively and almost continuous throughout.

Just a week off, remember and choice locations are simply fading away, so hustle, or else!

"A TIME FOR GREATNESS"

This is a time for clear thinking, sound judgments and constructive actions by every citizen of these United States. The problems that we face call for determined efforts from every one of us to investigate for ourselves the whys and wherefores of things as they are. We are obligated as citizens to think things through to the end that intelligent action may be forthcoming to preserve our "American Way of Life" and to aid in the construction of the "World We Want to Live In."

The current display of books and magazines on the center table in the library was planned to assist in clarifying some of the "Present and Post-War Problems." Your library is well stocked with material to help you look into matters that call for your best thoughts and decisions. It is hoped that every individual in Winchester will take advantage of the opportunities that the library offers to keep informed on important questions and to evaluate proposals that come up for discussion.

Are you well informed on labor and manpower problems? Do you know what the Trade Agreements are and that the decision on them must be made by the Congress before June? What of the McKellar patronage bill that will soon come up for action in the Senate? Have you seen the broadsides on "Inflation" and "Lend-Lease Makes Good" gotten out by the League of Women Voters? Magazines with selected articles marked for your convenience are included in the current display and are shown as samples of current material available through the library's magazine subscriptions.

Post-War Problems and Planning call for the most serious attention and study of every adult citizen. Many books and other materials are available on these subjects. Have you read "A Time for Greatness" by Herbert Agar? The title of this book might well be a motivating phrase to guide us in our approach to the study of great problems of today and tomorrow. This is a people's war and the problems envolved are as close to each one of us as our very existence. We must read and study and think clearly in order to meet our responsibilities and fulfill our obligations. You are invited to call on your public library for material to assist you in keeping informed so that you may act constructively.

A people may prefer a free government, but if, from indolence, or carelessness, or cowardice, or want of public spirit, they are unequal to the exertions necessary for preserving it; if they will not fight for it when it is directly attacked; if they can be deluded by the artifices used to cheat them out of it; if by momentary discouragement, of temporary panic, or a fit of enthusiasm for an individual, they can be induced to lay their liberties at the feet even of a great man, or trust him with powers which enable him to subvert their institutions; in all these cases they are more or less unfit for liberty; and though it may be for their good to have had it even for a short time, they are unlikely to enjoy it."—John Stuart Hill. Quotation to be found in "Social Goals and Economic Institutions" by Frank D. Graham.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT SOON

The Winchester Rotary were honored in having Comdr. Topper who has served with the U. S. Navy in the South Pacific. Comdr. Topper, who is a regular Navy officer paid tribute to the young men coming into Navy training during this war. He declared that the most important factor in preparing men for battle is the thorough drilling of the men. He spoke of the fact that the men and the officers think of the same thing, home, wife, mother, sweethearts and family He declared that in battle one doesn't pray for himself but for his dear ones. He paid the greatest tribute to the courage of the men in battle, never hesitating but always fighting one.

He urges civilians not to be too critical of the men on leave but to think of what they have been through.

Our chief hope is the wonderful and courageous men in our forces.

He stated that he saw men do things no one would believe could be successful, and yet they were remarkably effective.

The commander denied that the Army and Navy were caught unaware, though they were not on the alert He reminded the club that the Armed Forces in time of peace could not have the information the Japs had because of our Democratic laws. He described his service under Admiral Halsey and emphasized the importance of air force. He stated that the fate of battle hardens one to be able to "take it."

In his service under Admiral Smith he declared the Admiral to be one of the grandest men to serve under and one of the most courageous. The Commander's description of the battles he fought in were most interesting and informative giving a full and detailed description of the obstacles and complications our men faced. The Commander who is a Southerner, spoke a most appreciative word of the courage and skill of the colored men who he declared were among the finest fighters on his ship right up until his ship was sunk. He stated that his experience had demonstrated that no need to fear the action of the colored boys and he described his gratitude at the gift of his navy cap given by his colored men who had fought with him.

FIRST POSTAL TRACK MEET

Winchester High School held its first all time postal track meet with Concord High Wednesday afternoon, running off intra-squad events on Manchester Field while Concord held its events on Emerson Field in that town. Results were mailed from each school to the other.

Highlighting Winchester's results was Fred Lindberg's 5ft. 8½in. high jump, his best to date. Frank DiMambro, after voluntarily turning in his varsity suit until he could win some points, won both the 100 and 220, a head wind making the times slow. Paul [illegible], newly returned to competition, won the quarter in 57.8s and Capt. Dick Briggs won both the mile and 880 in so-so time with an hour's rest between events. Three Winchester boys were under 60 seconds in the quarter, Phil Ewell having a 58.6s after stepping in a hole to lose his stride, and Francis McGlynn doing 59s. The last named, a newcomer from Sanborn Seminary, N. H., ran both sprints as well as the quarter, doing well in all three.

WAKEFIELD 9; WINCHESTER 5

Wakefield's team of three year veterans proved too good for Winchester yesterday at Wakefield, winning in the rain, 9-5. Once again the locals helped the victors with errors and mistakes which only experience in actual games can correct. Though a bit wild in spots, the pitching of long Harvey Clarke was still the bright spot for Winchester. The local boys lost at least two runs by inexcusable base-running. Following is the score by innings:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Winchester	0	0	2	1	1	0	1	0	0	5

Wakefield 9 runs, 8 hits, 1 error.
Winchester 5 runs, 4 hits, 5 errors.
Batteries: LeFave, O'Neil and Inglis, Clarke and Nihan, J. Tibaudo.

ANNUAL REPORT 1943

The Winchester District Nursing Association, formerly supported by the voluntary contributions of individual members, has for several years been a member agency of the Community Chest, which is its principal source of income.

The Association provides home nursing care, free of charge when necessary; offers an excellent maternity service of pre-natal and post-natal nursing and instruction; makes health inspections of the pupils of private nursery schools, and conducts a widening of adult health supervision and nutrition instruction, certainly essential in war years.

From its beginning in 1899 the organization has pioneered in public health work and has anticipated the increasing needs of a growing community for nursing and other health services. It not only engaged the first school nurse, later taken over by the town, but established the Winchester Hospital and engaged the town's first public health nurse.

Mrs. Angeline R. O'Leary, Nursing Supervisor, and Miss Alice Peterson, Staff Nurse, are equipped by training and experience and by a zeal for public service to handle the work and further the aims of the Association. This year, as their special contribution to the war effort they have conducted five classes in Home Nursing under the auspices of the Red Cross.

During the past year the Board of Directors was ably guided by Mrs. Henry Spencer, president, whose decision to serve only one year is deeply regretted by an appreciative board Since last autumn the Board of Directors has lost the valued services of three members. Mrs. William E. Spaulding, Mrs. Thomas Righter and Mrs. Louis Waldron have followed their husbands to new wartime locations. In November Mrs. James F. Dwinell, Jr., was elected to succeed Mrs. Waldron.

The Association was fortunate in having Dr. Harry L. Mueller and Dr. Z. Eileen Taylor serve as members of the Medical Advisory Staff. Dr. Taylor's talk on blood transfusions and their substitutes and the preparation and use of blood plasma was so clear and comprehensive as to be the outstanding educational experience of the year. The Board expresses its sincere gratitude to her.

Mrs. George Marks spoke on the training and work of a Nurses' Aide, and impressed everyone with the splendid wartime contribution of the Aides and of the Red Cross which trains them.

The Association has many helpful friends. Grateful acknowledgment is made of En Ka Society's generous gift of $100; of the gauze bought and made into dressings by the Unitarian sewing group of the Needlework Guild and of the kindness of those individuals who contributed to the Comfort Fund or donated other services or materials.

The Association felt the pinch of the fuel shortage last November when the Board of Health closed one of the rooms which served as headquarters for the staff. The nurses are now comortably housed in a new office in the Professional Building at 15 Dix street.

Mrs. O'Leary's reports continue to be the feature attraction of the monthly board meetings. Her detailed statistics are given life and meaning by accounts of the work on the District, with its pressing varied problems and inspiring contacts. Board members are wiser and richer for sharing some of the experiences of the daily routine to which the nurses bring sympathetic and skillful ministration.

The total number of visits for the year was almost the same as last years, due to an unusually heavy case load in April, May and June.

The most surprising development of the year was the steady decrease in the case load during the winter months when an increase had been expected. Cooler houses and busier days may have lowered visits to patients in the higher income brackets whose houses used to be too warm. But Mrs. O'Leary points out that the greatest reduction has been in free or no-charge calls. Many former low-income patients have been adequately nourished for the first time in years. Employment in war industries has enabled certain families not only to eat enough, but to buy warmer clothing, pay debts, and in some cases move to cleaner, healthier homes. All of these factors affect personality, health, and the value of the individual to the family and community. Seeing this transformation the nurses conclude that adequate social security which prevents disease and its maladjustments is not only more humane, but far more efficient and cheaper than aftercare and rehabilitation.

The Winchester District Nursing Association is prepared to meet wartime emergency expansion of its services and to maintain its fine tradition of usefulness to the town.

Respectfully submitted,
Helen S. Monroe, Secretary

O'Leary, Winchester District Nursing Supervisor.

The members of the 1943-44 Board of Directors were propsed by Mrs. Edward R. Grosvenor, reporting for the Nominating Committee. The new Board, duly elected, included:

President: Mrs. Harlow Russell

The retiring President, Mrs. Henry K. Spencer, expressed the eagerness of the Association to co-operate with other private and public organizations in Winchester. She then introduced the new President, Mrs. Harlow Russell, who as a doctor's daughter, and a registered nurse is extremely well qualified in interest, knowledge and experience for her new responsibilities.

In accepting the office, Mrs. Russell, stated the objectives of the District Nursing Association as threefold:

To provide home nursing for the sick.

To aid in the prevention of disease by instruction in the principles of hygiene, health and sanitation.

Generally to promote the health of the people of Winchester.

Beautiful Winchester

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The biggest field gun in the Army. That's the 240-mm. howitzer. It's twenty-feet of barrel and must be pulled into position by tractors. After it is rolled into place, its own wheels are removed and the Big Bertha is set upon its emplacement ready to fire at its target some twenty miles away.

The cost of these huge guns runs into thousands of dollars but we can assure the Army of obtaining them by our purchases of War Bonds. Ten percent or more of your income is necessary. The easiest way is to join the Payroll Savings Plan at your office or factory. Let's "Top that ten percent."

BELMONT 18, WINCHESTER 12

Winchester High lost its Middlesex League baseball game to Belmont High Wednesday afternoon at Belmont, 18-12, having another of those days that all teams have when nothing seems to go right.

The inexperienced local boys were not the only ones who erred. The veteran Belmont players had a terrible afternoon too, and the sad part of the whole business is that Winchester could have won if it had played the ball it showed at Reading.

It was anyone's ball game up to the 5th but in that inning Washburn blew up, giving 8 hits which with some weird playing on the part of his support accounted for 9 runs. "Stretch" McGovern replaced Washburn and though nicked for a run in the 6th, the towering lefthander did very well.

Umpire Steve Colucci failed to show up and one of the Belmont faculty handled the game. He was not too good and particularly bad on balls and strikes, but the 19 errors divided between the two teams really tells the story. The summary:

BRITISH WAR RELIEF

At the luncheon on Wednesday the Winchester Unit paused to remember affectionately a worker whose death occurred this week, Mrs. Fanny Thompson.

She was one of the unwearying workers for British War Relief. The sock she was knitting on that last afternoon was one of her 187th pair. And in every pair she made she always put something extra, something that would say the maker had worked with love and not just from duty. When things were plenty in this land, the soldier or seaman used to find a little bag of tea or a precious bit of soap in the toe of a sock. When things got scarce, she still put in something of herself, a note, a line or two of an old hymn that cheered her, a Bible text that made strong her soul, for life or for death.

For, just as she was in a geographical sense a good citizen of two countries, so she was in a spiritual sense. The "things not seen, which are eternal" were as real to her as what she saw from her own porch, as real as the Victory garden in which she was digging on that last full day she lived among "the things which are seen." She was quite content to have the way very short from the seen to the unseen. On Friday she was busy at the usual things. Saturday morning, when she felt it was not too early to wake a friend, she asked one to come to her. By noon her well-ordered, well-spent life was finished.

Her fellow-workers of the Winchester Unit take leave of her with praise and with thankfulness, hoping that her invincible industry and her cheerfulness in dark times they may each of them inherit.

Aid to Enemy

"Any American who wilfully neglects to pay his taxes on time or to invest every cent he can in War Bonds is surely giving aid and comfort to the enemy . . . We have a job to do and we are all called for service to our country. Our dollars are called to service too. Let us all ask ourselves, 'Shall we be more tender with our dollars than with the lives of our sons?' — Secretary Morgenthau.

GILL—SHEA

The marriage of Miss Dorothy A. Shea, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Shea of Glenwood avenue, to Joseph P. Gill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. Gill of Eastern avenue, Woburn took place on Saturday morning, May 1, at the Immaculate Conception Church. The pastor, Rev. James F. Fitzsimons, performed the ceremony at 9 o'clock and was also the celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed. Mrs. William McGann, church organist, played the bridal music and Walter Doherty, sang during the service the Ave Maria by Rosewig, O Lord I Am Not Worthy and Just for Today by Seaver.

Miss Shea was given in marriage by her father and attended only by her sister, Miss Catherine A. Shea.

The bride wore a princess style gown of white Chantilly lace over satin with a fitted bodice and full skirt that extended into a train. Her fingertip-length veil of white illusion was caught to a princess cap and she carried a white prayer book with gardenias and a shower of white sweet peas.

The honor maid also wore a princess style dress of fuchsia satin and lace with a lace calot and carried a bouquet of American beauty roses.

Pvt. Charles G. Gill, USA, of Hamilton Field, Cal., was best man, and the ushers were Richard Gill of Woburn and J. Harold Bishop of Medford.

After the service a reception was held at K. of C. Hall in Woburn where the wedding breakfast was served. After a honeymoon in New York Mr. Gill and his bride will make their home on Mt. Pleasant street in Woburn.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School. Mr. Gill is a graduate of Woburn High School and is associated with his father in the jewelry business in Boston.

LIONETTA—MARCHESI

At St. Mary's Church on Sunday afternoon, May 2, Miss Angelina Ida Marchesi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Marchesi of Holland street became the bride of Cpl. William George Lionetta, USSC, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Lionetta of 24 Beacon street, Arlington. The pastor of St. Mary's, Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan, performed the marriage ceremony at 2 o'clock and the wedding music was played by the church organist, Mrs. D. Irving Reardon.

Miss Marchesi was given in marriage by her father and had for her honor attendant her sister, Miss Mary Marchesi. Miss Angela DiCarlo, small niece of the bride, was flower girl and Joseph DiCarlo, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

The bride wore a princess style gown of white slipper satin, having a sweetheart neckline outlined with seed pearls, and a long train. Her long veil of tulle was caught with orange blossoms to form a bonnet and she carried a bouquet of gardenias centered with an orchid.

The honor maid wore a dress of pink tulle and lace with a short blue veil caught to a coronet of matching flowers and carried a bouquet of deep pink roses. The flower girl wore a blue tulle frock of pink bows matching her pink tulle flowered hat and carried a basket of rose petals.

Joseph Marchesi, brother of the bride was Cpl. Lionetta's best man, and the ushers were Joseph Tarintino of Boston and John Graziano of Winchester.

Cpl. Lionetta and his bride went to New Jersey where the bridegroom is in the United States Army Signal Corps stationed at Fort Monmouth.

COMEDY THREE-ACT PLAY

A comedy three-act play, "The Mad Hatters" will be presented next Friday evening, May 14, t 8:15 o'clock, in the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church social hall by the Youth Fellowship Players. Mrs. Jean Leone Makepeace is the director of the cast of high school young people. This new play is one of the best amateur plays to be released in recent years.

Gloria Herrick and Bert Moore have leading roles as the wise-cracking son and daughter while the Hatter parents are played by Barbara Galucia and Robert Stoffregen. Ruth Mae Morrow as an ex-stock actress, Harold Bergquist as Mugzie Mullen, a swaggering athlete, and Martha Fay in the role of Angelica, a maid of all-work, have splendid character roles, as does Betty Griffiths in the part of the dynamic, eccentric Grandma, the financial angel of the Hatter family. Jean Hatch, Joan Laverty, Nan Stoffregen, and Henry Roberts have strong supporting roles and add much to the development of the play.

Ruth Morrow, president of the Fellowship is general chairman of the play committee and is being assisted by Annette Robinson, tickets; Nafalie Larson, refreshments; Sam Perkins and Richard LeRoy are the stage managers.

Buonarosa, daughter of Mrs. Emilia Buonarosa of Conn street, Woburn, became the bride of Cpl. David R. Saunders, U. S. M. C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Saunders of Cambridge street. Rev. James A. Garrity read the service at 5 o'clock, and a reception followed at the home of the bride's mother.

Miss Buonarosa was given in marriage by her uncle, Louis De Vito of Woburn, and attended by Miss Josephine Ruggerio of that city. Frederick Croteau of Winchester was Cpl. Saunders best man.

Cpl. Saunders and his bride will make their home at 12 Conn street in Woburn. The bride is a graduate of Woburn High School. The bridegroom was graduated from Stoneham High School and has been in the Marine Corps since Jan. 16, 1941.

A marriage of Winchester interest will take place in Lexington this evening when Miss Vivien Reed, daughter of Mrs. Haskell Reed of Lowell street, Lexington, becomes the bride of Robert LeRoy Parish, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Parish of Winthrop street. The ceremony will take place at 8 o'clock and will be performed at the home of the bride's mother by Rev. John Nicol Mark, minister of the Unitarian Church in Arlington. A reception will be held after the ceremony, at which the bride, mother and the parents of the bridegroom will assist in receiving.

Miss Reed will be given in marriage by her brother, Haskell W. Reed, and attended only by her sister, Miss Marjorie Reed of Lexington. The bride is wearing a light blue street-length dress of silk with an all-white flowered hat and a pink orchid corsage. The honor maid is wearing a beige silk street-length dress with flowers in her hair and a corsage of pink roses and delphinium. Franklin T. Richardson of Winchester is to be best man for Mr. Parish.

Mr. Parish and his bride will have time for only a brief honeymoon at the summer home of the bridegroom's parents before he returns to his duties with the United States Army Air Forces at Otis Field in Falmouth.

The bride is a graduate of Lexington High School and of the Pierce Secretarial School in Boston. Mr. Parish is a graduate of Winchester High School and of Northeastern University.

McKEERING—SHAW

Mrs. Harold S. Russell of Fayetteville, N. C., announces the marriage of her sister, Miss Eva Carabel Shaw of Fellsway-west, Medford, to Timothy Mathew McKeering, USA, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis McKeering of Linden street. The marriage was solemnized by Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan at a nuptial mass in St. Mary's Church on Saturday, April 24, at 9:30 o'clock.

Miss Shaw was attended by Miss Anna T. Quinn of Woburn and John T. McKeering of Woburn was his brother's best man.

The bride wore a gown of light blue crepe with a matching veil caught with gardenias, and a gardenia corsage. The honor maid wore a light beige dress with a matching under-chin veil and a corsage of orchid, purple and fuchsia flowers.

Mr. McKeering and his bride spent their honeymoon in New York, after which the bridegroom returned to his Army duties at Fort Devens. The bride attended school in Vermont and Boston University.

Last Saturday night shortly after 10 as Nicholas Perritano of 29 Irving street, an auxiliary policeman, was driving his car east on Swanton street near Holland street he was struck on the left side of the face with a goh of dough thrown at his car by one of three boys. Mr. Perritano caused the boys but finally lost them in the vicinity of Summer street. He reported the matter at Police Headquarters.

WINTON CLUB

The annual meeting of the Winton Club was held at the home of Mrs. Alvin Litchfield in Niles lane, on Monday, May 3. Because of bad weather the picnic luncheon was indoors instead of on the lawn overlooking the lake.

Throughout the year the Winton Club has carried on its regular work of supplying the linen for the hospital and also its various war activities. Mrs. Richard Parkhurst reported the annual linen quota had been purchased. Mrs. Harry Squires reported 1930 pieces were completed by the Work Committee.

The Red Cross sewing committee chairman, Mrs. Robert Stone reported 420 articles had been made. Winton Club members have helped in the sale of war bonds and stamps at both stations and also at Woolworth's. The Observation Post has been manned on regular days by members, totalling over 400 hours. Mrs. Edward French, the secretary read a letter from Mr. Maurice Bird, expressing his thanks to Winton Club for its help at the War Bond Auction at the Winchester Theatre. Winton Club was responsible for the lighting, the loud speaker, the arrangement of articles to be auctioned and various members were the ushers.

Mrs. Carl Eaton was in charge of the picnic, which has proved to be a very pleasant and sensible wartime substitute for the annual luncheon at the Country Club.

Hardly as Snug as Bugs in a Rug

And, strange as it may seem, this might be YOUR boy and it may be YOUR fault.

Thousands of coastguardsmen, navy men, marines, army men, all the men and women in the armed services are traveling every night from one fighting assignment to another. Traveling on duty, they use governmental transportation orders entitling them to comfortable sleeping quarters while they ride—IF THEY CAN GET THEM.

Hardly a sleeping car moves full-up these days despite the fact that it is "sold out" days in advance. YOU and YOU and YOU buy the tickets in advance; change your plans and never even bother to cancel them until you turn them in to get your money back a week or two later.

In the meantime these boys, YOUR boy—somebody's boy who has volunteered to risk his life so that you may live in a country where there is carefree, comfortable travel by night, sits up or tries to get some rest (a la the photo above) in a day coach.

They don't complain, but we civilians should feel heartily ashamed when they have to do it unnecessarily.

The next time you hold a reserved accommodation, berth, room, seat of any kind and change your plans won't you PLEASE phone or let us know somehow before the train leaves, that you aren't going to use the space?

By so doing you'll make YOUR boy—or someone's boy snug as a bug in a clean, comfortable, restful berth.

Thank you.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
SUFFOLK, SS LAND COURT

To the Honorable the Judges of the Land Court for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Respectfully represents Aline Poirier of Winchester, in the County of Middlesex, and said Commonwealth; that she is owner of a certain lot of land with the buildings thereon, situate in Winchester, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth, bounded and described as follows.

Southeasterly by Stevens Street, ninety (90) feet, Southwesterly by land of Downer, one hundred eighty (180) feet, Northwesterly by land of Guernsey Real Estate Trust, seventy-one and three-fourths (71¾) feet; Northeasterly by land of Lillian L. Campbell, one hundred eighty-one (181) feet.

That the record title to said lot of land is clouded by two mortgages, one given by A. P. Palmer to Lydia W. Ford, dated November 2, 186-, recorded February 16, 1869, and duly recorded Book 1066, purporting to secure a note for $500 payable in two years, with interest semi-annually, and the other given by Abram P. Palmer, to James Houston dated July 17, 1874, and duly recorded Book 1317, Page 165, purporting to secure a note for $500, payable in one year with interest semi-annually, which mortgages appear to be undischarged, unassigned and unforeclosed on and by the record.

That for more than twenty years after the expiration of the time limited for the full performance of said conditions no payment has been made and no other act done in recognition of said mortgages; and

That the mortgagors named in said mortgages and those claiming under them have been in uninterrupted possession of said land for more than twenty years after the expiration of time limited in said mortgages for the full performance of the condition thereof.

WHEREFORE your petitioner prays that after appropriate notices a decree may be entered on the foregoing allegations as authorized by Section 15, Chapter 240 of the General Laws as amended by Chapter 20 of the Acts of 1924

FIFTH NURSES' AIDE CLASS

The fifth Nurses' Aide class sponsored by Red Cross and Civilian Defense started at the Nurses' Home of the Winchester Hospital on Monday, May 3. Again the corps is fortunate in having Mrs. George Millner of Reading as instructor.

It is interesting to note the increasing value and importance of this volunteer service in the following figures. In January 1942, 21 aides gave 474 hours of service while in April of this year 33 aides gave 925 hours, a 50 per cent increase in number of aides and 100 per cent increase in number of hours of service. Paul McNutt has properly called Nurses' Aides essential war workers.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

To accelerate sales of this year's annual, members of the W. H. S. Aberjona staff provided an entertaining assembly last Wednesday in the form of a radio broadcast during which the 1943 edition was officially dedicated to Coach Henry Knowlton.

Jim Farrell announced the program and added much to the merriment by lending his voice to the musical commercials. Tableaux featuring Dramatic Club, Student Council, Red Cross, Science Club, and other school activities were much appreciated. The program was concluded with the reading of a portion of the Class Will and a powerful commercial by the popular Simonetta Trio. Active in these skits were Editor Alice Parker, Carol Crandall, Paul Blake, Robert Goddu, Niki Zamanakos, Virginia Straghan, Cosimo Simonetta, Tony Luongo, Jack Errico, Stearns Ellis, Crosby Crindle, Frank Horne, Annette Croughwell, Robert Johnston, Richard Phinney and Hugh Hawkes.

Miss Barbara Wilfert, librarian at the high school, who recently enlisted in the WAVES, expects to be called into active service at the conclusion of the school year. By action of the School Committee she has been granted a leave of absence for the duration.

Class Night at Winchester High School will be observed by the senior class on Saturday evening, May 22. A class dinner is planned which will feature group singing, class will, history, prophecy, oration, statistics, remarks by class officers and a social hour or so following. Dancing and movies of school events will be enjoyed after the dinner.

The committee working with Chairman Marjorie Smith includes Robert Jackson, Norman Lundin, Janet Eaton, William West, Marion Philbrook, and President Frank Buzzotta. Military service prevented William Daley from acting with this group.

CUB PACK 6 PATROTIC NIGHT

The American Legion, Winchester Post 97, will assist the pack in the observation of a Patriotic Night at its next meeting. Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman is Chaplain of Post 97 as well as Cubmaster. Legionnaires will be present in uniform and one of the features of the evening will be a sound movie war film. Marching drill work will be in charge of Legionnaire Robert Johnston who has already given the Cubs one evening of drill instruction in Metcalf Hall at the Unitarian Church.

The Pack Committee has been notified that the Pack won the $5 prize for selling the highest number of tickets for the exhibit of any troop, ship or pack in Fellsland Council. This is the first time this prize has been won by a Cub Pack, or by any organization outside of Medford. The boys deserve much credit as they sold 600 tickets, Peter Coon and Leo Garvey selling 140 and 120 each. At the meeting in Metcalf Hall on Friday, May 7, the Pack will receive the blue ribbon awarded for their booth at the recent Council exhibit. Den 4, of which Mrs. Donnell is Den Mother, is to present $10 which they earned for selling popcorn balls at the exhibit in Medford. The Pack is now six months old and Cubmaster Chapman announces that there are 45 boys registered and a number of others on the waiting list.

The Dens and Den Mothers are: No. 1, Mrs. Katherine Williams; No. 2, Mrs. Leta Mills; No. 3, Mrs. A. F. Johnson; No. 4, Mrs. J. D. Donnell; No. 5, Mrs. E. G. Pierce; No. 6, Mrs. J. J. Michelsen. They are assisted by the following Boy Scouts as Den Chiefs Ted Green, Kenneth Symmes, Joseph Cox, Dick Zarse, Franklin Pinn and Ted Covert.

WINCHESTER ART ASSOCIATION

The opening of the May exhibit of the Winchester Art Association on last Sunday afternoon was especially entertaining.

President Lyle Bush introduced Miss Josephine Durrell whose explanation of Finger Painting, a comparatively new art discovered by Ruth Shaw in her private school in Rome, was punctuated by the artist's donning a smock and getting her hands and arms right in to the mud-like paint. Her invitation to the audience to come up and try it out personally, although not accepted, was doubtless illustrative of adult inhibition!

The value of this spontaneous mode of artistic creation is far reaching among spastic children, as well as being affective with the normal child. Among the places where it has already proved its worth are the schools of Dallas, Texas and New York. It has also been experimented with in prison rehabilitation work, and is now being introduced at the U. S. O. centers. Anyone desiring further information on the subject will find helpful a small book by Miss Shaw at the Public Library entitled, Finger Painting.

Tea was served, following the gallery talk. Mrs. Edward B. Ladd and Mrs. G. Russell Mann poured. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Louise K. Snyder and Mrs. Alfred L. Lawson. The latter arranged the springlike table with its basket of daffodils, deep blue iris, pussy willows and carnations, a sculptured kid with a circlet of flowers around his neck lent a gay note.

The exhibition of ceramics and finger painting is open to the public through May 31 week-days from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Some excellent catches of fish have been made in the Mystic Lakes this past week or two. The best place to fish seemed to be just below the dam where the old fish weir used to stand. Yellow perch were exceptionally large and pickerel ran to good size. Fish bite best on minnows for bate. Fishing in Wedge Pond also was good with the catch running mostly to blue gills and calico bass. With the price of fish being what it is one can fish very profitably right here in town.

To Hasten Victory

No American wants this war to go one minute beyond the time we can bring it to a victorious end. To hasten that victory—to save possibly the lives of millions of our boys on our far flung fronts—it is imperative that every American do his part in the Second War Loan. There is an investment to fit every purse. The most you can do is little enough compared with the sacrifice offered by our boys in service. They give their lives—you lend your money.

SONS OF ITALY NEWS

Our [illegible] meeting was held Tuesday evening, May 4, at our lodge hall. Two new members, Sam Corb, and Peter Longo were initiated into our Order. The Venerable, A. P. Tofuri, named the Cigarettes for Servicemen Committee.

The following members in the service were home this week on furlough: Agrippino "Beeby" Russo, who is an instructor of mechanics at Seymour Johnson Field in North Carolina. Henry Subrizio who has been in the South Pacific War Zone. Joe Ficociello, who was home from Silver Springs, Md., to see his brother Jerry. Two others from "The Corner" who are not members of our order are home on a furlough. They are Ralph DeGrosso, and Joe Galuffo. They are home from the South Pacific war zone.

We received cards from Al Subrizio and Dominick Molea. Al was asking for the boys and through the Winchester Star sends everyone his best regards. Dom Molea sent up a card telling us he is going to a Marine training school to learn how to be a radio operator. Good luck from all of us, Dom.

We also received a letter from Larry Penta. He also sent us some swell snapshots that he had taken at his training camp at Quantico. Some interesting bits from his letter are: . . "I am still here on the rifle range instructing. Tyrone Power is here for his training before he gets his commission. He was one of the 84 who fired on the rifle range this afternoon. He does very well with his weapons. I get the Star every week and it gives me enjoyment to read the club news in it. It makes me feel as if I were in Winchester." When will you be home on furlough, Larry? We sure miss you and your side-kick "Willie" "Mungie" is still [illegible].

Winchester Lodge, Sons of Italy, is cooperating in the fund raising for purchase [illegible] cigarettes for the boys overseas, according to Joseph Gorta[illegible], grand venerable of the Massachusetts Grand Lodge, Order of Sons of Italy in America, which is sponsoring the drive.

Under the direction of Angelo P. Tofuri, Venerable, who is chairman of the drive for the local lodge, a committee has been organized. At least 25 glass banks for coin donations, that will go toward the purchase of the smokes, have been placed in vantage points in Winchester.

Among those from Winchester Lodge who are assisting in the drive are the following: Andrew DiAppella, Antonio Jacobelli, Frank Procopio, Victor Ficociello, Antonio Gilberto, Frank Dattilo, Anthony Vespucci, Angelo Tranfaglia, Leo Manoli, Anthony Derro, Francis Muraco, Henry Peluso, Carmine DiMinico, G. Panteleo, John DiMinico, James Derro, Vincent Puopolo, Sam Puma.

The cigarettes purchased will be donated to soldiers on all fighting fronts regardless of nationality and creed. The drive concludes June 15.

Mrs. Leora Hattie Gibson, wife of John W. Gibson, who died yesterday morning at her home on Green street in Woburn, was the mother of Walter Irving Gibson of Winchester.

A Lecture on Christian Science

Entitled

Christian Science: Its Revelation of the Unknown God

by

John Randall Dunn, C. S. B. of Boston, Massachusetts

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts

At the Christian Science lecture in the Town Hall last Tuesday evening under the auspices of First Church of Christ Scientist, in Winchester, the first reader, Prescott Baston introduced the lecturer in the following words:

Friends, First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Winchester, Mass., welcomes you this evening to hear a lecture entitled, "Christian Science: Its Revelation of the Unknown God."

I suppose that anyone who is known to be interested in religion is occasionally questioned about the nature of God and even whether or not there is a real need for any religion.

My own answer to such questions is to say that to study a workable religion is to learn the way of life and that this necessarily underlies useful proficiency in law, in art, in economics and all the various vocations of men. In the light spreading from such a verse as John 5:26, "For as the Father hath life in himself; so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself," we see how far reaching and comprehensive can be the effects of an earnest study of the relationship of God and man.

It is easy and pleasant for me to say that the understanding of God's loving care has revealed dominion over sickness and limitation to me and my family, has illumined dark periods in our progress and has in my own case resulted in a complete change of outlook, giving me freedom from a worldly and habit-ridden way of life, exchanging its empty concessions for the bountiful conception that God is the life of man.

The lecturer this evening is John Randall Dunn of Boston who is a member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, Mass.

The following lecture is substantially as given:

THIS EVENING THE DEAD LINE

This evening is the dead line for securing tickets to the lobster luncheon of Tuesday, May 18. Tickets may be secured from Mrs. Archibald Jordan, 118 Highland avenue.

This year's luncheon will be the ninth which the Jordan Group has sponsored. Year by year the event has grown in popularity deservedly. The formula for it has always been "the best New England lobster, prepared in the best New England way, with the best New England conscience," which lives up to the letter of the good old recipe and doesn't skimp the prime ingredient, the lobster, in the salad. Directing the preparation and service will be the same chairman as in other years, Mrs. Ray E. Mauger.

The luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock in the Epiphany parish hall. Even though winter is holding a heavy tyrant hand over spring this year, the Jordan Group expects to manage the blithe spring atmosphere in the decoration of the hall and the tables which has characterized the lobster luncheon in other years. With tires and gas lacking for lobster luncheons at the shore, many Winchester hostesses will use the Jordan Group luncheon to introduce friends newly come to New England to this characteristic delight of the New England spring.

The chairman of the Jordan Group Mrs. J. Stanley Barnes will be in charge of receiving and seating the guests.

MUST ASK FOR ABATEMENT OF SERVICE MEN'S POLL TAX

Notice has already been given, but the Assessors and the Collector of Taxes again call attention to the fact that all men in the armed services of the United States are exempt from paying a poll tax this year, provided they or their friends notify us to that effect. Permission for abatement will then be asked of Commissioner, Henry F. Long, as the Assessors and the Collector have no way of knowing who is in the armed service.

Commissioner Long has instructed all collectors throughout Massachusetts to refuse payments on any tax after it has been given to a deputy collector on a warrant. A deputy collector will be in the office of the Collector of Taxes at the Town Hall on Friday, May 14, 1943 between the hours of 3 p. m. and 8 p. m. to accommodate those who wish to pay poll taxes which were due and payable April 22, 1943.

GIFTS AT THE COUNTRY FAIR

If, at the Booth's house you should lurk
And see the En Ka girls at work,
I'm sure that you would give a cheer
For they've been working all the year.
Each of the girls some idea brings
And their gifts are really "fit for kings."
We're looking for loads of willing patrons
To buy our Imogene's lovely aprons.
At the Country Fair, they'll be in full sway.
We'll see you there on Old Home Day.

SELECTIVE SERVICE NEWS

Local Board Directed to Consider Induction of Childless Married Registrants

The Local Selective Service Board, has been directed, as have all other Boards in the state, to proceed immediately with the reclassification of all married registrants not the fathers of children, and it is expected that the induction of large numbers of registrants who pass the physical requirements and who are not deferred because of individual essentiality of occupation may be expected to take place during the months of June and July in 1943, the Local Board already having been advised to anticipate large quotas for these two months.

In connection with such reclassification of married childless registrants the Board can only consider for deferment from such induction cases where extreme hardship and privation would result to a wife, child or parent, with whom the registrant maintains a bona fide family relationship in their home and individual irreplaceability in war production work, or necessary employment in direct support of the war effort.

At a meeting of the Local Board last Wednesday evening, a large number of married registrants without children, including registrants who may be become fathers since Sept. 15, 1942, were tentatively classified in Class 1, subject to the result of a preliminary physical examination, in anticipation of reclassification and possible induction June 29, 1943.

In determining the individual circumstances of registrants the Board is directed, under a revised directive, to consider the circumstances of the registrant, insofar as dependents are concerned, as they existed as of Dec. 8, 1941 and are not permitted to consider dependency circumstances which have arisen since Dec. 8, 1941 unless such dependency circumstances were forced on the registrant through circumstances beyond his control.

MYSTIC GLEE CLUB

The Mystic Glee Club, under the direction of William Cruger and with Mary Louise Wood as accompanist, gave its annual spring concert, benefitting the Winchester Red Cross Chapter, last Friday evening in the high school auditorium with the following program: Maunder, Border Ballad; Henschell, Morning Hymn; Shenandoah, arr. by Marshall Bartholomew; De Gospel Train, arr. by Burleigh; Jordan, The Old Clipper Days; Campbell-Tipton, A Spirit Flower (solo by David Downer, tenor); Gershwin, Summertime (from Porgy and Bess); Hughes, Doctor Foster; A Londonderry Air, arr. by Baldwin; Bliss, Mosquitoes; Fireflies (Russian Folk Song), arr. by A. T. D.; Gruber, The Caissons Go Rolling Along; The Marines' Hymn (solo by David Downer), arr. by Stickles; Zimmerman, Anchors Aweigh; Crawford, The Army Air Corps (solo by Dana Kelly, baritone); and The National Anthem.

The guest soloist, Lawton Edgerly, marimbist, played: Chopin, Prelude in C Minor; MacDowell, To a Wild Rose; Tsin Fa (Chinese Melody); Ketelby, In a Monastery Garden; Kern, Smoke Gets in Your Eyes; Barris, I Surrender Dear; and Porter, Night and Day. Claudia Renehan, soprano, sang: Schubert, Ave Maria; and Arditi, Il Bacio.

The audience that turned out for the concert, on the first really hot night of the spring season, was proof positive of the popularity of Mr. Cruger and his singers. The manner in which the program was received indicated unquestionably that those present liked the sort of things they sang. Applause was generous throughout and despite the length of the program many repeats were wanted, though they were, with two exceptions wisely refused by Mr. Cruger. Encores were literally demanded after the spirituel and after the quirkful Mosquitoes and unusual Fireflies, both of which were repeated. In response to sustained applause after De Gospel Train, the men sang The Old Ark 's a-Moverin', which was so well received last season.

Anything in the nature of a critical review of the concert would be manifestly unfair. The club deserves nothing but praise for continuing to function in the face of all but insurmountable obstacles. The fun its members have had singing under Mr. Cruger and the pleasure manifested by last Friday's audience more than offset such lapses as were apparent in the performance of music, some of which is as yet a bit beyond the vocal resources of the club.

ANNUAL CONCERT BY HIGH SCHOOL ORCHESTRA

"Wood Sketches" by Alice Parker Featured

Again the orchestra of Winchester High School has proved its worth to the student body with another pleasing assembly under the direction of Mr. George Brown, Supervisor of Instrumental Music. Featured at this annual musical treat was the composition by Alice Parker, "Wood Sketches." As explained by Mr. Brown, Miss Parker's orchestration consists of three parts: Mahogany, Pine and Oak, symbolic of strength, solemnity and romance.

After Mr. Brown's interesting biographical sketch of the composers, the orchestra played "A Suite" by Lully; "Emperor Waltz" by Johann Strauss, "Rhapsody in Blue" by Gershwin, and "Wood Sketches" by Parker. Three senior girls, Jean Stillman, Betsy Drake, and Alice Parker, played "A Trio" by Locillet. Pauline Milne at the piano was particularly pleasing with her accompaniment of the orchestra in "Rhapsody in Blue."

WINCHESTER LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

Mrs. Malcolm Nichols was elected for a third term as president of the Winchester League of Women Voters at the annual meeting held Friday, May 7. The League looks back with pride to the two past years under Mrs. Nichols' leadership and forward with confidence to the new year she has undertaken.

Mrs. Ralph Sparks again opened her lovely home at 45 Cabot street for the afternoon.

The very interesting annual reports of department and committee chairmen showed the wide range of League activities during the year and the truth of League members faith that "League work is war work." Action in both the community of Winchester and in forming opinions in the state and national legislative fields marked the year's work.

Miss Mary Gilson, consultant to the Regional War Man Power Commission, was the speaker of the afternoon and a very stimulating one. Miss Gilson has been associated in the past with Industry and has taught at the University of Chicago until her retirement recently. She stressed the equal responsibility of management and labor for the proper and completely efficient use of man power.

Collaboration between the two, she feels can be achieved by patience. Collaboration arouses interest in the workers' part and interest in turn steps up production. In speaking of women on Industry, Miss Gilson expressed the view that there is nothing better for women than to go beyond the narrow boundaries of their own kind and get into factories where there is no veneer and more real thinking. In this respect she said, "Don't try to live up to your education?"

The rest of the excellent slate of officers and committee and department heads for the new year is as follows:

STUCKEY—CUSHMAN

Miss Madeline Cushman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cushman, and Ensign Daniel Kemp Stuckey, 2nd USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stanley Stuckey of Exeter, N. H., were married by the Rev. George Hale Reed Saturday evening, May 8, at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents on Sheffield road. A reception followed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory satin with an illusion veil held in place by a Juliet cap of antique rose-point lace. Her bouquet was of stephanotis and swansonia.

Miss Dorothy Joy of Winchester was the bride's honor maid and only attendant. She wore a blue marquisette dress and carried pink snapdragons with lavender stock. Robert Cushman of Cambridge, brother of the bride, was best man.

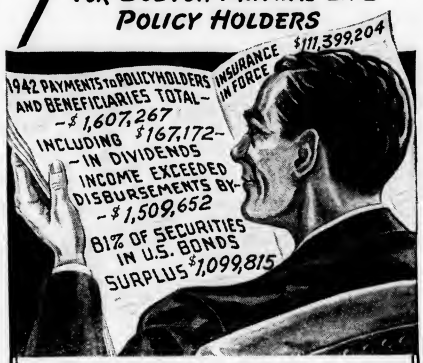

The bride, a member of the senior class at Smith College, attended the May School in Boston and the Ogontz School. Ensign Stuckey prepared for college at Phillips Exeter Academy and is a graduate of Princeton University in the class of 1942, having been a member of the Tiger Inn and Varsity Club. He is at present an instructor at the Midshipmen's School at Notre Dame University, South Bend, Ind.

LONG DISTANCE LINES to points outside New England are heavily overburdened. Yet, as you can understand, these lines must handle all essential war messages promptly.

You can help in this situation. Unless yours is war business . . . use the long distance telephone to points outside New England only in case of extreme urgency.

It will help, too, if you will cancel any non-vital call when you're told that circuits are busy. Just assist us in these ways and we'll furnish prompt service on really urgent messages, even to busy places.

PROVINZANO MAKING GOOD AT SCRANTON

Pete Provinzano, sturdy pokerfaced right hander who pitched Winchester to a Middlesex League championship and a place in the interscholastic tournament a year ago, made a great debut in professional ball last Thursday, pitching the Red Sox farm team, Scranton, to a 5-1 win over Tony Lazzeri's Wilkes-Barre team after generally showing great promise throughout the Miners' training season.

Peter held his opposition to five hits and only two of these came during the last six innings, in four of which the side was retired in order. In commenting on his performance Chic Feldman in the Scranton "Tribune" wrote: "Positive Pete," a shutout artist as an apprentice, settled down to make his first professional appearance a duplicate of his specialty. He might have succeeded, save for a momentary second round lapse on the part of the best infield the stadium has housed since its dedication in 1940. This, plus the first of Provinzano's two passes, one intentional, enabled the Barons to escape a runless defeat, but they did little otherwise as the New Englander flagged 'em with five safeties in contributing the Miners best hill display to date!

WINCHESTER RUNNERS WON NORTH SHORE RELAY HONORS

Winchester High edged Melrose and Concord in the second annual North Shore high school relay carnival at Manning Bowl, Lynn, last Saturday, taking top honors in Class B for the second straight year. Coach Smith's boys won only the 440 yard event but placed second in the other three events to beat out Melrose, 14-12, with Concord getting 10 and Saugus 6. Melrose had the distinction of turning in the best performance of the meet in the 2¾ mile relay, being clocked in 12 min. 15.8 secs., 10 seconds better than the Class A runners could negotiate the distance.

STONEHAM EDGED WINCHESTER

Stoneham High edged Winchester in a Middlesex League baseball game on Manchester Field last Friday afternoon, 4-3, scoring the winning run when catcher Jim Tibaudo's throw hit Rolli on the head after the Stoneham boy had been caught in a hot-box off third in the first of the 9th. Each team earned two runs.

"Stretch" McGovern went the route for Winchester and deserved a better fate. The local boys made two double plays but they hardly offset their four errors, two of which were directly responsible for the loss of the game. The summary:

DODGE AND BUTTERS CHAMPS

"Sherming" Dodge, now a lieutenant in the Army Air Forces and piloting a flying fortress instead of an ancient Ford, returned to the horseshoe wars at Palmer street Beach last Saturday afternoon to pair with Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine Champ, and hand out "the works" to all and sundry in a special session of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association, called by President Royal P. Teele for the express purpose of giving Dodgie a chance to pitch with his former associates once more.

"Sherm" showed his appreciation of the opportunity afforded him in no uncertain fashion. He and Mr. Butters collaborated in a mathematical sense when he decided to quit his "stick" in the Star press-room for the "stick" of an Army airplane. Their collaboration last Saturday was none the less effective. "Sherm" got his flyers "wings" out of his first huddle with the "State of Maine Champ" and in the latest instance when the two worked together they obtained results equally praiseworthy.

Meeting all comers, Sherm and Arthur failed to drop a match, disposing of the Maxwell Road "Mugwumps," H. "Tiffany" Knowlton and the Secretary, twice, in straight games, and also twice decisioning the Association's President and "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, Pride of Stowe and Champion of all Nabnasset. McLaughlin and the President, after the deuce of an effort, did succeed in winning one game from Sherm and Arthur, but that was all. The champs were just too good.

During the first match against the "Mugwumps" Mr. Butters carried the load, carried it well and then some, but once he got warmed up, Lt. Dodge dropped his eggs very prettily indeed, breaking the Teele heart into smithereens and causing McLaughlin to turn a pale green with envy.

It should be understood that "Wild Willie" was not at his best. Whether Mr. Teele's unfeeling reference to the possibility of Mr. McLaughlin's having to appear in cap and gown at the high school graduation unnerved the "Pride of Stowe" can not be accurately determined. It may have contributed to the lack of accuracy displayed by his usually deadly "butterfly" shoe. Willie himself attributed his ineffectiveness to the fatigue engendered by carrying Mr. Teele upon his back. The doughty President excepted, there were many who felt the latter contention was not without merit.

Lt. Dodge won with the same quiet smile he used to show in the old days when victory was more elusive. Mr. Butters was openly happy about it all. So was everyone as a matter of fact, it being great to have "Sherming" back for even so brief a visit.

Teele Finally Wins

Last week-end's regular session of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association was twice notable, first on account of the perfect weather conditions and second because for the first time since Hector was a small, small doggie Mr. Teele was a winner.

The doughty President has had a tough time of it so far this season, so much so that the Maine State tourist, Mr. Butters, had offered the suggestion that papers be prepared seeking a new election. After last week-end Royal should be reasonably safe in his high office for another fortnight at least.

The wonder of it all was that as a partner Mr. Teele drew the Association's Secretary, a milistone among millstones in the matter of carrying charges. That the pair did not lose a match is proof positive that some one had to be good, and it couldn't have been the Secretary.

One of the best matches of the season was that the President and Scrivener won from Mr. Butters and "Thin Finger" Pridham. The win was two-straight but the competition was tight lipped all the way. Twenty-five to 20 was the first game score. In the second game due largely to some very flashy pitching by Mr. Butters, he and "Thin Finger" built up a 23-7 lead. Both the President and Secretary felt defeat in their hearts, but did want to get into the double figures and so earnestly did they strive to attain this end that they doubled their score while holding the opposition at 23.

At this point Mr. Pridham threw a ringer and a close one. The Secretary's first shoe hit on the inevitable prong and bounced away. Mr. Butters was changing stakes when the Scrivener's second shoe covered the Pridham ringer to produce the agony.

Mr. Butters and Mr. Teele each got ringers and cartwheels for no count and the score stood 14-24 against him when the Secretary, urged on by the exhortations of Mr. Teele, uncorked a double-header. Royal's yelps of joy apparently unnerved Mr. Pridham, for although he came close he couldn't cover and the score stood 20-24 against Mr. Teele as he prepared to pitch.

In response to his partner's admonitions and Mr. McLaughlin's vocal encouragement, Mr. Teele chucked his first shoe squarely on the stake. As breaths were held his second shoe, flopping beautifully, landed squarely upon the first. The Teele left tonsil went by the board in the gleeful bellow he emitted as he and McLaughlin "put it there."

Mr. Butters gave of his best and the knees of both the President and Secretary wobbled visibly as both his shoes glanced harmlessly from the pin. Exhausted by their efforts, the victors refused to play any more and went home to their uncurdled soup with a warm glow at their simple hearts.

Daniel Daly, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Daly of River street, is home on leave from Army Camp in Arizona. "Buck", former high school football and baseball player, is well burned from the western sun which sends the glass up to the 100 degree mark about every day.

WINCHESTER EDGED IN TRIANGULAR MEET AT BELMONT

Cambridge Latin School's win in the final relay gave Belmont High a one-point victory over Winchester, 30-29, in the triangular track meet among the three schools Tuesday afternoon in the rain at Belmont. Cambridge Latin scored 23 points, but its win in the team race wrested what looked like a win from Winchester's grasp.

The local boys weren't too happy about the loss of the relay, claiming Charlie Lovejoy was fouled by a Belmont boy at the start of the third leg. Belmont had the pole, while Lovejoy was in the outside lane. Instead of stepping directly off the track, the Belmont runner, after passing his baton, walked across the cinders directly in front of Lovejoy, who had to run around him, losing considerable yardage.

After the race both Latin and Belmont accused the other of fouling Winchester, but as there were no judges or referee to decide, nothing came of it and Belmont's single point for third in the relay was enough to put it in.

Winchester should have won the meet anyhow, had it not been for the heavy going in the high jump, which caused its Fred Lindberg to fail at 5ft. 4in. Belmont's Giblin won the jump with a fine 5ft. 10in. performance, and Lindberg might not have matched such a leap. Fred has done 5ft. 8in., however, and never would have failed at a height four inches lower, except for the muddy takeoff on his side which caused him to slip each time he jumped and finally to knock off the bar twice with his hands in an attempt to keep his balance.

Winchester's individual winners were Frank DiMambro in the 220 and Capt. Dick Briggs in the half. There was no mile. The local boys showed good balance, scoring in every event and placing three men behind Tuft of Belmont in the quarter. One good shotputter with decent footing for Lindberg and Winchester would have won handily. The summary:

100 yd. dash: Won by Meade (B); 2nd, DiMambro (W); 3rd, Pietro (C. L.); 4th, Ottiano (W). Time: 10.9s.

440 yd. run: Won by Tufts (B); 2nd, McGlynn (W); 3rd, Blake (W); 4th, Ewell (W). Time: 57.3s.

880 yd. run: Won by Briggs (W); 2nd, Brathwaite (CL); 3rd, Hawkes (W); 4th, Burke (W). Time: 2:11s.

WINCHESTER GIRL WINS B. U. SCHOLARSHIP

Miss Helen F. Elliott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold K. Elliott of Linden street, was among the 50 students in Greater Boston and New England High Schools awarded scholarships by Boston University last week-end. Miss Elliott, a senior at Winchester High School, has been an "A" student for four years. She will enter the College of Liberal Arts at B. U. in the fall.

MISS TAPLEY GETS SMITH DEGREE

Miss Idella L. Tapley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert H. Tapley of Glen road is one of the 410 candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts at the 65th commencement of Smith College to be held on May 20.

Miss Tapley, who entered Smith College as a graduate of the Winchester High School, majored in Economics at college. She was a member of the Athletic Association and of the Outing Club, and served on the board of the latter during her sophomore year. As president of her house last year she was its representative to the college House of Representatives where she was elected to serve as vice president. She was also president of her house during the year just past and a member of Judicial Board, which is part of the student government association. Other interests include membership in her class choir and in Economics Club, of which she was co-head this year. This is one of the departmental clubs which were organized to promote interest in various subjects among students with marked ability in these fields. She was air raid warden of her house in a system which requires that each house act as a self-sufficient unit when necessity arises. At commencement last June she was one of 130 outstanding juniors chose to assist at class day exercises.

Onto. Do you know onto? While we note the word in the leading headline of Boston's leading news-paper, we never recall learning it at the old Highland School. However, we will file it—along with whyncha and dontcha.

We have never thought much of the New Deal, and probably have more than once laid ourselves open to the accusation of belonging to the horse and buggy days. Nevertheless we are interested in watching the smooth progress of the present day streamlined system. Thus, just to keep in touch and to give you accurate information of our own progress—along with the airplane construction, we are pleased to note that this week's Star issue amounts to no less than 475 pounds*, making it the largest issue of the year and only approached by one other output since our Christmas issue. If the New Deal can convert airplane construction into pounds, along with bananas and eggs, we guess we can keep pace with the Star.

If anyone had have told you a year ago that you could not buy potatoes in Winchester today, what would you have said? So we are interested in the cropping predictions that we will not have enough coal next winter; and likewise in the customary argument over the adequacy of transportation, the urge not to convert your oil heater, etc., etc. We went through the oil shortage last winter—and in fact are still in it so far as our summer hot water is concerned. To this date we never have found out its cause, although we listened to one side renort lack of transportation and the other deny it. Since we use coal [illegible] well as oil, we are interested in coal problem, but we are agree with Paul Mallon, hat next winter being pres- r, means, according to his thinking, that all will be provided. Perhaps the potato problem will be likewise solved, if those stories of potatoes rotting in Maine are taken into consideration. As to coal, who are we to deny the New Deal a little fun.

The school authorities, or at least those particularly interested in the high school's athletic program, would do well to take a trip to the Shore road athletic field where we presume the schoolboys will be asked to play their home football games this fall. A look at the playing surface of the field ought to be enough to convince anyone that quite a face-lifting job will have to be done to fit the gridiron for competitive play. The field was in poor shape last year. As a matter of fact Coach Knowlton firmly believes that practically all of the bad injuries his boys sustained in football a year ago were directly traceable to the treacherous and uneven condition of the turf. Whether any more money should be spent on the field until it is really through settling is a question. None can deny that what has been done there has improved an unsightly locality, but the playing surface of the field has never been satisfactory, and has been growing steadily worse. Many believe the fence surrounding it should be moved to Manchester Field, if the necessary arrangements can be made, and the Shore Road Field permitted to stand for a while. There isn't much surface left on Manchester Field, but it is at least level, and can be put in good playing condition for relatively little money. If the local authorities would travel around a bit and see the fields on which Winchester boys play outside their home town we believe they wouldn't be too proud of what we are providing here.

PAY AS YOU GO

The New Deal is consistent and has been for ten long years. It never has nor never will believe in "Pay as You Go." With them it's "Spend as You Go" until it's all gone.

That, probably, was the plan they said we needed, way back in 1932. Socrates wrote it in 1956.

What a confession! The New Deal does not want to postpone income taxes. They themselves may be afraid that it is only a question of time when no one would have anything left for back pay anyway.

Chairman Doughton (of Ways and Means) according to the press, asked Beardsley Ruml, Chairman of the New York Federal Reserve Bank: "Why doesn't business cancel the debts of its customers?"

Of course, these are not comparable cases. In the first place, the individual customers of a business order what they want and it is delivered to them. If the wrong thing is delivered it can be returned, exchanged for the right thing, or they can get their money back. Not so with the New Deal. You're stuck with it!

In a full Democracy citizens are not customers. They are the boss. The officeholders have something to sell, their services and jobs. Under the New Deal let's see the citizens get their money back on Quoddy Dam and numbers of other things costing hundreds of millions, perhaps billions.

If Chairman Doughton wishes us to be consistent about his question, let's get our money back from the officeholders for all waste these last 10 years. The Chairman must be assuming that the government has delivered the goods and just what was ordered; but it has not.

Although it would not be costing the government one cent, to forget 1942, let's please the Chairman and admit that it would, for, in this way only, could the New government make a gesture of reparation, a token payment, a little relief for the billions thrown away, by forgetting 1942 income taxes. They owe it to us.

It would be smarter now to start fresh on income taxes, especially as so many millions of new taxpayers, with war work pay envelopes, are to be involved.

The year after peace, when earnings and pay checks sharply drop, it would be too great a governmental concession during that particular emergency. It would be inviting trouble.

We did not face such a problem during or after the last war. We had not spent ourselves to death before war. We had a surplus to fall back on, to mortgage.

The New Deal Government itself spends the money of the future, although it has mortgaged the wealth created by the thrift of our old, sound order and it's mighty lucky we had such a past. If this bunch had been in, the United Nations would face financial defeat.

When income taxes were first started, no one knew that first year what his taxes were going to be. He could not start saving as he earned. He paid that first year's income tax the next year, out of that year's earnings. Paying last year's tax the next year is really paying out of capital, for income, when received, becomes capital. The only way an income tax can be paid by income is, At It Is Received.

The suggestion to forget a part of 1942 income (the higher incomes is only an effort to raise more money without a sales tax. However, Mr. Doughton is said to have saved for his 1942 tax. Well, how could he, if it is to be increased?

There is one other suggestion. Spend less. Billions could be saved and it is just plain wicked not to do it. Are they trying deliberately to bankrupt us so that we must all look to the State, Socialism?

The answer would be: "We are at war," but this is not the real answer.

Take today. Forget the billions wasted the last 8 years under New Deal. Take the Pentagon Building as an example and such things as the "Battleneeks" brochure, the 3,000,000 civilian employees, the hundreds of New Deal Agencies, the eight extra hours with their 50 per cent penalty, the millions of tons of paper for New Deal reports, billions unnecessarily spent. We Are At War but the New Deal is still on "the books." Mr. Biddle said so.

We have a job to defeat Hitler and Japan (and we can) but we must not be asked to pay for the New Deal "fun" at the same time. Scrap It, at least for the duration.

The "little people" will speak pretty soon and we don't mean, maybe!

Socrates

HAIL AND FAREWELL! FROM EN KA SOCIETY

All hands were on deck from the U. S. Navy for the last and gayest dance of the series for the boys in service given by the En Ka Society on Wednesday evening, May 12, in the Parish Hall of the Congregational Church which was made festive with sprays of stunning pink flowers and bowls of lovely spring blooms.

Mrs. Frederick E. Ritchie and the following members of her committee dispensed hospitality with their usual ease: Mrs. Harold H. Bidwell, Mrs. Francis Booth, Mrs. William C. Chaback, Mrs. Carl L. Eaton, Mrs. A. Allen Kimball, Mrs. Harold F. Meyer, Mrs. Thomas Reese, Mrs. Harold B. Richmond, Mrs. Lucius Smith, Mrs. Leslie A. Tucker and Mrs. Herbert T. Wadsworth.

The girls looked radiantly lovely in their party frocks and attractive corsages, and the evening was one of merriment and zestful enjoyment.

"Ladies choice" proved to be a perfect whirl for the gay blades on the dance floor, and many a shy lad found himself in the midst of a flutter of femininity, that made him grateful for that basic training which helped see him through this dangerzone.

Delicious punch and alluring little cakes were served for refreshments, after which Mrs. Harold Meyer, who again generously donated the "lucky number dance" prize, presented it to Miss Janet Pride and her partner, and everyone enjoyed their solo dance, amid much applause.

The singing of America the Beautiful brought the evening to a regretful close and our hearts go out to these lads, who in so short a time will be on the "bounding main," and bravely meet the thrilling adventure ahead of them.

May we all join in wishing them God speed as they go to their battle stations, under the proudly waving Stars and Stripes, sailing forth with courage, honor and glory from the "Land of the Free and the Home of the Brave."

FANNY C. BUCKMINSTER

An Appreciation

Miss Buckminster, who passed away recently in St. Petersburg, spent so little time in Winchester that she was not generally known, but her exceptional traits were recognized and appreciated by those with whom he came in contact.

She was connected with several old and prominent Massachusetts families, inherited a fine mind, was a loyal and considerate friend, uniformly generous and ready to do her part and faithful to the end in bearing heavy responsibilities.

ROTARY CLUB NEWS

Following the custom recently inaugurated, the Rotary Club of Winchester again entertained service men at its weekly luncheon and meeting yesterday. This week there were present Cpl. Kenneth Lindsey, Cpl. Philip Barksdale and Lt. Alfred R. Meurling. The men were introduced by Allan Wilde, who gave a short sketch of each individual history. Lt. Muerling, well known as teacher of physical education at the Junior High School, responded to requests and gave an interesting summary of some of his travels as head of the gun crew of a transport serving Africa.

While there is considerable difficulty in securing the names of the service men home on leave, that they may receive formal invitations to attend the club luncheons, president John McLean desires all such service men to attend whether formal invitation is received or not. Any man notifying the Star Office will receive his invitation.

There was a large attendance of members at yesterday's meeting and the speaker was Prof. Wendell Yeo of Boston University, who took for his subject, "Guidance Is Good Business." He gave a most interesting talk, greatly enjoyed by the Rotarians.

FIREMEN WON FROM ODD FELLOWS

The pool teams of the Winchester Fire Department, Ed Fitzgerald and Walter Skerry, won a 1-0 victory from Elmer Ripley and Elliott Ward, representing Waterfield Lodge, I. O. O. F., last Friday evening before a large gallery at the Central Station. Skerry contributed some brilliant shots to the fire fighters' victory but it was Fitz's long runs that brought home the bacon.

Incidentally "Cubby" Carroll has announced that the Firemen are prepared to take on all comers in 45's with or without notice.

Miss Ruth Ann Merrow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar E. Merrow of Glengarry and David W. Riley, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Riley of Church street, are among those who will be graduated at the 87th commencement of Tufts College on Sunday. Both will receive the Bachelor of Science degree.

The addition of new voices has glossed over some of the roughness heard in the middle voices last season and added strength has made it unnecessary for the first tenors to force their tone in order to be heard. In its softer passages the ensemble sang with a very agreeable tone, its best yet heard, and the members of the club still show the same infectious enthusiasm as at their first concert.

They still do the lighter things best. Their singing of the two spiritely spirituels was very good and they were equally happy in such typically glee club numbers as Doctor Foster and Mosquitoes. They sang the rapidly moving Russian song crisply with good tone and their clowning during the popular number by Bliss added much to the audience's pleasure. Of the heavier music the club sang the Morning Hymn best, though the lengthy Clipper Days and spirited Border Ballad were also well done.

Mr. Cruger, once again contributed in large measure to the success of the concert. He maintained an easy authority over his singers in an unobtrusive manner that made him truly a part of the club instead of just the leader of it. He was warmly applauded at every appearance upon the platform and the incidental soloists, Mr. Downer and Mr. Kelly were also cordially received.

Miss Renehan's pleasing voice lent itself nicely to the selections she chose while her mood was equally well tuned to the requirements of the context. She sang the Ave Maria as a simple reverent appeal which was very effective and in marked contrast from her rendition of the rhythmic Arditi music. In response to an evident demand for an encore Miss Renehan sang the favorite "I'll Take You Home Again Kathleen" in a fine soft voice and unaffected manner the audience was not slow to appreciate.

The guest soloist, Mr. Edgerly, quickly proved himself a master of his somewhat unusual instrument, the marimba, which he played with a beautiful soft rich tone and appealing harmonies. He seemed equally at home in classic or popular music, displaying technical proficiency that enabled him to cope with intricate and rapid passages with ease and no loss of tone. The rich tonal shading he achieved in Ketelby's Monastery Garden was outstanding. Recalled after the first group he played the ever popular "Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes," and after the second, more popular group "Lazy Bones" and "Star Dust."

It would be impossible to overestimate Mrs. Wood's contribution to the concert, both as accompanist for the Glee Club and for Miss Renehan. Her playing was at all times that of the true accompanist, helpful without intruding, skilled yet always in the proper vein.

Following is the personnel of the Glee Club:

First Tenors Charles R. Corwin, David R. Downe, Clifford W. England, Benjamin T. Hardie, Jr., Eric Reed, John Thornton.

Now Serving in the Armed Forces: Robert W. Armstrong, Francis T. Barnes, Jack W. Bartlett, John Downer, P. A. Goodale, Frederick B. Hall, Jr., Edmund A. Meersman, Arnold R. Penne, Frank Parsons, John A. Palmer, Edward G. Taylor, Maurice J. Tompkins, Russell B. Tompkins.

Natalie Tufts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Tufts, who formerly resided at 12 Foxcroft road, enlisted in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps in February and graduated from the officers' school at Fort Des Moines, Iowa, last Monday. SONS OF ITALY NEWS

Our "Cigarettes for Overseas Soldiers" drive is now in full swing. We are happy to say that everyone is responding in a very generous matter. We knew that such a worthy cause would receive the unselfish cooperation of every individual, merchant, factory and business person in the town. More details will be printed in later issues of the Star.

There will be a bridge and whist party at the home of Mrs. L. Capone, who lives at 17 Linden street. The bridge and whist party will be held on Tuesday evening, May 17, at 8 p. m. The proceeds will be turned over to the Winchester Ladies' Lodge "Cigarettes for Overseas Soldiers" Committee.

The Christopher Columbus Society have formed a committee to receive donations from their members. The committee for the Cigarettes for Overseas Soldiers are as follows: John Gaudioso, Salvatore Asaro, Pietro Sciascia and Michael Gambino.

John Benenato was in town over the week-end. As usual, he looked good to all us boys down at the clubhouse. How do you do it, Johnny?

Two letters were received this week, one from Beebee Russo and one from Gay Vespucci. When Beebee returned to Seymour Johnson Field in North Carolina he was promoted to the rank of sergeant. Good luck, Beebe. By the way, how long will it take you to be promoted to a 2nd lieutenant?

Gay is in the regimental headquarters office at Camp Shenango, Pa. He has been kept quite busy and he said he thrives on it. He misses the army life he enjoyed at Camp Barkeley, Texas. Was it only army life, Gay?

You see boys, through the Winchester Star you can keep in touch with each other.

The Ladies' Lodge have two members in the service. They are Mary Tucci, who is a WAVE and is stationed in Washington, D. C. and Grace Marchesi who is a WAAC and is stationed at Fort Ogelthorpe, Ga. Mary finished her training two weeks ago at Hunter College. Upon receipt of her rank, Yeoman third class, she was sent to Washington, D. C. Grace is still taking her basic training at Fort Ogelthorpe. She was in Winchester last week-end to attend her sister Angelina's wedding.

A delicious luncheon is planned for 1 o'clock followed by bridge and a fashion show. Come and bring your friends for a highly entertaining and enjoyable afternoon at Hotel Continental, Cambridge.

Among the prizes to be awarded on next Tuesday are: a beautiful bedspread, table lamp, five pairs nylon hosiery and a Swiss print. Besides these, there will be many lovely whist prizes.

Our last meeting of the season will be on Tuesday, May 25 and an enjoyable program is planned for that day. An exhibition of Chinese embroideries brought from China by Rev. George Wiseman will be the feature of the afternoon. Father Wiseman has kindly consented to tell us something of their history. It is also our annual exhibition day. If you have any beautiful hand-made article of interest, bring it to Lyceum Hall so all may enjoy seeing it. Also bring your friends. This is guest day and we shall be very glad to greet all our friends. Layettes made by the Chapter will be on display. Refreshments will be served by members of the board.

A letter of thanks from Rt. Rev. Monsignor Robert P. Barry of the Charitable Bureau, was read at the meeting on Tuesday, May 11, by sewing chairman, Mrs. George McDuffee. Father Barry wants us to know he appreciates highly the many hundreds of beautiful baby garments sent in this year to the Diocesan Charities.

Many new members were accepted to the Guild by the Executive Board at their last meeting. A full list of these members will be published at a future date.

A very delicious tea was served on last Tuesday by hostess, Mrs. John Lennon. The tea table was beautifully adorned with red roses as a centerpiece. Hostesses of the day were: Mrs. James H. Carr, Mrs. Jonathan Felt, Mrs. A. H. DeMorris, and Mrs. Edwin L. Booth. Pouring at the table were Mrs. H. F. Graves and Mrs. Hugh F. McPartland.

HARLOW RUSSELL

Harlow Russell, town meeting member, has been named chairman of Winchester for the next campaign of the Greater Boston United War Fund. Advanced to November, to conform with the National War Fund set up by the President's War Relief Board, the coming campaign is designed to meet the 1944 needs of Greater Boston Community Fund members, including Winchester Community Chest, as well as such wartime appeals as the USO-Soldiers and Sailors Committee, United Nations Relief and War Prisoners Aid.

Accepting the appointment from Merritt A. Hewett, Metropolitan Division chairman, Mr. Russell already entered wholeheartedly upon his duties because "the work of the Greater Boston United War Fund represents true patriotism." There is no "pay" in this patriotism, he added.

Assistant general manager of the Russell Box Company of Medford, Mr. Russell has taken an active part in former campaigns, as local precinct director and associate chairman for districts, as well as in the Graphic Arts Division operated from Boston headquarters. Mrs. Russell is also devoted to community interests as president of the Winchester District Nurses Association, local chest member.

The Russells live at 22 Ardley road and have three children. Mr. Russell is a graduate of Middlebury College, 1934, B. S., and a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

CUB PACK 6 NOTES

The monthly meeting of Cub Pack 6 was held at the Unitarian Church on May 7 and was attended by practically all of the Cubs contained in the six Dens of Pack 6. A uniformed delegation of members of Winchester Post, American Legion, headed by Comdr. James Blackham, were in attendance as guests of the Pack. Comdr. Blackham addressed the boys reading the Preamble to the American Legion Constitution, and elaborating upon it, bringing out forcefully the value of the four freedoms, and the responsibilities of the citizens of this country to see that they were upheld. The youngsters were deeply impressed by his remarks.

Robert Johnston and Martin Foley, both Legionnaires, instructed the boys in drill work in preparation for their appearance in the coming Memorial Day parade.

Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman, Scoutmaster, presented to 20 of the young "Cubbers" badges and other awards. Some of the new Cubs, who will be members of Den 7, made their first appearance. This Den, has recently, been added to the Pack, and will be in charge of Mrs. Ross Cunningham, assisted by Teddy Covert, who will act as Den Chief.

It was announced that Pack 6 will attend Memorial services on Memorial Day at the Unitarian Church, and will extend invitations to the Sea Scouts, Girl Scouts, and Boy Scouts to attend this service.

Assistant Scoutmaster, "Bob" Carruthers, presented to the Pack a blue ribbon awarded for excellence in the make up of the booth that was part of the annual exposition held by Fellsland Council recently at Medford. Pack 6 was the only Cub Pack to gain such an award.

At the conclusion of the meeting, it was announced to the parents and Den Mothers, who were in attendance, that a supper and entertainment would be given on May 19 for the Den Mothers who have done such an excellent job in placing Pack 6 in the enviable position that it now holds. It was also announced that on June 5 an outing would be held for Pack 6 culminating the years activities after which a supper will be served for the boys. Leo F. Garvey, is chairman of the outing committee, and will be assisted by Jim Coon, Bob Carruthers and Clint Mason.

At a recent meeting of the Executive Committee, "Stark" Mills was elected chairman, and John Foley was elected secretary. Mr. Mills will replace John Pease, who has carried on so well in the formation of the Pack, but who will leave Winchester shortly to assume a new business responsibility.

ANNUAL MEETING

The Winchester Garden Club, Mrs. Virgil Ghirardini, president, will hold its annual meeting Thursday, May 20, at 1 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Willard Hudson, 44 Winthrop street. There will be a box luncheon with dessert served by the hostess. Gardens will be visited.

A special meeting will be held on Thursday, June 10 at the home of Mrs. Warren Whitman, 30 Prospect street.

EPIPHANY CHURCH SERVICE LEAGUE ENDS AND BEGINS

With the last Council meeting at 10 o'clock and the annual reports at the post-luncheon meeting Tuesday, May 11, the Women's Division of the Epiphany Service League closed a successful year, 1942-43, and with the election of officers the League launched itself into 1943-44. In spite of war, or perhaps it would be truer to say by reason of war, the year has been markedly successful.

In some departments the always present realization of war and its strains on civilians naturally stimulated increased interest, as in Red Cross sewing and the making of surgical dressings. The group working on Tuesdays under the leadership of Mrs. Herbert Hawkes, with Mrs. Malcolm Cook assisting in transportation made 5000 more dressings this year than last. War stimulation probably affected also work for the world-wide church, such as the Mite Box gifts of Epiphany children, reported by Miss Ethel B. Davis to be larger than for 1942.

Increased giving of books and magazines for service men's libraries and hospitals, told of by Mrs. Newton Lamson, head of the parish Church Periodical Club, was natural in war time.

But holding the home front steady might seem more surprising in war conditions. The League cheered enthusiastically the two reports from the points in the line most difficult to hold, the Ways and Means Committee and the Tuesday Luncheon Group.

Mrs. Charles H. Wansker, reporting proceeds of about $250 from two suppers, gave generous credit to her co-chairman, Mrs. F. G. Chase, and her committee, Mrs. Donald Conners, Mrs. William Everett, Mrs. Donald Lovis, Mrs. William Martens, and Mrs. Paul Rocray.

Mrs. E. Clark Greiner's report of the Tuesday Luncheon Group, was followed by a merry rhymed salutation to the Soup Hostesses of the year, by Mrs. William C. Sache. This brought to her feet the keeper of happe- parish memories, Mrs. A. B. Corthell. She recalled gay rhymes from the same pen 22 years before when the Epiphany Service League was new and struggling, and in recognition of the verse-maker's services over all the years, cheering in dark times, comforting in sad times, graciously celebrating happy and victorious occasions, she moved that Mrs. Sache be elected the League Laureate. Amid laughter and applause this was unanimously acclaimed.

The report of the Evening Branch, by Mrs. Alfred Denley, was enthusiastically received. This small parish group has in this war year made $190 for its standing project, reducing the rectory mortgage, and in the past six years the Branch has earned more than $1900 for this purpose.

Mrs. Harold H. Blanchard, for the Hospitality Committee, told of new ways, in this care-less time of welcoming to the parish 32 new families.

The League recognized the basic importance of the careful work done by Mrs. S. Walter Taber, keeper of the parish directory and of the list in the armed services.

On recommendation of the Nominating Committee, Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, Mrs. Donald Heath, and Mrs. Harvard L. Mann, these new members of the Council were elected: 2nd vice president, Mrs. Harold H. Blanchard; hospitality, Mrs. John I. Lynch; ways and means, Mrs. Cedric H. Seager; Red Cross work, Mrs. P. Stewart Newton; co-chairman of work and supply, Mrs. Gerald Y. Hills and Parish housekeeper, Mrs. Francis D. Madge.

Mrs. Maurice Tolman had been elected co-chairman with Mrs. Ambrose Reasoner by the Symmes Corner Group at their annual meeting, April 30. The 1943-44 Council will include also the heads that the Tuesday Luncheon Group and the Jordan Group will elect at their annual meetings.

The luncheon was in charge of Mrs. Charles H. Wansker, assisted by the Tuesday Luncheon Group. Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker presided at the meetings.

BRITISH WAR RELIEF

Wednesday of this week was one of the days when the Winchester Unit of the British War Relief hung up some more individual records. Mrs. Minnie Fletcher brought in her 45th pair of sea boot stockings. That is a deal of knitting, 45 of those yards-long white stockings. Yet without stopping even to get her breath Mrs. Fletcher's unwearying needles are off on the 46th pair.

And Miss May Wilson brought in another afghan that she had put together and bordered. This is the 50th for her. A whole half hundred. And that means 5000 squares that her judicious eye has tastefully arranged and her deft fingers have set in place.

Another record-holder is Mrs. Hannah Smith of Manchester road, who has knitted about 2000 of these 4-inch squares. By hook or by crook she has continually managed to find yarn for this knitting, odds and ends and bit by bit since new yarn has gone to war. The short lengths added a lively charm to this afghan, many of the squares vibrant in bit-and-miss stripes to use up every inch of wool.

The chairman, Mrs. Fred Cameron, bespeaks an especially good attendance for next Wednesday, when the Unit will be doing its particular sort of spring planting in its Victory plot, planting ideas that will come up plans.

If you haven't gotten around to buying a Second War Loan Bond, stop and think what it would mean to you if our soldiers hadn't gotten round to the fight.

Prayer That Brings Results

At Casablanca, in the Southwest Pacific, and elsewhere, the world has been witnessing stirring examples of answered prayer.

Food, water, safety, greater effectiveness, and healing of sickness and wounds, have been acutely needed, and have come through prayer. Even skeptics, seeing the results, have been convinced.

What, broadly, is the meaning of these experiences? Is there a kind of prayer that can be counted on—that is definitely available and availing under all conditions? Can there be prayer without groping, without mystery, with certainty as to its results?

The answer to these questions, Christian Science shows, is an unqualified Yes. The words of the Founder of Christianity, "Ask, and ye shall receive" words which bore no hint of an exception—are revealed in this teaching as a statement of pure Science.

There is a sure method of asking; and even children often use it.

The first chapter of the Christian Science textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, explains the spiritually scientific and unfailing prayer. Study of this great chapter—to say nothing of other portions of the book—has brought healing and increased dominion to countless thousands.

The textbook and other writings of Mary Baker Eddy may be read or purchased at the Christian Science Reading Room of First Church of Christ, Scientist, 5 Winchester Terace, or at the Winchester Public Library.

You may purchase the textbook—Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures—and other writings by Mrs. Eddy at the Christian Science Reading Room.

BOAT CLUB NEWS

"DARKTOWN DOWN BEATS" WIN BOAT CLUB AMATEUR CONTEST

Before a capacity crowd who enjoyed every minute of the two hour amateur show, the "Darktown Down Beats," as hot an aggregation of senders as has ever played at the Winchester Boat Club, coped the coveted first prize in the amateur contest Thursday night, May 6. These boys, Charlie Lovejoy, Earl Spencer, Bill Wilde, Parker Symmes, Ken Wright, Ken Harvey and Andre Redding, each a slick musician in his own right, teamed up into a band that thrilled the audience whether they played sweet or hot and proved to be the favorites of the evening.

But, good as they were, they just barely beat out Sid and Sue, a father and daughter combination of Suzanne and Sidney Burr who were really swell. Sid played the piano accompaniment while his daughter sang and proved to one and all she has a mighty fine voice. Then, Sid, not to be outdone, played the piano with three pair of gloves on, and peeled them off one at a time without missing a beat of his accompaniment to a hilarious song Sue was singing. It's a nifty trick and Sid can do it.

Third prize went to lovely and graceful Yvonne Clennon, a toe dancer who should really go places in the dancing world. She possesses all the finesse of an accomplished balerina, and her offerings were appreciated by everyone.

To our way of thinking, one of the best acts of the evening was entitled "Three Girls and a Guy." The girls were Jo An Simonds, Susan Hight and Ruth McCarthy who were accompanied on the guitar by Bob Hight. These girls sang in harmony with all the sweetness and smoothness of professionals, all the while convincing everyone present that the club's youngsters are cute as well as clever.

The very young members of the club contributed much in the way of entertainment. A couple of clever recitations by Elaine Raymond and songs and piano playing by Judy and Sally being the standouts.

Another hilarious highlight of the evening was a hula dance done by none other than Sports Director, Bo Burbank. We defy any grass-skirted Hawaiian girl to appear at the club and produce a single wiggle or twist that Bo didn't include in his sensational dance.

Janet Burbank proved that Bo wasn't the only dancer in the family by doing a couple of clever tap routines after a slick rendition of I Had the Craziest Dream.

Beautiful Annette Croughwell captivated everyone with her sweet and low singing of several of today's most popular tunes. She was accompanied by Gus Pistorino.

Incidentally, Gus rates a great big hand for the important part he played in the success of the show. He devoted a lot of time rehearsing several of the acts, did a grand job of accompanying them, and then provided one of the top treats of the evening by doing a piano medley in his own inimitable way.

The Four Black Tops, Mr. and Mrs. Burt, their son and Dick Hall, provided a lot of laughs and entertainment. The two boys capably played a couple of difficult clarinet duets and then Mr. and Mrs. Burt, who were dressed as Penquins, did several amusing dance routines.

Patty Root's dad, Sheldon Root, a guest performer and a mighty fine magician, provided the top thrill of the evening by mystifying both young and old with a succession of amazing tricks.

The above covers the entire evenings entertainment except for an act billed as The Barber Shop Quartet and consisting of Comdr. Jim Newman, ex-Comdr. Don Simonds, Carl Freyer and Bob Hight and his guitar. This quartet of stalwarts depended on outrageous costumes to get them laughs and its a good thing they did, because as it happened the star of the act turned out to be a flower in Jim's lapel that kept sticking its tongue out at the audience. These boys sang loud, lustily and ludicrously and what they did to a number entitled In Der Fuehrer's Face should happen to Hitler.

The entire show was under the direction of Donald Woodward, who did a marvelous job of oranizing it and also proved to be a very capable master of ceremonies.

After the show, refreshments were served. The entertainment committee under the direction of Mrs. Janice Newman, deserve orchids for the swell job they did. The rest of the committee included: Mrs. William Hall, in charge of refreshments; Mrs. Stanley Howe, tickets; Mrs. Donald Simonds, Mrs. Sidney Burr, Mrs. George Wiswell, Mrs. Bouldin Burbank, Mrs. William Cusack and Mrs. Charles Underwood.

SUMMER CAMPING IN 1943

In a country at war the welfare of those at home is equally as important as military action and war plant production. It is in the realm of the welfare of those at home that summer camps in 1943 will make an important contribution. There are in New England 902 summer camps and last summer over 65,000 children attended them. Wartime restrictions require the adaption of many camping programs, and wartime needs will be met by conversion to a greater usefulness in the victory effort.

For older campers, both boys and girls, most camp programs this summer will include an opportunity to help in agriculture, right on the camp property in some cases and on nearby farms in others. The usefulness of city children in farm work has been questioned, and not without reason, but with training and supervision it is felt that boys and girls of high school age can be of help to the farmers.

Our nation must be healthy. For children of all ages the opportunities for physical fitness found in camp are of great importance.

The opportunity in camp of learning to live in a group democratically is a foundation for learning to accept the responsibilities and privileges of a democratic nation, and the awareness of other people developed in social living promotes an understanding of world-mindedness which is important to the peaceful future of America and other nations.

Government officials, ration boards, and the railroads are doing what they can to make camps possible because of their proved usefulness in the total educational program for the boys and girls of America.

There are camps for every pocketbook, and if reasonable care is exercised in the selection of the camp, parents may expect a significant, happy experience for their youngsters.

Fifty-three years after the birth of Jesus, history records a dramatic episode. Into the very center of Greek culture, up unto Areopagus, came a stranger, a Jew named Paul, of Tarsus, and boldly addressed the materially-minded philosophers thus: "Ye men of Athens, I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious. For as I passed by and beheld your devotions, I found an altar with this inscription, TO THE UNKNOWN GOD. Whom therefore ye ignorantly worship, him declare I unto you." Then simply and lucidly he endeavored to lift their conception of God from the material and idolatrous to the understanding that the Father of all is Mind, Spirit, in whom man lives and moves and has his being.

The Spiritualized Woman-Thought Awaits the Dawn

There is little record of the reception of his revolutionary message save that "some mocked: and others said, We will hear thee again of this matter." But it is noteworthy that among the few who glimpsed the truth he taught was a woman. At the breaking of fresh heavenly light and inspiration, is not the spiritualized woman-thought generally found awaiting the dawn? Fifty-three years before, another woman had caught a glorious vision of spiritual truth, and had brought forth a son who was destined to become the Way-shower out of all error. Eighteen centuries later another woman who had been waiting and watching for spiritual light appeared on a latter-day Mars Hill with a message even more revolutionary than that of the stranger from Tarsus. She only did she amplify his teaching as to the spiritual nature of the great First Cause, but she boldly proclaimed that since God is Mind, Spirit, all-powerful and ever-present good, creation must be spiritual and not material; that man therefore is a spiritual and not a material being, and has dominion over sickness as well as over sin.

Experiences Leading to the Discovery

Mary Baker Eddy has written that God had been graciously preparing her during many years for the great spiritual work which lay before her; and this becomes apparent when one reads of her childhood and sees the unmistakable evidences of an extraordinary spiritual-mindedness. The venerable minister, the Reverend Enoch Corser, who tutored Mrs. Eddy at one period of her childhood, is credited with this appraisal of his little pupil: "Bright, good, and pure, aye brilliant! I never before had a pupil with such breadth and independence of thought. She has some great future, mark that. She is an intellectual and spiritual genius" (The Life of Mary Baker Eddy, by Sibyl Wilbur, p. 33). It is not surprising, therefore, to find this child-thought blossomed into a womanhood of rare spiritual-mindedness, and prepared to found and lead a mighty spiritual movement. In 1866, when Mrs. Eddy was nearing her half-century milestone, she had an experience which was destined to change the whole course, not only of her own human life, but the lives of unnumbered thousands of mortals as well. In an hour of dire extremity and apparently beyond all human aid, she looked away from matter to Spirit, and experienced an unquestioned Christian healing. Without doubt, many devout people before and after Mrs. Eddy's healing have been delivered from pain and disease through a blind but unwavering faith in God; but who save she ever devoted years of unselfed, tireless effort after a healing, to find a rule or law underlying the seeming miracle?

The Christian Science Textbook

Mrs. Eddy became convinced that her cure through spiritual means was not due to a miraculous intervention of Deity; that it indicated the operation of an unknown spiritual law; that Christ Jesus therefore was not a worker of miracles, but an exponent and demonstrator of this law, and that the understanding of spiritual law would bring Christian healing today, as in the Master's time. In proof of this she proceeded to have some truly remarkable healing experiences with others. Some of these healings are recorded in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," which was published in 1875; in fact, before writing her book, Mrs. Eddy had in large measure demonstrated the truths set forth in this volume, through her healing experiences. Every forward-looking person, everyone who is truly searching for and receptive to truth, should read and study this wonderful book. If it is not convenient at the moment to purchase it, Science and Health may be borrowed from a public library, or from a Christian Science Reading Room. For one to refuse to open the covers of this book, and glimpse its marvelous message to humanity, is like a man deliberately closing his eyes to the glory of a sunrise, averring that he is quite satisfied with darkness!

What Is God?

Hear the opening statement of Science and Health (Pref., p. vii): "To those leaning on the sustaining infinite, to-day is big with blessings." Yes, this very day, this very hour, holds blessing and good for him who strives to know God, to lean on His ears and receive hold on His beneficent law. If the question is asked the average individual, Do you believe in God? the answer is generally in the affirmative, although it may be difficult to put in words just what the conception of the heavenly Father is. Many draw a material picture of the creator seeing Him as a mighty protective Being, with a form of a human man. Others may visualize God as nature, as material force or energy. Hear, then, the nineteenth-century apostle of Christ declaring the demonstrable truth about the God whom mortals have unwittingly worshiped (ibid., p. 330): "God is what the Scriptures declare Him to be,—Life, Truth, Love, Spirit is divine Principle, and divine Principle is Love, and Love is Mind, and Mind is not both good and bad, for God is Mind; therefore there is in reality one Mind only, because there is one God."

Proof That God Is

Now man, the Scriptures aver, is the image and likeness of God. Therefore man, the real man, the real selfhood of each of us, must be like Mind, Spirit, good; in other words, he is to be found in the mental, the spiritual realm. If one speaks of the manhood or womanhood of certain individuals, he does not refer necessarily to physicality, but to some aspects of their natures or thinking which allow forth true manliness or womanliness. So one's true selfhood is discernible in the reflection or expression of God who is Mind and Love and good.

Yes, says some honest doubter; but how do you know that there is such a God? When one says, I express intelligence, he proves that there is such a thing as mind; and like begets like. Therefore that which causes intelligence must be intelligent in other words, the great First Cause is Mind. What proof is there that God is Love? When one expresses or reflects unselfed love or good, he proves that there is such a thing as love. If love exists as an effect, the First Cause must be the "one altogether lovely," or infinite Love itself. When one says, I live or exist, he proves that the Father and Mother of all must be Life. The great Thomas Edison is credited with saying that the most remarkable invention in the world is a blade of grass. Certainly the simplest bud or blossom hints the existence of a mighty underlying Mind or intelligence and Life.

So the moment the Christian Scientist begins to discover God, he discovers also man, who is necessary to his Maker as His expression. Of what avail would it be to send forth rays, or a mind without thoughts, or a principle of arithmetic without number? There must be a sun and sunbeams, mind and ideas, principle and the expression thereof, for completeness, for right activity. When one has declared the truth about God and man, and has seen the specter of disease or injustice or discord banished and harmony enthroned, he can with conviction exclaim with Job, "I know that my redeemer liveth"!

Prayer in Christian Science

The Christian Scientist's prayer is a sacred, intimate communing with the Giver of all things, not a petition to divine Love, not through doubtful importunity, but through the precious realization of His nearness and the omnipotence of His law. Not to the unknown, but to the known Father does he turn—to the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning." A beautiful instance of intelligent communion with the facts about God and man is seen in the following experience, narrated in the Christian Science Sentinel.

An Englishman, a student of Christian Science, found himself on a raft in the middle of the Atlantic with ten of his shipmates, after their vessel had been torpedoed and sunk. They had neither food nor water. The following morning only five men were alive, the others having succumbed to exposure during the night. The Scientist was turning to his heavenly Father with all his heart and strength and understanding. He knew that the law of God, not luck or chance, could save him, and to this law he clung. By the second morning, he was alone on the raft, all of his companions having passed on. In a temporary agony of fear he called out, in Biblical language, "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?" Instantly these angel-thoughts came to him: "I have not forsaken thee!" and, "Fear not, for I am with thee." And then he felt confident that he would be rescued. Covering himself from the spray, he began pondering the definition of God given in the Christian Science textbook, dwelling on these synonymous terms: Mind, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, Love. (See Science and Health, p. 465.) Next he thought of man as the expression of this infinitely good God. When he had finished this righteous prayer, he looked up and saw a steamer approaching. He was soon picked up, and within a week was home in England, and shortly thereafter was expressing gratitude for his deliverance, at a Christian Science testimony meeting.

Why Some Prayers Seem Not Answered

Here is a pertinent question: Did God love that Christian Scientist more than his shipmates? Certainly not. But the Scientist was the only one of them who had learned to know and love God, and intelligently lay hold on His power and law. The Scriptures tell us that God is with us when we are with Him. Can one get a certain radio program if he is not tuned in to the station sending forth the broadcast? Can one expect to solve a problem in arithmetic if he intentionally or unintelligently turns from the fixed rules of addition, subtraction multiplication, and division?

Since time began, multitudes of mortals have shut themselves out from the love of God, and from His promises of protection and healing, because of their fear, ignorance, or self-will. If one's thoughts are filled with fear, let him not be surprised if he misses the calm, powerful assurance of omnipotent good that all is well with the children of God. If one departs from the law of Love, and hopes to solve his problems of sickness or lack or any other discord, he is making a sad mistake. The heart that is unloving or self-willed, bitter or resentful, is a nonconductor of spiritual, God-love. God's law is simply not given a chance to enter with its healing currents of good.

How surely, how quickly, is one's heart made ready for heavenly healing messages, when he with childlike humility prays in the psalmist: "Search me, O God, and know my heart: try me, and know my thoughts: and see if there be any wicked way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting."

Dealing with the Cause of Disease

Now when one asks for the healing prayers of Christian Science, let him not be surprised nor disappointed if the practitioner does not care to discuss at great length the discordant physical symptoms of the case. Bear in mind that this treatment is metaphysical, and not physical; hence the Scientist goes at once to the mental realm and begins to uncover and cast out the fears, the false laws, and the wrong thinking which are responsible for the physical discord or distress. In Science and Health Mrs. Eddy writes (p. 480): "There is an experience of so-called mortal mind. It is fear made manifest on the body."

The Remedy for Fear

How is the demon, fear, to be exterminated? By suggestion, or hypnotizing the victim into believing that he is not afraid? By a resort to intoxicants, either to dull the sensibilities or inflame a false sense of courage? Christian Scientists go happily to the Bible to find the one great and perfect remedy for fear. They find it in one of John's matchless epistles. Here it is: "There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear." What is this love? Why, simply a sense of God, understanding of God; the realization that this Love divine is all-power, is light which can know or tolerate no opposite, no darkness. Take no one's word for this; prove for yourself this very thought, fear is outrageous, lawless, never belonging to man, and never part of the Father's plan for His children; that it can be routed and permanently nullified by flooding one's consciousness with the glorious light of God—the understanding of man's eternal safety and indestructibility as God's spiritual idea.

During the first World War, a soldier who saw much action in France, and who always carried about with him the vest-pocket edition of Science and Health, said that he and some of his Scientist friends always referred to the textbook as "The Fear Chaser." Wherever possible, and especially when there seemed to be impending danger or disaster, out would come the little book, and eagerly would its inspired pages be scanned for a message of God's goodness and man's exemption from fear and harm. Many were the quick healings at the time of the great influenza scare, because the intelligent Christian Scientist was not only on the alert, his finger on and deal with the cause of the mischief—the germ of fear.

Jacob's Wrestling

The happy thing about a healing in Christian Science is the wiping out not only of the outward effect, but of disagreeable traits of character, of self-love and self-will, which our Leader calls "the adamant of error, . . . which wars against spirituality and is the law of sin and death" (ibid., p. 242). A notable example of Christ-healing is recorded in the thirty-second chapter of Genesis. It will be recalled that Jacob, the son of Isaac and the brother of Esau, was not always an exemplary citizen; in fact, he deceived his father, and deliberately stole his brother's blessing. Science and Health names duplicity and sensualism as two of his characteristics. Finally, the Bible states, "Jacob was left alone; and there wrestled a man with him until the breaking of the day." Who was the man with whom Jacob wrestled? Who but Jacob himself—the false sense of self which was responsible for all his shortcomings! How error which is not dealt with and destroyed does return to one! Yes, Jacob finally had to wrestle with Jacob; and Mrs. Eddy, in a remarkable commentary on his struggle, states that "an angel, a message from Truth and Love, appeared to him and smote the sinew, or strength, of his error, till he saw its unreality" (p. 590). If one turns back to the Biblical account, one finds no mention of an angel. What was the angel? Whence came it? In another place in the textbook our Leader gives us the answer (p. 574): "The very circumstance, which your suffering sense deems wrathful and afflictive, Love can make an angel entertained unawares." With the breaking of dawning, saving light, Jacob saw the wrestling experience as an angel, and he resolved not to let it go until it had definitely blessed him.

So complete was the work of regeneration, so surely were the errors and unlovely characteristics of Jacob eliminated, that he was given the new name of Israel, which in Hebrew means "having the power of a prince." If one has been having a severe wrestling experience with sickness or some other form of discord, let him not regard it as a calamity, and spend precious moments vainly asking, "Why?" Let the experience become an angel, which will leave one higher than it found him. Let him say with Jacob, "I will not let thee go, except thou bless me"!

Wrestling with False Appetites

Then can the Scientist lay rightful claim to the title, a child of Israel, because he has wrestled and prevailed. Many times, however, the newcomer to Science finds himself not so keen for the wrestling with every form of bondage. One student said that his physical difficulties were always speedily overcome, because they were unwanted; but he did not find himself making headway in the overcoming of a desire for liquor and tobacco, because he believed the indulgence in them to be necessary for his happiness. Finally, he said, the cigarette habit became positively an obsession with him; and while in a way wanting freedom, he did not want it wholeheartedly. And so he hugged the tatters of unlovely bondage to him intermittently—he would ask help from a Christian Science practitioner.

One day the Scientist said to him, "Decide today, now, which you want: God or cigarettes." He replied that he wanted God; and taking his stand courageously for Truth and Principle, all desire for tobacco dropped from him as a cast-off garment, and he was free. Next the desire for and belief of pleasure in intoxicating liquor left him, and he now testifies to a sense of freedom, of peace of mind and dominion never known before. His first step in this healing experience, therefore, was the gaining of the moral courage to take a definite stand for Principle. Next, he must cling to the fundamental teaching of Christian Science that real pleasure and satisfaction belong to God, Soul, harmonious spiritual consciousness, and are therefore not to be found in the realm of material sense, or sensation.

Man's Real Business

True business, as the name indicates, is the state of being busy; and the moment one glimpses his real selfhood as the expression of Mind he discovers the reason for his existence, and his real business. Could there be such a thing as an inactive, an un-busy ray of light? Activity, or true busy-ness, invariably and inevitably accompanies the outpouring of the sun's rays. The ray's business is to shine, and it shines because it is the very expression of the sun itself. Now when it is discovered that man is necessary to his Maker, that without man Mind would be unexpressed, one sees how impossible it is in divine Science for the real man to be inactive or unemployed.

The great Master gave to all mankind the picture of a successful man—man exercising his dominion over every untoward circumstance and condition. But never did he, for the fraction of a second, allow himself or others to think that he did the mighty works by himself, through his own personal human will. Plainly he stated, and truly exemplified, the fact that he lived and worked because he reflected God. He said: "The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do." And again, "My Father worketh hitherto, and I work."

There is the grand partnership into which every man, woman, and child may enter, the moment he begins to study Christian Science. Young people in school or college clothed with this precious understanding stand up to their studies and examinations without fear and confusion, knowing that Mind worketh hitherto, and then they work—reflect His intelligence. Mothers confronted with heavy home responsibilities learn through reflecting Truth and Love to drop the burdens at His feet "and bear a song away." Many students of Science in the business world are learning to pause frequently in the midst of the rush and roar of the day's machinery to commune with the divine Mind. How often are vexing problems cleared up where for possibly only a few seconds thought is turned to the glorious truth that Mind is, Principle is, and man is His expression!

"Self-denial, sincerity, Christianity, and persistence"

The statement may be made by some earnest inquirer that while the theory and logic of Christian Science appeal to him, he finds it difficult to demonstrate its truths in his experience. But says the textbook (p. 462): "There is nothing difficult nor toilsome in this task, when the way is pointed out; but self-denial, sincerity, Christianity, and persistence alone win the prize, as they usually do in every department of life." Let these four stepping-stones have a brief analysis: first, self-denial. This does not necessarily involve just the denial of some cherished desire or thing, although the consistent student will be found ever striving for temperance and the curbing of appetites. Scientific self-denial is the repudiation of a limited, discordant material sense of self, and a constant turning to the joyous realization that God, divine Mind, is the very expression of harmonious, painless, deathless Being itself. One of the hymns in the Christian Science Hymnal brings this message:

"Be true and list the voice within.
Be true unto thy high ideal.
Thy perfect self that knows no sin
That self that is the only real."

The next step, sincerity. The textbook tells us that "we never need to despair of an honest heart" (p. 8). The honest seeker after Truth may sometimes find himself on a detour but never on a path leading away from Principle. A dictionary definition of "sincere" is, "pure; unmixed." The student whose thought is honest and sincere adheres to the pure teachings of the God-inspired Leader of the Christian Science movement. His unfolding vision of the truth she teaches is unmixed with human theories of materia medica and hygiene.

The next step, Christianity. Well may one pause before this much-abused, often-used, and little-understood word. How the world needs Christian Scientists at this troublous hour! It needs men, women, and children striving not only for the letter and rule of Science but for the Master's love when he was able to separate error from the Magdalen; for the gentleness manifested in his love for little children; for his patience when he with unflagging forbearance watched over the halting spiritual footsteps of his disciples; for his moral courage when he drove the money-changers from the temple; and for his infinite compassion and unselfed love, when on the cross he looked down on his detractors and would-be assassins, and said, "Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do." Let the student of this great truth watch well that his understanding of the letter of Science does not outstrip the Christianity he is demonstrating. As the Apostle Paul says, "Though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge; and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, and have not love, I am nothing."

The last step, persistence. Have you ever seen the mighty salmon jumping waterfalls in its effort to swim upstream to the spawning grounds? These remarkable fish will leap into the air, only to be washed down-stream by the relentless torrent. Sometimes they are hurled against jagged rocks, and are bruised and battered; but again and again they dash and leap into the very teeth of the cataract, until finally their persistence and bravery are rewarded, and on they go undaunted to their destination. What lessons humankind could learn from this extraordinary persistence! What rewards for him who challenges despair, and carries on resolutely and hopefully in spite of obstacles and difficulties! Now, to hope is to trust confidently that good will come; therefore hope is never despairing, never forlorn. It must ever be at the standpoint of expectation of good. These beautiful lines express the scientific conception of hope:

"It is no day-dream of a dim 'Perhaps'
Nor castle-building reverie which saps
The endeavor of the present. It is not
Some indistinct desire that my lot
Shall somehow shape itself to different mold
At my mere whim, which, like a tale that's told,
Lives but an empty moment.
None of these
Is Hope, sister of Faith. It is the certainties
That victory's wreath already rims my brow,
And God's good gifts are given, here and now!"

—Warwick James Price

There Is No Defeat in Truth

With gratitude, and an ever-increasing expectancy of good, the Christian Scientist, fixing his gaze on the harmonious, spiritual facts of being, again and again sees the enemies called sickness, pain, appetite, and lack put to flight. Sometimes the battle is quickly won and again patience, fortitude, and persistence are the reinforcements needed before the smoke of conflict lifts. And Christian Scientists are making definite headway in their warfare with the so-called last enemy, death. In thousands of instances the "grim reaper," as it is called, has been halted, or vanquished, when one refuses to consent to its argument and exclaims with the Psalmist, "I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord." A veritable multitude of students of Science can testify to the fact that at least a fuller understanding of Truth is enabling them to see the sting of death lifted from their experience. They have learned that there can be no such thing as defeat in Truth, and that a Christian soldier who goes from our sight, clinging to the facts about God and man, must be aroused and awakened to what Mrs. Eddy calls "a rich blessing of disbelief in death, and a higher realization of heaven" (The First Church of Christ, Scientist, and Miscellany, p. 297).

The consciousness, therefore, that man has not been annihilated, but is "living, loving, acting, enjoying" (ibid., p. 139), brings a peace and comforting to the human heart which is healing balm indeed. One student told of the speedy silencing of thoughts of grief, when she would rebuke the error thus: "You are nothing but a claim of selfishness! You would make me weep and mourn and believe in separation, when all God's children are deathless and inseparable ideas in Mind!" Resolutely turning from sense-testimony such a whispered, "Father, I thank Thee!" angels would come and minister unto her; in other words, a priceless consciousness of man's indestructible oneness with God and His ideas would pierce the gloom, silence the heartsore and confirm the promise of a much-loved hymn that "earth has no sorrow that Love cannot cure."

The Days of World Upheaval

How unspeakably grateful for some understanding of Truth is the student of Christian Science to these stirring days of world upheaval! He sees in the present conflict not a struggle between jealous, selfish, or greedy nations, but the inevitable uncovering and bringing to the surface for destruction of the errors of the carnal mind. The Master predicted a tremendous stirring of the muddy river-bed of human thought, through the second coming of the Christ, Truth. Who can deny that in these days humanity is witnessing the reappearing of the healing truth which Christ Jesus taught? Can it be called just a coincidence that since Mrs. Eddy's discovery in 1866 of the truth about God and man the thought of the world has experienced the most amazing overturning and unfoldment?

In a little over half a century, astounding inventions and new thoughts have thrust aside freedom-limiting and bondage underwamed of by our ancestors; and slowly but surely the idea of Christian brotherhood of the free Christian way of life, and of the dignity and rights of the individual, has been dawning on the darkened, selfish thought of mortals. The upheaval, or "chemicalization," as Mrs. Eddy denominates the purifying action of Truth, may, in the language of Scripture, cause men's hearts to fail them for fear; yet the promise of the Bible and Science and Health is that he who stands with his hand in the Father's will emerge from the fiery ordeal untouched, and with even "the smell of fire" on him; will come forth with dross consumed and gold refined.

The Present Great Crusade

Centuries ago, Christian knights set out upon a crusade to wrest from infidel hands the Holy City, Jerusalem. How much nobler, more far-reaching is the crusade upon which right-thinking, freedom-loving men and women are embarked today! The pagan and infidel enemy today insolently prates about a "new order"; but there is nothing new about it. It is all very, very old. It is the carnal mind's age-old creed of brute force, ruthless superstition, intolerance, submergence of man's individual rights and freedom and subservience of man to the state. In a word it is the creed of anti-Christ—everything that is anti-Christian.

To human sense, it may be said that today mad dogs seem to be at large, and must be captured and subdued; and this not only for the safety of the democratic nations, but for the very peoples who have bred and unleashed the ferocious beasts. However, the capturing and chaining of the dangerous animals is not the goal of the present-day crusade. Next must come the healing of the madness, the distemper, in order that "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness" and the Christian ideal of justice, freedom, and brotherhood, may have access to and an abiding place in the affections and lives of all mankind. And where does this healing start? Let each man, woman, and child answer, In my own thinking! Is there war in my thinking? Is there selfishness and domination there? Is divine Love being enthroned?

Enlisting for Service

A great privilege is before the human family today; and it is the priceless privilege of enlistment in the Christian crusade of liberation. In uniform or civilian clothes, in defense work or other needful activity, everyone should feel the call to service at this pregnant hour. Not everyone can shoulder a musket, operate the controls of an airplane, or sail a ship, but all can serve in some capacity and all can pray. The Christian Scientist has faith in his prayers. He believes the Scriptural statement that "the effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man (a right-thinking man) availeth much." He remembers the accounts in the Bible of those devout, trusting people who prayed, who looked for deliverance to a power apart from matter, and who were blessed with the Psalmist, "The Lord is on my side; I will not fear. What can man do unto me?"

The Lord, omnipotent Mind, is with them who are with Principle, and it is the sacred duty and privilege of everyone who is beginning to understand God as Principle to hold up the hands of those who are standing against aggression and tyranny. Let consecrated moments be spent daily declaring the power and presence of the one Mind. Giving of money and material service, while commendable and sometimes necessary, is not enough. Our public servants, our defense workers, and our armed forces need the prayers of those who are beginning to know God. They need protection against the subtle and insidious but definite propaganda of those agencies which would befuddle and separate the forces of democracy.

In her message to The Mother Church, written in the year of the Spanish-American War, the inspired Leader sent her followers a call to arms which may well be heeded today. She wrote: "Pray for the prosperity of our country, and for her victory under arms; that justice, mercy, and peace continue to characterize her government, and that they shall rule all nations. Pray that the divine presence may still guide and bless our chief magistrate, those associated with his executive trust, and our armed forces; and give to our congress wisdom, and uphold our nation with the right arm of His righteousness" (Christian Science versus Pantheism, p. 14).

In a hymn in the Christian Science Hymnal this question is asked:

"What can we do to work God's work,
To prosper and increase
The brotherhood of all mankind,
The reign of the Prince of Peace?

What can we do to hasten the time,
The time that shall surely be,
When the earth shall be filled with the glory of God
As the waters cover the sea?"

And in the following verse comes the answer:

"March we forth in the strength of God
With the banner of Christ unfurled,
That the light of the glorious Gospel of truth
May shine throughout the world;
Fight we the fight with sorrow and sin,
To set their captives free,
That the earth may be filled with
the glory of God
As the waters cover the sea."

BOY SCOUT NOTES

It has been officially announced that Cub Pack No. 6, Winchester, is the first place winner on the sale of tickets for the 1943 Scout Exposition that was held at the Roberts Junior High School in Medford in April.

This Pack has been organized less than one year and yet this group of new boys went out and made a real job of selling tickets and showed up every other organization in the entire Council in selling the greatest number of tickets per boy.

A special cash award is being presented to the Pack for their fine effort.

WEEK-END FIRES

The Fire Department had its first run of the week-end Saturday at 12:06 p. m. for a brush fire on Cemetery and. As it in the afternoon there was a hot grass fire at the rear of the home of Mr. Harry Bigelow on Ranger ridge.

During the height of the late afternoon rain and wind storm at 5:30 the Chief's car went to Church and Central streets where a live wire was reported blown down. The Police also answered this call and detoured traffic for a time until the danger was taken care of by linemen.

Sunday's only run was at 5:22 p. m. for a brush fire at Robinson circle.

Hutchins, were held Saturday, May 8, in the Marshall Memorial Chapel, Lexington, with Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, officiating. Following cremation at Mt. Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge, the ashes will be interred in Fryeburg, Me.

Mrs. Hutchins leaves three daughters, Mrs. Harry G. Davy of this town, Mrs. J. F. Lucas of Cambridge, Mrs. Shirley A. Duncan of Long Island, N. Y., and a son, B. B. Hutchins of Los Angeles, Cal.

FITZGERALDS HAVE NEW GOVERNMENT CONTRACT

The James J. Fitzgerald Contracting Company of Oak street was on Tuesday awarded by the Massachusetts State Department of Public Works the contract to construct approximately two miles of macadam road in the Town of East Longmeadow, near Springfield.

The road is a "defense access" road and is being built with Federal funds under the supervision of the State Department of Public Works. Mr. Nicholas Fitzgerald told the Star his company would commence the job the last of this week and would keep about 25 men busy on it until the middle or last of August.

The Fitzgerald Contracting Company has already handled several large defense jobs for the Government in a satisfactory manner.

Shortly before 6 o'clock Sunday, Officers James Flaherty and Stanley Mullen found two saddle horses on upper Main street at Swanton street. Both had halters on but no other harness. They were tied up in Cullen's barn on Winchester place and their description broadcast. Their owner, John L. Krebo of 280 Mishawum road, Woburn, came for the animals, stating they had gotten out of his pasture.

To the Honorable the Judges of the Land Court for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Respectfully represents Aline Poirier of Winchester, in the County of Middlesex, and said Commonwealth, that she is owner of a certain lot of land with the buildings thereon, situate in Winchester, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth, bounded and described as follows:

Southeasterly by Stevens Street, ninety (90) feet; Southwesterly by land of Downer, one hundred eighty (180) feet; Northwesterly by land of Stevens, ninety (90) feet; and seventy-one and three-fourths (71¾) feet, Northeasterly by land of Lillian L. Campbell, one hundred eighty (180) feet.

That the record title to said lot of land is clouded by two mortgages, one given by A. P. Palmer to Lydia W. Ford, dated November 2, 1886, recorded February 16, 1889, and duly recorded Book 1966, purporting to secure a note for $500 payable in two years, with interest semi-annually, and the other given by Abram P. Palmer, to James Houston, dated July 16, 1874, and duly recorded Book 1417, Page 165, purporting to secure a note for $500, payable in one year with interest semi-annually, which mortgages appear to be undischarged, unassigned and unforeclosed on and by the record.

That for more than twenty years after the expiration of the time limited for the full performance of said conditions no payment has been made and no other act done in recognition of said mortgages; and

That the mortgagees named in said mortgages and those claiming under them have been in uninterrupted possession of said land for more than twenty years after the expiration of time limited in said mortgages for the full performance of the condition thereof.

WHEREFORE your petitioner prays that after appropriate notices a decree may be entered in the foregoing allegations as authorized by Section 15, Chapter 240 of the General Laws as amended by Chapter 29 of the Acts of 1924.

ALINE POIRIER

The warm weather of last Friday and Saturday brought a group of boys to Wedge Pond on the latter afternoon for a bit of swimming. Several of the better swimmers swam across the pond and two less expert made the trip in precarious fashion on inflated inner-tubes. The terrific wind and rain-storm that came up during the latter part of the afternoon scattered them along with the victory gardeners on the old Country Day School lot, the tennis players near by and the members of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association who were in session on the beach courts.

MEMORIAL DAY

Town to Have One-Day Observance

Plans for Memorial Day, as announced by Winchester Post, 97, American Legion, call for a single day observance to be held on Sunday, May 30, the actual holiday.

Senior Vice Commander James T. McMullen, chairman of the Legion's Memorial Day committee, has arranged to hold the annual religious service at the Church of the Epiphany at 11 o'clock, with the rector of the church, Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, officiating. Legionnaires under Comdr. James W. Blackham with their colors and color guard will march to the church in uniform, and all veterans of World War I and other service men who happen to be in town are urged to join them. The veterans will meet at the Legion House on Washington street at 10:30 a. m.

Forming at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon the usual parade to Calvary Cemetery will take place at 2 with a service to be conducted by a Catholic clergyman at the War Memorial. Returning to the Legion House there will be a brief rest period before the parade for Wildwood Cemetery forms at 3:45. The service in Wildwood will be held as usual at the Soldier's Monument on the hill with a Protestant clergyman officiating.

Several service organizations have been invited to participate in the parades and a more definite announcement of the roster will be made next week. It is expected that the newly organized Winchester unit of the Massachusetts State Guard will be in line.

Holding the entire Memorial Day observance on one day is a departure from previous procedure made necessary by the fact that under war conditions many members of the Legion Post and other citizens will be at work on Monday, May 31, when the holiday would ordinarily be celebrated.

For Legionnaires the program will open on Thursday, May 27, when the annual pre-Memorial Day banquet will be held at the Post headquarters, at 6:30 p. m. Saturday afternoon, May 29, Post members and other volunteers will meet at 2 o'clock to decorate Veterans graves in Wildwood, Calvary and other cemeteries.

SENIORS INDUCTED GRADUATION DAY

Waiving the opportunity to be deferred temporarily by the simple expedient of application in writing to the local Draft Board, 10 senior boys to be graduated from Winchester High School on May 28 will on that day report for induction into the armed forces. However they will elect to return to their homes to await their call to active duty in a week or so, thus enabling them to participate in their graduation exercises.

Those boys who will have a double reason for remembering the day are Cosimo Simonetta, Robert Wilkinson, Frank Buzzotta, Gaspare Lentine Robert Pynn, Robert Donahue, Giacomo Errico, Clark Collins, Dean Squires and Bernard Rassat.

NEW TRAIN TIME

New train time will go into effect on Sunday on the Boston and Maine. Time tables in convenient pocket form may be obtained of Butterworth the Jeweler, at Barnes' Dry Goods Store and at the Winchester National Bank.

Most of the changes affecting Winchester include the trains now on the regular week-day schedule which will continue to run on holidays. Some other trains vary a minute or two, including some Sunday trains.

BETTER HOMES GARDEN CLUB WORKING FOR VICTORY

Flowers and Gardening at Fort Devens

Gardening for Victory is more than a slogan to the members of Winchester Better Homes Garden Club, for their war work program is including many contributions to the Lovell Hospital at Fort Devens.

At the May meeting held in the Art Gallery of the Library, on Wednesday afternoon, of this week it was announced that the club's gift of 25 rose plants to be used for Chapel decorations at the hospital Easter Sunday, were greatly appreciated. And it was voted to continue the plan of last summer and collect flowers once a month. These will be taken to Fort Devens. This is a work sponsored by all the clubs in the Massachusetts State Federation of Garden Clubs. It is a contribution that the entire town can enjoy giving to, from its many beautiful gardens. The day and dates in June, July, August and September when a committee will be at the Town Hall to collect the flowers, will be announced later. Not content to furnish only the colorful fresh flowers to the hospital it was also announced by Mrs. James A. Newman the president, that the Winchester group had accepted the sponsoring of the Surgical Ward Victory garden, another Victory project of the Federation. Transportation allowance of gas is being made in many localities for those who are to go to the Fort and assist with the planting and care of these gardens.

The guest speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Joseph Eno, of Haverhill, who judged and gave constructive criticism to the members, who brought to the meeting, arrangements of flowers for various settings. Mrs. Norman Mitchell talked informally on the suitability and the arrangement of flowers for occasions and for decoration. Those who had brought beautiful and interesting flower pictures were Mrs. Ghirardini, an arrangement for a hall, Mrs. Goodhue, for a living room, Mrs. Harold Twombly a setting for a coffee table and Mrs. Mitchell a flower dish for a bed-room. Also Mrs. Frederick Russell arranged for a small table and Mrs. Kirkwood a modernistic one for a dining room table.

Before the meeting, the club board entertained Mrs. Eno at luncheon.

The next meeting of the club members is to be June 2 in the delightful gardens of Mrs. William L. Davis of Central green. This meeting is for members only and they will hear Mrs. Herbert Hosmer of Concord speak on Herbs for Victory. Tea will be served and each is requested to call Mrs. Newman if attending.

DR. TEHYI HSIEH RETURNS TONIGHT

Dr. Tehyi Hsieh was the guest preacher at the Unitarian Church at the morning service last Sunday. Though he spoke for one hour the large congregation hung on his every word. With masterly skill he described the formation of the New China, its language, education, and religion. As an eminent Christian and a prominent Mason, he paid the highest tribute to the great contributions of the missionaries and other leaders from America and Europe who have aided China. He gave an encouraging picture of the growth of Christianity in China and of the remarkable position of Madame Chiang, whom he extolled as a world leader as well as a Chinese Saint.

At the Chinese supper tonight he will describe present conditions in China and tell something of its future development.

In addition to Dr. Tehyi Hsieh, Rev. Isabelle Phelps who is a missionary recently returned from China, will be a guest speaker. In addition to two world tours she made repeated visits to the Pacific Basin and in 1939 returned to China to do famine relief work and organize religious education programs. SELECTIVE SERVICE NEWS

The Local Selective Service Board has been advised that beginning May 17 the period between induction into the Army and subsequent call to active duty from the Enlisted Reserve Corps has been increased from one week to two weeks in length. This will affect the induction group sent forward from this Local Board who are under orders to report on May 28.

It is still possible for inductees who do not wish to accept this furlough to go forward immediately to Fort Devens for active duty by simply declining to take the two weeks furlough.

The Board is further advised that at some time prior to Sept. 1, 1943, the length of this furlough between induction and call for active duty will be extended to three weeks in length.

The Local Selective Service Board has issued over 100 orders to registrants to report for physical examination and induction into the armed forces whereby these registrants are instructed to report to the Winchester Town Hall at 7:15 a. m. Friday, May 28. These registrants will be escorted to special cars which will be attached to the rear of the 7:59 a. m. train for Boston where they will be met by Army trucks and taken to the Induction Station at 1005 Commonwealth avenue, Boston. They will there given complete physical examination and if found acceptable will be sworn into the branch of the service for which they are accepted and directed, if they are accepted in the Army, to report to their Selective Service Board two weeks later for delivery to Fort Devens, or if accepted in the Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard, will receive instructions by mail to report to an enlistment station. All registrants, except those who decline to take the two weeks furlough, will be returned to their homes late in the afternoon.

MRS. CHRISTINA ADA JOHNSTON

Mrs. Christina Ada Johnson of 7 Myrtle street, widow of James Johnston and a resident of Winchester for more than 40 years, died suddenly Friday afternoon, May 14. She collapsed while in McCormack's Pharmacy and was removed to the Winchester Hospital, but died before medical assistance could reach her.

Mrs. Johnston was the daughter of Francis and Catherine (Docherty) Panton. She was born May 22, 1871, in Roseneath, P. E. I., was married in the Dudley Street Baptist Church, Boston, in 1893, and came to Winchester with her husband from Dorchester in 1900.

For many years Mrs. Johnston made her home at 14 Fletcher street, her husband being a well known carpenter and builder. He died June 14, 1932. She was a member of Victoria Rebekah Lodge and of the First Baptist Church, being actively identified as a worker with the Thrift Shop run by the ladies of that church. She had been working at the shop as usual on the afternoon of her death, being out on an errand when she was stricken.

Mrs. Johnston leaves two sons, James Leslie Johnston of Wakefield and George Warren Johnston of this town; a brother, Hector Panton of Niagara Falls, N. Y.; and three grandchildren, Audrey and Janet Johnston of Wakefield, and Marjorie Johnston of Winchester.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Kelley and Hawes Chapel with Rev. R. Mitchel Rushton, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

WINCHESTER "ALERT" GOOD

Defense Director Harold S. Fuller announced that he was well pleased with Winchester's response to last night's alert which commenced shortly before 7 o'clock and continued until 7.43. Chief Air Raid Warden Franklin J. Lane announced the defense personnel was about 90 per cent mobilized and the report center was with one exception fully manned. Fire Chief John J. Gorman reported that everything in his department moved smoothly, in marked contrast to Tuesday's alert. The featured incident was a big block buster striking the apartments at 75 Church street. One confusing thing was the blowing of the 7.30 whistle which caused many people to believe the raid was over.

BADLY CUT SWIMMING IN WEDGE

Clarence Farrell, 15 year old son of Police Officer and Mrs. James E. Farrell of 20 Lebanon street, sustained a badly cut left foot while swimming Monday afternoon at the rear of the First Congregational Church. According to Farrell he sustained the cut when he dove into the water.

Patrolman John J. Dolan of the Police Department answered a call to the Pond and found that Farrell had been given first aid by boys who were swimming with him, his foot had been bandaged and a tourniquet applied above his knee.

Officer Dolan took Farrell to the hospital where he was treated by Dr. Philip J. McManus. He had sustained a long, especially deep gash across the big muscle and tendons just to the left of the instep, several stitches being necessary to close the wound. He was held at the hospital over night and taken to his home in the Police car Tuesday forenoon.

CHILD STRUCK BY CAR

Sunday afternoon shortly after 5 o'clock Elizabeth McHugh, 10, of 51 Clark street, while crossing Main street north of the bridge near Blanchard's lumber yard, was struck by a green colored sedan headed south on Main street.

The driver of the car, described as a tall, light haired man, got out of the car and asked the McHugh girl if she was hurt. Upon being told she was not, he got into his machine and drove off.

The girl continued across the street and collapsed on the Park property beyond the sidewalk where she was discovered by Officer William E. Cassidy. John and Helen Hogan of 38 Salem street were with her but none could give an accurate description of the car involved.

Officer Cassidy took the McHugh girl to the office of Dr. Philip J. McManus, who found she had sustained a slight concussion. After treatment she was taken home.

CIGARETTE CAMPAIGN ON

Governor Leverett Saltonstall has endorsed the ten million cigarette drive now being sponsored throughout the state by the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts, Sons of Italy, for our fighting forces overseas.

In endorsing the drive His Excellency stated, "The Sons of Italy are doing a fine service in making life more comfortable for our boys overseas. Your campaign deserves wide support throughout the state and I wish you success."

Cigarettes purchased with the money raised will be donated to American boys on fighting fronts regardless of descent. Committees have been formed throughout the state to help in the drive. Joseph Gorrasi, grand venerable, is general chairman.

The Peoples' Edict

Money to pay for the war, yes; but no money for frills in the civil operations of any of our governing bodies. That is the edict of the American people.

TUESDAY LUNCHEON GROUP HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

Mrs. Maxwell McCreery was hostess to the Tuesday Luncheon Group of the Parish of the Epiphany at their annual meeting May 11. Chairman in charge of the afternoon's tea was Mrs. Charles Hart. Mrs. E. Craig Greiner, leader of the group for the past two years, presided at the business meeting. In finishing her term she had the satisfaction of knowing that a year and a half of war had not cost the group any of their established services to the parish. They voted their usual monthly sum to the parish welfare committee for 1933-44 and turned over as an operating balance to the new officers $100.

The group elected these leaders for the coming year:

Chairman, Mrs. Maxwell McCreery
Vice Chairman, Mrs. Charles Troast
Treasurer, Miss Dorothy Hall
Secretary, Mrs. Walcott Thompson
Tea Chairman, Mrs. Herbert Wadsworth

Mrs. Greiner carried over to the tea meeting the nosegoy of rhymes honoring the Tuesday Luncheon Group that had been presented at the meeting of all parish women earlier in the day, and warmly approved.

"New songs are written every day
For those who go to war.
There's one for WAACS and one for the WAVES.
They are turned out by the score.
But mine would be sung for a Home Front Band,
For a loyal, valiant group;
The cheerful, efficient, tireless girls who have served our Tuesday Soup."

On the easy rhymes galloped, enumerating the many drawbacks that war had created for them in their homes and in their special Tuesday tasks, and counting up the leaders the Tuesday group has furnished also in all-parish offices and committees.

"Like men on land or in the air
Or on the deep blue ocean
These patient working privates here
Deserve a quick promotion.
"They have richly won their honors,
They should have their stripes and bars
Medals or ribbons or crosses
Or bright five-pointed stars!"

But lacking such tangible rewards the Service League offered its cheerful re-enlistment for 1943-44:

We'll not forget your courageous year
We look ahead with naught to fear.
Like the Pilot, who called to the Bombadier;
'We've done it before,' he paused; and then
'We've done it before, and we'll do it again!'"

TENNIS TOURNAMENT BEGINS

On Saturday, May 29, at 2:30 p. m. the Winchester Tennis Association will begin its annual spring get-acquainted doubles tournament at the Palmer street courts. Owing to the sad, unseasonable weather not many adults have as yet tried out the courts which Tom McGowan and his men have been putting into condition, but reports from a few early birds as well as from the High School tennis teams indicate that six courts are now in excellent shape. If the weather permits, the other four ought to be equally good by the time the tournaments begin.

In its usual attempt to please everybody the Association will hold concurrently four types of doubles. First, and most important, the family doubles. Rumor has it that some lucky families plan to enter two or three teams, so that competition ought to be keen and, possibly, complicated. To care for those lacking willing "membres-de-famille" and also to let lady luck have a hand, the following draw doubles will be held: men's, women's and mixed. For the indispensable prizes each entrant for each event will be assessed 25 cents, a paltry sum, when you think of the fun to be had.

Since the draw must be made before the 29th, get your entry in early. Register with Mrs. Wilcox at the courts, or telephone Warren Branch 1097-R, Jim Riley 1431-M, or Jim Ware 0945-W. If the weather cooperates, here is your chance to pass a jolly holiday week-end surrounded by all the comforts of home, and all the while save gas for its better use against Hitler and the Japs.

CHAMPS IN DOUBT

Regular play was resumed by the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association last week-end after the excitement occasioned by the appearance of Lt. Sherm Dodge at the courts. Before reporting the results of play we hasten to record that at the special session held during Sherm's invasion of the beach, Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham had the distinction of covering a double ringer, thrown by the Secretary, and in the flurry of reporting the aerial flinging of the Association's aviator member this praiseworthy achievement was overlooked.

Attention is now called to it and full Association honor accorded, by decree of President Royal P. Teele, who, if he does not like the Pridham sky-scraper shoe, is still a fair man and just.

Royal came within the ace of being stripped of the presidential toga again last week-end. Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine Champ and one of the most persistent doubters of Mr. Teele's right to the royal purple, had just asked the Secretary to determine if a quorum of voting members was present to decide whether some new leader should not be chosen, when the President literally pulled himself up by his bootstraps to retain his exalted place by the skin of his teeth.

Mr. Teele first drew the Secretary as a partner and the combination won two straight matches, the first from Mr. Butters and Mr. Pridham, a noteworthy feat; and the second from H. "Tiffany" Knowlton and his pedagogic friend, "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the pride of Stowe and champion of all Nahna-setts. Winning from McLaughlin at all is worthy all praise, but when the victory is annexed 25-1, nothing short of a fanfare of trumpets is indicated. We will pass lightly over the fact that Royal and the Secretary won their second game from Willie and Hennie 25-22 and concentrate on that 25-1 score. There are few like it in the annals of the Association with McLaughlin on the losing end, and when you add to that the fact that the winning score of the second game against Mr. Butters and Mr. Pridham was a cool 25-3 you have some indication of how well Mr. Teele was going up to then.

He and the Secretary were divided by popular acclaim after disposing of the pedagogues, and the Secretary, having had luck in the matching, did not return to play. Mr. Teele, however returned to the wars and paired with Mr. McLaughlin, to win from Mr. Knowlton and Mr. Pridham and then from Mr. Butters and Mr. Gardner.

In neither match did he distinguish himself. Indeed his playing was so elementary that Mr. Butters trembled lest some stranger should arrive at the beach seeking the Association's leader and it would be necessary to point out Mr. Teele as the occupant of this high post. It was in purely this spirit of the greatest good for the greatest number, the old pro bono publico and e pluribus unum stuff that Arthur offered the suggestion that nominations for a new president be advanced.

Startled by the suggestion and thoroughly aroused by the sympathetic reception it was accorded by the members present, Mr. Teele flung a double ringer which was his sole contribution to Mr. McLaughlin's winning the second game from Mr. Butters and Mr. Gardner.

Arthur and Herb had won the first game, 25-23, and they blame near took the deciding contest of the series, pulling themselves up from a 16-8 clocking to a 24-23 score before Mr. Teele threw the ringer that decided the issue.

This hooker saved the Teele scalp for at least another week and sent him home reasonably happy, in spite of McLaughlin's rather pointed remarks concerning the presidential pitching. In passing it might be said that Mr. Pridham, official score-keeper for the final match, announced the count habitually as McLaughlin, so much; Gardner, so much; indicating that others heside President Teele weren't doing so darned well either!

Locals Blew Four Run Lead in 6-5 Defeat

Winchester High lost what looked like a certain Middlesex League victory on Manchester Field last Friday afternoon when its nine was edged by Reading, 6-5 after leading 5-1 going into the 7th.

Harvey Clarke, tall right-hander, had been going very well up to the 7th, yielding but a single unearned run in the first inning when two infield errors permitted a hit to be converted into a tally.

In the 7th Ahearn was safe on Sammy Tibaudo's error. Dunn dropped a hit in center and when Roche muffed the ball both runners added a base. Michelini got one of those handle hits that none of the infield could play anywhere, bringing in Ahearn and Twoomey's double to left scored Dunn.

McGovern relieved Clarke and walked Quinlan. Neagle hit to right bringing in Twoomey and advancing when Swymer bobbled on the ball. Quinlan reached third. Theodora fanned and McGovern threw out Tompkins but Quinlan scored on the out with the winning run. Teel fanned to end the inning.

Winchester got a man to second with one out in the 8th, but both Callahan and Swymer fanned. In the 9th Nihan batting for McGovern fanned and so did Tompkins, batting for Saraco. Walsh ended it with a fly to Theodora in left.

The locals put over two in the first. Saraco was hit by Ahearn and went all the way around on Walsh's hefty double to right. Walsh finally scoring on a passed ball. Saraco hit to start the third. Walsh hoisted to Teel. Sam Tibaudo was safe when Fennelly dropped his drive in right and Jim Tibaudo's one-shot to left filled the bases. Roche got a hit on a topped roller to Dunn when no one covered first, Saraco scoring. Murphy fanned on a called third strike and Callahan went down swinging with the cushions jammed.

Two more came over in the 6th on hits by Roche and Callahan, two fielder's choices and a base on balls.

Sammy Tibaudo made the feature fielding play of the game in the 4th when he took Teel's bid for a hit over second with one hand on the run and threw the runner out with a perfect peg to first. The summary:

WINCHESTER WON CLASS C RELAY HONORS

Winchester High broke Belmont's seven year winning streak in the Class C division of the 17th annual Massachusetts High School Relay Carnival at Belmont last Saturday, nosing out Mel Wenner's runners, 16-14. The local boys had the better balance, taking firsts in the mile and two mile races while placing second in the quarter and half. Watertown's beating out Belmont for second in the two mile race gave Winchester its first.

The win was especially sweet for Coach Smith and his charges who were by no means satisfied that Belmont had the better team after losing to the Red and Blue in the triangular games at Belmont last week.

Newton won the Class D or senior competition, dethroning Medford, last year's winner, and Concord repeated its 1942 Class B victory. St. John's High of Danvers, represented by the combined high and prep school runners, won the class for parochial schools.

Following is the Class C summary:

Two Miles

Winchester (Kevin Burke, Hugh Hawkes, Parker Symmes, Dick Briggs vs Belmont vs Watertown. Won by Winchester; 2nd, Watertown; 3rd, Belmont.

WINCHESTER AT NEWTON SATURDAY

Winchester High will compete in the State Interscholastic track and field games at Dickinson Stadium, Newton, tomorrow and should do pretty well in its class.

Weakness in the field events will hurt the locals championship chances, for Fred Lindberg aside Winchester has little to offer in the jumps and shot. Lindberg, on form ought to get a piece of the high jump and Capt. Dick Briggs, will take plenty of beating in the mile. Paul Blake, Johnny Ottiano, Frank DiMambro, Phil Ewell and Fran McGlynn should score in the shorter running events.

ROYCE RANDLETT PROMOTED

Royce Randlett, former well known Winchester boy and son of Mrs. John B. Nichols of Watertown, formerly of this town, was promoted May 1 from the grade of ensign to that of junior grade lieutenant in the United States Naval Reserve. Lt. Previous to going to Arizona she made her home with her aunt, Mrs. Frank W. McLean at 15 Kenwin road. Her sister, Cpl. We note the agitation for cleaner towns and cities. The rubbish and litter filling streets and open spaces has become such that some citizens are wondering whether we are living in a pig pen or a civilized community. All during our school life, Winchester teachers devoted a specified period on occasion to lecture their classes on civic cleanliness and neatness. Apparently this custom was abondoned years ago, for we have yet to find a pupil who has lately received such instruction. To anyone passing through our Common on a Monday morning before the Park Department has cleaned it, or who wanders about some of our center streets, the lectures could well be revived. Years ago The Fortnightly was civic-minded enough to interest itself in this matter, and at one time maintained trash barrels at various places about town. It, to, could well take up the feature again.

We pose as no signal expert but it seems to the Star that a large part of the confusion connected with air raid practice alerts is occasioned by the complex system of audible alarms. One set of toots and wails means one thing, another means something else, one person thinks the raid is on, another says not yet, traffic is halted by one group of officers and permitted to move by others waiting for another signal they haven't yet heard. The result is no one knows where he is at, the public confidence is undermined by air raid personnel who aren't sure of themselves, generally through no fault of their own, and in the end the average individual decides to ignore the whole business. Now we do not believe anyone is indifferent to the dangers of bombing from the sky nor unwilling to co-operate with those who seek to protect public safety in the event of an actual air raid. But until the powers that be work out a simple understandable alarm system, that means what it says when it says it, the public response is not going to be satisifactory.

The matter of including our local Post Office in the Boston postal district is before us again. It crops up every so often. Now the entering wedge is centered on the discriminatory ruling concerning the three-cent postage. We have always opposed losing our Winchester Post Office to the benefit of Boston politicians. Our Post Office, like all Winchester civic institutions, is well conducted and distinctly a town affair. We have been able to run it up to the present date. Let us continue to do so. We note the recent questionnaire issued by the appointed committee working on this matter, and from its tone we feel that the committee is well committed to annex us with Boston. We regret this. While we can find many objections to entering the Boston postal district, we cannot find any advantages—outside the fact that we are compelled to pay the three-cent postage. That feature is discriminatory, and if the committee desires to improve our postal service, it might well turn its attention to this elimination without yielding to any pressure through unfair ruling and improper zoning. If the three-cent postage becomes nation-wide, as has been predicted, we certainly would not benefit ourselves by making any change either.

WINCHESTER HAD PRACTICE ALERT

Winchester's response to the practice alert Tuesday evening was by comparison with reports from other communities not so bad. There was some confusion occasioned by the fact that the town got no "blue" mobilization signal, resulting in some units, notably the Fire Department, being late at their stations. The newly organized Winchester Unit of the State Guard mobilized and did a very creditable job.

The Department of Public Works units functioned smoothly and promptly, and the Sea Scouts of Ship Tarquin were also commended for their work about the center and report center at Police Headquarters.

The bells were rung for the morning services; assisting the chaplain of the day on his tour of the wards of the hospitals where the girls rang softly and sweetly the old English ballads that the boys knew so well.

LONG ISLAND CITY, N. Y.—Selected by the Central Chapter of Queens Red Cross in a city-wide poll as a "typical American family," Armenian-born Casper and Victoria Tatosian, who have two sons in the armed forces, experienced the "aerial bombing" of their home, suffered "shock and wounds," witnessed the all-out team work of New York City Air Wardens, Auxiliary firemen, police, firemen, stretcher bearer teams, Red Cross ambulance and mobile canteen units, perfectly coordinated even to the final detail of serving paper cupfuls of steaming hot coffee.

Mr. Tatosian, a war production plant employee, his wife and daughter, Eva, were rushed to the nearby Sunnyside Jewish Center for first-aid treatment and emergency feeding. To offset the damp, cold weather, Red Cross, police and volunteer workers were intermittently served with hot coffee and doughnuts.

SONS OF ITALY NEWS

The "Cigarettes for Overseas Service men" drive is progressing very satisfactory. Everyone is responding in a very generous manner. We felt certain that every person would respond and they are. If any one hasn't thus far, they may drop into nearly any store in the town and leave their donation in the glass banks placed there. So lets go, everyone, we can't do enough for our boys.

Three of our members are or were in our midst over the past week-end. Lt. Joseph Ciarcia and Cpl. Joseph Ficociello were home for the week-end. They are stationed a few miles apart so they went back together Sunday. Well, boys, we suppose that during your trip back you figured out how this war can be won in short order. Would it be asking too much if you let President Roosevelt in on it, huh?

Here's the kind of news that we like to let you know about. I'll bet its what you like to read about. One of our brothers went to the Officers Training School and he made the grade. Boys, from now on until his next promotion, he will be known as Lt. William Penna, better known to the boys as Wally. More about him in a later issue of the Star.

Incidentally there are rumors around town that some of the boys have received promotions. If I received a confirmation on any promotion, I'm sure I would put it in this news column, because all the other members would be glad to hear about it.

"Al" Subrizio is home on a furlough to see his brother, Henry, who is also home on a furlough. I understand Al is staying in Malden with his wife and child, but it seems as if he is in Winchester all the time meeting his old friends.

Lt. William "Doc" Barone is now stationed in Gulfport, Miss., as a squadron surgeon. Thanks for the card Doc. Wish more of the boys would follow your example. Good luck to you in your new post, from all of us at the clubhouse.

The two happiest people in Winchester are Mr. and Mrs. Michael Russo of Swanton street. Last Sunday morning they talked over the telephone to their son Jimmy. He had just arrived from the South Pacific war zone and the first thing he did on landing on the West Coast was to call up his parents. Good boy Jimmy. We are all anxious to see you.

Well, that's about all for this week, except to remind you again to drop us a line. That means you and you and you.

Oh yeah, I almost forgot, Mingie is still carrying on [illegible] the home front.

The Golden Text is: "We all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord" (II Corinthians 3:18). Other Bible citations include: "For we know in part, and we prophesy in part . . . For now we see through a glass, darkly; but then face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known" (I Corinthians 13:9, 12).

The Lesson-Semon also includers the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Rightly undesrtood, instead of possessing a sentient material form, man has a sensational body; and God, the Soul of man and of all existence, being perpetual in His own individuality, harmony, and immortality, imparts and perpetuates these qualities in man,—through Mind, not matter" (p. 280).

NEW DUCKS AT MILL POND

The first of the week Supt. Thomas McGowan of the Park Department secured from the Stoneham Zoo two large Canadian geese, two Muscovy ducks and three Rouen ducks, all of which he placed at the Mill Pond.

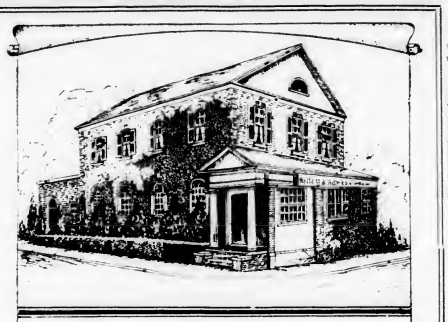

As soon as these birds commenced to swim about the seven white ducks which had forsaken the mill pond for the lagoon at the rear of the Shore road athletic field, returned to their old stamping grounds.

The new water fowl are quite tame, being used to seeing fowls at the Zoo. They make a picturesque sight floating about on the mill pond or waddling about the shores.

Marriage intentions have been filed with the town clerk by John Gerard Dorsey of 1 Town way and Genevieve Evelyn Bradlee of 121 Beacon Street, Boston.

The goal of the Second War Loan drive is 13 billion dollars. That is just about one fifth of the estimated increase of the Public Debt for the fiscal year of 1943.

Leonora

Leonora straightened the objects on her desk with great care. She had put her desk at the end of her room facing the door so that when her mother came in she would have to cross the whole room under Leonora's stern executive eye to get to her. From movies and pictures in the newspapers Leonora had gotten a good idea of how the desk of a busy woman of affairs should look.

With an important scowl, Leonora picked up a sheet of paper. Now she was two people—herself, the busy woman, and her own stenographer. "Miss Simpkins, take a letter to the Secretary of the Treasury, will you?" she murmured under her breath.

"Yes, immediately," she murmured back at herself.

Leonora cleared her throat and looked at the ceiling for inspiration. Miss Simpkins bent over the sheet of paper hanging on the words about to fall.

"Dear Mr. Morgenthau," — "Got that?" — "Yes, madam."

"I am — ahem — thirteen years old and anxious to be of all possible service to the country at this time, ahem!

"I earn a weekly income of from $1.37 to $2.12 by helping with the housework and by shovelling snow. I am at present in possession of one War Savings Bond and am buying stamps weekly. I want to become a member of the 10 percent Club. I feel it to be — ahem — not only my duty, but my privilege" ("How do you spell privilege?" asked Miss Simpkins. "Don't bother me with these details," said Leonora)—my privilege as an American to invest at least ten percent of my income in War Bonds.

Yours truly."

"Get that off at once, Miss Simpkins," said Leonora. "Yes, Ma'am! You certainly are an important woman, ma'am," said Miss Simpkins.

Smith as Jeanie Collier; Barberie Harmer as Susan Collier; Dorothy Byford as Fannie Belle; Larry Smith as Elmer Collier; Stearns Ellis as Luke Lawson; Marion Horwood as Wanda; Marilyn Campbell as Faye; Ruth McCarthy as Vinnie; Charles Lovejoy as Hubert, and Charles Greene as Cecil.

Boardman O'Connor and Mark Strawbridge were behind the scenes and the guiding hand was that of Miss Marion Bailey of the faculty.

FLY AWAY HOME

A comedy in three acts by Dorothy Bennett and Irving White, presented Friday and Saturday evenings, May 14, 15, in the Little Theatre Beneath a Spire by the Parish Players of the First Congregational Church, under the direction of John N. Hall, with the following cast:

Harmer Masters.....Herbert F. Clement
Buff Masters.....Natalie Dickson
Linda Masters.....Claire Smalley
Corey Masters.....Stearns R. Ellis
Penny.....Dorothy M. Wills
Tinka Collingsby.....Joanne Worthen
Johnny Heming.....Robert A. Johnston, Jr.
James Masters.....John N. Hall
Armand Sloan.....F. Milne Blanchard
Maria.....Priscilla Morrill
Gabriel.....Reveley H. B. Smith
Taxi Driver.....Robert G. Harmon
Nan Masters.....Nancy E. England

The Parish Players chose a good show to close their 17th season and the performance by the preponderantly youthful cast was very praiseworthy.

Such plot as there was concerned itself with the conflict between youth and maturity, enthusiasm and experience; the action centering about the complications which developed when James Masters (played by Mr. Hall) after a 12 year absence, returned at his estranged wife's invitation to visit his four unbridled children and become acquainted with the college professor she proposed to marry.

If the play proved anything, along with giving everyone a pleasant bit of diversion, it was that even sophisticates are not immune to the cardinal human emotions, that money still makes the mare go and that even the most ardent advocate of advanced thinking gags a bit when called upon to swallow himself the principles he proposes as a basis for all human relations.

Fly Away Home is pretty dependent for success upon the ability of those who play the ultra-modern Masters youngsters and their friends. So it was the Players were doubly fortunate in having these youthful roles in such capable hands. Miss Smalley was an excellent Linda, playing this career-struck young lady with the necessary enthusiasm and a poise that would have well graced a much more experienced player. She and Stearns Ellis, as the arrogant, cock-sure, self-centered, Corey, carried much of the play and carried it well, the latter being on almost constantly. Stearns was very consistent in his conception of the bumptious Corey, remaining the unregenerate egocentric to the very end. Both he and Miss Smalley spoke their lines well, the latter pointing hers in especially effective fashion.

Miss Dickson as the irrepressable Buff and Herbert Clement as the introspective Harmer made their own particular contribution to the success of the play, as did Miss Worthen and Bob Johnston. Miss Worthen was a very sweet Tinka with a method under her naivite while Bob's Johnny Heming was played with a quiet sincerity that was very convincing. Though on but once and then for only a moment, Miss Morrill made much of Maria, Corey's Portugese girl-friend.

The youthful members of the cast were fortunate to have Mr. Hall's James Masters as a foil for their impatience and frank conversation. He was a thoroughly finished portrayal of the at first rather pleased, then concerned and finally outraged and fed-up pater familis. It would be hard to over-estimate his value to the success of the production.

The always capable Dr. Blanchard lent his flair for high comedy in convincing fashion to that champion of the new freedom, Professor Sloan. He too was careful to compliment the youthful actors, as was Mrs. Wills, who as the long-suffering keeper of the House of Masters added another to her long list of successful character roles. Mr. Smith as the bellicose Gabriel, jealous fiance of the designing Maria, and Mr. Harmon as the jovial taxi-driver were quite all right.

Miss England was just what one would ask for as Nan, adored mother of the Masters brood and late Hollywood career-woman, attractive, vital, frank, poised and altogether charming. One felt her personality from her first appearance to the finale and she was admirable in the telling breakfast scene which led to the confounding of the Professor and the reunion of the Masters family.

This reviewer would like to believe in the permanence of this brief picture of domestic bliss, but remembering the component free thinkers involved he regretfully cannot be sure. He was also frankly amazed to hear Linda, evidently the product of an ultra progressive educational system, spell precious correctly the first time trying.

The single set for the show was excellent as were the properties, while the off-stage business was smoothly handled. One final bouquet to the pup, Mr. Dooley, a trooper if there ever was one. We also have nothing but admiration for Miss Smalley's staring in fondling what was evidently an edgy and somewhat unpredictable cat.

CAMP FELLSLAND FOR YOUR BOY SCOUT

Here is the biggest opportunity of the year for Winchester Boy Scouts and all their mothers and fathers are directed to give it serious concern and consideration.

Send your boy to camp! Send him to Camp Fellsland, that great Boy Scout Camp located near Amesbury. It is a most attractive and successful Boy Scout Camp operated under the guidance of the Camping Committee of which Edwin C. Whittemore is chairman and Robinson S. Whitten is official Winchester member.

All who know Ted will agree that the writer is not making an overstatement when he says that Ted has delivered back to Winchester at the end of each summer tons of brand new, throbbing and rippling boy beef and brawn that don't bog down. Yet, there never has been any curtailment of high-minded educational hours that tax the boys wits!

If you read the Camp Fellsland catalogue, you'll want to go too.

The Camp is complete in every manner. Modern buildings and equipment greet the boys and the capable adult staff will make all parents assured and confident. This year's wartime conditions have presented many added problems and details to the Camping Committee and the staff such as feeding under the Nation's rationing rules, but must have been overcome. All applications must be submitted real early as a busy summer is anticipated and all applications received before June 1 will entitle the boy to the minimum rate. You may telephone Boy Scout Headquarters at Win. 2030 or Edwin C. Whittemore at Win. 0344 for further particulars or for a copy of the 1943 Camp Fellsland catalogue.

Do this now and make sure that every effort is made to give your Boy Scout this finest companionship with his contemporaries.

WINCHESTER SCOUT CAMPOREE

Last week-end, under the Chairmanship of Troop 3 Scoutmaster Robinson Whitten and Troop 10 Scoutmaster Francis X. MacFeeley, 35 Scouts of the Winchester District participated in a Camporee at Camp Lane, Burlington. Staffed by Field Scout Executive Noyes, Commissioners McCall, Weld and Cole, the camping trip was enjoyed by members of Troops 3, 7, 10. Scoutmaster Casler prepared meals for the staff whose privilege it was to have as guests for Saturday night's supper Troop 7 Committeemen Butterworth and Rushton.

A Boy Scout Camporee program offers Scouts the opportunity of gaining actual camping experience under expert guidance by virtue of which the boys learn to select camp sites, pitch tents, cook meals, enjoy outdoor recreation, and sleep under canvas; and the efficiency with which the respective groups perform is graded by judges.

The Fellsland Council Camporee will be held at Camp Lane on June 5 and 6 and it is hoped that not only will all of last week-end's participants return to compete with Scouts from the surrounding towns in the Council, but that they will also be joined by other Winchester Scouts as well.

VOLUNTEERS FOR PART-TIME DUTY NEEDED BY THE COAST GUARD

Important jobs for part-time uniformed duty on harbor picket patrol, beach patrol, and other types of port security work in the Auxiliary of the U. S. Coast Guard, the country's second line of defense, are now available.

In a recent Auxiliary dinner Vice Admiral Waesche, Commandant of the Coast Guard, and Capt. Chester H. Jones, Director of Auxiliary, both told more than 900 New England Auxiliarists of the vital part played by these civilians in their Coast Guard work and strongly emphasized the fact that they will be releasing hundreds of able-bodied regular Coast Guardsmen from their beach patrol and port security work for overseas combat duty.

Men who are able to give 12 hours each week for this vital work will be sworn in as temporary members of the Coast Guard Reserve and will be furnished uniforms. Duty periods may be served 12 hours at a time, or, in certain instances, depending upon local conditions, they may be broken up into shorter periods. Men will be expected to give their time as best fits the local Auxiliary program. For this reason men cannot be used who are available only on week-ends.

The local officer in charge of this program in your area is Mr. Arthur T. Hanson, 331 Main street, who will be glad to supply you with any further details.

NEW SCOUT TROOP 6 AT UNITARIAN CHURCH

In response to repeated requests from the parents of boys about to graduate from Pack 6, a new Troop 6 has been organized. The Troop is being sponsored by the Men's Club of the Unitarian Church. Though the troop is being formed primarily to carry on the splendid work begun in the boy-centered program of Pack 6, other boys who have not graduated from the Cub Pack will be eligible for membership if they are 12 years old and pass the requirements. Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman who is the Cubmaster will also be Scoutmaster of the new troop. He will have the help of Dr. John R. Wallace and Mr. Charles A. Hart as Assistant Scoutmasters. The Troop Committee has as its chairman Dr. Chester Wilde, the other members of the committee being Messrs. Clarence Zarse and Cecil C. Covert.

The committee is making application for a charter, and boys are now being registered so that they will be eligible for Camp Fellsland this summer. Cub Pack 6 now has a membership of 50 boys and with the graduation of 12 to 15 boys into the troop will be able to take a similar numer of new members into the pack.

The Pack and Troop Committees will form an interlocking group, which can correlate the work to the benefit of both organizations. Ship Builder Skipper Goddu has long maintained an enviable record. Now as a Pack 6, a Troop 6, and a Sea Unit meeting at the Unitarian Church, boys may look forward to a complete Scouting program and in graduating from one unit to another can carry on their scouting advancement right up to entrance into college.

TANK RACE

A race of battle tanks, looking very much like the real thing with big guns protruding from revolving turrets, was held last Saturday, May 15. Staged by Cub Pack 3 of the Wyman School District on Wildwood street Hill, the novel event was a great success.

For the preceding several weeks, many of the Cubs, assisted by their parents were busy designing and perfecting the tanks which entered the race. The tanks showed a great deal of originality and ingenuity. There were big tanks, medium tanks and small tanks. The fact that there were no break downs or accidents indicated that the tanks were well constructed.

The Police Department co-operated in keeping vehicles and bicycles off that part of the street where the races were held so that the hill was clear for the crews of the tanks to operate.

Most Realistic Tank: Phil Nelson

Tank with Best Camouflage: Chas. Burnham

Tank with Greatest Gun Power: Elliott Hersey

Designer showing Greatest Originality: Tommy Joy

Race Finals

Ballbearing Class; 1st, Elliott Hersey; 2nd, Phil Nelson.

John Rocray also received a participation prize for operating the tank designed and built by Tommy Joy.

This battle tank race embodied the spirit of youth as well as the spirit of '43 and indicated the keen interest of the youth of this generation in the affairs of the world.

AIRCRAFT RECOGNITION CLASSES

Some months ago the First Fighter Command of the Army Air Forces conducted a week long school for Recognition Officers. One observer from each Post was asked to attend. Winchester being represented by Lt. Roger M. Burgoyne.

Since his return he has conducted classes, the first two of which ended 10 days ago. Another has already been started. Attendance of observers is not compulsory but the interest has been exceptional.

At the end of each class an examination is given by showing on the screen 50 slides for not over ten seconds each. Each observer taking the test makes a list of the plane designations as they are shown.

The results of the tests just completed prove the real interest of our observers. Of 64 papers turned in, 19 rated 100 per cent correct, while two thirds rated 90 per cent or better. This not only proves good material and good teaching but conscientious "home work" by the students.

This proficiency in quick recognition of aircraft will make the reports of the local Post much more valuable to the Boston Air Defense Wing when, and if, the necessity for real and fast action arises. The Army High Command make no bones of the fact that the enemy has the necessary planes and crews to bomb the Atlantic coast whenever he believes the cost to be justified,

SUFFOLK, SS LAND COURT

To the Honorable the Judges of the Land Court for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Respectfully represents Aline Poirier of Winchester, in the County of Middlesex, and said Commonwealth; that she is owner of a certain lot of land with the buildings thereon, situate in Winchester, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth, bounded and described as follows:

Southeasterly by Stevens Street, ninety (90) feet; Southwesterly by land of Downer, one hundred eighty (180) feet; Northwesterly by land of Guernsey Real Estate Trust, seventy-one and three-fourths (71¾) feet; Northeasterly by land of Lillian L. Campbell, one hundred eighty-one (181) feet.

That the record title to said lot of land is clouded by two mortgages, one given by A. P. Palmer to Lydia W. Ford, dated November 2, 1868, recorded February 16, 1869, and duly recorded Book 1066, purporting to secure a note for $500 payable in two years, with interest semi-annually, and the other given by Abram P. Palmer, to James Houston dated July 17, 1874, and duly recorded Book 1317, Page 465, purporting to secure a note for $500, payable in one year with interest semi-annually, which mortgages appear to be undischarged, unassigned and unforeclosed on and by the record.

That for more than twenty years after the expiration of the time limited for the full performance of said conditions no payment has been made and no other act done in recognition of said mortgages; and

That the mortgagors named in said mortgages and those claiming under them have been in uninterrupted possession of said land for more than twenty years after the expiration of time limited in said mortgages for the full performance of the condition thereof.

WHEREFORE your petitioner prays that after appropriate notices a decree may be entered on the foregoing allegations as authorized by Section 15, Chapter 240 of the General Laws as amended by Chapter 20 of the Acts of 1924.

ALINE POIRIER

People's Responsibility

Eight billion dollars of the 13 billion dollars in this Second War Loan Drive must come from non-banking sources, so the responsibility for the bulk of this 13-billion-dollar drive rests with the American public. Indications are that Americans generally need only to be reminded of this responsibility and how much they should lend their government in order to reach this goal. Americans are backing up their fighting men on the battle fronts. They are supporting the Second War Loan. "They give their lives ... You lend your money."

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

George Young, Grand Knight of Winchester Council, K. of C., is able to be about again after being confined to the hospital where he underwent a major operation.

Mounted Officer Ned Shea, who has been on the retired list for about 10 years, was taken yesterday forenoon from his home on Glenwood avenue to the Faulkner Hospital in Jamaica Plain where he may have to undergo an operation. Officer Shea was for many years on duty about the water shed in the Fells, he and his handsome mount being well known to frequenters of the reservation. They were also favorites with the crowds who used to gather for Memorial Day parades.

Members of the Mothers Circle of the Rainbow Girls of Winchester will be guests of the Stoneham Mothers Circle on Tuesday evening at Spanish War Veterans Hall, Stoneham. Each Circle will contribute to the program for the evening.

To Rev. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the First Congregational Church goes the distinction of being co-author of the best seller, "Strength for Service to God and Country," published by the Abingdon-Cokesbury Press of Nashville, Tenn.

With more than 600,000 copies of the book already printed, qualifying it as one of the outstanding best sellers both for 1942 and 1943, the publishers report that demand for it probably will necessitate still further printings.

Spontaneous and wide-spread acceptance of the pocket-size book of daily devotional messages, written especially for men in the armed services, offers graphic evidence that "there are no atheists in foxholes," according to the publishers.

A major reason for the surprising acceptance of the book lies in the fact that it has been chosen as the most suitable remembrance to service men by churches of every denomination, chambers of commerce and other organizations which distribute it in quantities among men from their localities. A large demand for individual copies also has been recorded from relatives and friends.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

While the 1943 class of Winchester High School are receiving their diplomas tonight, one of the most interested onlookers will be Miss Eva Palmer, long time instructor, Dean of Girls, and Assistant Principal, who will be witnessing her 51st consecutive graduation in this town.

Pupils in all elementary schools have been pleased with the concerts given by the elementary school orchestra in each of the school buildings recently. Director George Brown has developed a creditable group of musicians, selecting those who have advanced most rapidly under the watchful eye of several teachers of instrumental music.

Schools in Winchester will be closed on Monday, May 31, since it is the custom to observe Memorial Day on Monday, if May 30 falls on Sunday.

At a recent assembly in the high school, members of the track and relay teams presented three trophies to the school. Winchester must win the North Shore Relays but one more to retire the trophy.

Farmers seeking high school students for employment this summer should get in touch with Director of Guidance, Robert E. Swenson at the high school.

MISS HAM—MR. SWANSON ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Philip W. Ham of Auburn, N. Y., announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Gloria Lee Ham to Richard Winslow Swanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin S. Swanson of 47 Cambridge street, at a dinner party given at the Hotel Statler on Saturday evening, May 22.

Miss Ham was graduated from the Emma Willard School, Troy, N. Y., in the class of 1940 and is now a junior at Wellesley College. She is in the 11th generation in direct descent from John and Priscilla Alden.

Mr. Swanson was graduated from the Winchester High School in the class of 1939 and is a member of this year's graduating class at Harvard University. He was a member of the Pi Eta Club and captain of the varsity 150 crew during the 1943 season.

GRADUATION OF WINCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL

Dr. Kirtley Mather Will Address Graduates

One hundred and sixty-two members of this year's graduating class will receive their diplomas tonight from Chairman Robert F. Lybeck of the Winchester School Committee at exercises in the school auditorium at 8 o'clock. A military touch will be provided by the appearance in uniform of John Murray and Robert Ramsdell who entered the armed services several weeks ago. Also on the stage will be 10 members of this year's senior class who, earlier in the day, reported for induction, and many others, now in the reserve awaiting calls to active duty.

After the Invocation by the Rev. Dwight Hadley of the Church of the Epiphany, the program will include many selections by the Girls' Ensemble and the combined glee clubs, a chorus of nearly 200 voices. Instrumental music for the march will be provided by a group from the high school orchestra.

Dr. Kirtley F. Mather, Professor of Geology at Harvard University and prominent author and lecturer, will deliver the graduation address. Professor Mather has chosen as his subject, "Oil for the Lamps of Freedom."

Announcement of the winners of scholarships and other awards will be made by Acting Principal Samuel Graves. The presentation of diplomas will be by Chairman Lybeck. Benediction will be pronounced by Mr. Hadley.

In a move away from tradition, the patriotic colors of red, white, and blue will be used to drape the baton of President Frank Buzzotta, class marshal.

MAURICE F. BROWN

Maurice F. Brown, senior member of the firm of Waghorne, Brown Co., consulting engineers, Boston, and a resident of this town for 40 years, died suddenly at his home in Rangely last Friday evening, May 21. His death came on the evening of his 70th birthday. In his usual good health he had spent the day at his office receiving the congratulations of associates and friends and lunching with Mrs. Brown at noon. He attended a birthday dinner in the early evening at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Paul C. Dunn, on Grove street. Afterwards he walked home and was seated in the living room looking over his birthday greetings when he was stricken.

Maurice Fritchley Brown was a native of New York City. He was the tenth of a family of 12, his parents being Richard and Thalia (Newton) Brown, the latter a native of Canfield, Ohio. He went through the grammar school and entered the employ of the Boston Bridge Works as office boy, rising to the position of draftsman and designing his first bridge (at South Hadley) when 17 years old.

He entered Dartmouth College in 1892, being one of the few students to enter that institution without a high school education. He graduated in 1897 as a bachelor of science. He was a member of the Casque and Gauntlet, Sigma Chi and Phi Beta Kappa. Following his graduation he became again associated with the Boston Bridge Works as chief engineer. During World War I he managed the raw materials division of the Emergency Fleet Corporation of the U. S. Shipping Board. In 1921, in company with Mr. A. Charles Waghorne, he formed the firm of Waghorne, Brown Co., consulting engineers.

During his business career he had engineered many notable and important buildings, including all the Dartmouth College buildings since the expansion program started 20 years ago, the Liberty Mutual Insurance Building on Berkeley street and the all-glass and steel building of the Worcester Pressed Steel Company, the first of its type at that time.

In 1903 he married Miss Ethlyn Barber of Milford, N. H., and following their wedding they came to Winchester to make their home, residing on Myrtle street until 1917 when they moved to Rangely. His wife survives him, together with one daughter, Mrs. Paul C. Dunn (Dorothy) of Grove street, and a son, R[illegible] B. Brown of Shrewsbury. He also leaves two sisters, Miss F[illegible] Newton Brown of New York City, and Mrs. Charles A. Me[illegible] of Los Angeles, Cal. Four grandchildren also survive.

He was widely known in Winchester and was always prominently identified with the town's civic and social life. He was a member of the First Congregational Church of the town. He served as Park Commissioner in 1910-1911; member of the water and sewer board, 1910-12; member of the finance committee from 1909 to 1917 and served as its chairman in 1916-1917. He was a Selectman during the years of 1913 and 1914.

He was active in the Winchester Country Club from its early days until his death, serving many years as a director and for the past five years as secretary. He was a life member of the American Society of Civil Engineers, a member of the Boston Society of Civil Engineers and the American Concrete Institute, and had served as dictator of the New England Iron League.

Flags on the Common and public buildings were flown at half mast until the conclusion of the funeral services, which were held on Monday afternoon at 2:30 at the First Congregational Church, Rev. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the church, officiating. There was a profusion of beautiful flowers at the service and a program of favorite hymns was rendered by the organist, J. Albert Wilson. The services were attended by the entire staff of the Waghorne Brown Company and many business associates. A group of Dartmouth classmates were also present.

The ushers at the service included Messrs. A. Charles Waghorne and Morton C. Tuttle of Newton, John P. Carr, Joseph L. S. Barton, T. Price Wilson, Erastus B. Badger, John Abbott and Donald F. Conners. The interment was in the family lot in Wildwood Cemetery.

Pfc. William H. Weldon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester R. Weldon of Park road, graduated from the armored force school's clerical department at Fort Knox, Ky., this week.

WINCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL GLEE CLUBS

The combined girls' and boys' glee clubs of the Winchester High School under the direction of Miss Claudia Renehan, supervisor of music in the Winchester schools, gave their presentation last Friday evening in the high school auditorium, presenting the following program:

Star Spangled Banner; Prayer of Thanksgiving (Netherlands Hymn), combined clubs; Handel, Hope Thou in God (Largo from Xerxes); The Last Rose of Summer (Irish Air), Girls' Glee Club; Morley, My Bonny Lass She Smileth; Protheroe, De Sandman, Girls' Ensemble; Military Medley, Scandalize Ma Name (Spirituel) Capital Ship (Old English), Boys' Glee Club; Franck, O Lord Most Holy, Girls' Glee Club; Britain, Little Dickey Donkey, Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes (Old English), Girls' Ensemble; Brahms, Lullaby, O. Strauss, My Hero (Chocolate Soldier), Girls' Glee Club; Kreisler, The Old Refrain; Gilbert and Sullivan, When the Foeman Bares His Steel (Pirates of Penzance); Schubert, Ave Maria (arr. by Renehan), violin obligato by Jean Stillman; Engel, God Rest Ou Glorious Land; Combined Clubs.

An audience of surprisingly good size, particularly in view of the stormy night, expressed an enthusiasm for the work of the young singers and their director which grew in intensity as the program progressed. By the time the final numbers were sung the applause was hearty and sustained enough to have warranted repeats. There were, however, with but one exception, no encores and those who have suffered through long drawn out musicales felt that Miss Renehan was wise in limiting the program as she did. There were no long waits between numbers, everything moving with commendable smoothness. Even the little welcoming address made by Bob Johnston at intermission was brief and informal.

It was however the work of the young choristers which impressed most. Especially did the girls sing with a most agreeable tone in all the voices and in very finished fashion, attacking and releasing cleanly and following their conductor's beat closely.

Nor was Miss Renehan satisfied merely to keep time and prevent dragging. She asked for and got variety in her tempi and volume, being especially successful in securing from her young singers sustained soft singing that showed good breath control and general fidelity to pitch. The entrances of the various voices in the alternate singing during the number by Franck were precise and the singing of the boys against the girls' voices in the Gilbert and Sullivan was well done.

These evidences of careful training were very pleasing, but the most obvious thing about the entire concert was the evident pleasure of the young people in singing and the close attention they accorded their conductor.

PATRIOTIC CITIZENS ASKED TO HELP

An intensive drive to secure additional blood donors from among the residents of Winchester announced by Mrs. William Hevey, chairman of the Plasma Committee and an announcement by Mrs. Ben Ross Schneider, chairman of the Town Hall Surgical Dressing Unit that evening sessions will hereafter be confined to Tuesday nights were the principal matters of interest in the affairs of the Winchester Chapter, American Red Cross this week.

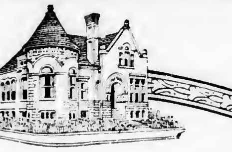

Audiences at the Winchester Theater tonight and tomorrow and again next Friday and Saturday will witness a short tableau presented by Winchester Red Cross members and will hear a two minute talk by Miss Anastasia Kirby, director of the Boston Blood Center, it was announced by Mrs. Hevey.

The Red Cross urgently needs hundreds more patriotic citizens to give blood to be sent abroad to save the lives of American soldiers and Miss Kirby will explain the painless method of extracting blood from volunteers and just how important it is that more men and women volunteer as donors. Mrs. Lucius Smith, manager of the Winchester Theatre has aided the local chapter in many ways and her inclusion of the blood-plea tableaux in the program for the four nights is expected to result in Winchester's quota of volunteers mounting.

To gain a cooler place in which to conduct their important work, the Town Hall Surgical Dressing Unit will move into the auditorium of the Town Hall next Tuesday for the summer. This means, as chairman Schneider explained, "a cooler place to work, no stairs to climb and plenty of room."

With the moving the Unit will be open only one night each week, instead of two and the "open" night will be Tuesday instead of on Wednesday. The State Guard holds forth in the Town Hall on Wednesday night which necessitated the Red Cross adopting the one-night schedule.

Mrs. Schneider told a Star reporter that the quotas of dressings are larger for the summer and that she hoped the Wednesday night group would continue their most important work on Tuesday evenings.

EN KA STREET FAIR SUCCESS DESPITE WEATHER

Pouring rain that continued pretty well through the forenoon failed to prevent the En Ka girls from crashing through to another success in their annual Street Fair last Saturday. The threatening weather proved just another challenge to the girls who had already hurdled the obstacles presented by the war and it was just as successfully met. Soaked workers erected booths at the rear of the town hall and then wisely decided to abandon them, moving their "Country Store" to the Recreation Building where the usual rushing business was done.

Meanwhile at the town hall as the rain slackened crowds gathered at the Flying Horses and Ferris Wheel, long lines forming so that it was necessary to wait your turn in real earnest.

As the weather cleared more and more arrivals were noted and by mid-afternoon there was a sizeable crowd in the mid-way with many coming from out-of-town. Hardy souls had some booths operating, that where baseballs were thrown against the faces of Hitler, Hirohito and Mussolini being especially popular.

Balloons were again in evidence and there were the ever-popular ponies for the kiddies. Luncheon at noon attracted both patrons and workers and in the evening there was the usual rush for the Street Fair supper. Dancing to Ken Reeves Orchestra rounded out the program with a new "Jitterbug contest" which was won by June Chase and Richard Fiore. During the day venders received contributions for the War Bond contest, winners of the two $100 bonds being Jane Pease of Thompson street, local beautician and Mrs. Walter Emery of Medford Hillside.

Mrs. Vaughn Harmon was general chairman of the Street Fair, assisted by Mrs. Franklin J. Lane, treasurer; Mrs. Richard Clark, secretary; Mrs. Stephen B. Neiley, War Bonds and Stamps; Mrs. James R. Doty, Mrs. Lucius Smith and Mrs. Alvin M. Litchfield, publicity.

WINCHESTER GARDEN CLUB HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

At the delightful home of Mrs. Willard Hudson, the annual meeting of the Winchester Garden Club was held on Thursday, May 20. The dessert, which was served by the hostess, included a most artistically decorated cake to celebrate the 13th birthday of the club. This was cut by the president, Mrs. Virgil Ghirardini, who was re-elected for the coming year. The following officers were elected:

President, Mrs. Virgil Ghirardini

Vice President, Mrs. John Wills

Recording Secretary, Mrs. Burt Gage

Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Theodore von Rosenvinge

Treasurer, Mrs. Torr Harmer

After the business meeting Mrs. Norman Mitchell spoke briefly on the principles of flower arrangement, her talk illustrated by a quaint fan-shaped arrangement in a mid-Victorian vase, another fan-shaped arrangement of narcissi and grape hyacinths, by Mrs. Frederick Russell, a striking horizontal arrangement of red tulips and white lilacs by Mrs. Ghirardini, who showed also a vertical arrangement of tulips in a tall vase, the colors ranging from the greenish-yellow of the buds to deep purple.

The charm of the house and the beauty of the grounds, with its sweep of velvety lawn, the gay colors of the rock walls with their wealth of bloom, the waterfall tumbling from the quaint little mill fashioned by Mr. Hudson's clever hands and the picnic nook so compactly placed on the garden side of the garage, with its gleaming copper, the table that lets down from the wall, the concealed phonograph and other surprises, and the tree geraniums flanking the entrance to the nook, all created a picture that was unforgettable, and a mood which made all thoughts of the war, with its horrors and its ugliness, seem almost unbelievable.

It was a satisfaction to the club, however, to realize that they were making a contribution to the war effort, by agreeing to raise, at every meeting during the war, a donation to the fund for gardens at Camp Hospitals, where the work of gardening has definite therapeutic value. Victory gardens as well, will engage the attention of many of the club members during the summer months, when meetings are suspended, the last and special meeting to be held on Thursday, June 10, at the home of Mrs. Warren Whitman, 30 Prospect street.

Locals' Roche in First Start Just Missed No Hitter

Winchester High lost its Middlesex League baseball game to Belmont Monday afternoon on Manchester Field, 3-0, but the rather expected defeat paled into insignificance beside the pitching performance of sophomore "Chucker" Roche, until this game an outfielder.

"Chucker" parked his fielding duties for the afternoon and going to the hill against unbeaten Belmont and its big right hander, Mike Palm, conceded to be one of the best hurlers in the G. B. schoolboy ranks, turned in a corking pitching performance, being robbed of a no-hitter when Capt. Gee Russo played Palm's rap to short center safely in the 7th.

Up to that time no Belmont batter had been able to hit Roche safely and good judges of baseball were unanimous in believing Russo could have gotten Palm's drive well off the ground had he kept on coming. He got it on one short hop as it was after stopping.

"Chucker" showed a surprising assortment of curves for a youngster making his first pitching start. He was obviously nervous in the first inning and quite naturally a bit wild. None of Belmont's runs was earned and two of them came while Roche was trying to settle down in the opening frame.

Dwyer, first up, got a life when Murphy failed to tag first after taking Walsh's throw, "Sarto" having made a swell stop on a real bid for a hit over second. Dwyer went out stealing, J. Tibaudo to Walsh, but Roche walked Roach who advanced on Collanatto's sacrifice, Roche to Murphy.

Roach stole third and Toomey walked. Smith rapped to Roche, the ball bounding from "Chucker's" glove for an excusable error that scored Roach and sent Toomey to third. Roche then uncorked a wild pitch that let in Toomey. Fleming fanned for the final out.

With two out in the 7th, Leutters walked, Palm hit a liner to short center which went for a hit when Russo slowed up on it. Leutters, after holding up for the catch, rounded second for third. Russo's throw had him beaten a city block, but Callahan lost the ball and the Belmont backstop kept right on home. Sam Tibaudo tossed out Dwyer. Belmont got only five balls outside the infield, including Palm's hit.

Big Mike himself was just too good for Winchester, fanning 10 and allowing but a single safe hit, Swymer's single to right in the third. Winchester got only four men on all afternoon and had but one real chance to score, having two on with only one out in the 5th. Swmyer, over-eager, struck out this time and Callanatto threw out Callahan.

TEELE RED HOT

Won at Horseshoes But Lost Meat

Royal P. Teele, president of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association, though it must be admitted largely by sufferance because of his elementary showing thus far this spring, came into his own with a vengeance at last week-end's matches winning with monotonous regularity and putting on ringers in a way to win even a somewhat grudging meed of praise from that paragon of ringer-throwers, "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the Pride of Stowe and Champion of all Nabnassett.

As a result of his superb form Mr. Teele is secure in his high office for another fortnight at least and his sleep o' nights will probably be the sounder because of this fact.

The Teele joy cup was really filled to over-flowing right at the start of play last week-end when he and Herbert "Garrulous" Gardner won two out of three from the larruping Lake Street Lancers, "Wild Willie" McLaughlin and Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham. Taking the Lancers anytime anyhow is an achievement and when they are defeated after taking the first game 25-2, the conquerors have a right to take an altogether pardonable pride in their achievement.

Mr. Teele's pride exceeded such limits by quite a bit, it is true, and was embelished with whoops of delight, but then even Mr. Gardner smiled a bit in victory, which should make the ebullience of the mercuric Royal quite in order.

All in all it was a great day for the Champion of the Paper Trade. He won every time in the round robin matches until the very last when he remained well beyond his lunch hour to take a beating with Mr. Gardner from the Lake Street Lancers.

It is only fair to state that competition last week-end was not too hefty, many of the better players, such as Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine Champ; H. "Tiffany" Knowlton and the Secretary being absent from competition. Mr. Knowlton was engaged in Victory gardening. The Secretary and Mr. Butters were unable to appear for reasons which seemed to them of sufficient importance to act upon.

There was but one fly in the Teele ointment. On the day preceding play he had after the deuce of an effort and through the instrumentality of an influential friend come into possession of what looked like an exceedingly toothsome roast of beef. This was in the Teele oven against his return from the courts. Illness in the home had made Royal chatelaine as it were of the culinary department for the day and the originally planned time schedule had been worked out with a view to the master's returning at a much more Godly hour than that at which he finally appeared.

As he entered the house he smelled a smell and uttered a yell, a yelp of sheer anguish! His meat, his precious meat, was rapidly going up in smoke, that which was left at the moment being much like a croquet ball in size and consistency. "Sic Transit Gloria Mundi" or as Royal himself put it, "What th' Hell!"

CAPT. KEENAN HOME ON LEAVE

Capt. James H. Keenan, USAAF, was in Winchester last week spending a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Keenan of Highland avenue. He had spent the 17 months previous on active flying duty in Burma, India, China, Africa and Egypt. Among other decorations he wears the Distinguished Flying Cross for gallantry in action, and further proof of the service he has seen is indicated by the fact that he is the only one of his original bomber crew left alive.

Capt. Keenan, after visiting his family here, left for Hollywood to visit his wife, the actress, Ann Nagle. At the conclusion of his leave he will report for duty with an Army Ferry Command.

WINCHESTER IN THREE WAY TIE IN STATE MEET

Capt. Dick Briggs 880 Winner in Class B

Winchester High track and field forces tallied 12 points last Saturday to tie with Gardner and Weymouth for third place in the Class B division of the State Interscholastic meet at Newton, Belmont winning with 17 points and Concord placing second with 15. Being disqualified for failing to pass the baton within the required distance in one leg of the relay lost Concord a great chance to win.

For the locals Capt. Dick Briggs victory in the half mile was the bright and shining light of the meet. Switching from the mile to the half the week previous to the meet the loose-running red-head did some heady running to have his kick left where he wanted it over those last vital 50 yards to the worsted.

Briggs ran his first quarter in 60 seconds and although he was forced to run wide on a couple of turns stayed up with the leaders from then in, running strongly in third place behind Scerra of Gardner and Whitman of Melrose until about 50 yards from home.

Here the Winchester leader opened up and neither Scerra or Whitman could match his kick to the tape, Dick winning by about three yards in 2min. 8.5secs., good enough to give him first place in the event which was awarded by times. Favored Dick Weatherbee of Concord also won his heat but his time, 2min. 9.2secs., got him no better than third. Only three runners in Class A bettered Briggs winning time.

Winchester's other points were scored by John Ottiano who placed fourth in the 100, by Frank DiMambro with a nice fighting second in the 220, Fred Lindberg's tie for third in the high jump and its relay team's win in its heat of the team races. Andre Redding, Phil Ewell, Fred Lindberg and Charlie Lovejoy ran in this event.

ODD FELLOWS WON FROM FIREMEN

C. Elliott Ward and Elmer Ripley, representing Waterfield Lodge, I. O. O. F. won revenge for their previous defeat at the hands of the local fire fighters by defeating Firemen Walter Skerry and Bob Haggerty in cowboy pool at the Central Fire Station last week Tuesday.

It was a close match and the smoke eaters needed only a scratch to go out, but couldn't get the scratch [illegible]. Meanwhile Elliott and Elmer needed two billiards and a scratch to win the match and got them, much to the delight of their supporters and the profound regret of the firemen.

Unofficial reports of the match, state that "the little blacksmith" carried the load for the firemen, but we wouldn't be sure. No offers for a match at 45s had been received at the Central Station when the Star went to press.

ANNUAL CLASS NIGHT OBSERVED

Dinner Well Attended

Seeking a change from the programs of other years, the present senior class at Winchester High School sat down to a class dinner in the gymnasium last Saturday evening. Following the dinner, President Frank Buzzotta welcomed the guests who included School Committeeman Robert F. Lybeck and Mrs. Lybeck, Supt. James J. Quinn and Mrs. Quinn, Acting Principal Samuel Graves and Mrs. Graves, Coach Henry Knowlton and Mrs. Knowlton, and introduced the speakers of the evening.

After Alice Parker had reviewed the four years of classes, clubs, and championships, President Buzzotta called on Coach, guest of honor, to whom this year's Aberjona has been dedicated, for one last "pep talk" and Coach responded admirably.

Crosby Grindle gave a satirical Class Oration and Claire Smalley prophesied the future of her classmates. Virginia Straghan told of the 1943 Glamor Boy, a composite, and read a piece of "free verse" which gave the statistics of the boys chosen as alls. John Tarbell, as spokesman for the boys, retaliated by describing the 1943 Glamor Girl and reading statistics about outstanding young ladies. Last came the class will, prepared by Helen Elliott, Charlotte Foley, Androneke Zamanakos, Natalie Nelson, and Mary McIsaac, and read by Androneke and William West.

Group singing was enjoyed throughout the evening as was the announcement that the track team had placed third in the State meet, and that Richard Briggs had become State Champion half miler. Following the singing of the National Anthem the class dispersed, many of whom sought further entertainment at the Street Fair.

Considerable interest was manifested in an honor roll prepared by Robert Jackson which carried the names of the 10 boys to be inducted just before graduation, boys already in the armed forces, and boys in reserve classifications. Robert Ramsdell, class treasurer, now in the Merchant Marine, appeared in uniform and was the cynosure of all eyes.

BUSINESS AS USUAL AT BOAT CLUB

Last week end proved to be the most active of the new club season and indicated beyond any doubt that OPA's new pleasure driving ban would have little or no effect on club attendance. Members who come from out of town or are more than walking or cycling distance from the club were amazed and delighted to find how easily and quickly it could be reached by public conveyance. Street car, bus and train service to Arlington and Winchester centers is good and then it's simply a matter of taking an Arlington-Winchester bus. These buses run every 20 minutes, all day and most of the night and stop right at the club house. It's a cinch to reach the club and members may come early and stay as long as they wish because meals will be served.

The club has been fortunate in obtaining the services of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Dustin as steward and stewardess. This very capable couple will in addition to regular [illegible] serve dinners, luncheons and sandwiches to order. New kitchen and dining room facilities have been installed and this new accommodation for members will go into effect June 1. Just give Mr Dustin 24 hours notice and he'll be ready to serve you.

CPL. CARR PROMOTED

Cpl. Edwin F. Carr, Jr., formerly of Woodside road, has been promoted to the rank of sergeant and has been transferred to the 56th Troop Carrier Squadron, Laurinburg, Maxton Army Air Base, Maxton, N. C. Sgt. Carr entered the Air Forces April 15, 1942, and had flown 50,000 miles on his service anniversary.

WINCHESTER BOYS IN STATE TOURNEY

With the defeat of Gordon "Stretch" McGovern in Tuesday's quarter finals Winchester's final representative was eliminated from the 16th annual State Interscholastic tennis tournament held this year at Belmont.

McGovern was beaten in straight 6-3 sets by Roman of Boston Latin. His defeat was something of an upset for "Stretch" was seeded No. 1 in the tourney. He has, however, been playing more baseball than tennis this spring, which may have hurt his championship chances.

Connie Rosander of Winchester scored a real upset in the first round of play Monday when he defeated Manchester of Newton, seeded No. [illegible] in straight sets [illegible]-4. Jim Tarbell and Jim Wa[illegible] of Winchester were also first round [illegible] McGovern and Rosander. [illegible] was eliminated [illegible] by Maloney of Quincy. Tarbell and Rosander were [illegible] round, being eliminated [illegible] of Brookline [illegible] Boston Latin. Wa[illegible] to Connor of Belmont [illegible] quarter finals.

THE POST OFFICE QUESTION

The agitation to place the Winchester Post office in the Boston district seems to have caught many Winchester people off balance, and while we have found numerous business men about town who oppose the scheme, its advocates do not appear in evidence. This scheme has cropped up periodically and few of the citizens at large are hardly aware of what it means or will imply. Usually the idea has originated outside of Winchester, and the present agitation appears to be the first time it has been brought forth within our own borders. The Star has always opposed the scheme and does now, firmly believing Winchester is well able to conduct its affairs without Boston aid with all it implies.

An interesting fact in the present situation is that some of the town meeting delegates who voted to refer the matter to a committee have been under the impression that this committee was to report at the next annual town meeting. That this is not so, and that the committee will report only to the Selectmen, comes as a surprise.

Another point of criticism is with reference to the committee itself. Many who have received the questionnaire which it has distributed feel that it is either biased or unfamiliar with the actual conditions. This state is laid to the fact that members of the committee are all Boston business men who do not have occasion to use our Post Office except for casual mail, therefore being unable to view the situation through the Winchester business man's eyes. As Winchester business men are vitally concerned, if our Post Office is to be taken out of local control, it is felt that a much wiser course would have been to appoint a committee wholly or largely from this group.

The agitation seems to be founded wholly on the three-cent penalty imposed on Winchester for its outside mail. If this is so, the committee could really perform a service to the town in forming plans to remedy the situation on its unfair discrimination rather than by surrendering our individuality to a most uncertain future. Such surrender might not affect Winchester business men mailing in Boston, but it certainly would, in our opinion, affect the town at large in many vital ways.

Once Winchester is absorbed by the Boston District, we have lost our Postal identity and Winchester will be known as a Station of Boston, rather than the Winchester Post Office. When this takes place the local office has lost all direct contact with the Post Office Department at Washington as all matters pertaining to a Postal Station must be handled by the main Post Office, which in our case would be the Boston Post Office.

The local Post Office is staffed almost entirely by Winchester residents, 22 of whom own their own homes, and pay their taxes right here in Winchester. These local men know the town and the post office patrons, and they take more than casual pride in the service they render.

As an independent post office, any prospective employee must be a resident of Winchester at the time of appointment, unless the local list of civil service eligibles has been exhausted. During the past eight years, no less than 10 Winchester residents have received permanent appointments in the Winchester post office. Under the Boston District, a prospective employee may live anywhere within the Boston District at the time of appointment. Therefore, appointment of local employees would be done away with almost entirely.

The P. O. office committee of three which was appointed by the Town Moderator at the last Town Meeting certainly lacks local business representation. The three members are all Boston business men and receive their business mail at their Boston addresses.

This Committee is possibly committed to the idea of having Winchester become part of the Boston District, as evidenced by the leading questions which have been submitted in the form of a questionnaire.

From the wording of the questionnaire it would appear that the Committee intends to present one side of the question only.

Question No. 9 on this questionnaire suggests that more help would be available in Winchester under the Boston District. All post offices are allowed, by law, one substitute employee for every six regular employees or fraction thereof. Therefore, it would be impossible for Winchester to secure any more substitute help than we now have, should we become part of the Boston District. During the Christmas rush period- more than 35 substitutes are employed each year, which is the same ration that the Boston District is allowed. During this war period, substitute help is not always available due to the man-power shortage. This same condition exists in the Boston District as well as in every other Post Office.

Question No. 4 states that Postmaster (this should be Superintendent and not Postmaster, because under the Boston District there would be only one postmaster and he would be the Boston postmaster) would have contact with the postal experts in the larger field. The same Postal laws and regulations govern all post office service, and there are men right here in our own Post Office, with years of experience, who know these same Postal laws as well as any postal expert in the Boston District. In the event that it should ever become necessary to seek outside advice on postal matters or postal policy, postal experts from the Post Office Department in Washington, the office of the Post Office Inspector-in-charge, Boston, and these same postal experts in the Boston Post Office are no farther distant than the telephone or telegraph system.

Question No. 5. There are no Postmasters (this again should be Superintendent) who can honestly say that better service has been enjoyed since entering the Boston District. The Stations of the Boston District receive and dispatch all mail matter by trucks, whereas Winchester is ideally located on the main line of the Boston and Maine Railroad and receives and dispatches all mail matter by train service. At the present time we receive 14 incoming mails each week day, and dispatch 10 outgoing mails each week day. Contrast this service to the service given to the Stations of Boston via truck! These Stations do not average more than six incoming mails daily and not more than six outgoing mails daily. This would tend to prove that we are getting better service as an independent Post Office than if we were to become a Boston Station, as this train service would be eliminated and truck service placed in operation.

Question No. 6. It cannot possibly be granted that our local organization would not be injured in any way by joining the Boston District. Senior men now serving in the Boston District at any office would outrank many of our local employees, and if they so desired, could request a transfer to Winchester by reason of their seniority in the Postal Service. This certainly would injure our service from the standpoint of local employment and local pride in service rendered.

The matter of service complaints should be given careful consideration. If you have a postal complaint, you may now visit the Postmaster right here in Winchester without having to ride into Boston to see the Postmaster.

Should the Winchester Post Office be administered by the Boston office any more than the Town Hall and its officers should be administered by the Boston City Hall, or any more than we should join the Boston Metropolitan Water System?

Any official of the Boston Post Office will very naturally favor the idea of absorbing an office the size of the Winchester office. All Postmasters and Postal supervisors have their salaries adjusted on the basis of the gross receipts of the Post Office. If Boston could annex Winchester Post Office and its more than $70,000 gross postal receipts to the present large Boston District, it is just possible that it would mean an increase in the salary of the Boston Postmaster and his supervisors.

CITATION FOR DR. MAIETTA

11th Anti-Aircraft Automatic Weapons Group

May 19, 1943

Subject: Commendation
To: Capt. Angelo L. Maietta, Surgeon, 457th AAA Auto Weapons Bn., Camp Stewart, Ga.

1. In these days, with a war threatening the very existence of our country, and our way of life, there are still many in this army who only do what they are required to do—nothing more. It is a regrettable situation, but still very much true. It is therefore a real pleasure and inspiration to meet an officer with your enthusiasm for your work; it is regrettable that there are not many more like you. Your initiative in inaugurating training classes in First Aid, and willingness to work far beyond what is required of you is deserving of the highest praise. Especially commendable are the all-day training classes, including the half-track demonstration that I witnessed yesterday. It is my hope that the AAATC Commander, a very busy officer, will find it possible to visit your demonstration this week- I know that he will be impressed as I was yesterday.

Miss Grimes has the distinction of being the only student to receive the degree of Bachelor of Arts, magna cum laude with highest honors. Her field was Romance Languages. Mrs. Finegan will receive the degree of Bachelor of Arts in the field of History.

Besides excelling in her studies, Miss Grimes has found time to participate in many extra-curricular activities. She has been president of the Spanish Club for the past two years, a member of the French Club her freshman and senior years, and a member of the Catholic Club for four years.

Mrs. Finegan has been very active in athletics as well as holding several class offices. She is president of the senior class, a commencement marshal and former junior class and freshman class representative to the Student Government. She was a member of the hockey team for three years, as well as of the Debating Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen B. Smith and daughter of New York were in Winchester over the week-end making a short visit with Mr. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Smith of Cambridge street.

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

On Tuesday, May 25, the last meeting of the season, was held at Lyceum Hall. An exhibition of Chinese embroideries and an explanation of their origin was given by Mrs. Michael H. Hintlian, substituting for Rev. Fr. George E. Wiseman who was unable to be present.

These beautiful Chinese embroideries were many of them brought from China by Father Wiseman and some of them came from Mrs. Hintlian's own collection of Chinese articles. Father Wiseman's exhibit contained The Dawn, The Peacock and Maan Yau Chun Yun. The characters on the latter mean literally, Ten Thousand things have a first cause," which of course is better translated "God is the Creator of all things." In The Dawn, the shadings were exquisitely done even in the tiny butterflies. The famous Ming blue which is peculiar to things Chinese was the dominant note. The peacock is a symbol of beauty and dignity. Mrs. Hintlian, with whom Chinese articles are a hobby, had many beautiful pieces on display. She gave a most interesting explanation of the many characters and their meaning.

Two beautiful incense burners, one over 1000 years old, the property of Mrs. Virgil Girardini were also exhibited. These pieces both burning incense gave a most realistic atmosphere to the occasion.

Father Wiseman, who has recently returned from missionary work in China, is co-author and translator of the book "Kawagai." This work is highly endorsed by the Guild. Father Wiseman is devoting all proceeds from the book to his mission to which he hopes to return when conditions are more favorable.

The sewing exhibition in charge of Mrs. George McDuffee displayed many beautiful pieces done by the members during the year. A beautiful handmade christening robe and matching slip which have taken first prize at a Jordan Marsh exhibit were loaned for the occasion by a relative of Mrs. Hintlian.

Also on the sewing table was a very lifelike baby doll presented to the Guild of the Infant Saviour by a young friend of Mrs. George McDuffee. This girl, a ripples- ripple from the age of 6 designed and made the exquisite little garments in which the doll is dressed. It will be on display at our bazaar next fall.

Prizes awarded on Tuesday afternoon were: Chinese sugar and cream set won by Mrs. W. H. Murray; a Korean hand-made luncheon set won by Mrs. Edwin Booth; the book Kiwang-i won by Mrs. James Gaffney; and a pair of nylon hosiery done by Mrs. Thomas Feeney. The proceeds from these articles will go to the Chinese Mission.

Co-chairmen of stamps and bonds, Mrs. Virgil Ghirardini and Mrs. Daniel Murray report that sales during the month of April reached a total of $872.50. To date, sales have amounted to $2,072.45. These stamps and bonds are sold at our regular meetings and many credit slips to Mrs. Ghirardini and Mrs. Murray for their splendid work in this cause.

Hostesses at the Chinese tea on the Tuesday were Mrs. Jane Iannino, Mrs. Wm. J. Murray, Mrs. Oxen J. Logue, Mrs. Hugh F. McPartland. Pourers were Mrs. Clarence Pomeroy, Mrs. M. G. Moffett.

SONS OF ITALY CLUB NEWS

The "Cigarettes for Overseas Servicemen" drive is still going strong. A movie trailer is being shown at the Winchester Theatre telling of the drive in Winchester. There is also a bank there for the convenience of any one who has been unable to contribute elsewhere.

The following boys were in our midst during the past week and week end. Lt. William Penna, Sgt. John Vespucci and Willie DeMinico.

Lt. Penna has been enjoying a well earned furlough at home. His brother 1st. Lt. Achilles Penna is also home, so it has been open house this past week at the Penna home on Irving street. Wally looks good in his officers uniform in spite of his oneness.

Sgt. John Vespucci was home on furlough and he dropped down to the club Saturday night. Everyone was glad to see him. He had just got back from New York City where he had gone with his mother to see his brother, Guy, who had come up from Pennsylvania. I'll bet they painted the town red. How about it boys?

Willie DeMinico was in town over the past week-end. As I didn't see him I can't say much about it. But, I guess you boys know Willie, so you can imagine what he did while he was in town. Incidentally, how about dropping us a few lines, Willie? After all.

The letter situation wasn't too bad this week. We received four letters and a few postal cards.

Lt. Joseph Ciarcia wrote a nice letter. He is playing some softball and baseball. He is also doing a lot of studying and is keeping in touch with several of the boys. Oh yeah, and he is playing a mean game of golf. Right now he is capable of a mean 90 on a 9 hole 36 par course.

Dominick Mosca also wrote. He is training to be a radio operator and that means eight hours a day of schooling and considerable night studying. He is on the company baseball team, playing on third.

Tony Graziano also wrote. Sam is in Texas. He enjoys reading the Star away from there. It makes him feel he is home in Winchester. He misses all the members and is looking forward to the day when he will see them all again in the clubhouse.

Pvt. Al DeMinico sent us a long letter this time. We enjoyed it, Al. Writing about the degree team he says, "And how well I remember when we would stress Liberty, Equality and Fraternity, because those are just the things that we are fighting for now."

Mario Marrone sent a card. What's cooking Jumbo? I mean in the line of sports. Let us know what you are managing or organizing, because we know if its sports you are in the middle of it.

We received a change of address from Clarky Lentine. Thanks Clarky. To the rest of you boys, when your address is changed let us know by first filling out the card form No. W. D. A. G. O., Form No. 294 and we will keep your address up to date. You also will get every issue of the Star.

Keep Fighting and Flying.

throughout the program. Every eye seemed glued upon Miss Renehan and the response to her demands was quite remarkable.

The performance of the Girls' Ensemble was especially outstanding, showing unusual flexibility, good balance, agreeable tone, constant pitch and general musical sense. Their rendition of the familiar Drink to Me Only was easily the most finished bit of singing on the program, the musical figures in the inner voices being brought out in effective fashion. The spritely and rather tricky madrigal was also well done. Margaret Fitzgerald, Barbara A. Smith, Annette Croughwell, sopranos; Anne Richardson, Yvonne Clennon, Frances Quimby, second sopranos; Betsy Drake, Alice Parker, Marilyn Drake, first altos; and Edith Dover, Anne Thompson and Martha Jackson, second altos, composed the ensemble.

If the Old English Air was the most finished, the lovely Ave Maria was most spectacular, with the spot-lighting of soloists and violinist and dimmed lights that gradually brightened for the finale. The soloists, Annette Croughwell, Suzanne Burr and Margaret Fitzgerald sang the beautiful air simply and effectively against a background of humming by the chorus, using the Latin text, after which the air was repeated by the violin, which provided an effective obligato for the full chorus. Miss Stillman's playing was very finished, her tone being clear and musical and her double stopping cleanly done. Her performance was doubly praiseworthy in view of the fact that she was handicapped by an injured arm.

Solo voices in the Irish Air were those of Margaret Fitzgerald, Frances Quimby, Barbara A. Smith and Annette Croughwell. In the Franck number, Dorothy Hickey, Marion Horwood, Norma Farrar, Barberie Harmer, Virginia Nelson, Susan Hight, Joan Ray, Ruth Allen, Emily Hanson and Alice Parker. Generally speaking however, these were lead voices rather than soloists, the idea obviously being toward group singing rather than playing up outstanding individuals.

Accompanists were Anne Richardson for the ensemble and Girls' Glee Club, William Everett for the boys and Alice Parker for the combined clubs. All played precisely and it is a pity the condition of the piano prevented their performance from being more appreciated.

"The Lord God will help me; therefore shall I not be confounded: therefore have I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be ashamed." These words from Isaiah 50:7 comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, May 30, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be: "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced." Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "Regard not them that have familiar spirits, neither seek after wizards, to be defiled by them: I am the Lord your God" (Leviticus 19:31).

The following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "The necromancy of yesterday foreshadowed the mesmerism and hypnotism of today . . . Animal magnetism has no scientific foundation, for God governs all that is real, harmonious, and eternal, and His power is neither animal nor human" (pp. 322, 102).

GOVERNMENT NEEDS TYPEWRITERS

There is an urgent need for typewriters in the Armed services and as none are now being built it becomes necessary for the Government to ask all who can possibly do so to sell their machines to Uncle Sam.

There are 2,400,000 standard size typewriters built since Jan. 1, 1935, now in the hands of business firms, schools, colleges and individuals. The Army, Navy and War Agencies need 600,000 of them, or one in every four.

The Government proposes to buy the machines they need and will pay well for them, approximately $40 for a machine on which the normal trade in would be $30, and $30 for a $25 machine. Typewriter dealers are cooperating and serving as official United States Typewriter Purchase Depots. The dealer will give the seller an official Treasury Procurement Division receipt and after the machine has been reconditioned it will be shipped by the dealer to the nearest point of need. Both the seller and dealer will be paid by the Government.

Mr. George E. Byford of Highland avenue, who is associated with the W. P. B., is handling the typewriter campaign for the Procurment Division in this district. He has enlisted the services of the school authorities who have asked all school children to report any typewriters which may be available for purchase by the Government.

Mr. Byford believes that there are many typewriters in Winchester which their owners are not using. He is asking all such owners to report such machines at once to the Winchester Star Office, Win. 0029, giving the make, model and serial number and if possible year of manufacture. The Government especially wants what it designates as Class A machines, or those manufactured from 1935 on.

The Winchester Better Homes Garden Club members are to hold the June meeting in the delightful gardens at the home of Mrs. William L. Davis. The meeting is without guest privileges and a full membership is urged to attend, rain or shine. The business of the club will be at 2 o'clock and following it Mrs. James A. Newman, president will introduce Mrs. Herbert Hosmer, of Concord, who will give her interesting and instructive talk on, "Herbs for Victory." If attending call Mrs. Robert S. Bayliss, Win. 1767-M.

Announcement has been made of the dates when, in June through September the Club will carry flowers to the Lovell General Hospital at Fort Devens. All who have flowers to share will be able to join in this work by having flowers at the Welfare Office in the Town Hall by 11 a. m., the second Friday of each month. These will be taken to the hospital and shared and distributed as far as possible. June 11 will be the first date for the Winchester group to go. Large bouquets or small will be appreciated.

At the river he and Chief Eames of the Reading Fire Department, after dragging for about 20 minutes located and brought up the body of the victim, Charles Rogers, 15, of 119 Salem street, Reading. STUDENT COUNCIL AWARDS INSIGNIA

22 Student Honored

Newest awards granted by an organization at Winchester High School were given by the Student Council on Monday to 22 worthy members of the school who have made outstanding contributions to extra-curricular activities. In his presentation speech, President Paul Blake explained that this honor group, which includes members of the orchestra, chorus, traffic squad, Junior Red Cross, Red and Black, dramatic society, Aberjona staff, student council, Cum Laude committees, clubs and class officers, were chosen for their all-round school citizenship. Athletic awards are not considered in the point rating.

Those selected as a result of a point system inaugurated this year were led by Alice Parker with 66 points. Others to win this award, in order of their point standing, ranging from 46 to 30 points were Gordon McGovern, Pauline Milne, Paul Blake, Betty Drake, Stephen Greene, Joan Stillman, Claire Smalley, Janet Eaton, Robert Goddu, Richard Fenno, Virginia Straghan, Charles Murphy, Barbara J. Smith, Frank Horne, Ruth Tapley, Ellen Jackson, Katherine Seaton, Herbert Moore, Talbot Smith, and Charles Lovejoy, the only sophomore. Since the points are cumulative, this will be an essentially upper class unit. Six were tied at 30 points each.

AIR RAID MANEUVERS SUCCESSFUL

The Civilian Defense Corps conducted itself admirably last Sunday in the maneuvers with the Army and State Guard. The personnel of the various units responded quickly and carried out assignments efficiently.

A survey of the town showed that wardens and auxiliary police were alert and waiting for enemy troops. Unfortunately for practice purposes no enemy appeared, but the newly organized Winchester State Guard Troop was ready.

Practice yellow signal was received from the warning center at 6:20 and the mobilization signal at 6:35. In spite of the early hour, the report center was fully manned in 12 minutes and remained so until 9 when the all clear was sounded.

Due to the fact that the raid itself lasted only ten minutes, there was time for only a few incidents. Nevertheless all services saw some action.

Three test raids in six days made it possible to iron out many of the old weak spots, but they also disclosed some new ones of minor importance. It is to be hoped that there will be further tests within the near future in order to bring the Corps up to a higher degree of perfection.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

Mrs. Clifton S. Hall, who is serving the Fortnightly as president, for the third consecutive year, entertained the council at a luncheon at her home on Tuesday. At this luncheon the council interviewed agents and entertainers relative to the program for the coming club year.

The month of May usually brings to a close the work of the many committees of the Fortnightly but this year there will be no such a thing as a cessation of the many efforts that are aiding in war work.

The Red Cross sewing group has held its last meeting in Fortnightly Hall but will carry on its work on Thursdays during June at the home of Mrs. Newell C. Page, 28 Maxwell road. During July and August this group will meet at the home of Mrs. Edward R. Grosvenor. Anyone interested in helping out this sewing will be welcome.

Knitting must go on to fill the call for 3200 knitted garments for the soldiers and sailors in our own harbor forts and outposts. If you can knit, and are willing to do so, during the summer months, yarn may be obtained from Mrs. E. Adele Emery, 40 Church street, Win. 2186.

When spring cleaning, any good and useable wearing apparel or furniture that is to be discarded will be welcomed by the Navy Thrift Shop in Charlestown. Please call Mrs. R. K. Miller, Win. 1909-J.

EXHIBITION OF ART AND SHOP WORK

The public is cordially invited to an exhibition of student work in art, art and crafts, mechanical drawing, printing, and industrial arts to be held at the high school gymnasium on Thursday and Friday of next week. The hours will be from 3 to 9:00 Thursday and from 3 until 6 on Friday.

The exhibit of the Art Department will feature paintings and etchings by some of the more talented students. The arts and crafts exhibition will include leather work, weaving, novelty design and many other items displayed by pupils in special elementary school groups as well as the work of the junior and senior high pupils.

For the first time, pupils in the printing classes will have a display for the exhibition. Interesting mechanical drawings and lettering will accompany that department's work.

Specimens of woodwork contributed by the Red Cross by the junior and senior high school classes will feature that department's exhibit. Two other activities of the industrial arts division are the model aircraft making and the girls' clubwork. Work of the 7th and 8th grades will dominate the exhibit work of this department, since several of the senior high school workers are now enrolled in pre-induction training elsewhere.

Acting Principal Graves heads the planning committee and working with him are Miss Pauline Goodrich, Mr. Otis Leary, and Mr. William Brantley.

DAUGHTERS OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION

Committee of Safety Chapter

Committee of Safety Chapter, D. A. R., held its annual luncheon, followed by a meeting, at the Winchester Country Club on Tuesday, May 25. The luncheon was in charge of Mrs. William H. Cole and Miss Mary Alice Fitch arranged the flowers on the tables.

Miss Clara R. Russell, the Regent, presided at the meeting and gave a resume of the last State board meeting. Attention was again called by the Regent to the fact that the D. A. R. maintains a Student Loan Fund. This is one of the important projects of the society. Any college student, of either sex, of sophomore grade or beyond, needing financial assistance to continue his or her education may make application for a loan to a chapter regent. If the students qualifications are approved by the State Regent Loan Fund Committee, the loan will be granted. Already in this town one student has taken advantage of this offer.

The D. A. R. members attending the 52nd Continental Congress in Cincinnati, Ohio, bought over two million dollars worth of war bonds. Members have also given generously to the society's emergency war project, the Mobile Blood Plasma Units and on Jan. 29 one of these units was presented to the Boston Metropolitan Chapter of the American Red Cross by the Massachusetts daughters. This unit has been named the "Brown Bomber" and has had a full schedule, covering central and southern Massachusetts, parts of New Hampshire, and Maine, and collecting up to April 29, 28,617 pints of blood. A visit of the Blood Plasma Unit to a city or town also gives publicity to the project, thus assisting in securing additional blood donors.

Mrs. Nathaniel M. Nichols, vice regent and Red Cross chairman for the Chapter, reported the members giving generously of their time in Red Cross work, sewing, surgical dressings, and knitting. Several members are also identified with Civilian Defense and have been Blood Donors.

The following men serving in the Army, Merchant Marine, and Navy are sons of members: Earle E. Andrews, Jr., Maj. Charles L. Beaudry, Elliott K. Blaisdell, Lt. John R. Bottger, George H. Bryne, John D. Bryne, Joseph S. Burton, Lt. Francis E. Carlson, John G. Carlson, Lt. Clifford Cunningham, Lt. J. Gordon Hindes, Philip R. Jackson, Franklin L. Joy, 2nd, Lt. (j.g.) Edmund Merriam, Capt. Frank Ripley Parsons, George H. Peckham, Jr., Richard T. Peckham, Lt. George A. Rivinius, Jr., Robert H. Sibley, Jr., Lt. Maurice C. Tompkins, Lt. (j.g.) Russell B. Tompkins, Robert B. Peckham.

THESE GIRLS KNOW ALL THE ANSWERS

The regular Information Windows at the North Station "went feminine" Thursday, May 20 for the first time in more than a century of rail service north of Boston. Thousands of travelers and commuters will hereafter learn the time of the next train to Portland or the best route to Chicago from the Boston and Maine's first two "Information" girls. They have been trained to augment a male "Information" staff depleted by departures for the armed services. From left to right, Miss Elizabeth Bowman of Winchester, and Miss Betty M. Galvin of Wakefield are shown as they answered the queries of two service men. The two girls were recruited from the railroad's ticket accounting staff.

MEMORIAL DAY OBSERVANCE

The status of Memorial Day and Because of the confusion existing in the minds of some employers and employees over the observance of a designated holiday which falls on a Sunday, such as Memorial Day, May 30, and Independence Day, July 4, Regional Attorney George H. Foley of the U. S. Department of Labor has stated: "Where a designated holiday under the President's Executive Order No. 9240 falls on a Sunday, either Sunday or Monday may be observed as the holiday but not both.

"However, where a State law requires that a holiday falling on Sunday shall be observed on Monday, it is my opinion you should observe the holiday in accordance with the State statute."

In Massachusetts, Memorial Day will be observed on a Monday in accordance with a State law. Under the Executive Order, employers are required to pay their employees at the rate of time and one-half for work on that day.

DEAR MOM

A wonderful letter is written to you in the 1943 Camp Fellsland catalogue and you should procure a copy right away. We do not know why Boy Scout Bill didn't write you a note too Pop, but he does send you his love and that is about all a father asks for these days.

Parents of Boy Scouts are urged to make sure and get a copy of the catalogue which is also full of wonderful pictures explaining Camp Fellsland much better than I did in the Star.

Phone Boy Scout headquarters at Win. 2030 and tell them you want to read that letter and see the pictures of Camp Fellsland.

Troop 3 News

WYMAN SCHOOL NEWS

A successful year under the leadership of Mrs. Rodney Long was terminated on May 19 at the annual meeting of the Wyman School Mothers' Association at Wyman hall.

A beautiful warm spring day brought out a good attendance to hear Miss Corinne Mead give an informal talk on the past year at the library. They are very proud of their 7500 borrowers, a high average in comparison with the number of the population. The library is a center for war information and serves the town in many different ways, 271 outside meetings were held there last year. The Friday evening and Saturday morning movie programs for the children, were a great success last winter, resulting in 5000 more books issued on Saturdays than during the previous year.

The children entertained the mothers with adorable shadows, pictures of nursery rhymes and the fourth grade followed with a history of boats starting with the Indian canoe and ending with "Old Ironsides." These were explained by very colorful posters made by the class itself.

President, Mrs. William Morse
Vice Pres., Mrs. George Marks
Rec. Sec., Mrs. Cedric Seager
Cor. Sec., Mrs. Marshall Pihl
Treasurer, Mrs. Richard Clark

Chairman Social Committee, Mrs. Herbert Wadsworth
Chairman Luncheons, Mrs. Benjamin Kendall

The outgoing board also entertained the teachers at a luncheon at Mrs. Maxwell McCreery's on Curtis circle on Wednesday, May 26, hoping to show their appreciation of the wonderful care and kindness that the teachers show the children during the long school season.

Troop 11

Girl Scouts of Troop 11 in charge of leader Mrs. Charles J. Feinberg were hostesses at a tea for mothers and friends at their last meeting for the year on Thursday, May 20 at the Noonan School.

The meeting was opened with salute to the flag by all assembled and singing of National Anthem. Color bearer was Barbara Young and color guards were Sally and Joan Morgan.

Vocal selections by Ruthann Cavanaugh accompanied by leader, Mrs. Feinberg were Alice Blue Gown, Bells of St. Mary's and Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life which were well received by the audience.

Sally Morgan then announced a group of 11 scenes enacted by members of the troop in shadowgraph, portraying Girl Scout laws, directed by leader Mrs. Feinberg.

The program was closed with singing of girl scout songs.

Tea and sandwiches and cake were served from a patriotic decorated table by the scouts to their guests. Pourers were scouts Rose McGowan and Barbara Young.

Miss Harhan, principal of the Noonan School was a guest of the troop. Also present were Mrs. S. Mullen, president of Noonan School Mothers' Association and treasurer, Mrs. J. T. Callahan.

BRITISH WAR RELIEF

Members of the Winchester Unit on last Wednesday declared themselves a holiday for the coming Wednesday, June 2. On that one day the workroom at the Epiphany Parish hall will be closed, and a large number of the workers will go in to Boston for the June luncheon of this whole area.

The speaker will be Col. Arthur Evans, M. P., of Cardiff, Wales. He is an influential member of the British Parliament and chairman of several important committees dealing with international questions. As a speaker he is reported to be another good find, worthy of a place in the series with "the London taxi-driver", whom the guests at the last luncheon heard delightedly, and other wise, moving, and entertaining speakers that have been presented on these luncheon programs.

Tables will be reserved for Winchester women who notify Mrs. Fred Cameron, Win. 1984, by Monday evening, May 31 that they wish places.

Since this is probably the last luncheon until the fall, the demand for places will be large, and it will not be possible to hold any after 12:10. It will be wise to be at the Statler Hotel by 12, noon, June 2.

On June 9, the Epiphany workroom will be open and busy in its regular way from 10 to 4 o'clock.

Oscar used to be a first-class machinist. Five years ago he retired to live out the rest of his life on a pension.

The other morning he showed up again at his old plant, which now makes war equipment, and asked for his old job back. When payday came, he signed up with the Payroll Savings Plan to put 20% of his pay in War Bonds.

Seems Oscar's boy was on Bataan.

Here is the prize fish story for Winchester this year. Two young men from Somerville came out to fish in Mystic Lake for horn pout one night. During the night they had a good catch and decided to take a short nap about daylight. They were awakened by a swish of wings and looking up saw a huge black bird with a white head and yellow beak making off with one of their largest fish. This bird perched on a tree and proceeded to eat the fish. They said that they had never seen such a bird before. If their story is true it was without doubt an eagle. We do have eagles here and they have been seen many times near the Lawrence tower in the Fells. Eagles only remain here in town over night or just long enough to rest up from their flight from the South.

WINCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATED 162

With four members already in uniform and several more actually inducted into the armed forces earlier in the day the Winchester High School Class of 1943, numbering 162, was graduated at exercises held last Friday evening in the school auditorium.

John Murray was on the platform with the graduates in the uniform of the Army Meteorology Service, but his three classmates, William Daley (Army Air Corps) Robert Salzman (Army) and Robert Ramsdell (Merchant Marine) were unable to get leave to attend. The decorations for graduation were in Red, White and Blue, with a gold eagle at the center of the platform in front, class shields at either side and a huge American Flag in place of the usual back-drop. On the platform with the graduates were Robert F. Lybeck, chairman of the School Committee; Principal Samuel M. Graves, Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, who offered the invocation and pronounced the benediction; and Dr. Kirtley Mather, professor of Geology at Harvard, who was the guest speaker.

The graduates marched to the platform, led by President Frank Buzzotta, whose marshal's baton was wrapped with the National Colors. Members of the high school orchestra who played the entrance march included Herbert Clement, William Everett, Charles Lovejoy, Dorothy Carr, Larimore Parker, Arthur Twombly, Robert Dixon, and Dominic Talone. Immediately after the invocation President Buzzotta led the graduates and audience in the Salute to the Flag.

The combined girls' and boys' glee clubs, numbering 175 voices, under the direction of Miss Claudia Renehan, supervisor of music in the public schools, sang Prayer of Thanksgiving (Netherlands Folk Song) and The Old Refrain by Fritz Kreisler, returning later in the evening to sing Schubert's Ave Maria, When the Foeman Bares His Steel from The Pirates of Penzance by Gilbert and Sullivan and Engel's arrangement of God Rest Our Glorious Land by Oliver Wendell Holmes.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT PROGRESSES

The annual get-acquainted tennis doubles tournament got under way last Saturday promptly at 2:30. In all there have been 78 women and girl entrants and 94 men and boys. At least one of the finals out of the four will probably remain to be played off on Saturday, June 5, on the eight superb town courts along Palmer street.

The worth-while and inspiring aspect of these contests lies in the sportsmanlike fashion in which youth and elders play side by side. Lady Luck, aided later in the process by the enforced public use of pencil and eraser, often produces what seems, at first sight, to be a grotesque combination; but the actual battle never shows anything but mutual respect and helpful encouragement. Unfortunately, very few were privileged to see the good contest carried on in the semis (two sets out of three) by 12-year old Sheldon Caldwell and Connie Rosander against the veteran Herb Ross and his high school partner, Jim Ware. We predict a great future for Sheldon in tennis; Winchester is going to hear a lot more about him and will be proud of another tennis champ.

Despite good weather and excellent courts the tournament could not have enjoyed such progress were it not for the unselfish, smiling co-operation of some members of the younger group who were always ready to fill out a foursome. The names of some of these fine people ought to be printed in bold-faced type to indicate to our readers some of the sterling that exists so unassumingly in our midst. For the moment, however, virtue will be forced to remain its own reward.

The complete summary of the tournament will be printed in next week's Star.

SUNDAY DINERS OUT MAY GO BY AUTO

Comfort for both restaurant owners and habitual Sunday diners-out has been given in an OPA ruling to the Massachusetts Restaurant Association that "if a man is accustomed to taking his family out to Sunday dinner, he can keep on doing so," in spite of the ban against pleasure driving.

The OPA specified, however, that the motorist may not pass several restaurants on his way to a distant eating house.

DIRECTED ATTACK ON SUB

Residents of Winchester were interested to read that the Navy escort unit which sank a Nazi submarine several weeks ago as the underwater raider was lying in wait for an important Allied convoy in the Atlantic was commanded by a Winchester man, Capt. Paul R. Heineman, U. S. N., of 10 Hillside avenue. The Coast Guard Cutter, Spencer, skippered by Comdr. Harold S. Berdine, USCG, of Belmont, actually sank the sub, after chasing it through the convoy, but Capt. Heineman was on her bridge and directed the attack. It is also of interest that a former Winchester boy, Lt. (j.g.) Bill "Spencer" Kielhorn of Evanston, Ill., was also on the ship. He is a graduate of Winchester High School and well known in town.

The Spencer picked up the sub with its detectors and although the raider remained submerged, even below periscope level the Coast Guard cutter never lost its contact, chasing the sub through the convoy and finally bringing it to the surface with depth charges. As the raider came to the surface it was sunk with shell fire, another Coast Guard boat, the Duane assisting the Spencer in attacking.

WINCHESTER OBSERVED MEMORIAL DAY

Winchester's observance of Memorial Day, aided by ideal weather, took place on Sunday, May 30, opening with the annual religious service held this year at the Church of the Epiphany.

A delegation of Legionnaires from Post 97, under Comdr. James W. Blackham, marched to the church with their colors and color guard, the color-bearers being George Donaghey and Warren Johnston and the guards, Clifford Towner and Past Comdr. Kenneth Hall. Besides the Legionnaires and their servicemen guests, who sat together at the head of the nave, there was a sprinkling of men in uniform in the good sized congregation.

The rector, Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, in his Memorial Day address, stated that we can best honor the memory of our soldier dead by keeping alive the ideals of Freedom and Democracy, for which they gave their lives. He stressed the need for Christian citizenship, the tenets of which can be found in the words of St. Peter, admonishing true Christians to "honor all men, love the brotherhood, fear God and honor the king." In discussing the need for a brotherhood of nations as a guarantee of future peace, Mr. Hadley warned of the dangers that are inherent in the philosophy of isolationism.

Led by the vested choir, under the direction of J. Raymond Graham, the congregation sang "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," Kipling's "Recessional" and "God of Our Fathers" as well as "America," the latter being sung at the conclusion of the offertory. Wardens Ralph Perkins and Gerald Hills escorted the Legionnaires into and from the church, the congregation standing.

Afternoon Parades

The first of the afternoon parades, that to Calvary Cemetery in East Woburn, got under way about 2:30, the Legionnaires and Veterans of Foreign Wars being led by the Winchester Post Band and escorted by Police, the newly organized Winchester Company, 140, Massachusetts State Guard, Boy Scouts and the Sea Scout Ship Tarquin. On the way to the cemetery the parade halted at Leonard Field while Commander Blackham serving as parade marshall, placed a wreath upon the stone, honoring the memory of Augustus M. Leonard, deceased World War 1 hero for whom the field is named.

At the cemetery the exercises were held at the new City of Woburn War Memorial. The program included the blowing of echo taps and an address by Rev. James F. Fitzsimons, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church. Father Fitzsimons in the course of his brief remarks stated that to have a real peace which will stand the test of time it will be necessary to separate militaristic Prussia from the remainder of Germany where the fine arts have always prospered.

The roster of the parade to Wildwood was larger than its predecessor, a large detachment of Girl Scouts and several Cub Packs joining the line of march. The complete roster included:

Motorcycle Officer Irving Reardon
Police Escort, Lt. Edward W. O'Connell commanding
Winchester Post Band, Gus Woods, Drum-major
Winchester Post Colors and Guard

ELKS TO HOLD FLAG DAY EXERCISES

The annual Flag Day exercises of Winchester Lodge of Elks will be held in Lyceum Hall on Sunday afternoon, June 13, at 2.30 o'clock. William G. White, E. L. K., is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements.

A fine speaker, Mr. George F. Henderson, City Treasurer of Chelsea, has been secured for this occasion and the public is cordially invited to attend. Invitations have been sent out to all organizations in the town and this year, more than any other, the response to this invitation should be considered with all seriousness when we realize that so many of the boys from this town are away fighting under this flag. Twenty-nine from Winchester Lodge alone have already gone and undoubtedly more will be called from our ranks.

Let us take this opportunity to pay our respect to our flag and, at the same time, remember the boys who are away from home on foreign soil fighting for this flag, making this great sacrifice that we at home may always have the privilege of attending this grand and solemn occasion which takes place every year.

PEOPLE WERE PERPLEXED

Saturday morning, May 1, the town's fire alarm system tooted out one series of nine blasts three times-999-and since that sounding many people have been curious to know what it meant.

Nine-nine-nine in Winchester is the Boy Scout mobilization call. It will quickly arouse every Boy Scout, as each is aware of the importance of the call, and all of them will rapidly assemble at their various emergency stations. It is a call to duty for the Boy Scout, for the call may be asking for assistance in some local trouble like finding a lost child or fighting a grass fire.

The May 1 call was a preliminary to the Boy Scout Rally on Manchester Field that day.

EPIPHANY BUNDLE TEA AND FOOD SALE

Mrs. Thomas I. Freeburn, 35 Cabot street, will open her garden and house Wednesday, June 9, for a tea from 3 to 5 o'clock. Guests will arrive with mysterious packages of all weights and sizes. Each will be wrapped so that it can most easily and safely be taken over to Boston, where it will be sold by the Penny Wise Thrift Shop for the benefit of two diocesan enterprises, the Episcopal Home City Mission and the Church Home Society.

In 1942 the Church Home Society placed 206 homeless children in good foster homes. It does not end its service with such placement, but keeps in touch. Last year this diocesan work helped almost 700 children with advice in problems of personal and vocational nature. Trained persons give not only intelligent care but warm, hearted caring to children whom life has not supplied with the natural center of affection, permanence and security, a home. Funds for the work come largely from the Boston Penny Wise Thrift Shop. Many parishes of the Diocese of Massachusetts provide goods for the shop by a special Bundle Tea. It is dependent on such gifts for its wares.

They can sell anything, say the managers of the Penny Wise. So this hunt will require Epiphany parishioners to do a special kind of rummaging, for the faneiful as well as the practical in clothes, dishes, draperies, bric-a-brac, or what your attic may afford. In those mysterious packages golden slippers may hob-nob with sturdy Oxfords; fans and shawls fit for "Gone with the Wind" may find themselves in company with the most modern and utilitarian of sweaters, dresses and coats, for any age wearer, 1 to 81; skis with a bird cage, etc.

Mrs. Henry B. Sawyer and Mrs. Helen Brown are the committee in charge of the tea. Pouring at the tea tables will be Mrs. Dwight W. Hadley, Mrs. William C. Sache, Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker and Mrs. Maxwell McCreery.

The Evening Branch will repeat a favorite part of last June's bundle tea a sale of home-cooked foods. Last year food sold as fast as it could be put on display and the canny guests hunted up that corner of the party before they went for their cup of tea to help out transportation.

Gifts of food may be brought to the Winchester Dress Shop, 8 Mt. Vernon street, in care of Mrs. Matilda Barron.

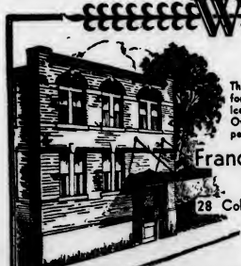

In charge of the food sale are Mrs. Alfred Denley, Mrs. Ernest C. Barron, Mrs. John Hanlon, Mrs. George Osborne, Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker, and Mrs. Francis Booth.

Following the usual route to Wildwood the parade halted at the War Memorial Statue on the high school lot, the marchers standing at attention while Commander Blackham placed a wreath at the foot of the statue and a trumpeter sounded taps.

At Wildwood the exercises were held at the Soldier's Monument, and consisted of echo taps and an address by Rev. R. Mitchell Rushton of the First Baptist Church. Mr. Rushton opened his address by referring to the Memorial Day exhibit at Filene's in Boston, showing Uncle Sam standing with bared head before a rude flower-decked cross marking a soldier's grave. All of us, he said, stood in the same reverent attitude as on Memorial Day we honored our soldier dead, not alone the dead of past wars, but those who are daily falling in the present great fight for freedom. Nor do many of us realize as yet how many are being added to the already long list of hero dead we venerate. We are all in the present death grapple, regardless of race, color or creed, and as one we look forward to the day when the conflict is past and the names of those who fall in battle are a glorious memory.

Tonic and cake were served at the Legion Home after the parade by a group of Legionnaires headed by Fred Mitchell. The line of march was reviewed as it crossed the bridge on Mt. Vernon street by the Board of Selectmen.

Anticipating Memorial Day the Legion held its annual banquet Thursday evening with war and sports movies and invited speakers, an interesting program being presented at the Legion House. Saturday afternoon details decorated the graves of the military in Calvary, Wildwood and other near-by cemeteries.

Paradables

Surely the feature of this year's parades was the first appearance on the street of Winchester's new State Guard Company. Some 30 strong, clad in forestry green trousers and overseas caps with khaki shirts and ties, the guardsmen presented a very trim appearance. They marched well and in business-like fashion, wisely trying nothing tricky, but doing what they did do well. All in all the men were a credit to Capt. Leslie A. Tucker, who marched at their head with Capt. Kingman P. Cass of the 26th Infantry as staff officer. 1st Lt. Henry Dellicker and 2nd Lt. Ernest Duckworth were the other commissioned officers in line. Harold V. Hovey is the company's supply sergeant and Cpl. William Swett is company clerk. The guardsmen carried shotguns instead of rifles.

* * * *

Major Harold Farnsworth, staff officer of the State Guard for this district, was asked to parade with the Winchester unit, but was prevented by a business trip to St. Louis.

* * * *

Acting Sergt. James P. Donaghey, with his new stripes, led the Police Detail to Calvary. The officers in line were Edward Bowler, George Lallas, James Flaherty, John Hogan, and Clarence Dunbury. Behind "Big Kaf" going to Wildwood were James Farrell, William Callahan, Augustine MacDonald, Archie O'Connell and William Haggerty.

* * * *

Motorcycle Officer Irving Reardon had on a new uniform for the parade, and was trying to work up a bit of enthusiasm for it at Headquarters, without, we must confess, very much success. One of the inevitable dogs that always add so much to all public gatherings in Winchester nearly dumped Irving at the entrance to Wildwood but not quite.

* * * *

Jack McCarthy drove the Disabled Veterans over the route and Selectman Dan Murray rode with this group, though hardly in the disabled class. Lt. Walter Burns, Winchester's first holder of the Distinguished Service Cross in this war, was with the Disabled group, looking fine, though still favoring a game leg.

* * * *

The Selectmen "hoofed" it to Calvary and Wildwood, claiming to be the first Board to do so. They sneaked out of line returning from Wildwood and ducked down the back way to review the marchers in the center.

* * * *

* * * *

You have to hand it to those Sea Scouts of Skipper Lou Goddu. The boys in their summer "whites" marched and conducted themselves in excellent fashion, showing all the advantages of skilled training and rigid discipline. "Charlie" Murphy was color-bearer and the guards were Bob Goddu and Fran Poirier.

* * * *

Invitations were extended to Louis Goldman, a disabled veteran, and to Retired Police Lt. John A. Harrold to participate in the parades. Neither was up to it, having been a bit indisposed of late. Both were missed, especially genial "John" who was a fixture in these parades for so many years.

* * * *

The Legion turnout was not so large as in some years, many veterans having to work. The Legionnaires were for the most part in uniform and made a good showing. Color-bearers were Neil McCarthy and George Donaghey with Warren Johnston and Cliff Towner as guards.

* * * *

* * * *

Anthony Jacobellis and Daniel Dineen carried the Colors of Aberjona Post, V. F. W., with Past Comdr. Fred C. Stevenson and Norman B. Brooks, as guards. Comdr. Paul Bourinot stated that relatively few of his boys were able to get away from their work to march.

* * * *

Not for years have there been so many Scouts in line and this year's showing by the youngsters was easily their best. Especially was this so of the Girl Scouts who have been training weekly under Miss Helen Neidringhaus, school physical education director in marching and maneuvers. The girls marched well and kept their ranks in close order. They were formed by heights which also helped their appearance. The two drummers who played for them were Beverly Gay and Virginia Gaffney.

* * * *

Girl Scout leaders on the job included Commissioner Tapley, Marion Feinberg, Natalie True, Dorothy Ellege and Eldith Treacy. Seemed funny not to see Marion Symmes in line but she was "up country" victory gardening and couldn't get back.

* * * *

The Boy Scouts also made a good showing, Troops 1, 3, 7 and 10 being in line with Cub Packs 3, 6 and 10. Besides Commissioner Weld the leaders were Cimmissioner Francis McCall, Robinson Whitten, Stafford Rogers, Frank McFeeley, Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman, Bradford Hersey, Robert Carruthers, James Coon and Everett Nelson. The little Cubs made a great hit all along the line and really did a good job all through the parade.

* * * *

The most popular men at the Legion House after the parade were Fred Mitchell's bully boys, who handed out pop and cake. They included Ken Colgate, Bob Sullivan, Hector Cyr, Bill Rogers, Bill Sullivan and Louis Goudell. If you think they didn't earn their passage you never saw a bunch of Scouts (m and f) go for refreshment after a hike.

* * * *

Some day we hope to see a ceremony at the War Memorial unembellished by dogs and children. There were several of both in evidence this year. Without posing as a police expert we can still believe the officers could get out of line long enough to keep the space before the memorial clear for the brief service. How about it!

* * * *

On the whole the conduct of the Scout marchers was exemplary. Especially were the youngsters quiet and attentive in the cemetery. There weren't so many straggling along beside the marchers as in past years, either.

WINCHESTER SWAMPED CONCORD

Winchester High combined 21 hits with opposing errors to tally 20 runs and overwhelm Concord High in a Middlesex League baseball game at Concord Tuesday afternoon 20-3. Big Harvey Clarke went the route for the locals and held Concord to four hits for his best pitching performance of the year. "Sarto" Walsh, with four hits, including a double, in six trips to the plate, led both teams at bat. The win game Winchester a 5-5 rating in league play and third place in the team standing. SEA SCOUTS AND CUBS AT MEMORIAL SERVICE

Members of S. S. S. Tarquin, under Skipper Louis Goddu, and Cub Scout Pack 6 attended the annual Memorial Day service at the Unitarian Church on last Sunday, marching in to the church and posting their colors in impressive fashion. The minister, Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman, preached upon the appropriate subject, "My Country 'Tis of Thee."

After the service inside the Scouts joined with the congregation in an impressive outdoor service at the three trees planted in memory of Stewart Lane, Mahlon Dennett and Chester Tutein, members of the Unitarian Church who lost their lives during World War 1. During the short service Miss Rhoda Elliott played "Taps" on the Downs Memorial Carillon.

McLAUGHLIN TORRID

"Wild Willie" McLaughlin, with high school graduation safely past and no visions of academic regalia to plague him for another year, featured the regular matches of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association over the holiday week-end with an exhibition that won him the champion's toga without a dissenting voice.

"The Pride of Stowe and Champion of all Nabnasset" has seldom been better than he was on the holiday. So good was he in fact that he carried the Association's President, Royal P. Teele, champion of the Boston Paper Trade, to victory with but the loss of two out of ten games played.

Mr. Teele put in a most delightful forenoon. Royal's winnings during the waning spring season have been so few and far between that any victory has come to assume an exaggerated importance in his scheme of things. Consequently winning eight out of ten, even though his particular contribution to the triumph was more or less negligible, gave him a general joie de vivre that must have been doubly welcome after so many successive plates of badly sired soup.

Royal and "Willie" won first from H. "Tiffany" Knowlton and Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham. Nor was it "Tiffany's" fault that his was the losing team. Braced by the fact that his Victory Garden was coming along nicely and bouyed by the prospect of seeing the afternoon double-header with pleasant company Mr. Knowlton gave an exhibition second only to that of the old Maestro, McLaughlin, throwing ringers and double-ringers with a regularity that caused even Willie's eye-brows to hump up a bit and turned the other less fortunate members a pale green with envy.

Getting little help from Mr. Pridham in his first match against the Champs, Mr. Knowlton got even less from that other member of the Maxwell Road Mugwumps, the luckless Secretary, in the second. Despite "Tiffany's" scintillating play, Willie and Royal took two straight in each match, after which for reasons best known to himself, Mr. Knowlton abruptly left the courts.

His defection left only "Thin Finger" Pridham and the Secretary to oppose the McLaughlin typhoon and the Teele zephyr. To their ever-lasting credit be it said that the losers did their best. They gamely battled the champs six games, winning the second and also the last, which was easily the best of the morning, much better in fact than the 25-0 game won by McLaughlin and Teele.

In this good game, Royal and Willie had only a 14-0 lead, which by some very earnest work Roland and the Secretary succeeded in cutting down to first a 17-7 count and finally a tie at 20-all. By this time the President and Mr. McLaughlin had reached a state of mutual recrimination which enabled "Thin Finger" and the Scrivener to assume a 24-21 advantage. Mr. Pridham pitched first and plunked two right against the stake. One of them proved good enough to win, for McLaughlin, rattled no doubt by Mr. Teele's exhortations missed the stake for the first time all morning.

It should be said in passing that Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine Champ, was not among those present. Nor was Herbert "Garrulous" Gardner. Herb's excuse as offered by Mr. Knowlton was accepted by the members present. In the absence of word from Mr. Butters, President Teele gave it as his opinion that the State of Maine champ has gone in regularly for golf in the hopes of winning for a change. McLaughlin's motion that he (himself) be elected president to succeed Mr. Teele was voted down, 3-1, with McLaughlin voting, Mr. Knowlton, his pedagogic confrere, having left the beach before the election.

PARISH PLAYERS AT DEVENS

The Parish Players of the First Congregational Church repeated their performance of Fly Away Home last week in the Station Hospital at Fort Devens before an audience so large it was necessary for some to stand in the aisles. The soldiers laughed heartily at the quips and wise cracks in the show and were very generous with applause, their enthusiasm spurring the Players to a really sparkling performance.

The cast was the same as for the previous performances in the Little Theatre, the members being taken to Devens in a big bus provided by the Citizens Committee of the Army and Navy.

The Players recently concluded 17th season has been a most successful one and they announce their largest advance sale of seats for next year.

WINCHESTER AT LONGWOOD

Ruth Murray was a finalist and Connie Rosander and Jim Ware, semi-finalists, in the 22nd annual tennis party for boys and girls not 15 Jan. 1, sponsored by Mrs. George W. Wightman and held last Saturday at the Longwood Cricket Club, Chestnut Hill.

Charlie Wansker won the boys' consolation and Caroline England was runner-up in girls' consolations, giving Winchester a very creditable showing for the tournament, in which 45 girls and boys participated.

SONS OF ITALY NEWS

Our regular monthly meeting was held this week. Some of the business transacted involved the delegates and servicemen.

An appropriation was made to send our three delegates to the Sons of Italy in American State Convention to be held June 27, 28 and 29 in Springfield. Our three delegates are Carmine Frongillo, Ven. Angelo P. Tofuri and Anthony C. Ficociello.

A motion was made to form a committee to work on a fund that will be known as the Victory Party Fund. Parties, functions, etc., will be run in aid of this fund, which will be used in one grand time when the boys are all back home, with victory attained and peace being enjoyed again.

We received a grand letter from Capt. Maietta. Doc is kept very busy down in Camp Stewart, Ga. He sent his regards to all the boys both here at home and in the service. He looks forward to a well-earned furlough at home so he can get together with some of the boys just as he used to do. He also said he would like to be at a meeting once again and dig in to a good discussion. I wonder how long it will be before we get another letter from Doc? How about it Capt. Maietta?

Gabriel Vespucci has been promoted to Corporal, so we've heard. We haven't received any letter from him. I'm not throwing any hints, old man.

About four weeks ago I mentioned that Johnny Benenato was home for a week-end. Shortly afterwards he told me not to print any more about him being home, so I promised. Too bad, now I can't say anything about him being home two week-ends ago and that we had a nice long talk. Also that he is getting to be quite a cook. The funny part of it is, the old so and so is enjoying it all. Too bad I can't tell you boys all this, after all a promise is a promise.

We would enjoy receiving a letter from Frank Corbi. I would like to hear from him if what I've heard from disinterested parties. What about it, Frankie?

Cpl. Joe Ficociello has been transferred to Tampa, Fla., at Drew Field. As he hasn't written there isn't much I can say.

Not to keep harping on the subject but your letters to us are important. It's the only way we can keep in touch with you.

Lt. (j.g.) Dean W. Carleton, U. S. Naval Reserve, son of Mrs. Loretta N. Carleton, 52 Church street, has begun airship flight training at the Lakehurst, N. J., Naval Air Station, lighter than air base. Lt. Carleton, who entered the naval service June 16, 1941, was graduated in 1936 from Winchester High School and in 1940 from Dartmouth College, where he received a B. A. degree, was on the varsity tennis team and ski team and was a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity. His wife, Martha H. Carleton, is residing at Lakehurst during his training period.

YOUTH SERVICE

The annual Youth Service of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church will be held this Sunday morning at 10:45 o'clock. All students of the Church School, led by the flag bearers Robert and Edward Hitchcock, will enter the sanctuary in a processional. Miss Ruth Mae Morrow, retiring president of the Youth Fellowship and Mr. Herbert Moore of the new Cabinet will assist the minister, Rev. Roger E. Makepeace in conducting the service.

The subject of the ministers message to youth will be "It Is Possible." Special music will be offered by Miss Ruth B. McHale and Mr. Kenneth McLeod.

The newly elected officers of the Methodist Youth Fellowship will be installed by the pastor. Miss Annette Robinson, president; Bert Moore, vice president; Nan Stoffregan, secretary; Samuel Perkins, treasurer; Gloria Herrick, music; Louise Perkins, worship; Joan Laverty, social service; Martha Fay, missions; Ruth Morrow and Doris Roberts, recreation.

Various awards will be made including one for two years of perfect attendance in the church school to Donald Hatch; and for three years perfect attendance to Betty Griffiths, Jean Hatch, Jane Robinson, Annette Robinson, Eleanor Dalton, Norma Bergquist and Richard LeRoy.

Harold Bergquist, Henry Roberts, John Birch, Robert Stoffregen and Richard LeRoy will serve as the ushers for the morning.

WORD RECEIVED FROM LT. PLUMER

The first V-Mail has been received from Lt. John A. Plumer, formerly of Wildwood street, from somewhere in North Africa. Lt. Plumer enlisted in the Army, March, 1943, and from Fort Devens he was sent to Camp Blanding, Florida, with the 774th Tank Destroyer Battalion. Later transferred to Fort Jackson, South Carolina, where he received a rating of Corporal and was sent to Camp Gruber, Oklahoma, attached to the 875th Tank Destroyer Battalion there. In December he was selected for O. C. S. at Mississippi State College and here he received his Lieutenant's commission in the Army Administration Transportation Corps.

Lt. Plumer is the son of Mrs. Remington Plumer. He graduated in the class of 1936 from Winchester High School, went to Lawrence Academy in Groton and on graduation he entered the Oxford School of Business Administration, in Cambridge. He was employed by the United Shoe Machinery Company at the time of his enlistment.

NON-ESSENTIAL?

In the list of non-essential jobs, where married men, between 18 and 38, who have children, have been given until May 1 to return to other work or be classified into 1A, is found an amazing phenomenon:

"Fortune-tellers, astrologers, clairvoyants, mediums, mind-readers, palmists," etc., are considered as non-essential.

Now, what under the sun, will thousands of New Dealers do?

What a boom this is to business. Hundreds of thousands fewer orders and directives should result.

Millions of pounds of paper will be saved and, perhaps, there can now be some jobs for returning servicemen in private industry.

Socrates

SUBSIDIES

The New Deal has a clever way of hurrying the spending of our entire national resources. It is known as "subsidies."

Viz.: The New Deal says to keep down inflation and to keep down the cost of living, it is necessary to pay farmers billions so that they will keep down their prices to the consumers.

Well, I wish someone would explain to me why giving to one class of citizens (the farmers) $500,000,000, which they can spend, is any less inflationary than the $500,000,000 the consumers would be obliged to spend in higher costs for food, if the farmers' prices went up that much.

The New Deal way is much more inflationary as the citizens now have to pay in taxes plus interest and the cost of administration. The New Deal knows this but it all helps to get everyone "to look to the State."

Socrates

BACK FURTHER THAN—"THE HORSE AND BUGGY DAYS"

It is unbelievable! According to the press, the Office of Defense Transportation (O. D. T.) is attempting to regulate the horse!

The O. D. T., in its latest order, states: "Limits on retail milk deliveries will apply to horse-drawn vehicles as well as trucks, under the Order."

The explanation of the O. D. T., for this most amazing attempt "to order our economy" is, "To preserve competition among dairies . . . if one dairy had all horse-drawn vehicles and a competitor had all motor vehicles, such a tremendous advantage over the other fellow requires restrictions."

Perhaps the "O. D. T.'s Children" will understand why they cannot have their milk if the hossy delivers it! . . . Perhaps the O. D. T. has a right to restrict the use of "the hossy" as well as gasoline! . . . Perhaps the O. D. T. has the right to enter the field of New Deal Reform and attempt to protect businesses that did not "convert to horses" in order to save gasoline! Why not convert the babies to save the New Deal?

There can be little doubt now in anybodys mind that almost every New Deal Agency is regulating to help win the war; but also regulating to obtain complete, centralized, governmental control over the lives of every citizen in America . . . Perhaps they are just doing it for the mere "fun" of the thing; or, perhaps, most serious of all, regulations have gotten into our blood streams!

Next, perhaps, those who have converted to coal-burning at home will be ordered not to keep their homes any warmer than their neighbor, who has run out of oil! Can we fish from row boats if motor boats are without gasoline?

GRADUATION

Mr. Graves announced the honors and scholarships, presenting Mothers Association Scholarships to Helen Elliott, Herman Carlson, Charlotte Leary, Kendall Wright, Frank Horne and Joan Hevey. Kendall Wright also won the scholarship presented by the College Club of Winchester, and Helen Elliott, an additional scholarship at Boston University.

Junior Dance Associates Scholarships went to Genaro Cirignano, Marie Moore, and Shirley Snyder. Fortnightly Women's Club Scholarships went to Janet Johnson, who also won the scholarship of the Mt. Holyoke Club of Winchester, and to Carol Crandall. Through the recommendation of the Fortnightly, Carol Gay was awarded one of the scholarships of the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs and she also won a scholarship good for tuition at the Colonial Secretarial School in Boston.

The Elizabeth L. Naven Prize, awarded by the Mothers Association of the Noonan School, was presented to Pauline Milne, and the Winchester Teachers' Club Scholarship to Donald Marchant. Ellen Jackson was the winner of the Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizenship medal, awarded by vote of the school faculty and her classmates.

The Washington and Franklin Certificate for "demonstrating the greatest proficiency in the study of American History" was won by Robert Goddu, who was also the winner of a four year scholarship at Harvard. The third prize in the recently conducted State League of Nations Essay Contest was won by Jean Stillman.

Mr. Lybeck presented the diplomas to the graduates. Before doing so he read the names and asked to rise the boys in the class who had either been inducted or are in the Armed Forces enlisted reserve. Forty per cent of the boys in the class answered his call.

Following the presentation of diplomas the graduates, chorus and audience joined in singing the Star Spangled Banner, the auditorium lights being dimmed while a spotlight played upon the big Flag above the stage.

Dr. Mather took as the subject for his address, "Oil for the Lamps of Freedom." He said in part that the preparation of young people for life must be three-fold; physical, intellectual and spiritual. To fight the good fight, the winning fight, the fight that can keep oil in the lamps of Freedom, one must be physically fit to fight, must have intelligence enough to know for what he is fighting and over and above both, must have the spiritual background which turns weakness to strength and gives the power to endure in the face of any odds.

Miss Florence A. Parker of the high school faculty was in charge of arrangements for the graduation which were carried out with the usual effectiveness. Ushers for the evening were: Harvey Clarke, William Cole, Richard Coon, David Ellege, Richard Fenno, Stephen Greene, Richard Hanson, James Kimball, Gordon McGovern, Herbert Mahoney, Herbert Moore, Laurence Norton, Gerald O'Neil, William Regan and William Wilde.

WOBURN 4—WINCHESTER 2

Woburn High won both ends of its baseball series with Winchester this year, taking the second of the two games Wednesday evening at Woburn, 4-2, though outhit by the locals 7-5. "Chucker" Roche, Winchester's sophomore right-hander, working his third game of the season, did a good job with the veteran Woburn batters, but that bete noir of all the local pitchers, this year, bases on balls, reared its ugly head to give the Tanners unearned runs in the first and third frames, these gift tallies proving to be the winning margin.

A walk to Berardi, first man up in Woburn's first, followed by a stolen base, an error and Abreau's hit to left tallied the first run. In the third with one away Abreau drew a pass, sole, reached third on Sammy Tibaudo's error and counted on Martin's one-shot to left.

Scally walked to start the fourth but was forced by McElheney at second, Bergquist to Walsh. Berardi hit to left and when Doherty followed with a hit through the box McElhenney scored and Berardi reached third. Abreau flied to Swymer, Berardi scoring after the catch. Bergquist threw out Devaney.

Both of Winchester's runs were earned, Roche scoring one and knocking in the other. Chucker doubled to center to start the second. Murphy followed with a clean single to center, scoring Roche and taking second on the throw in. He was out stealing, Scally to Beattie, Callahan grounded out to McElhenney and Swymer to Beattie.

Flag Day, June 14

"Old Glory", a "Star for every State and a State for every Star." We are now fighting to keep those "broad stripes and bright stars" ever waving "o'er the land of the free." On June 14 we observe the birthday of our Flag which was first authorized by the Continental Congress in 1777. Show "Old Glory" the proper respect by observing the correct rules on how to display it. Read its life-story, the story of our nation, about the first flags adopted by our Colonial forefathers, the official recognition of the 13 stripes and stars and its growth into 48 stars and stripes. "Yes, we'll rally round the Flag" and help to preserve "One Nation, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

On the Courts and on the Links

Improve your game of golf by reading a few of these, Cut Your Score by Lardner, What's Wrong with Your Game, Martin; Secret to Par-Golf, Metz and Better Golf Without Practice, Morrison. Golf beginners will be interested in First Steps to Golf by Brown, Golf, for Young Players, Collett and How to Play Golf by Thomson.

Beginners in tennis will find many books to teach them the first steps and the rules of the court. Books by Jacobs, Wills, Perry and other kings and queens of the court will help the advanced player learn better position and clever shots. So read how to make these shots, then go out and practice how to make them count.

INFORMATION HELPERS NEEDED

Winchester Citizens Asked to Co-operate

Headquarters Boston Air Defense Wing
Office of the Wing Commander
P. O. Box 36, North Postal Annex
Boston, Mass.
May 21, 1943

To the Citizens of Winchester,
c-o The Winchester Star,
Winchester, Mass.

Fellow New Englanders:

Citizens of your city have a reputation for contributing whole-heartedly to the defense of our nation in troubled times.

We are now engaged in the most gigantic conflict of our history. We must leave no opening or loophole in our defenses.

Civilian Volunteers are urgently needed to serve with the Air Corps at the Boston Information Center where reports are continuously received from Ground Observers and flights are charted by patriotic men and women for the benefit of the officials of the Army, Navy and all civilian defense units.

There is an increase in aerial activity during the spring and summer months, and, on behalf of the Army Air Corps, I urge you men and women of Winchester to devote a few hours of your time each week to the activity carried on at the Boston Information Center.

Much information about the center must be guarded in military secrecy, but Miss Eve Barone of your city has consented to supply those who wish to volunteer with such information about this work as can be revealed and how to register.

I hope and believe the citizens of your town will, as in the past, generously and patriotically share in the defense of New England homes and industries.

Cordially yours,
L. C. Craigie,
Colonel, Air Corps,
Commanding

There are men and women in Winchester who wear no uniforms, yet who serve with the Air Corps and wear a pin with bronze wings similar to the ones worn by our pilots. These patriotic and unselfish citizens perform duties which are vitally important to the defense of our homes and industries. They are real unsung heroes and when the history of this war is written, they will have an important place.

These men and women chart the movement of aircraft over New England on huge colored maps so detailed you can locate the farm house where you bought eggs last summer and the pond where you went fishing. Your neighbor across the street, your doctor or your son's girl friend may be one on whom our fighter pilots depend for advance warning in the event of an air attack.

Throughout New England there are thousands of observers watching the skies night and day. When a plane passes in sight of their station they report directly to the Information Center in Boston. These reports are received in a filter room and relayed to the operations room where the course of each flight is plotted on the huge maps. Officials of the Army, Navy, Anti-Aircraft and all civilian defense units watch the progress of each flight from their position on the balcony. Each officer knows where the planes of his unit are at all times and identifies each flight as it appears on the map.

In the event a plane cannot be identified, the Controller contacts the Squadron leaders at the aviation fields and fighter pilots zoom into the sky to investigate and fight off an invader. At night, a blackout would be ordered instantly and all defense units would go into action. Searchlights would sweep the skies and Anti-Aircraft units would man their guns.

While it is the primary purpose of these men and women to guard against an invader, they perform an important function for the Army Air Corps every day. Pilots flying over this area on training flights frequently become lost and depend upon these civilians for a new vector. In the event of a crash, aid can be dispatched with greater speed because the Boston Information Center is constantly plotting the course of every plane.

During the spring and summer months, there is an increase in aerial activity and more men and women are urgently needed at the Boston Information Center now. Yesterday Col. L. C. Craigie, Commanding Officer of the Boston Air Defense Wing appealed to the citizens of Winchester for volunteers for this important work. No special training is necessary and a new worker can become skilled in these duties after a single easy lesson.

Many of the volunteers now serving at the center have civilian jobs yet find time to carry on a share of this activity. A volunteer can select hours which will not conflict with his daily routine. If you can devote two mornings, afternoons, or evenings each week you will be more than welcome. The work is carried on 24 hours each day including Sundays and holidays, but the day time shifts are now urgently in need of more civilian workers.

Miss Eve Barone, 141 Washington strete, is assisting the Boston Air Defense Wing in its drive for volunteers here. The location of the center itself must necessarily be a military secret but Miss Barone will be glad to tell volunteers how they may register. Her telephone number is Win. 2577-W.

This area is a vital spot in the defense system of the nation due to its geographical location and the fact that a large per cent of war plants are located here. As Col. Craigie pointed out in his letter address to the citizens of this town yesterday, we cannot afford to leave any loophole or opening in oru defenses. We are fighting the most gigantic conflict in the history of our nation.

It is estimated that New England would require 50,000 additional soldiers and 16 times as many planes as we now have on patrol duty to provide the same protection of our homes and industries as these civilian volunteers now provide. The importance of having every available plane and combat pilot in battle zones has been seen during the past few days in our African victory where air supremacy played a major role.

Such leaders as General Drum, Governor Saltonstall, Eddie Rickenbacker and President Roosevelt have the stressed the importance of the work civilians are doing at Information Centers throughout the country again and again. We are proud to know that there are men and women of our city engaged in this vitally important activity and generously and patriotically giving up a part of their time to serve with the Air Corps. We believe there are others here who will also wish to share in work. Those who can do so are urged to inquire for further information, which Miss Barone is able to furnish.

Don't bet your life on a "Maybe"

THE NAZIS have boasted that they'll bomb us this summer.

Maybe they will. Maybe they won't. But let's not depend on "maybe's".

An air raid could come today—tomorrow. And you can help us be prepared—ready to meet and defeat enemy bombers if they come.

You can volunteer for part-time work in one of the Army Information or Filter Centers. Here you'll work directly with Army Officers—assist in plotting the course of all planes that fly over this area—aid importantly in defending this country against aerial attack.

Both men and women are needed for this work now. Don't wait, volunteer today!

WHERE TO APPLY:
Room 807, 18 Tremont Street, Boston

Pack Fair

Anotehr very successful activity of Cub Pack 3 was the Pack Fair held last Saturday in the Parish House at the Congregational Church. Each of the five dens had pleasingly decorated booths where the handicraft work done by the members of the den were displayed. Each den also had a game to attract and entertain the excited young guests who patronized the fair. A refreshment booth which served hot dogs and tonic was a busy place.

Some of the tanks which won prizes in the tank races held two weeks ago on Wildwood street hill were displayed on the stage and interested many of those who had not seen them in action at the races.

Entertainment was supplied by Magician Hammond who pleased the youngsters by allowing many of them to come to the stage to assist him in his many tricks.

The afternoon was very successful terminated with talking movies which were shown by Mr. Chas. Burnham.

The Den Mothers, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Hersey, Mrs. Pihl, Mrs. Purcell, and Mrs. Yardley deserve a great deal of credit for their work with the boys during the past season. The booths were carefully arranged and supervised by them for the fair.

On account of sickness, Cubmaster Roy Browne, who has been very active all of the year was unable to be present. In his absence, Mr. Alfred Nelson conducted the cub ceremony and supervised the awards that were made.

IT WILL BE FUN TO WATCH TROOP 1

Here is a rare opportunity gentlemen! Boy Scout Troop 1 which is sponsored by our local American Legion Chapter is being refreshed and reorganized and maybe there is ground floor berths for you and your boy. Legionnaire Stafford Rogers is the Scoutmaster and I'll miss my guess if the sharp point on his troop flagpole don't catch a few blue ribbons later on. Surely, you may rely upon the World War 1 vets to persevere, just as they did at St. Mihiel in 1918.

We doubt if they'll need much outside help on that score, but why not take a peek anyway? There you will find Staff putting in that extra time for the benefit of any qualified boy and, if you think you are working overtime and can't help the Boy Scouts, remember that Staff not only runs his own business all day long but that he is chief of the Airplane Watching Service in town. The latter job goes on incessantly. He not only sees that we will be protectively warned about hard headed cargoes misled from Berlin, but he will now attend to the development of some of the finer qualities in our young townsmen.

I'll wager a ton
That Troop number One
Will turn out boys
Second to none!

People's Responsibility

Eight billion dollars of the 13 billion dollars in this Second War Loan Drive must come from non-banking sources, so the responsibility for the bulk of this 13-billion-dollar drive rests with the American public.

Indications are that Americans generally need only to be reminded of this responsibility and how much they should lend their government in order to reach this goal. Americans are backing up their fighting men on the battle fronts. They are supporting the Second War Loan. "They give their lives . . . You lend your money."

KEEP THE COFFEE COOL!

NO beverage can equal a cup of freshly-made fresh coffee! It's up to you to keep the coffee that's your due under rationing as fresh as possible until you drink it. That's no trick, even though the ration period covers several weeks. As soon as you buy coffee, empty the bag into a tightly-covered jar or container. Then put the jar into your refrigerator. Keep it there at all times. There's a reason for doing that!

It has been determined that coffee contains 15 per cent fat. That should be enough to convince you that coffee is a perishable food! If butter must be stored in a cool place, coffee certainly should be, too. Chemical action doubles with each 18° F. rise in temperature. When coffee is kept at the lower temperature of the refrigerator, decomposition that makes it lose freshness—and of course flavor and aroma—is slowed up.

If you keep your rationed allotment of coffee in a covered glass jar and put that jar in the ice box, you're not only keeping it fresher but you're keeping moisture away from the coffee. Coffee picks up moisture like a sponge. Keep your coffee dry.

Don't think, either, that you can dispense with the cover for your jar. Coffee, like butter and milk, absorbs foreign odors. And certainly these foreign odors don't add to the flavor of coffee—any more than any addition of strange mixture, substitute or stretcher does!

Although you must make your ration allotment of coffee last over a period of weeks, you can still be assured of fresh coffee if you follow these instructions. So don't hesitate to redeem your coffee coupon as soon as it becomes due. That coffee will stay fresher in your refrigerator than it will on your grocer's shelf. Remember, too, that if you don't claim the coffee that is rightfully yours under rationing, it won't do anybody any good. That coffee has been set aside for you—you need the healthful stimulation and boost in morale it offers!

SNIPE RACING SEASON STARTS SUNDAY

The first official contest of the 1943 season will be raced Sunday morning at 10:30 a. m. with about a dozen aspirants to the Winchester Boat Club championship ready to answer the starting gun. Among the starters will be 1942 champion Don Simonds and his sleek, swift Sinbad. Don has had his boat in the water for a couple of weeks and last Sunday ran away from a fleet of Comets and Snipes with the greatest of ease, making it look as though he's the man to beat again this year.

Perhaps his sternest opposition will come from the brothers Wiswell, George in By-George and Byron in Wisby. Last year, the club championship was decided on the last week-end of sailing, George losing to Don by only a few points. And Byron, whose sailing gets better and better each season, should be right up on top.

Among the other chief challengers will be Don Simonds, Jr., in Worm, Comdr. Jim Newman in his as yet nameless boat, Ruth Ann Merrow in Don't Duck, Jay Smith in Typam and Mr. Jones in Youani.

Any of these veteran skippers are capable of winning the coveted championship. All of them were finishing in the money toward the end of last season and given a fair share of racing luck, may come out on top. Certainly this season's races should prove to be anything but the two-man shows they were last year and about the only thing certain about them is that when the crown for champion of the "Fleet Flounderers" is bestowed, it will undoubtedly rest on the bent brow of either Jim Snow, Gus West or Carl Freyer.

HELD FOR GRAND JURY IN CAR THEFT

Two Winchester boys, one 16 and the other 17, were held for the Grand Jury in bonds of $1000 each when they appeared in the District Court at Woburn yesterday forenoon, charged with the larceny of a Ford convertible coupe owned by Dr. Richard W. Sheehy.

Dr. Sheehy notified Police Headquarters Tuesday night at 11 o'clock that his car had been stolen from the parking place at the Winchester Hospital. He had parked it at the hospital at 9:15. An alarm was broadcast and at 7:50 Wednesday morning the State Police at Concord, N. H., notified the local authorities that they were holding two Winchester boys for the theft of the machine.

Sgt. Thomas F. Cassidy brought the boys back to Winchester. According to the Police a State Trooper had seen the boys in the stolen car at a Derry, N. H. gas station and had given chase, firing several shots at the fugitive machine.

The boys finally lost control of the car which crashed into a pole. They got away from the trooper by swimming a pond into Freedom and hiding in the woods until morning when they hopped a truck into Derry. They had scarcely landed in that town when they were picked up by the Police and turned over to the State Troopers.

According to the Police the boys had a quantity of large caliber ammunition with them and were going to get guns to fit from a party in New Hampshire.

Bail was furnished for one of the boys and the other was taken to East Cambridge. Police Chief William H. Rogers argued against the plea for leniency made by their attorney, stating it was obvious the boys intended to commit a much more serious breach of the law than the misappropriation of an automobile.

ARTISTS ATTENDED CLOSING TEA

Unusual interest was occasioned by the attendance of three exhibiting artists at the closing tea of the Winchester Art Associations current season, on last Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. In the quiet charm of Margaret Fuller Tyng, the vivacious anecdotes of Mary Evangeline Walker and the very British humour of Waldo Murray the formal lines of "Who's Who in Art" came alive.

Mr. Charles Dutch made a distinguished model, engaging to the amusement of all in spirited repartee with Mr. Murray as he "layed in" the portrait. Mr. Murray's dexterity in so short a time was evident to all.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Marshall Symmes and Mrs. Truman Godfrey. The latter arranged the lovely tea table with its lace cloth, copper jug of iris in a symphony of yellow and violet, flanked by Sheffield candlesticks. Pouring were Miss M. Alice Mason and Miss Elizabeth Mason.

A careful follow up in diabetic patients to prevent complications and the importance of posture and suitable exercises to prevent crippling in arthritis.

SCHOOL EXHIBITION OF MUCH INTEREST

In a colorful setting which transformed the high school gymnasium into a wonderland of surprises, pupils in art, industrial arts, special arts and crafts and clothing classes exhibited their work last Thursday and Friday for all interested school mates, parents, and friends.

Providing most of the color and effectively hiding the bare gymnasium walls, the artwork of junior and senior high school pupils under the supervision of Miss Pauline Goodrich occasioned many a surprised second look. Junior high school boys and girls contributed Book Week posters, bonds and stamps posters, song title sheets, colorful designs using student initials, and a large mural depicting Asiatic scenes and occupations.

High School art work included a mural, book week posters, sea and landscapes, reproductions, fine pencil etchings, fancy lettering and still life. Probably the biggest single contributor to this group was Don Warren.

For the first time, Mr. Branley's printing classes exhibited their work which included souvenir calendars, sports schedules, letterheads, and all display placards used at the exhibition.

Special arts and crafts classes conducted by Miss Lillian Salice and Miss Florence Sullivan had tables literally covered with samples of their handicraft, including leather belts, hooked rugs, woven items, needlepoint and bead work, novelty neckwear and bracelets, shoeracks, bread boards and so on.

Showing mastery in the use of instruments were drawings, tracings, machine designs, lettering, and blueprints by the mechanical drawing classes.

Clothing exhibited by the sewing classes of Miss Ruth Beeman showed a high degree of practicability and skill. Some of these items were on sale, but most of the wearing apparel had been made for personal use. Long rows of neatly ironed garments made an impressive display.

The woodworking classes of Mr. Leary and Mr. Branley demonstrated their skills in many phases of industrial art. Book cases, gun racks, bread boards, treasure chests, sewing cabinets, and cloak stands occupied the remainder of the floor space. On the tables were scale model airplanes soon to join the Army or Navy plane recognition classes. Other items included a beautifully turned and finished bowl made by a high school girl, Marie Moore, a professional-looking gunstock, numerous lap tables, checker boards, checkers, and other games built by the combined efforts of the shop and special crafts groups and distributed by the Junior Red Cross to servicemen and veterans' hospitals by the sponsors, Miss Jane Davis and Miss Mary Mackedon.

General chairman for the exhibit was Mr. Graves, ably assisted by Miss Goodrich, Miss Sullivan, Miss Salice, Mr. Branley, Miss Beeman, and Mr. Leary.

It's A People's War

We are paying more in taxes than ever before . . . and likely will pay more. But we cannot rely on taxes to finance the war. It would not be fair to base a tax on the average single family income when many families have more than one income. We could borrow all the money from the banks, but for both economic and social reasons this is undesirable. The government would then sacrifice its greatest dam against inflation. This is a People's War and the people should finance it. The people WANT to finance it. Sale of War Bonds has mounted consistently since Pearl Harbor.

They give their lives . . . You lend your money.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL FINAL ASSEMBLY

The Junior High School [illegible] nal assembly of the year yester[day] morning, John Filler acting as master of ceremonies. The program included the singing of the Star Spangled Banner and other popular war songs, together with motion pictures.

A special feature was the play, "A Message from Bataan," a one act drama which followed the general technique of Thornton Wilder's Our Town. There were no sets and as the scene shifted back and forth from an army induction office to a hillside hut in Bataan and back to the Rand living room the narrator's explanations, introductions and running comment carried the continuity of the story. The play relied on the imagination of the audience to provide the scenery and many details of properties and costuming. Following is the cast:

Bill Rand .... Dean Blanchard
Alec Martenko .... Bill Whittemore
Army Captain .... John West
Mr. Rand .... David Sargent
Mrs. Rand .... Joanna Johnston
Johnny Rand .... Bill Dingwell
Stanley Martenko .... Donald Goss
Mary Martenko .... Libby Fenno
Soldier .... Ed Hicks

TEELE A LOSER

Royal P. Teele, doughty president of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association, after a sizzling start proved the big loser in last week's regular matches of the Association, ending the session by going down three straight while paired with Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine Champ. To make the Teele soup doubly curdled, Royal remained after regular playing time to take it on his lower maximilliary.

Play was over for the day, at least so far as Henry "Tiffany" Knowlton, Herbert "Garrulous" Gardner and the Secretary were concerned, that intrepid trio being in the act of leaving the beach when Mr. Teele proposed one more series. Royal had spent much of the session seated on the sidelines and had become "cold." He was eager to shake his chilly feeling and was not too pleased over Mr. Butters' freely expressed opinion that at no time had the President been really torrid during the entire session.

Mr. Butters arrived a bit late, by devious ways, and so missed the Presidential display of form during the opening match. Mr. Teele was very good indeed, leaving the post and carried much of the load as he and Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham won two out of three from the Secretary and "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the pride of Stowe and Champion of all Nabnassett.

Mr. Gardner arrived at the beach shortly after Mr. Butters and this pair collaborated to win two out of three from Mr. Teele and Mr. Pridham. The feature of this match was Mr. Pridham's covering a double ringer thrown by Mr. Gardner, the exceptional pitching being however eclipsed by the fact that old "Garrulous" broke his mono-syllabic precedent by actually saying two words, they being as near as could be judged, "Pretty Tough!"

Returning to the fray, McLaughlin and the Secretary took the Gardner-Butters duo two straight, Mr. Butters regretting greatly a no-count box which he felt should really have gone his way. As the score of the second game was 25-24 a point in that box would have been very helpful, but he neglected to call for an unconscious arbiter and so lost whatever chance he had of pulling a foot-and-a-half shoe into counting distance.

At this point H. "Tiffany" Knowlton put in a belated appearance, after a brisk session in his Victory Garden. Somehow rassling with the radishes and rutabagas doesn't seem to aid the Knowlton eye and arm, and he and "Wild Willie" lost to Mr. Butters and Mr. Gardner, the winning edge undoubtedly stemming from the Maine State Champ's success in digging for points annexed by the Gardner submarine shoes.

Then it was that those with household obligations were obliged to leave the courts and the special match began. The Larruping Lake Street Lancers, Messrs. McLaughlin and Pridham, gave Mr. Teele and Mr. Butters such a shellacking in the first two games that Royal refused to quit in his disgrace. Mr. Butters demurred at remaining longer from the fish fry or whatever it was his points were good for that day, but Mr. Teele was adamant for that third game. He reminded Mr. Butters with some asperity of his exceeding laxity in the matter of attendance and so shamed the State of Maine Champ that he remained against his better judgement for another game. As play progressed he was constantly reminded how much better even than he originally thought that judgment of his really had been. He and the President didn't even get into the doubles and as they staggered from the courts Mr. Teele was heard to mutter something about his soup. We suppose he said it would be "sour."

[illegible] Winchester interest in the [illegible] which took place at the Seventh Day Adventist Church [illegible] Sunday evening, June 6, when Miss Helen Irene Temple, daughter of [illegible] Mr. Frederick E. Miss Temple was given in marriage by her father and attended by her sister, Miss Florence Temple of Bloomfield, N. J., as maid of honor. Miss Ruth Sweeney of Saugus and Miss Constance Fuller of Waltham were bridesmaids and Miss Ruth Ellen Sousa of Taunton, flower girl.

The bride wore a gown of white beaded satin having a court train. Her long net veil was bordered with lace and she wore a short face veil entering the church. Her flowers were white roses, sweet peas and babies' breath tied with a brocaded organdy bow.

The bridesmaids wore blue chiffon with matching face veils and carried pink carnations tied with blue taffeta. The flower girl wore a long baby pink taffeta frock with a matching satin bow in her hair and carried a pink basket of rose petals.

COMMITTEE TRYING TO REACH HONEST DECISION

[illegible] Star's [illegible] Committee [illegible] Post Office situation [illegible] very much at [illegible] of Winchester. [illegible] Committee was [illegible] the matter [illegible] of all the [illegible] welfare of the town and its Post Office problems at mind.

There is one matter which perhaps might be called a nuisance proposition which the Star has not seen fit to mention, but which looms large in the minds of many Winchester citizens, and that is the matter of receiving, especially during and after the Christmas season, myriads of little cards requesting that a penny stamp be sent to some branch of the Boston Post Office to cover short-paid mail addressed to Winchester, which means that if the person replies from Winchester it costs him an additional 3c to obtain the aforementioned letter, card, or piece of advertising matter. This is a small matter, but a great annoyance, and there seems to be no way out of it other than to join the Boston postal district.

Perhaps it might be well to mention the reason why due stamps are not used in such cases. As I understand it, the Boston Post Office would have to put the due stamps on the letters at their own expense, whereas the Winchester Post Office would collect the penny. Hence the cards requesting the penny stamps.

Please be assured from my standpoint that the Committee will give the full measure of their united effort to solving these moot questions.

Sincerely yours,
Ernest Dudley Chase

GOOD TO SEE SOME ONE FROM HOME

June 1, 1943

To the Editor of the Star:

I just received some clippings from the Star which reminded me that I wish to resume my subscription now that I have a more or less permanent address.

Since reporting for active duty with the Navy last Oct. 20 I have spent two months at the Indoctrination School and two months at the Air Combat Intelligence School at Quonset Point, R. I.; about two weeks at the A. C. I. Center in Norfolk, Va.; and since March 15 have been billeted to Bombing Squadron 42 aboard an aircraft carrier. I have seen some Winchester men including Clarence McDavitt, who was in the class after me at Quonset. Let me tell you it is always good to see someone from home.

I enjoy the excellent notes which appear weekly in your paper relative to the doings of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association. I always read them. I am looking forward to receiving the Star regularly again.

Yours very truly,
Arthur Thad Smith
Lt. (j.g.) A. T. Smith USNR.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Three service men attended the weekly luncheon of the Winchester Rotary Club yesterday, one of whom, Phil Gallagher from Devens, was warmly welcomed as a fellow Rotarian. The other two attending were Hal Gamage and Dick MacAdams.

Dick MacAdams, former Selectman and now a Lt.-Comdr. in the Navy, consented to give the club a few excerpts from his experiences. [illegible] of the last war and as one having already seen considerable [illegible] in this struggle, he held the interest of all.

The Rotarians were introduced to the swans-to-be on the Mill Pond by (Dr.) Dick Sheehy and while there appeared to be considerable difference between the "subscribed" and the "cash" contributors to the $65 fund desired, Squire Franklin will doubtless receive substantial support from the Rotarians.

There was a large meeting with two visitors.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL HELD HIGH AMONG INSTITUTIONS

We had a chance this past week to discuss institutions with several salesmen who sell to schools, colleges, hospitals and similar institutions. The subject of Winchester Hospital came up and two or three in the group said: "Oh, Winchester. Well, we consider that the model institution, especially when it comes to constitutional management, feeding, service, etc."

In the mechanical and scientific field it stands out prominently as every one knows. This group was discussing feeding chiefly. Frank Crawford, the business manager, [illegible] as a "model" [illegible] system being followed by others. Miss Hilda Andrews, [illegible] Chief Dietitian, is accepted as [illegible] in the [illegible] preparation and service of institutional food [illegible] Mrs. Anna [illegible] kitchen [illegible] that the [illegible] dishes that are [illegible] as tasty as well. As for the [illegible] care, Miss A. J. McLeod, is Superintendent of Nurses whose department works closely with all others.

All in all it's a smoothly running machine, with the medical and the nutrition departments working co-operatively.—[Hotel and Restaurant News May 29, 1943.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH NEWS

Children's Day exercises were held last Sunday and there were between 850 and 900 present at the service. Bibles were given to 55 children who graduated from the third grade. Promotion certificates were awarded the Sunday previous.

The work of the Servicemen's Committee, for the 200 men and women of the church in the armed forces, has achieved such distinction that its methods are being adopted in a large number of other churches in New England.

During the year the last bond, issued as part of the $275,000 building program, was paid off, so that the church is completely out of debt. The value of the church property has increased during Dr. Chidley's ministry from $160,000 to $450,000.

The church now ranks as the 8th largest among the 600 Congregational Churches in Massachusetts.

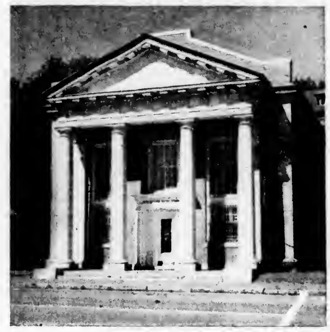

The Senior Forum for High School students has just closed a banner year with an enrollment of 160. Its influence is felt throughout the town. It has been especially effective in training leaders among students along the lines of social service and public speaking.

Cub Pack No. [illegible] has been especially active under the leadership of Marshall R. Pihl and his associates. It was the boys of this pack who put on the tank race which made the illustrated section of the Boston Globe last Sunday.

The Guild and Men's Club ran a successful series of lectures on international affairs, which will be continued next season.

The Mission Union has been active in Missionary work, as usual. The Women's Guild and Mission Union are planning to unite into one organization, to be known as the Women's Union, next year.

SONS OF ITALY NEWS

Our venerable Angelo P. Tofuri send his regards to all the boys in the service. He is very busy, what with his position and the duties of the club, he hasn't a moment to spare. Nobody knows any better than I just how pressed for time he really is. So if any of you boys who expected letters from him will you please have patience.

Three brothers of the order were home over the past week-end, Podgoro Iannacci, Willie DiMinico and Larry Penta. Podgora is home on a furlough. He is looking good and healthy. He has acquired a swell tan.

Willie and Larry were in town. Everybody was glad to see them. Larry was home to attend his brother Mike's wedding. With Morrelli, Willie and Larry in town. Wow!

You know it gives us a funny feeling whenever we see any of you boys in town. We are proud of you because you boys from our order represent what the Sons of Italy in Winchester is doing in this war. You boys are doing what a few of us would like to be doing to end this war that much sooner. Aw, you know what I mean boys.

We received a card from Jumbo Marrone. He said he is so busy driving tanks that he hasn't had time to manage any ball club this year, but he is going to manage a ball club for our lodge when he comes back. So-.

I received a card from Mary Tucci. She is feeling fine. She is a Y Wac and is still stationed in Washington. As her two sisters Donna and Anita are living in a suburb of Washington, she is not lonesome. That is, not too much. She sends her regards to the boys in the service.

Back to the letters that we are asking for. Everyone of them is interesting. You boys might not think so, but an excerpt from one of the boy's letters will show you what I mean. Its from Capt. Maietta's last letter he wrote to us.

"You will keep the home fires burning for us, you will keep all our ideals safe, you will keep all the things we hold dear well, protected, just as they were when the boys left. Your job and that of all the others back home is a very valuable one. It gives us confidence and courage to go forward safe in the belief that our brothers on the home front, by their actions, by their untiring and unselfish effort, are contributing as much to the winning of this war, as we in the service are. Your efforts do much to keep up our morale. Keep it up."

SUCCESS

Success is most frequently determined by the attitude of the individual. In other words, the feeling that one will succeed makes success. Similarly, a sense of defeat obtains when one thinks he is a failure. The difference between success and failure is, in the majority of cases, only a matter of mental attitude.

The summer preparatory classes at the Fisher School on Winter Hill in Somerville will be conducted this year in a beautiful building with rooms which are cool and well-lighted and especially adapted for small classes and individual attention. In the friendly and homelike atmosphere of the school, every student should be able to succeed in his summer's work.

Instruction will be offered in: English, Latin, French, Mathematics, Science, History, Civics and Government, Gregg shorthand, Typewriting, Elementary Machines, Elementary Electricity, Aerodynamics, and code reception.

The summer school will open on July 6 and will continue for six weeks. Classes will meet during the morning hours, five days a week. The tuition is extremely reasonable.

How you can help the war effort...

BUSY? Sure. We all are. But remember this: A few short hours' flying time from your children's beds tonight are the Nazi air fields in France.

If bombings come, lives can be saved, damage limited IF . . .

We maintain our efficient Aircraft Warning System to check on all planes that fly over this area . . . to guide our Fighter pilots to enemy bombers.

That's where you can help, no matter how busy you are. Volunteers, men and women, are needed for part-time work in the Army Information and Filter Centers. There's one in this vicinity where you can aid the Army Air Forces in guarding these shores against air attack.

The work is interesting, exciting, important, Volunteer now. You are needed!

WHERE TO APPLY: Room 507, 18 Tremont Street, Boston

AIRCRAFT WARNING SERVICE · 1st FIGHTER COMMAND

INFORMATION HELPERS NEEDED

Winchester Citizens Asked to Co-operate

Miss Eve Barone, who is assisting in securing volunteers for the Boston Information Center announced today that she is receiving a number of calls regarding the duties of civilians who are serving with the Air Corps. It was also announced that the Army considers this work so vitally important that arrangements have been made to supply extra gasoline in cases where a car is essential to reach the center.

Col. L. C. Craigie, Commanding Officer of the Boston Air Defense Wing, Army Air Corps has appealed to the citizens of Winchester for additional volunteers to carry on the work of receiving calls from Ground Observers and charting the course of aircraft for the benefit of officials of the Army, Navy, Anti-Aircraft and other units of defense.

This activity is vitally important to the defense of New England homes and industries for many reasons. Pilots who have become lost during training flights have often been given new courses through the work of these civilians who are serving with the Air Corps and aid can be dispatched with the utmost speed in the event of accident since these civilians keep officials fully informed as to the location of flights at all times.

The primary purpose of this system is to detect enemy planes in the event of a bombing raid. The enemy if he attacks, will undoubtedly not carry an identifying swastika on his wings. Officials know the course of every friendly plane and identify every flight. In the event a plane cannot be identified, the Controller at the Information Center immediately contacts the squadron leaders at the aviation fields and planes are sent up to investigate. At night, a blackout would be ordered and all defense units placed into action.

There is an increase in the amount of aerial activity during the spring and summer months and more volunteers are needed now. Men and women between the ages of 18 and 50 who can and will give a few hours of their time each week to this activity can call Miss Eve Barone whose address is 141 Washington street. The telephone number is Win. 2577-W. Miss Barone is in a position to supply information as to how volunteers can register for this service. No special training is necessary. This is an unselfish and patriotic war work which many have found to be the very best way they can serve the nation.

There are Information Centers at strategic locations throughout the country, but the Boston Information Center is considered to be a vitally important cog in the entire national defense network owing to our geographical location and the fact that a large per cent of war industries are located here.

Bombers now travel more than 200 miles an hour. That means if the first report of enemy planes comes from Bangor, pilots here have less than 30 minutes to get into flying togs and warm up their motors. The filter and operations rooms at Boston are the nerve center of the entire New England defense system and every plane must be reported and charted, more civilians are urgently needed, now!

Workers may select hours which will not conflict with their civilian duties. Clubs and fraternal organizations are urged to select a morning, afternoon or evening when they can serve at the Boston Information Center together. The work is not only vitally important, but interesting. Outside the rooms where this activity is carried on, the center is planned for relaxation and comfort during free periods. There are comfortable lounges, a private cafeteria open 24 hours a day and sleeping accommodations.

Those who can and will spend a few hours each week in the defense of New England homes and industries are urgent to contact Miss Eve Barone at once.

WINCHESTER HISTORICAL SOCIETY

A meeting of widespread historic interest is to take place at Woburn on Saturday June 19, at the Unitarian Church at 2 p. m. This is the annual meeting of the Bay State Historical League, composed of 108 historical societies throughout Massachusetts, and it is to be held jointly with the Rumford Historical Association of Woburn and the Winchester Historical Society as hosts.

Mayor William E. Kane will bring a welcome from the city, and Arthur H. Linscott, president of the Rumford Association will make the address of welcome to the members of the League.

William E. Goddard, retired Woburn librarian, will speak on "Putting Woburn on the Map," and the principal address will be given by Rev. Howard J. Chidley, who will speak on "Religious Customs of Our Forefathers."

The Winchester Library and the Winchester Historical Room are listed on the program as places to see, and several places in Woburn, including the Woburn Library with its fine Art Gallery of historical events, the First Congregational Church, the First Burial Ground near the Baptist Church, and the Baldwin Statue and Count Rumford's Birthplace in North Woburn.

As Winchester was part of Woburn until 1850, known as South Woburn, Woburn's early history is also Winchester's history.

It is expected that about 150 members from all over the State will attend, and it promises to be a most interesting and instructive meeting.

PORTRAITS SHOWN AT LIBRARY

Those who find portraits an intriguing art form should visit the Winchester Art Association's current show by New England artists at the library art gallery. Some of the portraits have been shown here before, among familiar canvasses being Waldo Murray's lady with the red hat.

Frederick Wallace shows the heads of two attractive young girls, evidently sisters, beautifully done in pastels. Grace D. Reasoner's pastel of Mr. Marshall is warm in tone without being in any sense overdone. It is a well drawn study that has plenty of life.

Margaret Fuller Tyng has painted a lot of strength into the oil portrait of the youthful Stephen Higginson Tyng, the hands being especially well posed and drawn. One wonders why the artist chose so somber a background for so vital a subject.

Full of character and strength is Gertrude Fiske's portrait of an old lady in a blue striped gown with a fan in one strong old hand and a shell comb atop her snowy locks. Here again the background seems unnecessarily severe.

In the modern manner, yet quite challenging is Mr. Barnett's self portrait with its breadth of treatment, in sharp contrast from Mr. Wallace's girl in a pink gown, an engaging little study with a haunting note and some well chosen complimenting detail. Janet Folsom's study of a coast guardman is distinguished by its fine treatment of the hands and eyes.

As striking as any in the show is Mary Evangeline Walker's large portrait in oils of a lady in a black evening gown, the flesh tones being especially good. Academic in approach and very finished is Sally DeCamp Moffatt's portrait of Leslie Andrews, the artist having been at pains to produce a well rounded study in which the fine drape of the coat and complimenting background play their respective parts. Patricia Tate, on the other hand, has chosen to concentrate rather on the head in her pastel of David Arnold, which is full of life and well done, the lower part of the portrait being unfinished. The same artist's sketch of Professor Hooten is an excellent example of what a lot a capable artist can get with a very few lines.

Mr. Philbrick, a former resident of Winchester, shows an appealing pastel of a young, blue-eyed boy with golden hair, and also a crayon of a youth that is both interesting and vital. Mr. Murray's large portrait of a young girl in a filmy white gown is generally pleasing and his portrait of his soldier son in uniform is full of human interest.

THORNTON—BAKER

Miss Grace D. Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Baker of Beacon street, Boston, and Robert D. Thornton, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Thornton of Indian Hill road, were married on Saturday, May 22, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at the Chapel of St. John's Episcopal Church in Bolder, Colorado, by the rector Rev. H. M. Walters. Mrs. Ruth Brier attended Miss Baker and Joseph J. Lobrutto was Mr. Thornton's best man.

An informal reception was held after the ceremony at the home of Dr. and Mrs. George F. Reynolds in Bolder.

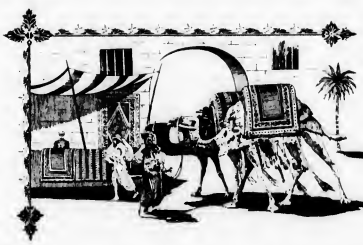

Mr. Thornton, a graduate of Winchester High School and of Wesleyan University, taught at Worcester Academy and was a teaching fellow at Harvard when he was chosen by the Government to attend the Japanese Language School at the University of Colorado.

CONNOR—HUNNEWELL

Miss Ann Noel Hunnewell, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Norman F. Hunnewell of Phoenix, Ariz., formerly of Winchester, and Lt. Frank Albert Connor, Jr., F.S.A.E., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Connor of Moline, were married in Phoenix, Friday, May 21, by Rev. Fred A. Line, pastor of the Phoenix First Congregational Church.

Mrs. Connor, whose father has been in the Quartermaster Division of the United States Army, since July, attended Miss Baldwin's School for Girls and Harcum Junior College in Bryn Mawr, Pa.

Lt. Connor graduated from Roanoke College in Virginia and was recently commissioned a 2nd lieutenant in the Army Air Forces. He is stationed at Westover Field and is making his home with his bride in Springfield.

BRITISH WAR RELIEF

"And a coat, if possible." The speaker was showing a group of Winchester women the contents of a stout brown paper bag, at the Boston assembling and packing headquarters of British War Relief. The paper bag parcel is a new form of relief service. It is called a survivors' kit. A dozen of these now are going into each of the new ships that are being launched in New England shipyards and that set forth on carrying or convoy duty, to furnish our men overseas and our allies with what they must have for the great things that are preparing this summer. We build the ships. British sailors sail them. Who will put on the outfit in a survivors kit no one can know.

Submarines still strike. Men keep valiantly afloat. A ship finds them and picks them up. Before ships sailed out with these survivor's kits, the only clothes the rescuing ship had for them were those its own crew gave to the rescued men. That meant that the giver was cold in the bleak days or nights during the rest of the voyage.

Now each ship that goes out will have clothes for 12 rescued men: underwear, a pair of pants, shoes, a warm sweater and if possible, a coat. Two used coats that had been given to the Winchester workroom went right over to go into these precious paper bags.

So what have you? Read the list over and see what you can provide in the way of good used things. Bring them on Wednesdays, or talk with Mrs. Fred Cameron other days on Win. 1084.

When these new ships sail out, they may be gone for a long, long time. One Winchester son is at home now for a few days after being away for 14 months. There are other things besides the kits that may be in our power to give for the comfort of men long at sea. British War Relief is furnishing each man with a supply of personal things: soap, handkerchiefs, pencils, stationery, etc. The outfit is assembled in a drawstring bag of strong gray cloth, strong enough so the sailor can use it to carry his pair of shoes in it when he takes them ashore for repairs in Trinidad or Murmansk. The workroom will receive gifts for these personal bags.

There's a lot of time in 14 months a lot of time to pass away. So British War Relief sees to it that each new ship has a gramophone and records and a radio equipped for use at sea or in harbor.

Hitler would gnash his teeth if he could see all that Winchester has done and is doing for the aid and comfort of his enemies. These various things we can do for British men on the new ships give us a good chance to keep them gnashing.

GEORGE WISWELL WINS A PAIR

Opens 1943 Season with Double-Header

George Wiswell, Jr. returned home from Tabor Academy Wednesday, launched his boat By-George Thursday, tuned it up Saturday and without so much as a warm-up race, answered the starting horn on Sunday, and by evening held undisputed possession of first place in the fleet standing by virtue of two well-deserved victories.

The morning race was a three boat thriller, with the lead see-sawing between Don Simonds in Sinbad, Byron Wiswell in Wisby and George in By-George. After about two full laps of this ding dong sailing, George took the lead, crossing the line four boat lengths ahead of Byron who had a similar edge on Don. Also on the lake were Jay Smith in Typam, Dave Merrow in Don'l Duck, George Jones in Youani, Carl Freyer in Phooka and Bart Sullivan in Hawkeye III.

The afternoon race was one of the most sensational ever sailed on the Mystic. Dave Merrow in Don'l Duck held the lead from the start with Don Simonds, George and Byron Wiswell hot on his trail. George and Don, who both feel that the other is the man to beat for the eventual championship of the fleet kept in close contact with each other. One of these up-wind duels, resulted in both these boats getting an extra puff that Dave didn't get and swept them ahead of him, but the lead quickly returned to Dave when these keen rivals engaged in another two boat battle and Dave scampered by them, and Byron, who sailed beautifully all day, drew up into the thick of it. From that point on, Dave held the lead, a very slender one, right up to the final leg, a 100 yard run to the finish with George second Byron third and Don 4th. George, apparently feeling that Don was safely in the ruck, set sail for Dave and just caught him at the finish line, winning by a scant inch and inch and a half. But Don Simonds who is never out of a race until the final gun, put on a little extra spurt and beat Byron out by a slightly bigber margin. There was a fifth boat in this afternoon race and although he stayed close enough to see the thrilling finish he might as well have stood in bed.

Club Chatter

This no society column and you'll probably find a real write-up of it somewhere else in these pages, but we feel that the wedding of "Sugar" Burr and "Mert" Ober, last Saturday evening is a part of the saga of the club. After all, these two perfectly swell kids did swim, sail, dance and laugh here at the club and we suspect the club played its part in their romance. Anyway we want to congratute them and wish them every kind of happiness . . . Then, too, we offer congratulations to Phil Newman and his new bride, Phil certainly is a man of action winning his Navy wings and a wife in the same week . . The club's new lifeguard is doing a swell job on the water front and the steward and his wife are running the club smoothly and efficiently . . . Can anyone tell us how little "Weenie" Pratt can eat so much ice cream and not even get the tiniest speck on his immaculate tuxedo? . . After his tumble overboard from Mr. Jones sailboat last Sunday, we'd simply suggest to George Field that he see Bo Burbank, the club's sports director and take a few diving lessons. Although we saw the action quite clearly, we aren't sure whether George did a back flip or just a flop.

BOYS CAMPS GALORE!

You folks already know about that wonderful Boy Scout Camp Fellsland at Amesbury but do you know that the Boy Scouts also have at their mercy a more local wonderland for frying up Mom's last meat point into burnt bacon?

Yes, they have, and it is called Camp Lane. It is located about seven miles north of Winchester, just off the beam of the Boston-Montreal air route. Scoutmaster John Casler keeps Camp Lane's welcome mat blinking a continuous "come on boys, fun don't wane at good old Lane" and that serves as a quick pickup to arriving Scoutmasters and their flocks that have taken the privilege to visit.

As to transportation, well some Scoutmasters and some Scouters do have automobiles and the seven mile distance to and fro keeps the owner just within the decorative border of an A stamp. Further, some of the boys have found it a mighty interesting hike. A 14 mile hike with a rest in the middle means nothing to a Scout as I well recall the old fashioned day my Troop set out for a 38 mile refresher. Luckily, I think, the pedometer strapped to my good Scoutmaster's leg was running a high temperature and we all had to stop often to administer a first aid cooling treatment. That faulty mechanism forced us to trade a 38 mile trek for a 15 mile teaser. Quite a loss in one day, but we Scouts were taught to take it on the chin!

I am informed that hotdogs are classed as meat and if that is true it may be that they won't be condemned so much for riots at Camp Lane this season. However, nature study, outdoor games and fresh air is yet to be classified as non-esential by the war chiefs. Please get your boy into the Scouts before it is too late for him to partake in Camp Lane fun and expeditions.

From present indications the local blueberry crop will be a failure. The extremely cold winter killed or injured many bushes and the cold rain, and the late spring has prevented much of the crop from those that did survive.

Mr. Edmund L. Dunn, of 15 Maxwell road received this week the following letter from the Secretary of the Navy:

The Secretary of the Navy
Washington
June 7, 1943

Mr. Edmund L. Dunn
15 Maxwell road
Winchester, Mass.

My dear Mr. Dunn:

After a full review of all available information, I am reluctantly forced to the conclusion that your son, Edmund Louis Dunn, Jr., Radioman, third class, U. S. N. R., is deceased, having been reported "missing in action" on the 7th day of May 1942, being a member of the crew and serving aboard the U. S. S. NEOSHO when that vessel was sunk as a result of enemy action in the Coral Sea.

In accordance with Section 5 of Public Law, 490, 77th Congress, as amended, your son's death is presumed to have occurred on the 8th day of May 1943, which is the day following the day of expiration of an absence of twelve months.

I extend to you my sincere sympathy in your great loss and hope you may find comfort in the knowledge that your son gave his life for his Country, upholding the highest traditions of the Navy. The Navy shares your sense of bereavement and will feel the loss of his service.

Sincerely yours,
Frank Knox

Edmund L. Dunn, Jr., was the first Winchester boy reported missing in action. He graduated from Winchester High School in 1935, attended Burdett College and at the time of his enlistment was employed as a salesman by the Rock Manufacturing Company of Stoughton, manufacturers of wooden boxes. He enlisted in the Naval Reserve in June of 1941, was called to active duty Nov. 6, 1941, and after training was assigned as a radio operator to a United States cruiser, going through the historic raid on Pearl Harbor. Born in Cambridge 27 years ago, the son of Edmund L. and Jennie (O'Hara) Dunn, he spent practically all of his life in Winchester, having been widely known and popular among the town's young people. He was a member of Winchester Council, 210, Knights of Columbus. Besides his parents, he leaves a brother, Robert, a store-keeper, second class in the United States Coast Guard; a younger brother, Richard; and a sister, Miss Patricia M. Dunn, all of this town.

BAD FIRE AT LEBANON STREET HOME

The home of Mr. F. B Welch at 28 Lebanon street was badly burned Monday forenoon by one of the hottest fires the firemen have had to encounter here in recent years.

The Central Station was notified of the fire by phone at 10:45, an excited neighbor telephoning in the message. The Welch family were not at home at the time.

When the firemen arrived they found smoke pouring from the house and the fire in progress. Lt. James Callahan ordered an alarm pulled from Box 64 and soon afterward a second alarm was pulled.

When the firemen entered the dwelling they found the first floor a mass of flames, and quick and skillful work was necessary to prevent the fire from mush-rooming up through the upper part of the house. Several lines were gotten onto the fire and the men under Chief John J. Gorman succeeded in holding the actual blaze to the first floor though the upper part of the house was also badly damaged by heat and smoke.

The heat was terrific and the dense smoke added to the difficulties of the firemen. All of the first floor furnishings were lost and Chief Gorman described the damage as extensive, despite the fact that his men had made an exceptionally good "stop."

MASONIC SERVICE AT UNITARIAN CHURCH

St. John's Sunday, which is of special significance to all Masons, will be observed here when the Masons of the town join in attending Divine Service at the Unitarian Church at 11 a. m. on Sunday, June 20. An invitation has been extended to Winchester Royal Arch Chapter, Mystic Valley Lodge, A. F. and A. M., William Parkman Lodge, A. F. and A. M., and to members of all other Masonic organizations to attend St. John's Sunday Divine Service.

A special section of pews will be reserved for the Masonic guests, who will be welcomed by Rev. Paul Harman Chapman, the minister of the Unitarian Church. Mr. Chapman is a member of two of the local Masonic organizations and will preach on the subject, "Symbolism and Life."

WINCHESTER BOY PILOT OF PLANE SAVED BY HUMAN RUDDER

First Lt. Henry B. Wightman, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Wightman of Wildwood street, had the unique experience of piloting a Mitchell bomber across the Mediterranean, with his staff sergeant, Bombardier Richard J. Walsh of New York City, acting as a human rudder.

The bomber had been in action somewhere in Northwest Africa and was headed for its home base and some much needed sleep for its crew when an explosion of flak shell jolted the plane and caused it to pitch violently.

Lt. Wightman found the plane beyond control, the exploding shells having shot out the cables regulating the throttle and the propeller.

As the Mitchell started into a dive, Lt. Wightman heard Walsh's voice over the intercommunication system, saying: "Lieutenant, I've got the cables in my hands. I think I can work the darned things if you'll tell me which to pull." It looked like a long shot chance of getting the plane back across the Mediterranean to its base, but Lt. Wightman naturally figured it was well worth a trial. The lives of all aboard depended upon it.

Signalling Sgt. Walsh his own comprehension, Lt. Wightman ordered everyone to prepare to bail out or crash land. He knew the flight home would take two hours and the holding of the cables for that length of time would take exceptional perseverance and strength. He commenced to give his signals, "Advance control cable" or "advance the prop cable," the latter regulating the pitch of the propellor.

It was half an hour before the enemy territory of Sardinia was cleared and long before the tip of North Africa was sighted Sgt. Walsh's hands were blistered, cut and bleeding. Gamely he tugged and hauled at the cables, mile after mile, with his mates cheering him on. Twice the precious strands slipped from his tortured hands, but he had them back again in time to keep the ship in control. It was nothing new for Walsh to play the hero. On his first raid he was struck on the chin with a piece of anti-aircraft shell, but he courageously stuck at his gun for several minutes, or until he shot down a Messerschmitt 109 in flames.

Finally the home field was sighted, and then it was Lt. Wightman's turn. Cleverly he brought the Mitchell down and in to a fine "belly landing," and all the crew stepped out of the plane, proud of the team-work and courage that enabled them to survive a major tragedy.

TO HOLD SPECIAL TOWN MEETING

The Board of Selectmen has called a special town meeting for Monday evening, June 28, in the town hall, to see if the town will vote to acquire the Skillings property, home of the late David N. Skillings and of his wife, Alice Lowell Skillings, until her recent death.

The property, consisting of a large frame house and about 145,663 sq. ft. of land is situated across Mt. Vernon street from the town hall, adjacent to the Christian Science Church, and some have felt that upon the death of Mrs. Skillings it should be acquired by the town for possible future enlargement of the civic center.

A committee headed by former Selectman Donald Heath was appointed at the March town meeting to investigate the desirability of acquiring the property and the way was left open for a comparatively quick decision on the matter by providing that a report could be made at the "next town meeting," either the regular meeting in March or a special session which might be called before that time.

RUSH FOR SHOES

Never before has there been such a rush for shoes at a local shop as was the case on Monday and Tuesday of this week at McLaughlin's on Thompson street. Business was brisk on Saturday but Monday and Tuesday the store was crowded, with all seats taken and many standing waiting their turn to get rid of ration coupon 17 before the deadline. There did not seem to be much letup in the buying, and it spoke well for Proprietor Merris L. Snyder's stock that he still had shoes to sell Tuesday afternoon. We will wager he and his brother, "Barney" were tired enough when they closed up Tuesday evening.

GEORGE S. STEVENS

George S. Stevens, who died Tuesday June 15, in Salem, was the husband of the former Martha K. Locke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Sargent Locke of Lewis road. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at the late home on Topsfield road in Ipswich.

The arrival of Patrolman William Callanan resulted in the boys getting up another sweat by lugging back the seats to their original positions. They were wise not to repeat their new venture.

SGT. HAROLD WILBERT CALLANAN

WINCHESTER BOY, AERIAL GUNNER, KILLED

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Callanan of Church street received on Sunday an official War Department telegram informing them that their son, Staff Sgt. Harold Wilbert "Bert" Callanan, was killed in action June 2 some where "in the Middle Eastern area" while serving as gunner on one of the big Army bombers. No further details were given but the telegram promised that a letter with the complete story would follow as soon as possible.

"Bert" Callanan is so far as the Star recalls the first real Winchester boy actually reported as "killed in action," though there have been several reported as missing under circumstances that make any hope for them exceedingly remote. His death brought a pang to the many who knew him and had an especially sobering influence upon the pupils at Winchester High School where he was graduated just a year ago.

"Bert" enlisted in the Army June 19, 1942, selecting aviation as the branch in which he wished to serve. He trained at Devens, Miami, Denver, Col., Tucson, Arizona, and Alamagordo, N. M., before coming home on a short leave Feb. 1 of this year. Returning to duty, he was at Topeka, Kan., and West Palm Beach, Fla., before going over seas, to Dutch Guinea and Egypt. His family last heard from him at Cairo, Egypt, May 16, though later than that another Winchester boy, "Bud" Irving of Church street, wrote home that he had seen "Bert" in the same city.

"Bert" was born Jan. 24, 1924, in Dorchester, son of John W. and Helen (Sawdy) Callanan. He came with his parents to Winchester at the age of two years and grew up in town attending the Winchester schools and graduating from Winchester High School in 1942.

He was president of his class as a junior and president of the school Athletic Association as a senior. He was also a member of the varsity track, basketball and football teams and will be remembered as the Winchester end who finally prevented a Woburn touchdown when he tackled "Bobby" Roche for an 11 yard loss on the 25 yard line just before the final whistle of the 1941 game which Winchester won 7-0. He was also one of the original members of the S.S.S. Tarquin, Winchester's first Sea Scout ship.

Besides his parents, "Bert" leaves a half brother, Gerald Howard of Medford. A memorial service will probably be held at some time in the future, but definite arrangements have not been made as yet.

Flags on the Common and public buildings were displayed at half-staff in his honor for two days and that on the high school was kept at half staff all week.

VISIT THE FRONT LINES

An opportunity for every resident of Winchester, either male or female, to "visit" the front lines of our fighting forces is now being offered by the Winchester Chapter of the American Red Cross.

The visit, of course, will have to be by proxy and can be done by any woman or man, or boy or girl, who is over 15 years of age enrolling immediately to take part in an emergency war-job which has just been assigned to the local Red Cross Chapter.

The job is equally as important as firing a gun and participation in it may mean the difference between some American boy, perhaps a Winchester boy, dying at the front instead of coming home again well and sound.

The Winchester Red Cross needs hundreds of bandage folders—NOW. Those you make will take "you" to the front lines.

The usual quota of the local chapter is some 40,000 bandages a month and, in ordinary times, the regular workers in the Chapter can take care of the job. But, a call has just come from the National Headquarters for Winchester to produce 329,000 bandages between now and Sept. 1.

It's quite an order but if it isn't filled, it will be the first time in the history of the local Red Cross Chapter that it has "fallen down on a job."

Women and men, girls and boys, anyone who can fold cloth are needed to help fill this emergency order. The material is needed, and quickly too, at the fighting fronts.

Mrs. Clark W. Collins, chairman of Production for the Winchester Red Cross Chapter said today that any girl or woman over 15 years of age will be welcomed. The work is not hard, nor is uniform necessary, as some women have inquired. All the "uniform" a girl or woman needs is a clean cotton dress and a head-covering, which must be worn in accordance with the national hospital requirements. But a bandana will do in this emergency.

"We'll even welcome men volunteers in this urgent situation.

"The bandage folding sessions are held in the Town Hall and at the home of Mrs. Dunbar Shanklin, 12 Everett avenue, every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m. While we would like to have volunteers work an entire day's session, anyone who can give us even an hour in this emergency will be helpful. They can 'phone Winchester 2061 if they want further information or they can just show up at any of the sessions and they will be more than welcome.

"Evening sessions are held at the Town Hall on Tuesday nights from 7 until 9 o'clock and a Friday evening session is held at Mrs. Shanklin's residence."

The call from the national headquarters said that demands for bandages have increased sharply and there is a real need for use by surgeons and nurses at the front.

CAPT. SEAGER MILITARY ATTACHE

Capt. Cedric Seager, USA, of this town is now acting as assistant military attache in Turkey, where he is attached to the United States Embassy at Ankara. Capt. Seager, whose wife is the former Gertrude Packer, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. William S. Packer of Yale street, trained at Miami Beach and Harrisburg, Pa. He was commissioned last September and spent some time on duty in Washington before going overseas this spring. Before entering the Army he was much in demand as a lecturer on Turkey and the Middle East.

On his way across he stopped at Cairo, Egypt, where he met one of his brothers, Major Harold Seager, who is in charge of the British Military Mission to North Africa.

Wednesday evening a resident of Wedgemere avenue called Police headquarters reporting that his youngster had found a wallet containing $21 and some papers which he had given to an unidentified laundry driver. The Police found the wallet had been reported as lost by a resident of Sachem road on June 12. Investigation disclosed the fact that the driver worked for a laundry in Somerville and the owner was contacted. He located the driver and arranged to have the money and wallet returned to its owner.

WAR RATION BOOK NO. 3

War Ration Book No. 3 was issued from State Headquarters to relieve the pressure on local rationing boards. Because of the immense amount of detail connected with the issuing of these books, a rubber stamp was used instead of attaching a validating stamp and the name of the applicant was filled in. Then the book was mailed.

Quoting from our Regulations it states: "The person in whose name the book is issued (or his agent) must fill in all the information called for on the front cover of the book except the part entitled "Local Board Action." Because there was no local board action on the initial registration, this will remain blank but every ration book No. 3 should be filled in with the name, address, age, weight, height, occupation and signed in ink in the space marked "signature" by the person to whom it is issued or his agent if it is impossible that the applicant sign it personally.

WINCHESTER GARDEN CLUB

A special meeting of the Winchester Garden Club, Mrs. Virgil Gibrarshini, president, was held on Thursday, June 10, at the charming home of Mrs. Warren Whitman, 30 Prospect street. The picturesque home informally set on the hillside with its rock garden, delightful landscape and pool fed by spring water and the waterfall tumbling over rocks beyond, brought a feeling of coolness and peace to members of the club gathered for their last meeting until fall.

The program consisted of a talk by Mrs. Herbert West, in her charming way, of her recent visit to famous gardens of the South.

CANNING BULLETIN

1. The Waltham Field Station has established a free service for checking gauges of pressure cookers. Full information as to this service may be obtained at Defense Headquarters.

2. For the past three or four years the advice has been given by those who teach food conservation that the "Lighting Type" jar be processed with the side clamps down. This cannot be done with the jar rings that we are getting in 1943. It is advised that canners who use Lighting Type jars go back to processing with the side clamps up. In the case of the two-piece Mason type closure or the three-piece Mason type closure the bands should be turned down tight before processing.

3. Are you making use of your empty coffee and mayonnaise jars? Remember that these should be saved and used for canning.

4. Bulletins on Home Canning and the new type of jar rings are available at Defense Headquarters.

Monday of this week marked the 44th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Winchester's well known couple, Pa Commissioner and Mrs. George L. Davidson of Park avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. McKenzie of Hemingway street. The Star extends congratulations.

No. 3 in a Series on "How to Keep 'em Working"

How to make your electric range last longer

Keep oven and surface units clean. If food or liquid spills on open coil type of surface unit, shut off current and remove residue with soft brush. Flat-bottomed utensils are suggested for best efficiency.

Rotate use of burners as you would the spare tire on your car. It will prolong their life. Surveys show left front unit is used 90% of the time. Are you overworking it, too?

Don't use too much water. Only a minimum amount of water in a pan is necessary in cooking vegetables. The less water you use, the more vitamins and minerals you'll save.

Have it checked occasionally. Your range was built to last. However, should it require repairs, have it checked immediately by a reliable serviceman. Don't try to fix it yourself.

PRIVATE ALLEN HOME

"Billy" Allen, former widely known clerk at Hevey's Pharmacy, now attached to the 411th Army Air Base at Alliance, Neb., is in Winchester on a 21 day leave. "Billy" is a private, first class, at the Chemical Warfare Base in Alliance, is heavier by 11 pounds than when he left home and looks well. He told the Star reporter he had met some fine young fellows in the Army and had enjoyed being with them. He admitted that 18 miles in one afternoon was the farthest he had hiked and was more or less non-committal about the quantities of luscious steaks you are supposed to have served to you in the Army.

POLLY KIMBALL OUT OF COLLEGE SINGLES

Polly put up a stiff fight against her steadier opponent and the resulting match was the keenest of the semi-finals. Scores were 6-4, 9-7. She is playing doubles in the tournament with Connie Clifton of Rollins College.

DOROTHY KLYCE GRADUATED AT WASHINGTON

On June 2, Dorothy Klyce was graduated from Columbian College, George Washington University, Washington, D. C. She was a statistics major and received the B. A. degree. In addition to carrying her college work, she has since last August had a full-time job with the Navy Department where, since the first of the year, she has been ranked as a Junior Mathematician in the Bureau of Ordnance, Ballistics Section. She is a member of Phi Mu Sorority, of which she is treasurer; and she is also a member of Phi Pi Epsilon, a national honorary Foreign Service sorority.

TEELE LOST AGAIN

Royal P. Teele is still president of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association, despite the almost constant attempts of Arthur E. Butters, made at last week-end's regular meeting, to unseat him in favor of "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the pride of Stowe and Champion of all Nabnassett. Mr. Butters, who is sometimes called the State of Maine Champ, has long questioned Mr. Teele's right to the presidential toga and Royal's recent elementary showing has served greatly to increase his contention that a new leader should be chosen. He was especially vociferous last week-end, but much of his thunder was stolen by the fact that the best Mr. Butters and his candidate for the presidency could do in two matches with Mr. Teele and the Secretary was to split even. The vote when it came was not conclusive, the Butters and McLaughlin votes being balanced evenly by those of Mr. Teele and the Secretary, Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham refusing to vote for either Teele or McLaughlin and Herbert "Garrulous" Gardner refusing to vote at all, on the grounds that he couldnt be expected to speak two words on successive week-ends.

That splitting of the ballots kept Mr. Teele in office for still another week for Henry "Tiffany" Knowlton left the beach early and wasn't there for the balloting. How his vote would have been cast isn't of course known. His natural leaning would be toward his pedagogic confrere, McLaughlin, but natural leanings have meant very little to ol' "Tiffany" since the Stoneham football game last fall, making those close to him unwilling to gamble upon his doing the expected thing. He might even have voted for Mr. Butters which would have created something in the nature of an international complication.

Be that all as it may, the fact remains that the Teele showing at the latest meeting of the Association was a sorry one. To be sure he had the misfortune to do most of his playing with the Secretary, than which only a cut finger could provide a greater handicap, but still and all his own playing was definitely deficient in practically all of the necessary vitamins.

Only in his winning match with the Butters-McLaughlin duo did Royal pitch like a champ with the "a" pronunciation. In that match, easily the best of the session, he did all right, and he must have, to win with the Secretary as partner. Any one at all conversant with the vagaries of the latter's form under any and all conditions would have to agree to that.

The president and the Scrivener dropped the first game to "Wild Willie" and the "State of Maine Champ", for they started cold after sitting one out on the bench. They refused to crack, however, and took the second game by a short head, with a Teele ringer in the final box deciding the issue. The final game was a breeze for the Association's officers, Butters and McLaughlin being so badly outclassed they failed even to get into double figures!

This match was really the only one worth recording, though Mr. Teele and the Secretary battled to the final gasp in the last match of the session, going down two straight, it is true, to McLaughlin and Butters, but giving their conquerors plenty of trouble, reaching 21 in the first game and 17 in the second.

Mr. Teele and the Secretary won the first match of the morning from Mr. Pridham and Mr. Knowlton. They then won their memorable match from Butters and McLaughlin. Mr. Gardner and Mr. Pridham then gave them "the works", two out of three, to the Secretary's registered displeasure and the President's even greater disgust.

Mr. Butters and Mr. McLaughlin returned to knock off the Pridham-Gardner duo, and then the Knowlton-Gardner combination. They finally succeeded in edging Mr. Teele and the Secretary in the final match of the session to capture championship honors, at least in their own opinion. Mr. Teele, the Secretary, Mr. Pridham and Mr. Gardner accorded them scant praise.

NEWMAN COMMISSIONED

Philip W. Newman, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Newman of 9 Meadowcroft road, recently won his Navy "Wings of Gold" and was commissioned an Ensign in the Naval Reserve following completion of the prescribed flight training course at the Naval Air Training Center, Pensacola, Fla. Prior to entering the Naval service, Ensign Newman attended Northeastern University for three years.

Having been designated a Naval aviator, Ensign Newman will go on active duty at one of the Navy's air operational training centers before being assigned to a combat zone.

ANDREWS COMMISSIONED

Earle E. Andrews, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Earle E. Andrews of Highland avenue, was commissioned an ensign in the United States Naval Reserve on Wednesday when he graduated from training school at Columbia University.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrews went on to New York to attend the graduation which was held in the stately Riverside Church. Ensign Andrews has recently been quite ill in the John Jay Hospital with a relapse of measles. He graduated from Tufts before entering Columbia for his training course.

Complaints of a dog barking incessantly came to the Police from residents in the vicinity of Wedgemere avenue at 2 o'clock one morning the first of the week. A patrol car was sent to the neighborhood and the two officers rounded up a setter that was on the loose and raising his voice to high heaven. The dog was taken to Headquarters and held for his owner.

We read that the Post Office has uncashed money orders to the less than $17,696,000. We know that $1.75 the department contracted in Star advertising and over which we spent three or four dollars in postage, to say nothing of time consumed in filling out duplicate blanks, paying notary fees, etc., is not included. It doesn't worry us anyway. We gave up the struggle of collect a long ago.

No longer does one remark about going down to buy some pork chops, lamb chops, kidneys nor liver. It's meat and nothing else. And under the new regulations of cutting, the butcher gives you all the fat he used to trim. Now you are supposed to trim it off, keep it around the house a month or so until you get enough, and take it back. In the old days the butcher trimmed it and the truck called daily to cart it away—where it could be used.

The Star has always questioned the desirability of the going away parades and send-offs which have been staged for Winchester selectees leaving for war, and last week-end we were pleased to have our judgment substantiated by one who has been in close personal contact with a number of the boys who have been marched to Winchester Station behind St. Mary's excellent band. He stated emphatically that every boy he knew had dreaded the thing as an ordeal, "tough" as they expressed it for themselves and doubly hard for their folks, many of whom felt in duty bound to attend. We have known several boys who have passed up their last furlough before induction rather than go through the farewell party staged for their benefit, and the Star believes a canvas of selectees would be overwhelmingly in favor of stopping the whole business, making it possible for them to say their good-byes at home and assemble at the train for Devens without fuss or furore or farewell tears in public. We may be wrong about it of course, but we do think the local draft authorities should get a line on the selectees feelings with regards to their leaving town for war. If the boys like what is being done for them now, then by all means let's have it, but until we are convinced that they do, we will have to believe that the speeches at the Town Hall, the march to the Station and all the rest is a mistaken kindness.

LIFE'S LITTLE IRONIES

As a citizen you are part of the Government and therefore operate the nation's coal mines. If you apply to your Government for a coal-mining job you, through your agent, Mr. Ickes, will inform yourself that the only way to work in your mines is to get permission, that is, a union card, from Mr. John L. Lewis. Don't embarass yourself or Mr. Ickes by recalling that you, through your Government, gave a solemn promise in 1941 that you would never order a closed shop. If you get a card from Mr. Lewis, you, as part of the Government, will collect from yourself certain union dues and send them on to Mr. Lewis. Mr. Lewis will, or will not, depending on his mood, send a receipt to your Government for the total 87,000,000 or 88,000,000 thus collected. Certainly he won't tell you how the money your Government collects from you and hands over to him is spent. But, this need not worry you too much. You can cross that bridge after you get John's permission to work in your government mine.

WE'RE ALMOST THERE

The New Deal is now going to town in a big way. With a great war on and a good excuse for total regimentation, we are all in for complete socialization. Our great mixer-ups in Washington are really enjoying their field day. Beginning in a few weeks we shall all pay five dollars, along with auto excise and the rest of the taxes, liability and the rest of the insurance, for the privilege of parking our cars in the garage. In return we shall continue to be allowed a gallon and a half of gas to use as our Washington rulers shall determine. What freedom this represents we do not know. But why give us any gas? Would this lose too many votes? Surely it is a great opportunity to secure votes. If it will take thousands of federal employees to snoop and enforce the ruling there has to be some reason at least to give excuse for their being. So a little gas, just enough to make one war conscious and give play to any criminal instinct, is doled out.

It's like allowing us a can of beans, cut to a fraction of an ounce and sold with special privilege permit, and then ruling that these beans cannot be eaten except at two-thirty in the morning of the third Sunday of each month. Then put an army of inspectors on the job to see that this provision is rigidly adhered to. It would be good to drive the war consciousness

"HOLD EVERYTHING."

Yes, "Hold Everything!" Not everything but a train. Your average person, stout fellow and sterling citizen though he well may be, is apt to find that once his choo choo is started, it is just too bad for the guard. Trains like the tide wait for no man. True enough, but how about a gal? Aha!! That's another story. Read and see!

It seems there has been a lot of group of girls about town who have been sewing for the Red Cross, and on Monday one of their number, Miss Robert M. Stone to be exact, invited the bevvy to spend the day with her at her summer home in Rockport. With both driving and the OPA rule, the latter in force on both the highways and side streets, the needleworkers decided upon the train, and bowled along the rails without incident until they reached Gloucester.

There a contingent of Uncle Sam's Coast Guardsmen got off, accompanied by a band, the members of which immediately struck up martial music of sort- with a flourish that appealed to all the gals from Winchester, and especial one Mrs. Fred E. Ritchie who is "Punchie" to her intimates. Bands and the Navy made a combination too intriguing for "Punchie" to withstand and she got off to see what went on.

The other members of the party, Mrs. Howard Morrison, Mrs. Harper Blaisdell, Mrs. James C. McCormick, Mrs. Marjorie Mason and Mrs. Joseph Butler, while applauding the Ritchie clan, joie de vivre, or what have you, remained decorously in their seats, and were still in them when the train started once more.

Not so, Mrs. Ritchie! That band and the Navy had knocked all thoughts of a journey to Rockport from her immediate vision, and it was not until she saw the train actually in motion that she recalled her date with Mrs. Stone.

There was just one thing to do, and she it to her everlasting credit, "Punchie" did it. Some of these college track swifties might have beaten her a short head to the moving train, but then it is not likely that the conductor would have stopped for them. And he did for Mrs. R!

It was a close thing, and "Punchie's" training in the Conga line at the En Ka service dances was undoubtedly the deciding factor in enabling her to get near enough to the last car to be seen. But seen she was and taken aboard as the engineer, in response to an urgent tug on the emergency signal, brought the train to a grinding stop.

And to cap the climax the conductor gallantly escorted the gal who should have been the object of his righteous indignation through several cars to a happy reunion with her sewing sisters who greeted her warmly and extended heartiest congratulations not unmixed with envy upon her speed of foot.

"TRIBUTE TO RUSSIA DAY"

Proclamation

WHEREAS, on June 22, 1941, our heroic allies of the Soviet Union will enter their third year of the fiercest sustained warfare the world has ever seen, and

WHEREAS, in the two years since their land was first invaded the Red Army and Russian people have, in the words of our President "destroyed more armed power of our enemies than all the other United Nations put together," and

WHEREAS, the magnificient achievements of our Russian allies have been of inestimable value to the cause in which we, too, are fighting, and beyond question have saved the lives of countless American soldiers against whom the Nazi legions on the Russian front would now be arrayed, and

WHEREAS, it is eminently appropriate and in the American tradition that on June 22 the American people should pay public tribute to such gallant and effective allies.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, William J. Speers, Jr., as chairman of the Selectmen of the Town of Winchester, in cooperation with a special committee of Russian War Relief, Inc., do hereby proclaim and set aside Tuesday, June 22, 1943, as "Tribute to Russia Day" and do call upon the citizens of Winchester to give practical effect to this proclamation by participating in meetings to be held on that day in honor of the Russian people and their armed forces, by addressing resolutions and letters of tribute to our allies through Russian War Relief, and by renewing in our hearts our national resolution to fight side by side with our allies until freedom and the rights of men are guaranteed for all peoples.

PIANO RECITAL

The pupils of Miss Hattie Snow of Forest street will give a recital of pianoforte music on Friday evening, June 25, at 8 o'clock in Fortnightly Hall. This annual musical event is always a pleasing one, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

In order that the public may have a clearer understanding of the air raid signals, the Army has approved the sounding of the signals in all the communities in the state for six days next week.

The times of these signals, what they sound like and what they would mean in an air raid drill or a real enemy attack follow:

First alarm: 12 noon, a steady two-minute blast. This is a warning signal which means "Planes are headed your way."

Second alarm: 12.07 p. m. A series of short blasts for a two-minute period. This signal means "Bombing expected."

Third alarm: 12.14 p. m. A steady two-minute blast, exactly like the first signal. This means "Planes have passed but may return. Stay on the alert."

All Clear: 12.21 p. m. A 10-second steady blast. This means "Planes gone danger past."

The signals will be sounded in Winchester as per this schedule.

Harold S. Fuller,
Defense Director

MOTHER'S DAY LETTER FROM FORMER FOOTBALL STAR

Dear Mother:

Today is a special day to us, your sons, as far as this letter and you are concerned, for this is "Mother's Day." A year ago at this time you had all of us at home and we were giving you presents to show you how much we loved you, sweet mother. Now we're scattered all over the world and we hope that by next Mother's Day will all be home, or at least close enough to you and I know it would be a wonderful Mother's Day present for you to have us all home again. But remember, it would be a much more wonderful present to have us home with victory achieved and the world at peace again.

Just remember that your sons are all thinking of you wherever we may be and may the good Lord watch over you, so that we may all start life anew upon our return home. I'll be closing dear mother so please don't worry and think of better days to come.

One of your loving sons,

Peter

Ed. Note:—Peter Galuffo, who wrote the above letter for Mother's Day is the former Winchester High football co-captain and star fullback who later played varsity football at Northeastern. He is now in the Navy, somewhere in North Africa. His two brothers are both in the service, Gaspar being in the Navy, stationed at East Boston and Cpl. Joseph Galuffo, in the Army, having recently returned from Guadalcanal.

WINCHESTER MEN SERVED THEIR COUNTRY

To the Editor of the Star:

We recently observed Memorial Day, dedicated to the soldiers, sailors, marines, nurses, fliers and others.

When President Lincoln called for volunteers in 1861 and 1862, 178 men responded from the Town of Winchester. Ten men from Winchester died in the service of their country, namely, George W. L. Sanborn, Aaron D. Weld, Josiah Stratton, Francis A. Hatch, John Fitzgerald, Joshua T. Lawrence, Francis B. Bedell, John Gordon, Jefferson Ford and Ira Johonmott. My father served with that group. Mr. Fitzgerald was the father-in-law of the late Constable Edward F. Maguire.

A. D. Weld, Post, Grand Army of the Republic, was organized May 22, 1872, with with a membership of 29.

The first Winchester boy to sacrifice his life in World War I was one of my neighbors, an Italian boy named Mario Figlioli. Your humble servant and several prominent citizens attended his funeral services and marched in a snow storm to his final resting place on this earth. May he rest in peace.

Very truly yours,
Patrick H. Cunningham

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, June 20, in all churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Golden Text is: "To us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him" (I Corinthians 8:6). Other Bible citations include: "By the word of the Lord were the heavens made; and all the host of them by the breath of his mouth. For he spake and it was done; he commanded, and it stood fast" (Psalms 33:6, 9).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Infinite Mind creates and governs all, from the mental molecule to infinity. This divine Principle of all expresses Science and art throughout His creation, and the immortality of man and the universe. ... The great I AM made all 'that was made.' Hence man and the spiritual universe coexist with God" (pp. 507, 267).

THE CURRY SCHOOL OF DANCING

The committee for the seventh grade dancing classes are very happy to announce that Mr. Russell Curry will be able to continue his teaching next winter here in Winchester with the eighth grade class.

Since Mr. Curry has been rejected by the Government for various reasons he will be allowed to resume his classes in the fall.

In addition to his teaching and lecture demonstrations this past winter, he has been extremely busy giving his services to members of the armed forces. Since October he has appeared in volunteer shows at 26 different forts, camps, outposts, and hospitals. He has also taught popular weekly classes for service men at Recreation Centers in Boston. So far this season there have been 44 of these classes with many more scheduled.

Since May the Curry School has given two shows at Service Club 1, Camp Devens, a show at Lovell General Hospital and another at the new Station Hospital, also two at Service Clubs at the Myles Standish and the Station Hospital, one at the encampment at Blue Hills Reservation and for the Marines in Hingham. All this has been volunteer and without any compensation.

Since the Government is allowing Mr. Curry to continue this valuable morale work for the Army and Navy, he will be able to carry on the majority of his civilian classes next winter.

BRITISH WAR RELIEF

Thanks again to the Star! History repeated itself happily again this week. The Star told how serviceable men's used clothing could be in the survivor's kits which ships sailing from our harbor now carry in readiness for those men who may be picked up after a torpedo has sunk their ship. A woman read it and on Wednesday came to the workroom with an armful of garments. Their young owner has just put on uniform and so again in Winchester a lad and his clothes both set forth, on their respective roads, to help us all stay free. The appeal brought also a suit from another giver and a generous check.

In this war we have learned that what we do for others may take care of our own. No one will forget that one of the mobile kitchens we sent for Britons was waiting to serve hot coffee and doughnuts to the first Yanks who landed on the other side.

Where might a Winchester boy be served by what British War Relief provides? Well, in any ocean, of course, where his ship might come to grief a survivor's kit on the rescuing vessel would give him shoes and garments. Not only Anzacs but MacArthur's men get comfort from the games and records that make clubs cheerful in New Zealand or Australia. In the Middle East a mobile field hospital may give one of ours that timely first-minute aid which turns the scale between life and death. In Iraq, Eypt, India, wherever he fights or wherever he waits, something that some folks have given through British War Relief may be ready to heal or to cheer. He may even go to church some Sunday in a chapel we have provided; for in some lonely military outposts a British War Relief car is his entertainment club on week-days and his chapel on Sundays.

A good number of the faithful looked at the thermometer Wednesday, read its bad news and came over to work just the same. New women will be cordially welcome at the Epiphany parish hall to see what is being done on Wednesdays and how they could fit in for work at the central room or for home sewing or knitting.

On other days than Wednesday, Mrs. Fred Cameron, Win. 1984, will answer questions, particularly just now about clothing for survivor's kits.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS COMPLETED COMMANDETTE COURSE

With the closing of the school year the Winchester High School girls completed their work in the Commandette Course, a number in each class receiving the coveted felt "V," awarded by the School Department to those of Commandette grade.

The course was developed and instituted by Miss Deborah Fenton, director of Physical Education and coach of girls, and was taken by the girls during the regular gym classes with extra opportunity for those who wished to work after school.

Comparable to the Commandos course instituted by Coach Henry Knoxlon for the boys, the Commandette Course aimed to develop strength and coordination skills, with special emphasis on rhythm. Commencing after the spring vacation the course covered the entire final quarter of the school year.

Four grades were set, apprentice, aide, leader and commandette, with progressively difficult tests having to be passed for admission to each. The course was open to any girl who passed the medical examination given at the start of the year by the school physician. Most of the girls not only a relative few did the work in the gym classes took the course necessary to progress from apprentice to commandette grade.

ELKS OBSERVED FLAG DAY

Winchester Lodge of Elks observed Flag Day last Sunday at the lodge hall in Lyceum Building, there being a good sized attendance at the impressive ceremonial. Delegations were present from Winchester Post, 97, American Legion, Waterfield Lodge of Odd Fellows, Winchester Lodge, Sons of Italy in America, and the Auxiliary to Aberjona Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars. Chairman William J. Speers, Jr., of the Board of Selectmen and Selectmen Daniel A. Murray and Alfred J. Higgins represented the town.

Exalted Ruler Fred Connor conducted the Flag Day Ritual, and Past Exalted Ruler Harry A. McGrath gave a most interesting history of the American Flag, tracing its development from its earliest days. As he explained the various stages through which Old Glory gradually came to its present form Boy Scouts placed a flag representing each stage in a stand at the front of the platform, there being seven of them on display at the end of the address. Also displayed on the stage were the flags of the 29 United Nations, they making a most interesting and colorful display.

George F. Henderson, city treasurer of Chelsea and a widely known orator, was the guest speaker and presented an inspiring patriotic address, Chairman Speers also added to his growing reputation as a speaker with his apropos remarks. The Legion Colors and color guard added greatly to the impressiveness of the occasion. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the program.

William G. White was chairman of the Elks' committee in charge of arrangements and was assisted by P. E. R. Charles A. Farrar, Michael F. Grant and J. Francis Holland.

Miss Betty Bowman (above). The first girl in more than 100 years history of the Boston and Maine to fill a regular "trick" as Information Clerk in the busy concourse of the North Station.

Mrs. Lillian Bassett (above). She is the first woman in the history of the railroad to be appointed a ticket seller at the North Station's busy windows.

Miss Bridget J. Ward (above). She does a sort of "housework" unfamiliar to most women—cleaning cars in the B and M yards.

FEMALES have always been important cogs in our Boston and Maine Railroad organization. But now, with 2,401 of our men already in the uniforms of the fighting services, the ladies are stepping into men's jobs in this most essential war industry — and doing it in a manner that should make all of their fellow employees very proud.

The six women pictured above "on the job" are typical of those who are taking over (and capably, too) for Boston and Maine men who've gone to war.

Two of them — Betty Bowman, now on a regular "trick" at the busy North Station Concourse "Information" Desk, and Mrs. Lillian Bassett, a ticket seller at the North Station windows — are the first of their sex ever to fill these jobs in the 110 years history of the Boston and Maine.

We have women at drafting boards in our Engineering Department. Raising and lowering the gates at highway crossings. Manning the busy "Information" telephone lines at North Station. Cleaning B and M cars in the yards. And their daily tasks, like the tasks of the hundreds of women who for years have worked in our offices and stations, are all essential to "what makes the wheels go 'round".

Many of these women are doing work they never dreamed of attempting before our country was attacked. The jobs they've tackled require the quick and able thinking which safe and efficient operation of a railroad demands. Hours are not always a 9-to-5 proposition, either; many of our feminine contingent work regular "tricks" which permit passenger and freight trains to move smoothly 24 hours every day.

Women are a most essential part of the railroad industry today — taking the same responsibilities as men. Without them the railroads could not keep on moving troops and weapons, and the necessities of the home-front where and when they are needed.

THE WORM TURNS . . . INTO THE VICTORY GARDEN

Don Simonds, Jr., changed the name of his Snipe from Worm to Genghis Khan and then promptly went out and won both the Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning races, the first time he's turned the trick since he started sailing. Perhaps the loss of its former ignominious moniker made his boat feel faster and prouder, resulting in the twin victory, but we suspect the major share of credit is due to Stretch's slick sailing. (Ed. note: Don, Jr., will be known hereafter as Stretch in this [illegible] field in order to distinguish him from his popular pappy).

In the Saturday race, Stretch tagged along after George Jones' Yo[illegible] [illegible], just waiting for George, who is [illegible] used to leading the fleet, to make a mistake. And sure enough, on the last beat, George juggled his calculations a bit, and Stretch capitalized on the break to pull up close and then nose out George in the run to the finish. Nevertheless, give George a big hand for sailing one of the finest races of his career. Third place went to Jay Smith in Typam who beat Carl Freyer in Phooka by an eyelash.

The Sunday morning race was one of those good old two boat thrillers between Don Simonds in Sinbad and George Wiswell, Jr., in By-George. By-George held the lead right from the start but he couldn't get more than two boat lengths ahead of Don no matter what strategy he employed. In fact, Don hung on so tenaciously it looked as though the boats were tied together. Stretch Simonds was sailing a gaining third as the two leaders were battling it out and on the final leg of the race, a run to the finish line, while Don and George engaged in a thrilling duel which carried them clear across the lake, Stretch set a true course to the finish line and crossed it at least five boat lengths ahead of surprised and bewildered George and Don. Fourth place went to Bill Hall in Rondie and the rest of the fleet floundered along in more or less their usual order.

Fleet Facts

The first Snipe meeting of the '43 season was held after the Sunday race and when the smoke cleared the fleet had a new Captain, Jim Snow; a new first mate, Carl Freyer and had retained Jay Smith as purser and John Maynard as secretary . . . a new racing schedule was decided on that should provide every fleet member with an excellent opportunity to cop a cup. There will be three separate series of races, handicap affairs on Saturday and Sunday afternoons, and on Sunday a. m., official point score races which will also determine the club championship . . . With two firsts and a second, George Wiswell holds undisputed possession of first place. Sunday was the first race George didn't win and it was the first race he didn't have his regular crew with him, Roger Swanson, which speaks pretty highly for Roger's crewing ability . . . Comdr. Jim Newman deserves a big hand for the swell job he did of righting both his boat and his wife when an extra vicious puff tossed them both on their ear . . . We sincerely hope that Stretch Simonds success after rechristening his boat won't bring about a rash of name-changing among our superstitious skippers. After two years we have just reached the point where we know which boat belongs to who.

Party for Juniors Tuesday Night, June 22

Next Tuesday night, all the Junior members of the Winchester Boat Club who have been given tickets by Mr. Dustin, the club's stewart, are in for a real treat. Mr. Dustin has personally arranged a party for these youngsters.

Mr. Robert Friend, Sr., of Friend Brothers, a real friend of all kids, is going to show a whole flock of comic movies. There'll be Don'l Duck, Mickey Mouse and all the other funny pictures and they'll be in sound as well as sight.

The show starts at 8.30 and will run for about an hour. Only junior members who have tickets will be admitted. To get a ticket all a junior has to do is tell the steward the club's pass word, which of course is a secret known only to the club's junior members.

Flash! We have just been informed that the steward has corralled some very fancy hams and will be serving a delicious ham dinner with all the fixin's at the club next Sunday from 12.30 to 2 and 5.30 to 7.

CAN WE BE BOMBED?

REALIZE THIS—Nazi airfields in France are only a few short hours' flying time from where you sit.

Some day they're bound to try a raid here.

How successful that raid will be depends upon how alert our Aircraft Warning Service is.

For the Aircraft Warning Service spots enemy planes and tells our fliers exactly where to find them. Its "nerve centers" are the Information and Filter Centers.

Today more women are needed to help man these Centers—to work directly with the Army in plotting the course of every plane that flies over this area—to help send our Fighter planes straight to the enemy if he comes.

If you can give just a few hours a week we need you—now!

INFORMATION HELPERS NEEDED

Winchester Citizens Asked to Co-operate

There is a considerable amount of interest being shown in the campaign being conducted in Winchester for Civilian Volunteers to serve at the Boston Information Center according to a statement made today by Miss Eve Barone who is heading the recruiting drive here.

A few days ago, Col. E. L. Craigie, Commanding Officer of the Boston Air Defense Wing, Army Air Corps made a direct appeal to the citizens of Winchester stressing the need for civilian volunteers to receive reports from the observers by telephone, and relay the information to the Operations Room where the course of all aircraft over New England is charted on huge colored maps.

This activity is carried on at a secret location in a Boston Building which is the nerve center of a system of defense which protects Winchester from bombing raids.

In answer to the question whether or not bombing raids are expected here, Miss Barone states, "It is like asking the Fire Department when there is going to be a fire. The New England defense system set up here by the Army Air Corps is a preventative measure like our Fire Department. Certainly the enemy will be less likely to bomb a location where citizens are on the alert. In England where a similar system has been in effect the Germans have found bombings on large scales too costly due to the activity of civilian observers and civilian workers at the Information Centers."

Miss Barone further stated: "While it is the primary purpose of the Boston Information Center to provide protection, detection and pilot guidance in the event of attack, these civilian volunteers at the Boston Information Center have already saved life and property and are continuing to do so daily."

"There are many pilots in training flying over this area and if and when they become lost, it is possible to put them on their course through the teamwork of civilian observers and civilians at the Boston Information Center. In the event of a crash, the time in which aid can be dispatched is greatly reduced due to the fact there are alert, patriotic men and women on the job serving with the Air Corps."

"I would like to point out that were it not for these civilians, it would be necessary to withdraw more than 50,000 soldiers from combat zones as well as 16 times as many planes and fighter pilots as we now need for patrol duty. This area is vital to the production of war materials and we can take no chances of lying open to attack here. We have already seen the importance of air supremacy in the African victory."

The volunteers now serving at the Center in Boston select hours which will not conflict with their civilian jobs. There are shifts starting at 6 in the morning and running to 10. The next shift is from 10 to 2. The afternoon shift is from 2 until 6 when the evening workers take over until midnight. These are the shifts on which volunteers will be particularly welcome at least twice a week.

No special training is necessary and men and women between the ages of 18 and 50 acquire skill at the duties after one easy lesson. We are informed by those now working at the Center that the activity is fascinating and often exciting.

Reports are constantly pouring in from observers stationed throughout New England. A formula is used to convoy the information vital to the Army and Navy officials who operate on the balcony and who are in direct contact with the pilots even when they are in the air. Civilian volunteers also place the symbols and arrows on huge colored maps in accordance with the information received in the filter room.

Outside the rooms where this vitally important operation is carried on 24 hours of the day, the Information Center is not unlike a comfortable hotel lobby. There is a private cafeteria open throughout the day and night, airy lounges and sleeping accommodations.

It is hoped that Col. Craiige's appeal to the citizens of Winchester will not go unheeded and that there are many more patriotic and unselfish citizens here who will feel that this is a way in which they can best serve to defeat our enemies. Those who wish to volunteer should call Miss Barone at once. The telephone number is Win. 2577-W. Officials at the Boston Information Center have advised us that the Army considers this activity so vitally important that they have made special arrangements for workers at the Center to receive extra gasoline where it is essential.

At the rear of the church there is a large pile of very sharp clinkers and cinders. Boys have amused themselves by throwing these by the dozens out into the lake. VOL. LXII NO. 45 | THE WINCHESTER, MASS., STAR, FRIDAY, JUNE 25, 1943 | PRICE SEVEN CENTS

WINCHESTER BOY HONORED BY ARMY M. P.'S

Modest and popular Walter Burns, son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Burns of Canal street, has had a new honor shown him by the Army authorities and especially by the Military Police, in which he holds the commission of 1st lieutenant and while serving with which he was awarded the distinguished service cross for gallantry in action during the North African campaign.

Lt. Burns was severely wounded during landing operations, but despite his wounds got his landing party safely ashore, winning the commendations of his superiors and the distinguished service cross. He had previously won other lesser decorations.

Now the M. P.'s have wrought out a large size poster, commemorating Lt. Burns exploit, citing his bravery and service as examples of what the outfit stands for.

On the poster, beside a reproduction of Major General Geoffrey Keyes decorating Lt. Burns with the distinguished service cross are the words:

"Officers and men of the 704th and 766th will remember him as Sgt. Burns. His associates will also recall how diligently he applied himself to Military Duties; the time he was selected for OCS; his successful completion of schooling; his being commissioned in the Corps of Military Police.

1st. Lt. Walter F. Burns, with an MP outfit, went into action in North Africa. Employing "Commando" tactics, though severely wounded, he led his MP's against strong enemy opposition, during the invasion of the French Morocco Harbor. He was awarded the DSC."

Across the top of the poster are the words "MP Goes Into Action. Awarded Distinguished Service Cross."

At the bottom appears "MP's in action may be employed in front line fox holes or in equally important rear guard security positions. MP's are Dependable, All - round Combat Troops."

The Star is indebted to Lt. Col. Wade L. Grindle, himself attached to the MP's, for the poster. It may be seen on display in the window of the Star Office.

The Star was interested to note in Wednesday evening's Boston Traveler the fact that 25 years ago the Traveler's All-Scholastic baseball team included Winchester's Jackie Hevey at shortstop. Many new-comers to Hevey's Pharmacy probably do not know that the proprietor's brother, quiet Jack, was one of the best shortstops in the schoolboy and semi-pro ranks awhile back. A fine fielder and good hitter, Jackie played with some of the best semi-pros, including Salem and the Cornets of Lynn, as well as the old Winchester Town Team, then listed among the leaders.

CONGREGATIONAL SERVICEMEN'S COMMITTEE DOING BIG JOB

Most churches are doing everything possible for their boys and girls in the armed forces. Perhaps all of them have their work organized as efficiently as the Servicemen's Committee of the First Congregational Church. If so, they are doing a big job mighty well.

The Star had heard so much about the work of the Congregational committee that this week a reporter visited the church and learned that the group was organized in February 1942, and includes 16 members with an executive board of eight. Its avowed object is to keep in touch with the boys and girls in service, letting them know their church does not forget them and is behind them in their sacrifices for their Country.

The Congregational committee is departmentalized, the first group being that whose job it is to see inductees off at the town hall, sending to each, and to every other member of the parish entering the armed forces a letter and prayer-book from the church pastor, Dr. Howard J. Chidley.

Next is the group which sends out the big 12-14 pound boxes, the first thing the boy or girl receives from the committee. These boxes are really a sight to see, beautifully packed to include home-cooked food and fudge, spreads, candy, writing paper, toilet articles and even shoe polish. Then comes the department in charge of knitted articles which keeps some 65 women of the church knitting for the committee constantly. A card is sent the service boys and girls listing 19 articles available and asking them to check the ones wanted, either khaki or blue. More than 150 articles have already been sent out, 50 are on hand right now and about $600 has been spent to date for wool.

Still another department is that which gets out the news-letter to each person in service, giving church and home news and listing addresses of all church service boys and girls. One boy wrote he located his brother and brother-in-law through this medium.

One of the largest departments is that which has made 800 sewing kits in O. D. or blue, roll type, containing scissors, pins, real "he-man needles" with big threadable eyes, linen thread, darning cotton and buttons, real Army buttons at that. Three hundred of these kits have already gone to the Church's adopted chaplain, Lt. John Philip Lindsay, Congregational clergyman, at Nashville, Tenn., with an additional 150 going to Lt. Col. Nathan Thumim's regiment at Camp McCain, Miss.

Another department is the committee's book exchange which gets best sellers, both fiction and more serious reading, to service people, the readers, signing the book with their name and location before returning it.

IN HONOR OF SERVICEMEN FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH SUNDAY, 10:15

At the First Congregational Church next Sunday morning a service will be held in honor of the men and women of our church who are in the Armed Forces. The names of those who are in the service will be read by the pastor, and prayers will be offered in their behalf.

Excerpts from letters of men and women, some in service in North Africa, will be presented, and will furnish a highlight, as they always do. Dr. Chidley will preach a special sermon, on, "Five Minutes Longer."

At 5:30 Sunday afternoon in Ripley Chapel a Memorial Service will be held in memory of Sgt. Harold W. Callanan, who was killed in action in North Africa, recently.

The public is invited to both these services.

WINCHESTER'S "ALERT" SHOWING GOOD

Director Harold S. Fuller of Winchester's Civilian Defense organization told the Star he was generally pleased with the towns mobilization during the late night alert of Wednesday. He stated that the organization was about 90 per cent mobilized, which he considered a high percentage, especially in view of the fact that there had been few if any advance leaks and that those who thought there might be an alert that night believed it would occur by 10 o'clock at least.

A contributing factor in the late mobilization of a part of the west side area was the lack of the Wildwood street siren. This went out of commission during Tuesday's noon test blows and was on its way to Chicago to be fixed Wednesday night. Wardens there in many cases had to be waked up, the cool night prompting most people to catch up on their sleep.

The Report Center was fully manned, a skeleton crew being at the Police Station with 10 minutes of the first audible alarm. The fact that lights went out while first signals were made driving tricky, it being an especially dark night for all the stars. Director Fuller in leaving the Police Station for an inspection tour, collided with a large man in Winchester place, who upon being challenged turned out to be Police Chief William H. Rogers. Neither saw the other until they met and no harm is recorded which gave ground, but both spoke in terms of hearty praise of the "blacked out" conditions. Auxiliary Police and Firemen, Hospital and Medical Units were out in force with the efficient Sea Scouts who really do a job on keeping the center clear.

Only three light violations were reported and the registration of one speeding automobile was taken after the operator refused to pay any attention to police whistles.

FREE SWIMMING INSTRUCTIONS

An opportunity for all residents of Winchester to receive free swimming instructions both for beginners and for advanced pupils, will be offered at the Leonard Field Pool and at Wedge Pond commencing next week, it was announced this week by Elmer C. Goodwin, chairman of the Water Safety Committee of the local Red Cross Chapter.

The free instruction at Leonard Field Pool will start at 10 a. m. next Monday and at Wedge Pond at 10 a. m. on Tuesday with the instructor on duty at each pond for eight weeks, on alternate days.

Miss Helen Carroll of Sargent School, who will handle the instruction work is now at the Red Cross Aquatic School at South Hanson. When she starts the Winchester classes next Monday there will be water-safety instruction for beginners, intermediates, and advanced swimmers. In addition there will be life-saving classes for juniors, 12 to 16 years of age and life-saving instruction for seniors 17 years of age and over.

The instruction classes, as operated by the Red Cross include the methods which have been approved as the most modern and efficient in the country.

Any resident of Winchester, regardless of age can secure this free instruction by contacting Miss Carroll at either of the popular swimming places commencing next Monday.

OPERATED UPON AT SEA

Mrs. Ruth C. Porter, well known realtor of Thompson street, has received word from her son, Lt. Frank C. Porter, USN, announcing that on May 25 he underwent a successful operation for the removal of his appendix while somewhere at sea on the Pacific Ocean.

Lt. Porter is communications officer on a destroyer and it was on an operating table right up in the wash room that the surgeon removed the appendix when he objected would have burst in another four hours. The operation was performed under spinal anaesthetic and Lt. Porter's brother officers stood about, as he himself writes, wise-cracking during its progress.

Lt. Porter is a Winchester High School, Andover and Amherst graduate, enlisting in the Navy a few days after Pearl Harbor. He was in Washington in Naval communications before assigned to sea duty.

NATURAL HISTORY LESSON

Commuters at Wedgemere Station one day last week saw an unusual sight when they witnessed a big snapping turtle in the act of laying eggs.

The big reptile had come out of the water on the east side of the tracks and had scraped out a fairly deep hole well up on the bank in light sandy soil. In this hole she deposited some 10 or 12 white eggs about the size of a good sized bird's eggs, paying no attention to the big gallery that streamed across the tracks to witness the performance.

Once the eggs were in the hole the turtle covered them and went about her further business. Several persons, including Station Agent Ralph Cardinal are quite interested to see how soon the eggs hatch.

WINCHESTER HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Twenty-six members of this society attended the annual meeting of the Bay State Historical League at Woburn last Saturday afternoon, held under the auspices of the Rumford Historical Association of Woburn and the Winchester Historical Society. The roll call totaling 187 showed 40 historical societies throughout the state represented.

In his opening speech, Mr. Henry W. Porter, the president of the League emphasized the important place historical societies occupy today when much history is being made.

Mayor William E. Kane in bringing the greetings of the city, spoke of the woeful lack of knowledge of American History shown by college students in a recent questionnaire conducted by the New York Times.

Mr. Arthur Linscott, president of the Rumford Historical Association, gave a short history of Benjamin Thompson, created Count Rumford of the Holy Roman Empire in 1790, stating that he took the name Rumford for his wife's home, Concord, N. H., originally called Rumford, and that he was one of the great scientists of all times. By his investigations into the nature of heat he invented the Rumford fireplace and the modern smoking stove. He did wonderful work for the people in Bavaria where there is a fine statue of him, a copy of which is now in front of the Woburn Public Library. Mr. Linscott urged everybody to visit Count Rumford's birthplace in North Woburn, which is open to visitors at all times.

Mr. William E. Goddard, retired Woburn librarian, whose subject was "Putting Woburn on the Map" spoke of four famous Woburn men: Capt. Edward Johnson one of the first settlers from Charlestown, who wrote the book in 1654 called "The Wonder, working Providence in New England" a first edition of which is in the Woburn Library; Col. Loammi Baldwin who cultivated the Baldwin apple, first found by Samuel Thompson in what is now Wilmington in 1793 while locating the line of the Middlesex Canal and named by him the "Pecker" apple because of the woodpeckers that attracted his attention to that particular tree; there is a statue at this spot; Benjamin Thompson, Count Rumford, for his work in sciences; and Charles Goodyear who discovered the process of vulcanizing rubber in 1839 in East Woburn.

Rev. Howard J. Chidley, who made the principal address of the day, spoke on "Religious Customs of Our Forefathers" and gave a fine picture of the life of the early settlers and their many hardships. Some of their customs seem narrow and even ludicrous to us today, but they were always sincere and we owe them much.

Mr. Arthur Winn exhibited a copy of the recent History of Winchester written by the late Henry S. Chapman, stating what a fine picture it gave of Winchester's history, and as a result of his talk, two copies were sold.

After the business meeting, refreshments were served and a very pleasant social time enjoyed.

The Winchester committee which helped carry through this very successful meeting were the president, Miss Clara R. Russell, Mr. Arthur L. Winn, Miss Jean MacLellan and Mrs. Nathaniel Nichols.

LT. BENSON ROTARY SPEAKER

At the regular meeting and luncheon of the Rotary Club of Winchester yesterday noon, Lt. Harry L. Benson, USN, one of the club's service members, was the speaker. Lt. Benson, now on shore leave after many months at sea and visiting many ports, was warmly welcomed by his fellow members and gave a most interesting sketch of some of his activities.

Other service guests present were Edward Bennett and Dick Caldwell, both well known Winchester boys.

There was a large attendance of members present, and during the meeting President John McLean displayed the honor roll of the members in service which has been made to hang in the dining hall.

WINCHESTER BOYS TO TAKE ALLAGASH TRIP

Seven Winchester boys, Bill Whittemore of 19 Hillside avenue, Ralph Bonnell of 10 Fells road, George Gould of 28 Lakeview road, John Filler of 17 Chestnut street, Nicholas Browne of 6 Salisbury street, Elliott Emerson of 31 Everett avenue, and Russell Penniman of 29 Everett avenue, are going on the Allagash Lake canoe trip under Linwood "Skipper" Dwelley former Maine Ranger and a director of Physical Education and Camp Master with years of experience.

The trip starts for the local boys June 29 at 9:30 p. m. when they will pull out of the North Station on a sleeper bound for Greenville, Me. There they will meet the "Skipper" and also Charles W. Jordan, mathematics teacher at the Junior High School, who is going along with the party. "Charlie" knows his outdoor ofo, having been athletic director at Camp Wapello, Friendship, Me., and athletic counsellor at the Maine State "Y" Camp, Winthrop, Me.

From Greenville the voyagers will drive to Ripogenus dam and take the mail boat to the head of Chesuncook Lake where the base camp for the trip will be pitched. Several days will be spent at camp in organization work and in familiarizing everyone with the use of all equipment.

Then the party will move on up to Umbasooksus Lake, the carry to Mud Pond being made by wagon since all the supplies are being taken for the trip.

There is opportunity for excellent trout and salmon fishing along the way and plenty of chance for big game photography. The boys will also have a chance to pass Red Cross Life Saving tests and to qualify for Maine junior guides' licenses, while also receiving training in mapmaking, nature study and woodcraft.

The Winchester boys will return July 26, leaving Greenville at 8:45 a. m. and arriving in Boston at 7:20 p. m. "Skipper" Dwelley has been making this Allagash Lake trip annually for 10 years. John Parkhurst, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Parkhurst of Grove street, made the trip two years running in 1940 and 1941 and Russell Penniman is a repeater this year.

Shaughnessey of Webster street, concluded a career rich in achievement at Boston University at the recent commencement by winning the Chalmers Cup, presented each year to the girl who has done most for her class and for the college during her four years at the institution.

Miss Shaughnessey, among lesser honors, served as president of the college Student Government Board in her senior year. She was also one of five girls awarded Sigma keys in recognition of high scholarship.

TEELE DOUBTED CHAMPS

It isn't often that a regular meeting of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association is held without undisputed champions emerging from the welter of competition, but last week, however, no less a personage than Royal P. Teele, doughty Association president, questioned strongly the case whose games won total gave them the right, in their own opinion at least, to wear the championship laurel.

"Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the pride of Stowe and Champion of all Nahnasett, and Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham, collectively known as the Lake Street Lancers, amassed the most games won total, taking seven while losing five. Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine Champ, and the Secretary, won four and lost but one for a better average than McLaughlin and Pridham, but Mr. McLaughlin would have none of this reasoning, claiming that seven is a higher figure than four, even under the present progressive education system in vogue in the local schools, which of course it is!

Mr. Teele wasn't interested in totals or averages. He based his unwillingness to accord championship stature to the pretenders upon the undeniable fact that Willie and Rollie lost their last two matches running. His contention was that anyone not possessed of sufficient stamina to last out a session in the pace maker's place didn't rate top honors, and he remained true to his convictions. He and Herbert "Garrulous" Gardner took two straight from Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. Pridham to bring the session to a close, the Teele whoops of triumph and shouts of derision being easily heard by the OPA boys prowling along the Revere Beach Parkway!

Not to break the Teele bubble of joy in too summary fashion, but still in the interest of keeping the record straight, it should be said that McLaughlin and Pridham were but broken men when they faced Royal and Herbert. Their morale had sagged and their winning spirit been blunted by the defeat handed them in a sizzling odd game match with Mr. Butters and the Secretary and they had hardly recovered from the blow when they went to the post with Messrs. Teele and Gardner. They were quite softened for the kill at that time.

This Butters-Secretary, McLaughlin-Pridham match was one of the best played at the beach this season. The meeting was Mr. Butters last until fall, he having departed this week for Maine via the B. and M. Generally speaking Arthur fails to sparkle on his farewell appearance at the courts, but last week-end was evidently the exception which proves the rule, for he had his old calculartrigonometric hyperbole shoe working with real mathematical precision, a fact which must be evident to all close followers of this column when they recall the fact he was a winner with the Secretary as partner.

The Scrivener did his best, and he did at a critical moment in the deciding game cover a double ringer flung by Mr. Pridham, but generally speaking it was Mr. Butters who carried the load, and the Maine State Champ it was who finally provided the points which enabled him and the Secretary to win the final game twice.

Seldom it is that wrangling rears its ugly head at Palmer Beach; that is wrangling over the final kill. Disputes there are about the near shoe or whether or not a shoe is a ringer. These are mere "bags-of-shells" and not taken seriously by the warriors involved. Any one who can not protect his interests in the huddle about the stakes doesn't belong at Palmer Beach, that is all!

The dispute which arose at the conclusion of the deciding game of the Butters-Secretary, McLaughlin-Pridham match was something else again!

As the last box came up, Mr. Teele, seated on the bench and President of the Association, mind, announced the score as 22-15 for Mr. Butters and the Scrivener. There was no dissenting voice and as the Secretary unexpectedly threw a ringer which Mr. Pridham failed to cover he and Mr. Butters were under the impression they had won. Mr. Teele's shrill yelps of joy left no doubt as to his understanding of the situation. He even embraced Mr. Butters in his exhuberance!

It was at this time that Mr. Pridham announced the score as 24-15, claiming Mr. Butters and the Secretary were but 21-15 at the previous box. He traced the score back, point by point to prove his contention which was strongly supported by Mr. McLaughlin. The Secretary was inclined to accept the Teele count, so too you could see was Mr. Butters. Neither Willie nor Rollie was however inclined to yield and an impasse was threatened when Mr. Butters, with a magnanimity which became him well lifted his hand in that famous gesture previously employed by mighty Casey to quell the mob shouting for the umpire's score and announced that he would pitch the last box once more.

History has recorded Casey's sad failure after forgiving the blind umpire. Mr. Butters made no such fiasco. With a confident smile breathing his flushed features he flung his first shoe on the stake and that was the last he saw the winning point. Mr. McLaughlin, though he gave of his best, failing to cover!

There is little more to record. Letters have been received from Lt. Sherming Dodge at Soap Lake, Ephiata, Washington, recording his vote in favor of a new president who is able expresses it "there in the clutch." His communication has been filed. The Association is also indebted to Lt. Harry Benson, U. S. Navy Medical Corps, for his kindness in letting the members know how much he has enjoyed reading their column in out-of-the-way places all over the world.

SONS OF ITALY NEWS

Well, boys the cigarette drive over. Now we will get down to some serious writing. There is a shortage of news right now, but next week I will have a few letters to answer, and acknowledge.

One of our Brothers Lt. Joseph Ciarcia was married recently to Lillian Dunbar of Stoneham. Carmine Frongillo was best man. After a short honeymoon Joe will return, back to duty at Fort Mead, Maryland.

Your reporter had the pleasure to rise down town with Willie DeMinico, Sam Graziano and Frankie Diappeini all home on furlough. Boy did they look good?

Sam and young Dippy were locked pink to be home on furlough together. They are both stationed in Texas and certainly like it "deep in the heart of Texas."

Willie had on a campaign hat with the brim turned up. It was set on his head at a jaunty angle that made him look all Marine. You really had to see him to get what I mean. You boys know Willie.

Our Venerable A. P. Trifiro, attended the flag day exercises sponsored by the Winchester Elks. He was accompanied by several of our members. The exercises were held Sunday afternoon, June 13, at 2:30 p. m. in the Lyceum Hall.

After the Flag Day exercises we went to Peabody to attend the installation of officers in the Girls' Junior Lodge. The Girls' Glee Club sang our degree team song Sons of Italy in America, which was well rendered by the girls composed of about 15 members. They had military like uniforms. The Glee Club is coached by Miss Emma Ciman and Mary Cena.

Just received a V-mail letter from Gay. He is in England. He didn't have time to write much this time. He will write a long letter as soon as possible.

It is comforting and stimulating to realize as we prepare to dig up the $5 to pay for the stamp we must affix to the windshield of our automobile for the privilege of keeping it off the highway that there was plenty of gasoline for the cars of the zoot suit hoodlums on the west coast and those of the race rioters in Detroit.

The Boston Globe has a story about something concerning Price Wilson's feeding woodchuck meat to dogs. This might refer to the woodchuck's bones, but Price Wilson is a firm supporter and advocate of baked woodchuck as a mighty tasty dish for human consumption and not to be turned down for any dog these days. Ever try it? Just don't let anyone tell you what it is and you will praise it to the skies.

INFLATION?

The Administration and about everyone else are afraid of inflation and we should be but there is very little general knowledge concerning inflations, what causes them or their types.

There is a tremendous amount of loose talk concerning inflation by the Administration. Almost every move is advanced as a means to prevent inflation. The President's directive to prevent salaries over $25,000 was said to help prevent inflation; then when it was defeated, it was based on equality of sacrifice during war.

We listen every 15 minutes to talks about taxes, bond-buying, forced savings, all to syphon off increased income to prevent inflation. How could there be inflation through surplus purchasing power, if wages were really frozen and prices really frozen, no ifs, ands, or buts? England has done a splendid job with ceilings, freezing and rationing. What's the trouble over here? Why inflation, due to increased income, in America and not in England after four years of war?

Of course, if a black market, caused as in prohibition, bootlegging, could not be stopped, then indeed any thought of policing Europe before we could police America would indeed be ridiculous. If inflation comes, it need not come by consumer increased purchasing power.

As to syphoning off surplus income, how can it be figured out who should give up what? The rich and the middle classes probably have a smaller net income in 1943 than they had in 1940. Surely it cannot be said that they have an increased income and that it should be syphoned off. They certainly cannot contribute towards inflation.

The increase in national income must, therefore, go to business and the war workers, yet the net profit of business will be less in 1943 than it was in 1942. Will the increased earnings of war workers be syphoned off? For political reasons they will not be.

It is argued that the supply of consumer goods is so much less than the demand that this extra spending money can cause inflation. Well, if prices are frozen, what good is the demand in spite of surplus purchasing power?

Why not stimulate the production of consumer goods after necessary war goods? This would help prevent inflation and keep present business alive for real jobs for the returning service men.

Why not allow higher profits, then higher taxes to take it and help pay for the war?

If America has inflation it will be due entirely to government "Deficit Spending" and high national debt, caused by New Deal pre-Pearl Harbor wasteful spending, with the war on top of it. In fact, even during war, billions are still being spent on the New Deal Social Reform Agencies.

It really still looks like social reform and redistribution of income and wealth, neither of which has any place in a war-torn world, where voluntary equality of sacrifice must be obtained, or it ceases to be equality, just sacrifice.

A Harvard professor recently said America cannot go bankrupt. He is a New Dealer. Well, if it can't, why does he worry about inflation?

Socrates

War Takes 96¢ Of Each Dollar

Out of every $18.75 that is invested in a War Bond, $18 goes into guns, planes, tanks, ships and other military equipment. The 75 cents goes for ordinary governmental expenditures. Out of every dollar 96 cents goes toward the war effort and 4 cents goes for Government "business as usual."

The same ratio applies to all other securities the Government has offered investors in the Second War Loan campaign for 13 billion dollars.

NO INTENTION OF MISPLACED KINDNESS

To the Editor of the Star:

Your editorial, appearing in the edition of the Winchester Star of Friday, June 18, has naturally been brought to the attention of the Selective Service Board and, whereas we appreciate full well that the average inductee is not, under any circumstances, enthusiastic about the ceremonies incidental to his induction into the Army as now conducted by the citizens of Winchester and Stoneham, we have yet to be advised by any parents or friends of inductees expressing in any sense a distaste or dislike for any part of the departure ceremonies.

At the present time, and this has been true for some months, the Army issues an order to each enlisted man after his acceptance into the Army directing him to report to his Selective Service Board at 7:30 a. m. on a certain morning and further directs that the group, of which the enlisted man is one, shall take the 8:32 train from Winchester's Boston and the 9:00 train from Boston to Ayer, at which point they are met by Army transportation facilities and transported by a prearranged schedule to Fort Devens.

It would seem from the above that inasmuch as the registrants are to report an hour before they are directed to board the train at the Winchester Station, that such time is deliberately provided for some form of departure ceremonies, which by the way, take place at nearly every board in the country.

It occurs to us that if it were known, and it would of necessity be known to the families and friends of the inductees, that the inductees are to take the 8:32 train from Winchester that a crowd of substantially the same size as now gathers would be present at the Winchester Railroad Station to wish these new members of our armed forces well. It occurs to us that even in the absence of any prearranged ceremonies in the Town Hall that a large proportion of the families and friends of the newly enlisted soldiers would be present from personal choice.

We assure you, Mr. Editor, that it is the farthest idea from our thoughts of subjecting those Selective Service inductees to "misplaced kindness" or to expose the families and friends to unnecessary agony or suffering. We feel that it is bad enough for families to send a son, or brother, or father into the armed forces without subjecting those left at home to unnecessary anguish.

TOWN SHOULD BUY PROPERTY

To the Editor of the Star:

I am very much pleased that the voters in Winchester are to be given another opportunity to help make it the most beautiful town in the state by the purchase of the Skillings Estate. It is by the foresight of the citizens that Winchester is such a beautiful town.

Starting away back, I have heard my father say that he was offered the pasture now called Winchester Common for $500, but some of the far-sighted citizens got together and purchased it for the town.

Then came the purchase of Wildwood Cemetery, which everyone knows is close to the hearts of the citizens.

The next major project was the acquisition of land for the reservoirs, the town more than doubling its debt to acquire it. A great deal of hot argument developed over this, but the land was purchased and we all know what an asset these reservoirs are to the town. It is now free of debt.

The first major project that I remember was Manchester Field. When I was a young man this area contained a tannery, a freight yard, a lumber and coal yard, and many tenement houses. The citizens, under the leadership of Representative Manchester, for whom the field is named, put a bill in the Legislature and had the State take this land as a park, later placing it under the care of the town. Our park system, under the supervision of the Park Department, has a reputation for excellence throughout the country.

Through the efforts of some of the citizens, the late Edwin Ginn gave the town what is known as Ginn Field.

Because of the foresight and influence of the Honorable Lewis Parkhurst and our very able Planning Board, the shores of the Aberjona River were transformed from mud banks to a beauty-spot of the town. Some people thought this cost too much money, but it has more than paid for itself in raising the real estate values in town.

Included in this development was the Mill Pond now so popular with the ducks and I am told that a pair of beautiful swan are to be given to the town to grace its waters.

Another wise purchase was the Wedge Pond Park on Main street at Lake street. On this land were many old buildings that were a detriment to the town. People now exclaim at the beauty of the view from Main street.

The Water Board had a vision that the water supply was not sufficient for the town in excessively dry years, and the town voted $50,000.00 to procure an auxiliary supply from wells near Pond street. This has saved many thousands of dollars by not having to join the Metropolitan Water District. Also, it not only assures us of an ample water supply but it will eventually convert this section into a beautiful pine forest, whereas this land might have been used for a very undesirable real estate development.

I consider the purchase of the Skilling's property one of the best investments that the town can possibly make. We can determine the best use for this property in the future. The asking price is much below the assessed valuation and is a bargain for anyone.

EDISON COMPANY HONORS LT. WALTER BURNS

The Boston and Winchester Edison Offices have combined to honor Lt. Walter F. Burns, a Winchester boy who was in the employ of the Edison Company at the Woburn plant when he entered the country's Armed Forces.

Lt. Burns was wounded in action and awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for Gallantry during the North Africa campaign, and the Edison Company has arranged a striking window display in his honor at the Winchester office on Mt. Vernon street.

A large picture of Lt. Burns in uniform occupies the place of honor in the center of the window and is attractively draped in Red, White and Blue silk. To the left of the picture as you face it is a large vase of flowers, to the right, the National Colors, guarded by a bronze soldier. Framed copies of Norman Rockwell's famous paintings, The Four Freedoms complete the display.

"In the early morning of Nov 9, 1942, Lt. Burns, while enroute ashore with a landing party, voluntarily exposed himself to severe fire from an enemy warship at a distance of only 20 yards in order to take the helm of the boat after the coxswain had been wounded. Lt. Burns calmly guided the boat toward shore under instructions of the wounded coxswain and in so doing received a severe thigh wound from enemy gunfire. Even after being wounded and thrown from the controls he again turned to take the wheel. When it was evident that the boat could not reach shore, Lt. Burns retained control of the situation and with coolness that was a great inspiration to the men, he gave the order to abandon ship. An instant later, the boat was shot out of the water by enemy shell fire."

Lt. Burns, son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Burns, is attached to the Military Police. He is widely known in Winchester and is a popular member of Winchester Council, 210, K. of C.

HINTS FOR YOUR LETTERS TO SERVICE BOYS

The Office of War Information offers these pointers for home-folks writing to soldiers, sailors, and marines—based on suggestions gathered in a survey among servicemen.

Tell him:

How the family is doing everything possible to help in the war.

How anxious the family is for the boy's return.

How well and busy the family is. Give details.

How the family is getting along financially.

What's doing in the community—news about girls (singles) he knows, doings of friends who's marrying whom, exploits of the home team and other sports events, social doings, effects of the war on the home town. Reminisce a little about past events and places the boy used to visit. Enclose clippings from the home-town paper.

Don't tell him:

Your troubles. He has troubles of his own.

Your complaints. He can't do anything about them.

About things you are deprived of. He can't supply them.

Doleful predictions about the future. He's fighting for that future—now.

Unnecessary details about financial troubles.

VARIED ACTIVITIES OF 1943 GRADUATES

A follow-up study of the Winchester High School graduates in the class of 1943 reveals some interesting data. That students of this class are not faced by immediate problems of indecision, uncertainty, and lack of opportunity is at once apparent. Not many years ago young people completing their high school training were faced by a society in which no one seemed to desire their talents. Today graduates are confronted with a multitude of demands for their services.

The statement that this is a young man's war is strikingly emphasized by the total of 37 graduates who are already under the authority of the armed forces. Fourteen of this group are on active duty with various branches of our fighting units, and eight more are awaiting their call for induction through selective service within the next month. The Army Air Corps Reserve, Naval Air Corps Reserve, Marine Corps Reserve, and the Navy College Training Unit have administered the oath of service to 15 boys; eight of these boys will be sent to college in uniform and under the supervision of the armed forces. Three more of the reservists expect to secure some college training at their own expense before being called for active service.

Resisting the pressure to accept immediate jobs is a large group of students who plan to pursue further training. Colleges had sent notices of acceptance to 23 at the time of this release, and six more have applied and are awaiting confirmation. In addition, junior colleges claim the interests of nine girls, and ten girls expect to enroll in schools offering commercial training. Three girls have answered the urgent call for nursing service, soon to be joined by an additional four who have taken temporary positions until their 18th birthdays. To round out the training group, three students plan to study at schools offering specialized courses in merchandising, music, and mechanics; one is enrolled in a preparatory school for West Point; and one graduate will return to Winchester High in the fall for a post-graduate course.

The job world offers attractive opportunities in these days of labor shortages. The commercial department under the leadership of Miss Helen Bronson, continues its fine record of placements, a total of 33 students having been aided in securing positions with insurance companies, banks, and other business organizations. Two commercial graduates are learning the fine points of telephone service as operator trainees in the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company. Punching the time clock in jobs ranging from war industry work to clerking in Winchester stores are 15 non-commercial students. Many of these are boys who expect to be inducted into the armed forces before the end of 1943. It should also be mentioned that several of the students who are not immediately beginning their college or special training are engaged in summer employment.

To complete the compilation, there are four students from whom no report has yet been obtained, one who has moved to another section of the country, two who at present have responsibilities in the home, and eight who are uncertain as to their plans. Of this last number, some are working in temporary positions, and others are awaiting an opportunity to take a job to their liking.

Thus it can be seen that the majority of the Winchester High School class of 1943 have planned or assumed their roles in training and service, with graduation day only three weeks past. The school and the community may well hope that these young people will make a record which all may point to with pride.

This report was compiled under the direction of Robert Swenson, Guidance Director of the High School.

What Is Inflation?

Do you have excess cash?

You will answer, "No." But the fact remains that you do. For almost every wage earner these days has an income, in checkbook or pocketbook, well above the cost of his living, taxes, insurance and debt repayments.

You never actually bid" against anybody for a porterhouse steak, but when you take the spending of all average Americans as a group, it's a different story. So it is important that excess money be saved rather than used collectively to bid up prices. If it is spent, instead of saved, prices soar. . . That's inflation.

UNITARIAN PICNIC

Undertaken by the Men's Club as an experiment and originally planned to be an old fashioned hay ride jaunt to some nearby picnic spot, the first annual picnic for the families of the Unitarian Parish of Winchester was held on the beautiful grounds of the church last Saturday afternoon. All those who participated in nearly four hours of hilarity and sports were unanimous in declaring the event a huge success and in expressing the hope that it would prove the forerunner of many others to come.

Undoubtedly it was a wise decision to abandon the idea of going to an outside picnic resort as the grounds of the church, now at the heighth of their beauty, made an ideal place for the program of sports that a special committee headed by Raymond C. Terhune and Bob Johnston put through without a break.

Ponies were on hand also with Richard Feuno as hostler-in-chief and it is safe to say that not a youngster present failed to enjoy them. Rides were free as also was ice cream and all the ice cold punch the kids could drink, the popularity of the latter keeping Arnold Nichols, vice president of the club, on the jump to satisfy a seemingly limitless thirst. One of the ponies created a near panic in the breasts of the youngsters by going AWOL to be located only after an exhausting stern chase by a posse led by Dick, the horse-wrangler. The nearly 200 children and numerous older folk, of whom Richard Parkhurst was conspicuous, not only enjoyed ample box lunches brought from home in the good old fashioned style but furnished an enthusiastic audience for the sports events, the following winners drawing the prize ribbons which were awarded by Don Kroell, the club's president.

DRIVER AND PASSENGER ARRESTED

Sunday morning at 3:40 at Cross street Officers Edward Bowler and John Boyle in Patrol 52 arrested James J. Cassidy of 23 Mulberry street, Chelsea, for drunkenness and operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor.

Returning to the scene, Office. Boyle arrested Edward J. Voigt of 155 Cottage street, Everett, on the charge of drunkenness and assault and battery. Both men appeared in court Monday when their cases were continued until June 29.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS BOYS CONTRIBUTE MODEL PLANES

Boys in the Industrial Arts classes of Winchester, working with the local director of the aircraft project, Mr. Otis Leary of the Industrial Arts Department, have completed 20 aircraft scale models which will soon be on their way to the United States Bureau of Aeronautics in Washington where they will become a part of the equipment used for airplane recognition classes. Other models will be kept in Winchester for use with the local Observation Post spotters.

In commenting on the work of the model makers, Mr. Leary emphasized the fact that these planes, which take from 25 to 40 hours to construct, must be made to scale, and that the government accepts only the perfect products. Not only models of United States aircraft, but English, German, and Japanese have been fashioned from soft wood, usually pine, according to specifications furnished by the Bureau of Aeronautics.

As reward for their interest and craftsmanship, the boys are given certificates which establish their rank as aircraftsmen. No boy is eligible for a certificate unless he has completed at least one accepted model. His rank is then cadet. For two models he becomes an ensign, and for three he becomes a lieutenant, and so on. Comdr. Richard Rush is superintendent of the project and each certificate bears his signature.

Winchester's outstanding model maker, Charles Welch of the sophomore class, holds the rank of lieutenant aircraftsman for his manufacture of four models, the most impressive being a Boeing Clipper which will eventually go to the Navy. A moment's calculation will show that Charles must have done considerable homework for his project.

Ranking next to Lt. Welch is Ensign William Dingwell of the 8th grade who has completed two accepted models. Those who have certificates as cadets are Richard Briggs, Frederick Combes, David Howe, John Moore, Frank McEwen, Robert Ramsdell, Charles Locke, Dominic Pantaleo, Joseph Giacalone, Donald Goss, David Merrow, and Robert Reinking. Graduates of a year ago who earned certificates between April and June of 1942 are Ellsworth Post, Warren Bolivar, and Andre Redding.

It should also be noted that the local observation post has had the use of model planes for several months.

WINCHESTER POLICE ASSISTED

Saturday morning shortly after 1 o'clock Police Headquarters was notified by the Woburn Police that the occupants of a car headed toward this town were wanted for armed robbery. Officers John Boyle and John Harlon were notified in Patrol 51, and Officers Edward Bowler and John Lallas volunteered to go out on the lookout in Patrol 52. Officers James Flaherty and Stanley Mullen also volunteered to go out after the fugitives, being driven by Sgt. James F. Noonan, former police officer now in the Army Air Forces at Macon, Ga.

Meanwhile the Woburn authorities called again reporting they had one of four men wanted, the others having escaped. Officers Bowler and Lallas picked up Officer Tenney of Woburn on Arlington road in that city and while cruising through the South End of Woburn, picked up another of the wanted men on Main street at Buck street. He was taken to the Woburn station.

According to the Woburn Police four men were being taken home by two others in a car from a tavern on Merrimac street in Woburn. In the vicinity of Arlington road the four overcame the two, took the car away from them and it is also alleged robbed the pair of money and other valuables.

INFORMATION HELPERS NEEDED

Winchester Citizens Asked to Co-operate

One hundred and sixty eight years ago, this country was at war and then, as now, New England and the Boston area in particular was the prime post and principle position in our defense system. Then, as now, there was a warning system of lights, signals and alert citizens. But, today, we have to contend with plane carriers and bombers flying more than 200 miles an hour rather than wooden wind-driven warships and foot soldiers.

Then, a system was evolved using lanterns in Boston's old North Church a horse and rider, and the alert citizens of Cambridge, Medford, Lexington and the surrounding towns. Today, Civilian Volunteers from these same towns are serving at the Boston Information Center and from Maine to Maryland, thousands of ground observers watch the skies day and night ready to call and spread the alarm.

Col. L. C. Craigie, Commanding Officer of the Boston Air Defense Wing, First Fighter Command, has called upon the citizens of Winchester to share in this vitally important activity. One hundred and sixty years ago our forefathers did not fail in their duty, and we believe the patriotic men and women of Winchester will again respond to defend our homes and industries. Like our forefathers, these civilian volunteers will have their place in history.

There is an increase in the amount of aerial activity during the spring and summer months and the Boston Information Center is now in urgent need of Civilian Volunteers to chart the course of aircraft over New England on huge colored maps in the Filter and Operations Rooms at the nerve center of our defense system in New England.

Officials of the Army, Navy, Anti-Aircraft and all civilian defense units watch from the baleony and identify every flight. In the event a plane pokes its nose into the air when it is not supposed to be there, the Controller at the Center immediately contacts the squadron leaders at the aviation fields and our fighter pilots take to the skies to investigate or fight off an invader.

This work requires no special training and anyone between the ages of 18 and 50 can acquire skill after one easy lesson. Volunteers who are willing to give up a few hours twice a week are urgently needed now and should call Miss Eve Barone who is head of the recruiting here and who can give further information as to how to register for this activity. Her telephone number is Win. 2577-W.

It is possible to select hours which will not conflict with civilian duties. Ninety per cent of those serving at the Center now have regular daily jobs but give up a part of their own time to this patriotic service. There are men and women among them from every business and profession. There are housewives, salesgirls, secretaries, nurses, bankers and lawyers. One worker is a retired Major who served with the Air Corps in the last war and another is the wife of a prominent pilot who is a Major in this war.

It is not necessary for these workers at the Information Center to wait for a bombing before saving life and property. They have done and are doing that very thing day in and day out. There are many training pilots now flying over this area readying for combat. Should they become lost they can quickly be put on course through the teamwork between Civilian Ground Observers and the Civilian Volunteers at the Boston Information Center. In the event of a crash, aid can be dispatched instantly due to this system.

We have already seen what air supremacy can do in the victory of Africa during the last few weeks. Were it not for these Civilian Volunteers who are patriotically and unselfishly giving up a part of their time to serve at the Information Center, it would be necessary to withdraw from combat zones more than 50,000 soldiers and 16 times as many planes as we now require for patrol duty.

Our citizens who are now active in this work can well be proud of the service they are giving to the defense of New England and the Nation. We believe there are others who will wish to serve with the Air Corps as civilians. Call or telephone Miss Eva Barone who is in charge of recruiting here, her telephone number is Win. 2577-W. She can tell you how to register for this vitally important work.

ONE WAY TO DO IT!

Last Saturday night shortly after 11 o'clock Officer James E. Farrell thought he heard voices and splashing at Palmer Beach. The hour was long after closing time and as Officer Farrell was not in position to investigate personally he notified headquarters.

Sgt. Joseph Derro and Patrolman John Hanlon took a ride to the beach and found everything very quiet and orderly. Nothing at all was in sight, and by good rights the officers should have gone about their further business. Probably something like that idea was in the minds of the two youths who parked their clothes on the roof of one of the beach shelters and remained discreetly out of sight while the Police were looking around.

Unfortunately, in poking about, the officers discovered the clothes, and in the interest of protecting property took them along to headquarters. Not long afer midnight the two owners, well known Winchester boys, showed up at the Station after their property. They got their clothes, of course, but they also got some good advice from Lt. Edward O'Connell anent the advisability of swimming at Palmer Beach during the prescribed hours.

WOMEN'S WAR BOND COMMITTEE

Miss Anne Richadson and Miss Alix Austin have made themselves responsible for the Women's War Bond Committee booth at Woolworth's on Tuesdays and Fridays. Any other high school students who are interested in helping may telephone Miss Richardson at Win. 2729 or Miss Austin at Win. 0597-W. The assistance of the students is greatly appreciated by the committee.

The Women's Committee suggest that school children be encouraged to develop a regular stamp buying habit by writing dates in their stamp books. Then the children would be reminded to buy a stamp on July 1 and another on July 8, for example. Anyone at the booth in Woolworths will be glad to write in the dates for children.

BOY INJURED IN FALL FROM WHEEL

John Eckert 17, of 14 Forest street sustained a concussion of the brain and possibly other injuries last Friday when he fell from the bicycle he was riding on Washington street near Westley street.

Officer James E. Flaherty was notified that the boy had apparently had a bad fall and went to investigate, finding young Eckert lying in the road. He told Officer Flaherty his trouser leg had caught in the chain of the bike, causing him to be thrown off.

Officer Flaherty, the boy's aunt, Mrs. William M. Nostrom, and Dr. Richard M. Sheehy took young Eckert to the Winchester Hospital. Dr. Sheehy found him suffering from a concussion and ordered X-rays taken to determine the full extent of his injuries.

EDWARD J. McDEVITT

Edward J. McDevitt of 14 Madison avenue west, will lead the reports committee in the November campaign of the Greater Boston United War Fund General Chairman Joseph T. Walker, Jr., announced this week. Mr. McDevitt is a member of the St. Vincent dePaul Conference, local Community Fund agency. In last year's drive he served as chairman of a Winchester Industry and Finance Division. A member of the accounting firm of Patterson, Teele and Dennis, he is a graduate of Northeastern University, belongs to its alumni association, and is a member of both the Knights of Columbus and the Catholic Alumni Sodality.

A stolen Chevrolet sedan was recovered on Manchester road Saturday forenoon by Sgt. Thomas F. Cassidy of the Police Department. The machine, owned by George Zouzar of 551 Proctor avenue, Chelmsford, was stolen in Lowell on the night of June 17. When recovered the front number plate and a spotlight had been stolen from it and with the rear plate was another, belonging to a Cadillac sedan registered to a Jamaica Plain man.

CONGREGATIONAL SERVICEMEN'S COMMITTEE

Most enthusiastically received by those in service are the photograph albums gotten out by another department, containing snaps of the Nation's Capitol and views of Winchester. On the final pages of the clever little books with their block print covers in red for the Army and blue for the Navy are snaps of the recipient's home and family. Really touching letters have been received expressing the boys' appreciation of this feature. Already the committee has pasted 2500 snaps in books and has sent out 150 albums with more to do.

Yet another department is charged with the work done for the committee's adopted chaplain. Beautiful altar furnishings have been sent him and he is continually supplied with money for a contingency fund, as well as sewing kits and other items. Really difficult is the job being done by the department which keeps the addresses of the church service people up to date.

Last of all is the executive and financial department, the members of which plan the work of the committee and handle the funds, which last year amounted to some $1800. This year it is expected that considerably more than that figure will be spent to bring cheer and comfort to church boys and girls with the Country's Colors.

Prayers will be said for these young people at the church service this Sunday morning and the names of those with the armed forces will be read. Excerpts from letters by service people will appear on the church calendar.

Automobiles driven by John H. Murphy of 31 Emerson street, Wakefield, and Margaret C. Currie of 88 Park avenue were in collision shortly before 6 o'clock last Friday at the junction of Highland avenue and Prince avenue. The Murphy car was headed north on Highland avenue while Mrs. Currie was driving out of Prince avenue. Both cars were damaged but no one was injured.

IS IT ESSENTIAL TO THE WAR?

LONG DISTANCE CIRCUITS these days are weapons of war! Keep them free for war business! The lines to these and other war centers outside New England are unusually congested. Please avoid any calls other than war messages — except in extreme urgency.

You can help, too, by canceling any long distance call when you are told that the circuits are busy. If you'll be considerate regarding non-essential calls, we'll be able to give all really essential calls, even to the busy places, prompt service.

SUMMER WAR COURSES AVAILABLE

A summer program of war courses for men and women soon to join the armed forces or to enter industrial plants is announced by the State Department of Education to start Wednesday evening, July 7, at the Massachusetts School of Art, Brookline avenue, Boston, under the direction of the Division of University Extension.

DAY CAMP OPENS

A small group of Winchester women have been working very hard these past few weeks so that as many girls as possible can enjoy the Girl Scout Day Camp. This year the camp will be run for five weeks instead of four as in former years.

The season opens on Tuesday, June 29, at 10 o'clock. There will be no swimming the first day and everyone will report at 10 o'clock at the camp situated just off Symmes Corner. There they will be divided into groups according to their ages and interests.

The Committee has been most fortunate in securing Mrs. Oswald Cammann of Weston as director again this year. That in itself would guarantee success for the year, but it is doubly insured by the able staff that has been assembled.

Mrs. Ervin Tracy and Mrs. Foster Spofford will have the older girls, Mrs. Charles Feinberg the intermediates; Mrs. Everett Elledge and Mrs. Clarence Roberts, the older Brownies and Mrs. Francis McCall and Mrs. Kenneth Lamprey, the younger Brownies.

Assistants will be Marilyn Campbell, Rose McGowan, June Smith and Eleanor Pettenger. Mrs. Hazel Jonah will help with music and singing.

On Monday afternoon Dr. George Manning gave a physical exam to nearly 100 girls who were happy to have the preliminaries over and be ready for the opening day next Tuesday.

The Camp Committee for the season is made up of the following women: Mrs. Percy Bugbee, Mrs. Paul B. Elliot, Mrs. Woodford L. Wilcox, Mrs. Paul E. Molloy, Mrs. Frank Turner, chairman.

BRITISH WAR RELIEF

A check this week from the Little Theatre Beneath the Spire was a happy reminder that this organization of the First Congregational Church, which was one of the first Winchester friends of British War Relief, remains a fast friend.

The Winchester Unit thanks the Congregational Players for the gift, congratulates them for their contribution to the brightening of life in our town during this rationed wartime and for the entertainment they have given to men in service, and wishes them a triumphant season in 1943-44.

What with workers turning in the 50th this and the 50th that, the Unit begins to feel the need of honor insignia, crossed knitting needles with palms or a gold shield, showing socks rampant or some little thing like that. The Unit would be conferring the socks rampant device on Mrs. Francis Hight who has just finished her 53rd pair and Mrs. Minnie Fletcher who this week toed off her 50th pair of—not mere socks, but those sea boot stockings with legs nearly a whole yard long! British seamen wear them on the mine-sweepers that help keep a path safe for the transports that take our men over. And in the wintry watch kept by British War Relief rescue patrol boats for planes forced down in the icy waters of the Channel, men wearing these very boots may have had a part in saving an American flyer.

A decoration would go also to Miss May Wilson, who has finished assembling her 50th afghan. How many squares does that mean she has put together? How many yards of border has she crocheted? We'll not be telling you, for may be we'll want to have a guessing contest when we confer on her the crossed needles with palms!

The first of those afghans may be wrapping convalescent lads of our own armed forces now against the nip of an English breeze. For a hospital which British Relief fitted out is now a United States hospital.

Even the tiniest bits of wool can be combined in these hit-or-miss little squares that make the afghans.

If you have anything that you think might be of use, drop in at Epiphany hall next Wednesday, or ask Mrs. Fred Cameron over Win. 1984.

Back the attack by upping your payroll savings your very next payday. Measure your savings by your new higher income.

GEORGE WISWELL WINS TWO MORE

Resumes Winning Ways After Last Week-End's Lapse

After being halted in his victory march by Stretch Simonds last week-end, George Wiswell, Jr., returned to his winning ways by capturing both the Saturday handicap race and the official Sunday morning contest. His victory in the Sunday race gives him a record of three wins and one second place and a comfortable lead in the race for the club championship.

In the Saturday afternoon race, George scampered away from the fleet and waltzed to victory by almost the length of the lake. The real thrills of this contest were provided by Stretch Simonds and Byron Wiswell in a stirring battle for second place. These two youthful skippers alternated between second and third place with amazing rapidity and finally crossed the finish line bow to bow, a tie for second. And both of them were happy to get second because Bill Hall in Rondic made a stirring bid to pass them at the finish line, a bid that fell short by less than a boat length.

In the official race, it was another case of George Wiswell in By-George gaining and holding a slender lead over Don Simonds in Sinbad. In spite of the fact that By-George was first and Sinbad almost last at the end of the first lap, Don got Sinbad going and rushed through the entire fleet to about two boat lengths from By-George a position he maintained but couldn't improve on to the end of the race. Third place went to Stretch Simonds in Genghis Khan, who again had a swell battle with By Wiswell who was fourth.

Second Annual Clambake July 5

By popular demand the club's active entertainment committee is repeating last year's most successful party, the combination clambake and sport's day.

Although the luscious feast won't start until 5 p. m., there'll be plenty of fun and entertainment all day.

At 10:30 in the morning there'll be a sailboat race. Next on the schedule, about 2 p. m. there'll be a host of thrilling swimming races for men, women, boys and girls; diving contests; canoe races and canoe tilting contests. The contestants will be competing for some very valuable prizes, so every contest promises to be bitterly fought.

Here's a grand opportunity to come to the club for the entire day and have a really swell time. The club is trying to locate a pair of horses for the party to bring members to the party and back home. Inquire about this service.

Steward's Party Huge Success!

The party arranged and sponsored by the club's steward for the junior members was enjoyed by almost 100 of the club's kids last Tuesday night. Mr. Robert Friend, Sr., first showed some very fine scenic shots taken around Gloucester and Rockport and followed them with the hit of the evening, a hilarious comedy entitled, "Mrs. Heminway at the Circus." The final picture was another amusing movie about a prim school teacher who was more interested in learnin' than love.

The steward deserves a whole flock of orchids for arranging this show for the kids who really enjoyed it as much as the senior members who were present to keep law and order.

CONCERNING DISCOURAGERS

(Written for Winchester Star)

Unbrotherly conduct is an ever present agitator:
Too many persons put barriers in their brother's way
Thus making life a lot harder day by day;
Too many persons make life's path more thorny and magnify
Hardships when a little unselfish cheer would dignify
One's daily tasks and make it much easier for souls true
To emerge from life's grim shadows as they seek to subdue
The forces of discouragement so blatantly adamant
Through careless thinking men adding burdens in ways arrogant
Discouragers abound everywhere their gloomy attacks retard
Life's better things, putting the damp of cheer into discard
And banishing the hope that good men would stimulate Quenching the very stars that burn in the soul and propagate
The lasting gladness from human hearts and perpetrate
Their insipid mouthings unblushingly to deprecate
And [illegible] distressed brothers [illegible]
Discouragers make one feel as if part of life's beauty had terminated
As if there [illegible] nothing much to live for, no aim elevated
Such spirits [illegible] good men will never emulate
But Encouragers most certainly will intrepidly advocate
